

GIVEN SURPRISE

A surprise party was given in honor of Mrs. C. J. Baumgart in honor of her birthday Thursday night, September 13th. The evening was spent in dancing and pin-ochle for those who did not care to dance. Everyone had an enjoyable time. Lunch was served at a late hour and all departed for home wishing Mrs. Baumgart many more happy birthdays.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Beuchler, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wetenkamp, Mr. and Mrs. John Terryberry, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Terryberry and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hennings and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Terryberry and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Zimmerman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Speck and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Jordan and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Renner, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Renner, Louie Wagner, Frank Kostka, Arnold Beuchler, Marion Speck, Norma Baumgart, Thyra Baumgart, Marie Speck, Vivian Terryberry and Betty McCarty.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Renner and son Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Renner, all of Omaha, spent Sunday at the home of Will Renner.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

The tenth birthday anniversary of Mary Terryberry was celebrated on last Saturday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Terryberry, when a group of the young friends came in to assist in seeing that the event was properly observed.

The time was spent in playing games and having a general good time, climaxed by the serving of dainty and delicious refreshments by Mrs. Terryberry. Those who attended were Betty McCarty, Vivian Terryberry, Florence and Kathleen Schaffer, Ann Jane Terryberry, Wilbur Heil, Florence Heil, Dayton Hennings, Florence Terryberry, Harlan Heil, Marvin Heil, Dan Terryberry, Harlan Hennings, Betty, Norma, Lillie and Maryland Schaffer James and Shirley Terryberry, Phyllis Kaffenberger, Kathleen Urish, Doris Franke, Betty and Marie Alexen, Raymond and Marvin Hild, Florence Shogren, teacher of the little folks, as well as Mrs. Phillip Schaffer, Mrs. Howard Fullerton, Mrs. John Terryberry, Mrs. Otto Schaffer, Mrs. Ray Hild, Mrs. Herbert Franke.

FAIR ALL AROUND THEM

Dr. W. H. Tuck and family were enjoying the Cass county fair last Saturday. At least that is the way they expressed themselves, and why not, for they had had fair at the right of them, fair at the left of them, fair in front of them and fair at the rear of them—in other words the fair was made up of throngs of people, who were west of them, north of them, east of them and south of them, for four noisy days and nights. And so, they were enjoying the fair best on Saturday—when it was all over.

BREX TRIM PEERLESS

From Thursday's Daily
The BREX kittenball team last evening took themselves a game from the Peerless, who have been one of the main contenders for the second round leadership. The score was 9 to 6 and pulled the Peerless down to two defeats for the season and advancing the BREX up among the leaders.

MOTHER-IN-LAW TO PLEASE

Paris.—The traditional carefree shopping whims of a princess were revealed as not so carefree after all. They are, in fact, apparently subject to the desires of a princess' mother-in-law-to-be. This, at least, is the case of Princess Marina of Greece, who is engaged to be married to Prince George of England. The princess came to Paris to buy Parisian clothes—in a dressmaking shop run by Capt. Edward Molyneux, an Englishman, of course. And that was all very well, except Captain Molyneux disclosed that Queen Mary must approve the clothes in her son's wife's trousseau before the purchase is completed.

PWA WON'T BUILD

Omaha.—William C. Ramsey reported to fellow members of the Omaha municipal university board of regents that Washington PWA officials are not favorable to a proposal that the government construct buildings for the university. The response was unfavorable because the university lacks power to borrow money, Ramsey said. The proposal was that the government should erect the buildings, lease them to the university, with option to purchase. He added that the only solution he could see was to have the next legislature empower the regents to borrow money.

MORE CORN-HOG CHECKS

Arrival of $207,859.39 more in federal corn-hog checks for Nebraska farmers is announced from state AAA headquarters. K. C. Fouts, agricultural agent in Seward county, notified the office that $15,809.25 on 1,191 contracts arrived Thursday morning. Distribution starts Saturday. It as the first pay to be received in that county. First payment of $40,880.25 has been received also in Boyd county. An additional $15,169.80 as reported for Pawnee county.

HEAVY CHEESE STOCKS

Washington.—An increase of more than 4 million pounds of Swiss cheese on hand in the nation's storage warehouses on Sept. 1 over a year ago was shown in a department of agriculture report.

The storage supply of butter, on the other hand, was approximately 55 million pounds below Sept. 1, 1933. American cheese supplies jumped about 9 million pounds above a year ago.

