Death of Mrs. William Hunter Occurs Sunday

Member of One of Prominent Families of Eastern Nebraska and a Resident Here Since 1872

At 4:45 Sunday morning after a long illness occurred the death of Mrs. Wm. Hunter, at her home on North 8th street, Plattsmouth, Nebr., aged 65 years, 3 months and 18 days. Funeral services will be conducted by Dr. H. G. McClusky at her late home on Tuesday afternoon, August 14th at 3 o'clock after which interment will be made at Oak Hill cemetery.

Anna Christine Bock, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Bock, pioneer residents of Cass County, was born in Rensburg, Schleswig Holstein, Germany, April 24, 1869. In the year 1872 she migrated from the land of her birth to America, coming directly to Plattsmouth, where she attended school, living with her parents at Eight Mile Grove until 1887 when she went to New Castle, Wyo., to live with her brother. Here on October 11, 1891, she was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. Hunter of New Castle, Wyo. To this union was born six children, Miss Helen Hunter and Mrs. Marie Ingerson of Plattsmouth; Mr. Wallace Hunter of Omaha and Mrs. Clara Bruer of Callaway, Nebr., surviving her. Two children, Winnie and John and her husband preceding her in death. She also leaves to mourn her passing three grandchildren, Barbara and Billy Hunter and Charles Breuer; six sisters and one brother, Mrs. Cecelia Wolf of Avoca; Mrs. Sophia Peters, Weeping Water; Mrs. Mathilda Hansen, Mrs. August Philpot, Mrs. Julia Gansemer, all of Nebraska; Mrs. Lena Hill of Mynard and Mr. Julius F. Bock of New Castle, Wyo., also numerous other relatives and friends.

At an early age she was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith. Later, on moving to Plattsmouth, she became a member of the First Presbyterian church, remaining a faithful member until death released her from her suffering. During her long residence here she established a large circle of admiring friends who now mourn with her children the loss of a noble mother. After a busy and useful life, Mrs. Hunter died as she had lived, honored, trusted and loved. While she lived, she reared in the hearts of all who knew her a monument of worth and beauty that sculptor or artist can never represent in stone or metal.

As such a life was a blessing and benediction to all within the sphere of its influence, so is the death of such a one a public misfortune, as well as an irreparable loss to the home circle made desolate by her departure. To those who were nearest and dearest, her life must prove a perpetual inspiration.

She has gone from sight; but because life and love are stronger than death, she is still the mother of the children who mourn earth's greatest loss.

HAVE AN OUTBREAK

One of the young men at the boy's camp north of this city, was brought into the city Saturday evening suffering from a number of very serious injuries suffered as the result of an attack by a group of young men, also members of the camp.

Deputy Sheriff Walling was called there by the report of trouble and found the party on the road to the camp, finding the party cuffing and chasing the victim, whose face was badly damaged by blows from the fists of the other members of the group. The injured man claimed that they had tied him to a tree and proceeded to beat upon him and left him in serious condition as the result.

Crop Revisions Necessary Due to Drouth Effects

Food and Feed Supplies to Be Watched with Vigilance by Government as Winter Comes.

War time regulations over the food and feed supply of the nation for the fall and winter season, is apparent. The farm administration also will prepare drastic revisions of its 1935 crop revision program.

Official government estimates are for the lowest crop production in more than 30 years because of continued drouth. Therefore, the AAA has undertaken a day-to-day watch over conditions and is starting an inventory of the food and feed supply which will form the basis for guiding its work during the coming year.

Next year's wheat plan is likely to call for the same acreage planted during the years 1927-32, rather than a 15 per cent reduction from that figure. Necessity for this move grew from the prospective cut in the carryover from this year's excessive figure of 170 million bushels to about the normal of 125 million bushels.

Plans Await Report.
Cotton production, limited this year to 25 million acres, probably will be extended in 1935 to allow production of 32 million to 35 million acres.

