Mr. and Mrs. James Bright are moving from the Mrs. Apphan house to the house owned by Mrs. Reddick just across the street.

Miss Alta Kyles returned home on Saturday, September 1st, from a visit of a week with her sister, Mrs. W. D. Wallace and family, at Friend.

Last Thursday Lud Gustafson and Sophus Petersen went to Ceresco to see the Ceresco team beat the Greenwood team 8 to 7 in ten innings.

Mr. and Mrs. William Armstrong and Miss Florence Beighley drove to Plattsmouth Thursday, where they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Turner.

Mrs. Ethyl Armstrong and son, Max, visited at the home of her father, Nelson McDowell and at the W. A. Armstrong home Sunday afternoon and evening of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alton and their daughters, Misses Claire, Marjorie and Betty, and Mrs. Charles Morton, of Omaha, were Labor day visitors at the Fred Etheredge home.

A daughter was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bell, of Lincoln, at the Lincoln General hospital. Mrs. Bell will be remembered as Miss Nora Lyons, formerly of Greenwood.

Lawrence Palmquist, who is working for the Burlington crew now stationed at Chicago was home over Sunday and Labor day, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palmquist.

Lloyd Lapham arrived Wednesday from Hyannis, Nebr., where he had spent the summer working on a ranch, spending a few days here visiting his father, Frank Lapham, and other relatives.

Clyde W. Newkirk, proprietor of the Main street service station, attended a meeting of representatives of the oil and gasoline company whose products he features, held at Fremont on last Thursday.

A. L. Etheredge is a daily visitor at Sophus Petersen's blacksmith shop, where he says he can take a nap better than any other place. He sure can go to sleep when Sophus gets the big trip hammer tuned up, sharpening plow lays.

Herman Frederick, of Murray, was a visitor in Greenwood last Thursday and was calling on his young friends while here. Herman was sporting a fancy new car and expresses himself as well pleased with the new home at Murray.

Sophus Petersen is busy just now sharpening silo cutter knives as there is a big demand in this line, with a lot of corn fodder to be cut and stored away for winter use. He has special equipment for handling this work and is being kept on the go from morning to night.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul O'Rourke, of Boston, Mass., arrived Wednesday morning for a visit with his brother, Henry O'Rourke. They left Friday morning for their home and en route expected to visit in Chicago. This was their first meeting and visit together in sixty-two years.

Mrs. Mattie Parsell, of Lincoln, announces the marriage of her daughter, Adeline, to Henry Fear, formerly of Pueblo, Colo., on August 16th, the wedding taking place at Seward. The young couple will make their home in Lincoln. The Parsell family formerly resided in Greenwood.

Mrs. O. T. McDonald, of Chicago, came to Greenwood some time ago to visit her sister, Mrs. Lulu Hurlbut, going from here to Lincoln to visit old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Kingdon. She came back this way for a few days' visit with Mrs. Hurlbut before continuing on to her home in the "Windy city."

On last Tuesday the members of the Christian church and the Sunday school held their annual picnic in the park here. There was a good sized crowd present. At noon a delicious basket dinner was enjoyed. Various games were played during the afternoon and when the time came to depart, all agreed they had had a most delightful time.

Messrs E. L. McDonald and Henry Wilkins were in Omaha Thursday of last week, where they attended the state democratic convention, aiding in the formulation of plans for the big campaign which is soon to be with us. Should the campaign preceding the general election prove as warm as the pre-primary campaign, we may look for some fun before the final vote has been counted.

Doing Fine Now

Max Meyers, who was at the hospital at Omaha, where he underwent an operation for correction of appendicitis, made good progress following the removal of his appendix and was able to return home some two weeks ago. Max, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Meyers, is now back in school and is feeling fine.

Still in the South

When the writer visited Greenwood last week, the party of young men who had gone south some time before was still in Oklahoma. Those in this group include Dwight M. Talcott, Walter Lovell, Donald Schaeffer and Ivan Fulmer. The boys, in writing to their friends here, tell of abundant crops down that way and say that everything looks nice and green. No doubt they will return to Greenwood in time, but for the present it would seem from reports they are pretty well pleased with the country or the people down that way. We have always heard it said that the Oklahoma girls are good looking and very hospitable. Well, boys, stay as long as you like.

Mixing Medicine at Grand Island

George Bucknell, member of the firm of White & Bucknell, Dr. Norris D. Talcott, Herman L. Bornemeier, who resides between Alvo and Murdock, B. I. Clements, the undertaker, of Elmwood, and Henry A. Tool, the banker of Murdock, were at Grand Island last Thursday, where in company with other stalwart republicans from over the state, they were formulating plans for the campaign this fall. They report much enthusiasm among the republican brethren, and predict victory for the nominees of that party at the fall election. We shall see!

Attended Wedding in Lincoln

The Misses Nina Jeffery and Ruth Laune went to Lincoln Sunday afternoon where they attended the wedding and reception of Miss Doreen Bailey and William Summers. The ceremony took place at 4 o'clock at the Grace Methodist church. The young couple will make their home at Dano, Texas, where Mr. Summers is connected with the Texas state highway department.