HAS CAR STRIPPED

From Thursday's Daily
Leo Boynton last night had his Chevrolet coach stolen from the parking place on North 6th street and later recovered, stripped, near the old detor north of this city. The car was reported by residents of the section where it had been abandoned. The car had all of the tires removed and other articles taken from it when discovered and reported to the officers.

WORKERS BACK TO MILLS

Charlotte, N. C.—The strike movement in the south apparently was arrested as additional cotton textile workers returned to their mills and the hosiery call failed to evoke mass response. Strike ranks in the Carolinas here reduced to less than half of the industry, altho an estimated 2,000 workers remained away from their boards and knitting machines in a score of hosiery mills.

ROBBED, THROWN ON TRAIN

Chappell, Neb.—Donald Ware of Chappell, who was at Sidney to attend a baseball game, was attacked by an unknown assailant Wednesday night, knocked unconscious, robbed of an undetermined amount of money, and thrown on a freight train. Word here said Ware awakened at Julesburg, Colo., and that he was not injured severely.

ALLOTMENTS ARE REVOKED

Washington.—The public works administration revoked twenty-six allotments for non-federal projects. This action released $4,457,900 for reallocation to other projects on the waiting list. The revocations included: Nebraska—Winside, $8,900 loan and grant for a community building, revoked at the applicants' request.

CLEANERS CALL TRUCE

Chicago.—A truce for ninety days was proposed by so-called independent cleaners and dyers here to end the lockout-strike that has tied up Chicagoans' clothing for several days.

Alvo News

Robert Caster was visiting and looking after some business matters in and near Eagle on last Saturday night.

W. H. Warner has been busy with the shelling of corn in this vicinity, of which there has been a good deal to do the past few weeks.

There was being unloaded for use by the Alvo schools, a car load of coal, which reminds us that the cold weather portion of the year is rapidly approaching.

Miss Josephine Stewart is now in charge of the World-Herald paper route here and is delivering the papers promptly and in a most satisfactory manner.

Among the real fine floats which the different schools put on as part of the closing day parade at the county fair last week, was that of the Alvo schools, which represented the May day.

James H. Foreman was shelling and delivering corn to the Rehmeier elevator and also to some feeders in the vicinity of Omaha who were in need of corn to condition their stock for the market.

Mrs. R. J. McKenzie was entertaining the members of the Missionary society at the parsonage last Wednesday, when they looked after matters of business and then enjoyed a social afternoon.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Coatsman has been blessed with the arrival of an infant daughter. The young lady and her mother are doing very well and all the folks are pleased over the event.

Mrs. Roy Stewart and children attended the county fair at Weeping Water last Friday. Mr. Stewart was unable to go, as he was busy with the sinking of a well on the place east of Alvo where Frank Ohmes resides.

Mrs. C. W. Jewell was called to Lincoln to attend the funeral of her close friend, Mrs. Louis Groves, and also had the pleasure of visiting with numerous other friends residing in the capital city before returning home.

Chris Elkerman, who has been farming near Alvo for a number of years has disposed of his 1934 corn crop, which like that of others is very light, and moved to Lincoln, where he will engage in another line of endeavor in the future.

L. D. Muller and the family were over to Weeping Water on last Friday, where they were attending the county fair and were especially interested in the school parade, which is always one of the big features on the closing day of the fair.

Junior Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson, residing west of town, was over to the county fair on last Wednesday, taking with him one of the very finest of calves which he was placing on exhibition there and which from the looks of the animal should score high in the judging.

Section Foreman H. M. Wyatt, who suffered a heart stroke some weeks ago, and who was laid up part of the time as a result thereof, in company with other members of the family were visiting in Omaha with their daughter last week, returning home Wednesday. Mr. Wyatt was able to report for work last Saturday.

Mrs. Henry Bailey and son, Kenneth, were in Lincoln last Saturday night, where they were looking after some shopping and on their return they were accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Appleman, daughter of Mrs. Bailey, who visited here over the week end and was taken back to Lincoln Sunday evening by Kenneth and their mother.