The program for corn and hogs is still to be considered. Final decision will hinge largely on the report of the feed and forage situation showing supplies available in comparison with the live stock population it must support.

Over a period of years, according to Secretary Wallace, the number of hogs tends to balance with the supply of corn. The administration will seek to maintain this ratio.

The 1935 tobacco program awaits drafting after 1934 sales.
Desire Single Contract.
To eliminate much detailed work involved in administering separate contracts for each crop, the administration is still hopeful of drafting a single contract which will bring the major crops and some feed and forage crops together.

The single contract, or separate contracts if the former is found inadvisable, will call for total increased plantings, with farmers to receive benefit payments in about the same volume as this year.

2,623,000 Cattle Bought.
In return they will curtail production by pasturing or cutting for hay some crops if weather is normal next year and excessive production beyond domestic needs plus exports is threatened. They will also be asked to pledge themselves to continue production control in 1936.

Coupled with these plans may also be a crop lending program patterned after this year's corn loan which stored 256,532,000 bushels of corn on the farms of 142,368 borrowers and advanced them $120,647,500 on the security of the stored grain at the rate of 45 cents per bushel.

Relief efforts continue with the total of cattle purchased in the drouth area having reached 2,623,000 head.

From Monday's Daily

Start Grain Seed Buying for Coming Year

Paul H. Stewart in Charge, Confers With Omaha Men on Program—Explains Aim.

Paul H. Stewart, who has been placed in charge of the federal program for conservation of seed stocks in Nebraska, was in Omaha Monday to confer with Omaha grain men and to set up a branch office here.

Stewart, who has been extension agronomist at the University of Nebraska for the past 15 years, will alternate between an office in Lincoln and the branch office to be established in Omaha at 228 Grain Exchange building. He will work under S. C. Salmon, chairman of the federal seed stocks committee, with headquarters at Minneapolis.

At a conference with local grain men at the grain exchange Monday afternoon, Stewart explained that the aim of the seed stocks committee is to buy oats, barley, spring wheat and probably rye to be used for seed in those areas where the crops were destroyed by drouth this year and where there will be a shortage of seed next year.
"We are especially interested in keeping seed stock in this territory which in the ordinary course of events would be shipped out and lost for seed purposes."

Deals Only in Car Lots.
The committee will deal only in car lots, but several farmers with grain in storage on their farms can band together to make up a car.
Stewart will be assisted in the work by H. E. Nelson, federal grain supervisor for the Omaha district, and W. C. Wheeler, who has been sent from the Minneapolis grain office.

Wheeler will obtain samples of seed stocks offered for sale; Nelson will be in charge of the grading, and Stewart will oversee the determination of fitness.

Here in Cass county the democrats held a primary Tuesday, at least the great vote that participated in the bourgeois election far overshadowed that of the republicans in almost every part of the county.

The two largest majorities rolled up was that of Edward R. Burke for U. S. Senator and Homer Sylvester for county sheriff. Sheriff Sylvester led in all sections of the county and in this city which he had lost at the primary two years ago he had a staggering vote.

The closest race of the primary was that of Bruce Rosencrans and Bernard G. Wurl for the democratic nomination for county clerk. Mr. Wurl winning the nomination by some 70 votes. Mr. Wurl led in this city where he carried all but the first ward which gave Mr. Rosencrans a two vote lead. The large vote in the west part of the county for Mr. Rosencrans served to wipe out a part of the lead of Mr. Wurl, but was not sufficient to win.

In the republican race Bob Simmons for senator and Dwight Griswold for governor led the ticket, Rosencrans being a close runner up for Griswold.

In the republican sheriff race Rex Young held a good majority over Ed W. Thimman, his nearest opponent.

The voters in the republican primary chose Mrs. Edna D. Shannon for the register of deeds nomination, while Miss Lillian White, present occupant was given the democratic nomination.

Jack Stamp for treasurer held a good lead over his two opponents for the democratic nomination and will face John Turner, who was unopposed.
