MURDOCK ITEMS

Vote for J. V. BRANDT for republican Register of Deeds.—Pol. Ad.
E. W. Thimman and C. E. Cook, both of Plattsmouth, were in the city on last Wednesday, looking after some business matters for a short time.

Henry Meierjurgan and son, Walter were over to Plattsmouth last Thursday, where they were looking after some business matters for a short time.

Mathew Martin and wife, of Omaha, were visiting for the afternoon last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ward, of Murdock, they being very close friends.

Prof. B. F. Zuehl, dean of Western Union college, of LeMars, Iowa, visited at the Rev. Knosp and Rev. Weber homes last Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. James Warren was spending the last two weeks in Omaha, where she was visiting with friends, enjoying a very fine visit. They returned home last Saturday, Mr. Warren going after her.

Superintendent P. T. Johnson, of the Murdock schools, who is a candidate for nomination to the office of county superintendent of schools, visited in Alvo and Greenwood Tuesday, looking after his candidacy.

Little Joyce Ellen Stock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stock, was spending the day last Wednesday at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Schmidt, the grandparents enjoying the visit as well as little Joyce Ellen.

Mrs. Oscar E. McDonald was a visitor at Plattsmouth with her mother, Mrs. J. B. Kelley and with Mr. McDonald's mother, Myra McDonald, at Murray, for the greater portion of the week, and with Bobbie gone, Oscar had everything his own way at home.

Improving Office and Home

Dr. L. D. Lee has been making some very nice improvements at the office and home, in the way of painting and other work, as well as building a kitchen in the basement and making some changes in the heating plant. The carpenter work was done by Henry Heinemann and the painting by Homer H. Lawton.

Met with Serious Accident

While Hilda and Dorothea Schlieffert and Ruth Bornemeier were driving in their auto near Alvo, they were struck by another car which was passing at a rapid rate. The car in which the young ladies were riding was badly wrecked and Miss Ruth Bornemeier was hurt quite badly, having many cuts and bruises. Her injuries were cared for by Dr. L. D. Lee and it is hoped that she will get along all right. The other girls were not hurt nearly so bad.

Did Not Attend Fair

After the three Murdock young men who started out last week to go places and see things had gotten well out of Murdock, they held a council decided they would go west instead of east. A card from Bobbie McDonald, received by his father, tells of her and John Richardson and Chester Hendricks having reached Oregon, in which state they were assisting with the annual potato harvest and say they have found plenty to do. Eventually they will go to the coast.

Seventy-Four and Hardy

E. M. Shatto, who has resided in Murdock for many a long year, and always did his share of the work to keep the town in the forefront, was born in Indiana July 29, 1860, first seeing the light of day at Warsaw. In 1871, eleven years later, he came to Nebraska and the vicinity of the present town of Greenwood with his parents, thus giving him a continuous residence in the state of 63 years.

He was passing his birthday anniversary on last Monday and says he is feeling fine and enjoying good health. Morgan says there is nothing like good health after one has passed the three score and ten mark and he is certainly thankful for his.

Home from Vacation

Henry Carstens, manager of the Murdock elevator, who has been away for a ten day vacation, returned home early last week. While he was away he was visiting in Springfield, Ill., after which he went to St. Louis, and following his visit there went to Springfield, Mo., where he visited a sister for a number of days.

Henry says the country is dry all over, but that in the northern portion of Illinois the crops are much better.

roof and found a place where they went to work building their comb along the wall. When the brick walls became heated, the honey melted, running down the walls on the outside and wasting away. It is evident the bees did not thoroughly understand the honey-making code, for they are now working longer hours than was expected, with hard picking to boot on account of the extreme dry weather.

Entertained Their Neighbors

The Murdock Missionary band entertained the Callahan Missionary band at the Albert Theil grove northwest of town, when the members of both groups enjoyed a very pleasant evening last Wednesday. These two missionary bands are very active in the work of spreading the gospel to the far ends of the earth. At the meeting there was provided a very interesting program and some good eats as well.

Moved House to Country

The house which Gust Ruge recently purchased from L. B. Gortney, was moved to the farm east of town where Frank Rosenow lives and will be put in the best of condition after having gotten there. This will make a good home for whoever occupies the farm, those living there at present being Frank Rosenow and family.