Anton King and Joe Mex were in Weeping Water last Wednesday afternoon, where they were attending the county fair and were enjoying a fine time as they are both socially inclined and there were plenty of friends there to visit, to say nothing of the exhibits to be seen, which were plentiful considering the drought that has prevailed this year.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Coatsman were pleased to receive a visit from Sterling Gardener, a former neighbor of Mr. Coatsman when he was a boy and as well a cousin whom he had not seen for a long time, came to pay the Coatsman family a visit last week, which was duly enjoyed by all. Mr. and Mrs. Gardner also visited with relatives in Weeping Water and Elmwood and attended the Cass county fair. After visiting the folks here, they went to Chicago, where they expected to spend a short time and attend the Century of Progress exposition before returning to their home in the west.

Attended Surprise Party

A surprise party gotten up by the friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rehmeier, who reside near Weeping Water, was attended by Simon Rehmeier and family and Frank Taylor and family, Simon being a brother of the guest of honor and Mrs. Taylor a sister. Mr. and Fred Rehmeier were united in marriage at Avoca twenty years ago, and the party was arranged in honor of their wedding anniversary. They have made their home on a farm near Weeping Water for a number of years.

Making Change in Firm

The Alvo Hardware and Implement company, a firm that has been composed of Edward Edwards and John Elliott, has by mutual consent been dissolved, the senior partner withdrawing from the business, and the junior partner, John Elliott, taking it over. Mr. Elliott is well experienced in this line of merchandise and expects to maintain a good stock at all times, as well as render service to the community in repairs, etc.

Candidates are Out Again

Alvo received a visit on Tuesday from three of the republican candidates for county office, who are now getting out over the county to meet the voters in anticipation of election day, after a brief rest-up from the primary campaign. Those in the visiting group were Rex Young, candidate for sheriff; John E. Turner, candidate for re-election as county treasurer, and W. G. Kleck, who is seeking re-election as county attorney.

Return from Eastern Trip

Messrs. Frank Plymale and Phillip Coatsman, of Alvo, who accompanied Ben Plymale to Huntington, W. Va., returned home late last week after an absence of about ten days. They were well pleased with their trip and the many sights of interest they were able to see and enjoy. En route home, they stopped in Chicago and took in the World's Fair, also at Alton, Ill., where both young men investigated the Delsel engine trade school of that place from which both are taking a course of study.

Enjoying Visit Here

Mrs. M. L. Gollmer, of Grand Island, and Mrs. Gladys Coatsman, of Weeping Water, sisters of R. M. Coatsman, and Mr. and Mrs. William Coatsman of Weeping Water, were visiting at the R. M. Coatsman home here for a few days during the past week, the visit being enjoyed by all.

Visiting at Home of Daughter

H. P. Hinds, who has been staying at the home of his son, Jesse Hinds, of Burns, Wyoming, for the past several months, returned to Cass county a week ago and is now visiting with his daughter, Mrs. W. L. Coppel. They were over to Wabash for a short time last Wednesday.

Alvo School Notes

School was dismissed for the afternoon last Friday to permit the students and teachers to attend the county fair at Weeping Water. Alvo was represented in the parade by a float depicting May day.

Special observance of Constitution day will be held throughout the school today (Monday.)

Rev. R. J. McKenzie, pastor of the Methodist church, addressed the high school at its regular convocation last Tuesday morning on the subject, "Doing Your Best."

An "Honor School" sign is on display in the school building. The sign was sent by the Nebraska State Teachers' association in recognition of the professional spirit shown by Alvo teachers in their 100 per cent membership in the state association.

Three of the high school classes have organized for the coming year. The Senior class elected Yvonne Bennett, president; Florence Sutton, vice president and James West, secretary-treasurer. Their sponsor is Supt. L. M. Hauptman. Junior class officers are Merle Kinney, president; Dale Ganz, vice president, and Dale Haer-tel, secretary-treasurer. The class is sponsored by Miss Mabel McGinnis. The Sophomore class, sponsored by E. F. Gorr, has chosen Iris Miller, president; Wayne McGinnis, vice president, and Victor Miller, secretary-treasurer.

Ready for Advancement

The third Sunday school class of the Primary department are learning the 23rd Psalm and the ten commandments, ready for promotion day. This will be held the last Sunday in September, at the close of the third quarter.

FIND ABANDONED CAR

From Friday's Daily
This morning an abandoned Nash four-door sedan was discovered near the Platte river bridge. The car bore the number, 1-132131, Nebraska. The car had a connecting rod burned out. The matter was reported to the local officers and Omaha officers notified of the finding of the car.
