PLATTSMOUTH, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1934.

NO. 53

David A. Young, Pioneer Citizen, is Called to Rest

Born in Mills County, Iowa, in 1851; Had Lived in Cass County Since 1854.

From Wednesday's Daily

This morning at 6:15 David A. Young, oldest continuous resident of the state of Nebraska, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Guy C. White at the age of 84 years. Death came as the result of an illness that covered the past several months and in the last weeks of which he had failed very rapidly.

Mr. Young was brought to Cass county by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Young, who settled in the vicinity of Murray and where the old family homestead, a log cabin, still stands on the farm which is still owned by members of the family.

The life of Mr. Young has been a part of the history of Cass county and during his long life he had been one of the leading citizens of the community and until his death maintained a keen interest in the affairs of the state and county.

Mr. and Mrs. Young made their home on the farm until three years ago when they moved to this city and where Mrs. Young passed away two years ago. They made their home with Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. White, who have tenderly cared for them until the close of life.

In the last illness Mr. Young has had constant care of nurses, Mrs. Ament and Mrs. Josephine Janda assisting the family in his care and ministering to his wants.

There are surviving three sons and three daughters, W. Rex Young, Dallas Young, Mrs. Clara White of Plattsmouth, Mrs. Ona Lawton of Omaha, Mrs. Lena Lyman, Vail, South Dakota and Albert A. Young of Murray.

The funeral services will be held at the Christian church at Murray, on Thursday afternoon at 2:30.

The body is at the Sattler funeral home.

SMALL RIOT AT UNION

From Wednesday's Daily
Sheriff Homer Sylvester and Deputy Sheriff Thomas Walling, were at Union last night where they were called by an outbreak occurring at the camp of an extra gang of the Missouri Pacific track workers.

It seems that one of the men, Don Juan Salvador, a Mexican, and John Jackson, a negro, had become involved in a quarrel, the men suffering from the intense heat or other causes, decided that the affair required violence to settle. The Mexican had taken his favorite fighting weapon, a knife, and started in to carve sections of the person of the negro, who singing, "That's Why Darkies Were Born," grabbed a shovel and proceeded to place the Mexican out of commission. The men had their wounds bound up and not desiring to make complaint of each other were allowed to remain in the camp and carry on their work.

ROTARY CLUB MEETING

The Rotary club Tuesday held their luncheon at the large dining room of the Stewart cafe which has been arranged on the second floor of the restaurant building.

The members enjoyed the new location and the special efforts that had been made by Mr. and Mrs. Stewart to provide for their comfort and pleasure.

The meeting was under the leadership of Fred I Rea and took up the matter of "International Relations," he giving a very able discussion of some of the world problems of the present day and in which International Rotary is greatly interested.

Bolt Strikes Guard Camp During 'War'

Infantry, Medical Regiment and Division Train Start Daily Drills at Ashland.

Camp Ashland, Aug. 7.—A lightning bolt which struck a tree only a few yards in front of the headquarters of the national guard camp here lent a realistic touch to the mimic battle in progress Monday afternoon.

The bolt knocked a telephone from the hands of Maj. Frank B. O'Connell, adjutant, and knocked Lieut. L. J. Laughlin out of a tent into a ditch. Lieut. W. C. Wood, in the same tent, was stunned.

Rain drenched the camp on the opening day, fulfilling a prediction of Adjutant General Paul.

By noon all units of the state's guard were in camp, the earliest hour all have ever arrived. General Paul said. Although rosters had not been brought to headquarters, the general said approximately 1,700 enlisted men and 128 officers were on the military reservation. On the grounds were the infantry regiment, the medical regiment and the 25th division train.

No horses are at the reservation this year, due to economy measures, and even Governor C. W. Bryan will have no horse to ride when he comes here for the annual review near the end of the 15-day training period.

But there are lots of mules, General Paul added, and sufficient motor trucks on hand to do the heavy work.

All troops came by train except the motorized units and Company F of the 144th infantry which made the trip from Hartington to Camp Ashland by bus.

Daily they will drill five hours and study three hours. The rest of their time may be devoted to recreation, provided, of course they do not become assigned to extra duty such as potato peeling, scrubbing and other chores for military men.

SERVE NEHAWKA MEAT

At the Century of Progress restaurants on the "Swift Bridge of Service," the choicest meats are served from the farms of the great west.

Parr Young of Nehawka is the latest of the group of noted cattle raisers from many sections of the country who have won "blue flags" announcing that choice beef, from their herds, is being offered to hungry fair-goers.

The steers fed by Mr. Young were purchased several weeks ago through the Walters and Dunbar Commission firm, at the Union Stock Yards in Chicago. The ribs and loins of these cattle were then carefully aged for the Crown Food Company, which operates the restaurants on the Swift Bridge of Service.

As a tribute to the producer, the menus in these restaurants carry blue "flags" announcing that the steaks and roasts are from the unusually fine cattle fed by Mr. Young.

The story is going about that the Indians in Oklahoma are moving from the lowlands to the highlands in anticipation of a flood. The way we feel right now, if we could be sure of a good flood, we'd move right down in a hollow.

Death Comes to Former Cass County Lady

Mrs. Carl Willoughby, Formerly Miss Helen Hirz, Dies at Omaha Hospital Tuesday.