To the voters of the Third Commissioner district of Cass county, Nebraska:

I have been urged by many of the citizens of this district to file on the republican ticket for nomination and election to the office of commissioner of this district. I have resided in this portion of the county for the past forty years and know well what it takes to succeed. Should I be selected as your commissioner, I will make every effort to conserve the interests of the public and the county. To this end, I solicit your support at the primaries August 14th.

HENRY BACKEMEYER,
Candidate for County Commissioner, Third District.

Chance of Wheat Shortage is Discounted

Carryover of 275 Million Bushels Estimated for July 1, 1936—No Need for Alarm.

Washington.—As the farm administration prepares to carry on its wheat production control program for another year, a spokesman said there was no need for alarm despite expressed fears of a grain shortage because of this year's drought.

"There's plenty of wheat," George E. Farrell, chief of the wheat section of the agricultural adjustment administration, said in an interview. "We don't need to become hysterical about next year, either," he added. "It always has rained after a drought, and it always will."

Farrell cited crop statistics to back up his theory. Production this year, he said, was estimated at 484 million bushels. To this he added a 265 million bushel carryover from previous years, making a total of around 750 million bushels.

Subtracting the estimated 625 million bushels as needed for human consumption, livestock feed and seed in the next year, this would leave, he said, a 125 million bushel carryover as of July 1, 1935. Should the corn price reach the cure for wheat, he said, the carryover might be further reduced by additional use of wheat as feed.

"We probably will start off with around 120 million bushels," Farrell said. "With a 15 percent reduction in acreage, we might expect, if we have a normal crop, a production of 780 million bushels."

"Adding the 125 million bushel carryover and subtracting the 625 million bushels needed for the year, you will have a 275 million bushel carryover as of July 1, 1935."

"With controlled production, that's not too much to have. We could expect 100 million bushels and still have a 175 million bushel carryover. But if we took off all restraint and had a 900 million bushel crop, we would have a 400 million bushel carryover."

"This is a day for this country not to go wild in the production of wheat, but to use some sense and not lose all the advantage gained in the past year. Farmers understand this very well."

The farm administration has announced that in carrying on the wheat program, the farmers will be paid benefits on a basis of 29 cents a bushel on their domestic allotment, and that a processing tax of 30 cents a bushel will be levied against the grain, both the same as under the first year of the program.

BRINKLEY THREATENS BOLT

Leavenworth, Kas.—Dr. John R. Brinkley threatened to bolt the republican party unless he received the gubernatorial nomination. Brinkley, the only opponent of Governor Landon in the republican primary, said if he were not nominated as the republican candidate, "I will support the democratic nominee." He expressed preference for Charles E. Miller, avowed wet seeking the democratic nomination. In the past two gubernatorial campaigns, Brinkley has run as an independent.

SLAMS SOVIET RECOGNITION

Chicago.—A demand that withdrawal of American recognition of Russia be included in the state republican platform was urged at a meeting of a committee of Cook county republican organization. Julius Miner, a master in chancery, told the plank drafters that the convention at Springfield Aug. 9 should protest further diplomatic dealings with Russia because, he charged, its emissaries are causing riots and disturbances in the United States. The committee will continue its deliberations Saturday.

Manley News Items

Vote for J. V. BRANDT for republican Register of Deeds.—Pol. Ad.
W. H. Haith was called to Omaha last Friday to look after some business, making the trip in his auto.

Frank Pankonin was called to Plattsmouth last Saturday to look after some business matters, driving over to the county seat in his car.

Mrs. Olive Rauth was the happy mother of a very fine baby boy that was brought to her by the stork, and both mother and little son are doing very well.

Rudolph Bergman and Herman Dall were over to Omaha on Tuesday of this week, where they were looking after some business matters for a short time.

Otto A. Keck was a visitor in Manley for a short time Tuesday of this week, looking after his political fences, and like scores of others, was meeting the voters of this precinct.

Harry O'Brien, who has been at the hospital for some time on account of an injured hand which became affected, is so far recovered that he was able to return home late last week.

Mrs. Paul Kirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carper, who makes her home in the western part of the state, is at present enjoying a visit at the home of her parents and will spend some time here.

Clarence Rockwell, of Saginaw, Michigan, and Floyd Rockwell, of Grand Island, were visiting with relatives and friends in and about Manley, and were pleased to meet them, enjoying their stop here very much.

Many of the farmers are doing the wise thing, baling all of their wheat straw for hay for the winter. A very good idea, as this will in a manner assist in solving the feed problem this winter, which is going to be a big one.