On the Job Again

With the re-opening of the Greenwood schools for the coming year, Uncle John Ballanger, who has so faithfully and efficiently served as traffic cop at the crossing of the highway and the Burlington tracks along the Main street of Greenwood, is back on the job and all who have children who must cross these hazardous places going to and coming from school are assured that they will be well taken care of, for Mr. Ballanger is an especial friend of every little tot and looks after their welfare just as a mother would a babe. It seems that no better person could have been secured than Uncle John.

Married August 29th

On last Thursday afternoon, Miss Bernice Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd, of Omaha, became the bride of Harry Stock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stock of Murdock, formerly of Greenwood. The marriage was performed by Rev. W. B. Bliss. Miss Marjorie Zink attended the bride as maid of honor. Ray Stock, nephew of the groom, acted as best man. A reception followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Stock will be at home after September 15th on a farm near Greenwood.

Dorcas Society Entertained

The Dorcas society was pleasantly entertained Friday afternoon, August 31 by Mrs. Warren Boucher, as hostess at the church. There was a good crowd present. The business meeting was conducted by the president. It was decided to quilt at the next meeting and all are requested to bring their needles and thimbles and help quilt.

A fine program was given and the rest of the time was spent socially.

Before the time for departure, a delicious luncheon was served.

Visits Friends Here

Mrs. Alice Carruthers of Montebello, California, is here to enjoy a short visit at the home of Misses Grace and Louise Valley on the farm near Mynard. She is en route to Indiana where she will enjoy a stay of several weeks with relatives, going from there to Texas where she will spend the winter with relatives. Mrs. Carruthers is an aunt of Mr. Harold Carruthers who is also visiting here in company with his wife.

Taken to Hospital

This morning James M. Robertson, president of the Nebraska Masonic Home association, was taken to Omaha where he enters the Methodist hospital for treatment and possibly an operation. Mr. Robertson has in the last few months not been so well and his condition has become such that it was found necessary to have him given care at the hospital.

Council Bluffs People Wed

The marriage of Mr. Shirley Horish and Miss Mary Grace Parrett, both of Council Bluffs, occurred on Wednesday evening at the Presbyterian manse. The marriage lines were read by Dr. H. C. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The young people were accompanied to this city by Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Turinpsed, also of Council Bluffs.

Still Feeling Poorly

Mrs. E. G. Shellenbarger, who was injured a week ago by falling and spraining and breaking an ankle, is still feeling very much the effects of the accident. Mrs. Shellenbarger has the injured member in a cast and which it will be necessary to wear for several weeks yet.

Barker Flees Cleveland

Cleveland, O.—Detective Inspector Cody of the Cleveland police announced he had information indicating that Arthur R. Barker, sought as one of the leaders of the Edward G. Bremer kidnaping gang, had occupied a "hideout" here, and fled Thursday after three women were arrested in a downtown hotel.

Cattle Buyers Find the Quotas Hard to Fill

Cool Weather and Late Rains Have Caused the Farmers to Hold Their Stock.

H. J. Gramlich, director of federal drouth cattle buying in Nebraska Friday night said buyers are having trouble filling their quotas, and that in some sections the deficiency runs 50 to 60 percent.

"The cool weather and recent drouth breaking rains," Gramlich said, "have given many farmers optimism and hope that they can hold on to the stock they intended to sell. However, we expect the sales to bound back to normal in October. Gramlich advised farmers not to take too big a chance on fall pasturage and not to hold back stock they previously had planned on selling. He said the rains had caused the withdrawal of many cattle from sale. When the first killing frost comes, however, farmers will realize that pasturage cannot be depended upon for long, and they will again seek to sell some of their stock, he said.

Other factors which Gramlich believes will result in a return to heavy sales in October are that many pasturage contracts will expire Oct. 1, and by that time most calves will have been weaned and the old stock ready for market.

Quotas in the sandhill region are being pretty nearly filled, as stockmen there are selling old cows. Sales will continue as long as farmers are interested in marketing stock. At first farmers were clamoring to sell their cattle, and sales were entirely on a permit basis, but now the quotas are going unfilled each day. After the rains and cool weather the tendency was to hold back stock.

Grass has greened up somewhat, the water shortage has been relieved and farmers hope fall sown rye and wheat will give good fall pasturage, but Gramlich believes the end of the growing season is too near for vegetation to be done very much good.

The critical cattle situation in Custer, Valley and Sherman counties has been pretty well relieved, Gramlich believes, and there are few distressed animals remaining there. The entire south Platte territory has been given the needed relief, he said.

Corn Needed by 60 Per Cent of the Farmers

Drouth Conditions Make Many Farmers Into Buyers of Grain Rather Than Sellers.

Sixty percent of the farmers in Nebraska will have to buy corn for feeding before the winter is over, it was estimated Friday by Ralph Cole of the rural economics department at the agricultural college. In Thayer and Fillmore and some other counties which were in a dry belt last year, it was estimated that 80 percent of the farmers will be compelled to buy. Mr. Cole said sealing of corn under the corn loan had caused much to be held and had saved the farmers from even a worse condition. Most of the farmers will have to cut down their herds to meet the situation.