Mrs. Carl Willoughby, 25, former resident of this county, died Tuesday at an Omaha hospital following a short illness, bringing to the members of the family circle the greatest sorrow in the taking away of this young wife and mother.

The deceased was formerly Miss Helen Hirz, daughter of Henry Hirz, who was killed in action in France in September, 1918, serving with the A. E. F. Since the death of the mother which preceded that of the father, the two daughters made their home with relatives, the deceased with her aunt, Mrs. William Schutz on the farm near Murdock.

The Schutz family later moved to the vicinity of Fort Crook where Helen made her home until her marriage some five years ago to Carl Willoughby, who is a sergeant with the 17th infantry at Fort Crook.

There are surviving the husband and four small children, the oldest four and the youngest five days old, one sister, Mrs. Hershel Dew of Omaha, and a large number of other relatives.

In the hour of their sorrow the members of the family will have the deepest sympathy of the many friends over the county.

A DANGEROUS PASTIME

One of the residents of the north portion of the city has a fine watermelon patch and which proved too tempting to two boys one night this week. They had visited the patch and discovered that the owner of the patch was also on the job. The two boys were sprinkled with shot that did some damage but not serious as the shots were fired from some distance. The owner of the patch, however, has secured himself a ten gauge shotgun and the next visitors are liable to be much more seriously injured.

Prepare to Handle Primary Election News

Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Co. to Co-operate with the Associated Press.

Election news for breakfast! According to J. N. Allison, state manager for the Associated Press with offices in Lincoln, long distance telephone service will be employed exclusively for gathering and spreading the return of the primary election which will be held on Tuesday, August 14th.

The plan for handling the election returns, briefly described, is as follows: Associated Press representatives in each of the 93 counties or concentration points, begin to tabulate the returns from the precincts of that county immediately after the polls close. At stated periods they telephone their direct to the Associated Press office in Lincoln where a staff of ten telephone operators, especially trained, take the count of each state and congressional candidate and pass them on to a tabulator.

This method continues until all the returns are in and tabulated. Because of the speed of long distance service, together with the personal contact with the press representative in the field, the Associated Press, according to Mr. Allison, was able to complete the election job of 1932 a day ahead of any previous election returns. The plans for handling the primary election returns was worked out by engineers of the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph company.

Farmers May Control the Crop Supplies in 1935

Plan Hatching Which Calls for Government Loans on Wide Range of Produce.

Washington.—A gigantic crop loan plan which would leave control of 1935 supplies in the hands of farmers who grow them is hatching in the farm administration.

Modeled after this year's corn and cotton loans, the plan will call for government loans on a wide range of other crops. There will be a stipulation that supplies must be sold when prices rise to a certain point.

Last year the government advanced farmers 10 cents a pound on stored cotton, and 45 cents a bushel on corn sealed in cribs or warehouses. This pegged prices at those levels and officials say the plan was a success.

Selling at Profit.
As prices advanced beyond those levels recently farmers began selling crops, paying off loans and making a profit for themselves. The farmer was continuously assured of at least those prices and the government was sure of recouping its investment as long as the price stayed at or above the loan value.

In the case of cotton, the plan said it must be sold when the price reached 15 cents. This, officials said, prevents the price from rising too far since the flow to market when cotton reaches that point will tend toward stabilization.

The farm administration declares the idea will assist farmers in holding their crops instead of selling at harvest time when marketings are ordinarily heavy and prices consequently low.

They will thus be able to obtain some cash, keep their crops readily marketable as needed, and sell them at any time the price ranges between the loan value and the upper limit.

Keep Supplies at Level.
The program would be co-ordinated with Secretary Wallace's idea for "ever-normal" granaries. In bountiful years the stored grains would be held off the market. Ownership would be returned to farmers without repayment of the loans if they would agree to cut production the next season. Thus supplies would be kept at about the level of consumption plus amounts assured of sales abroad.

Again pointing to this year's corn loan program, officials said that since the price has gone above 60 cents per bushel farmers have repaid loans on about 20 million bushels of the 270 million bushels stored last fall.

Many, however, are retaining the grain on their farms because the drought is curtailing feed supplies.

May Sell Part.
Later, if prices continue to advance, part of it may be sold to pay off government loans and the remainder fed to prospectively high-priced hogs during the winter.

The expanded storage plan would call for increased space on farms for storing grain, officials admit, but they expressed confidence that sufficient funds could be made available for building loans, possibly through the farm credit administration's production credit associations or cooperative banks.

Plans are yet in a nebulous stage but officials backing them are determined to bring them to execution in time to give farmers the ultimate advantage from crops they produce next year.

CHILE AND PARAGUAY RIPT

Santiago, Chile.—Official notes exchanged between the governments of Chile and Paraguay revealed Paraguayan dissatisfaction with Chilean neutrality in the Chaco war resulting in an order to the Chilean minister in Asuncion, Paraguay, to return to Santiago. It was intimated immediately that Minister Ramirez of Paraguay would be recalled from Chile.

The Chilean government was reported as denying that its action constituted a severance of diplomatic relations since the Chilean legation in Asuncion is to be kept open with a charge d'affaires.

La Paz, Bolivia.—President Daniel Salamanca, in an address at the opening of the Bolivian congress, asserted that the arms embargo thru which numerous power are attempting to bring an end to the Chaco war has injured Bolivia greatly but has had little effect on Paraguay.