Joseph Chapman, son of the late Judge Samuel M. Chapman, who resides in Lincoln and is employed by the Grainger company as a salesman, was a visitor in Manley last Tuesday, looking after the sale of goods for his firm.

Mrs. Amanda Kelley, of Minneapolis, arrived in Manley last week and has been visiting with her brothers, Ferdinand, Edward and Herman Brunkow. Mrs. Kelley has been making her home in the north for some time and is enjoying the visit here very much.

L. C. Alberding, of Topeka, was a visitor in Manley for over the weekend, coming to visit with Mrs. Alberding, who is visiting for a time at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Harms. Mr. Alberding remained only over the week end, returning to his work in Kansas Monday.

Will P. Cook, of Plattsmouth, was a visitor in Manley last Tuesday, being a guest of Fred Fleischman, they both having been engaged in the barber business for well nigh a half century. Mr. Cook working at the trade for 46 years and Mr. Fleischman a somewhat shorter length of time. They enjoyed their visit together very much.

Joe Huse and son, of Jackson, were visiting in Manley, being guests at the home of Messrs J. C. Rauth and Walter Mokenhaupt and the families, coming on last Thursday, visiting over night and returning to his home the following day. He was accompanied home by Miss Lillian Tighe, who is the sister of Mrs. Huse. Mrs. Tighe will visit there for some time.

Manley Wants to Play
There is a kittenball team in Manley that would like to go any place at any time. The Manley team is willing to take on anyone in that line, and feel that they will be able to make the game interesting to all concerned. They do not have flood lights—hence cannot play after dark on their home field, but would not be averse to doing so on the other fellow's field. Come on you crack kittenball teams and give Manley a chance—we are sure she will show you a good and interesting game.

Gave Party Sunday Night

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stander gave a party at their home last Sunday, the guests including many of their friends. The event was in recognition of the birthdays of a number of people—Frances Selker, Jean Stander and Herman Rauth. Those present for the occasion were A. W. Seiker and family, Gus Stander and Ed Stander and family, of Elmwood; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rauth and Miss Rena Christensen, John Pollock, Sr., John Pollock, Jr., Miss Anna Pollock, Miss Tritsch and A. V. Stander and family.

Friends Visit Manley

Edward W. Thimman, republican candidate for nomination for county sheriff, was a visitor in Manley as well as other portions of the county, where he was looking after his political fences and was meeting his old friends and making new ones. Mr. Thimman was accompanied by his friend, Charles E. Cook, of Plattsmouth.

Roy Steinkamp Better

Roy Steinkamp, who was injured in his leg some time since, and has been compelled to get about on a pair of crutches, uses them to get to his auto and when he has gotten in the car he can go any place. He is showing some improvement at this time and is hoping that he can soon dispose of his crutches entirely.

Lad Received Severe Injuries

While a son of Fred Laurensen was endeavoring to cut a string from the bib of his overalls, his knife slipped, striking his eye in such manner that the ball was seriously injured. The lad was hurried to the hospital, where treatment was given in an effort to save the eyesight.

Girl Gladdens Two Homes

There was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus Peterson some three miles southeast of Weeping Water on last Monday a very fine baby girl which has brought joy to the parents that was small in comparison with the ecstasy which surrounded the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnson, the grandparents of the little girl and parents of Mrs. Peterson. There is much joy in town because of the event.

EDSON R. WAITE

It is said that onlookers see most of the game, whether it be baseball or business building. This must be a mistake as to business nowadays, for few can understand or see just what is going on in the new deal in business recovery.

The condition of this country seems to have received serious study on the part of many professors, who have made it a business to review the condition of business and suggest means of improving it. By their words and actions many of them have revealed profound ignorance as to conditions and what is needed for recovery. They are trying to overcome tremendous difficulties, one of which is to overcome the inherent traditions of the American people and their deep-seated modes of thought, which the professors should know cannot be changed or fundamentally modified over night. Nor is it possible to establish a single generalized government system of administration of all business, for it would be doomed to failure by the vastness and complexity of the country.

"New dealers" should be men whose judgment of business has been built in the hard school of experience.

COL. ROBERT LEA MAY QUIT

Washington.—Col. Robert W. Lea, assistant NRA administrator for industry, is expected in informal quarters here to return to private business before fall. He may resign as one of Hugh S. Johnson's right hand men soon after returning here with his chief from their western trip.

Lea was one of the first NRA assistants appointed when it was set up in June, 1933. He is credited with grafting the code for the automobile industry, the second big industry to be brought into line under the recovery program.
