REACHES GREAT AGE

Abram Shellenbarger, the last civil war veteran in the city, Wednesday observed the passing of his ninety-fourth birthday anniversary, an age that is given but few to ever live to attain.

Mr. Shellenbarger was born on October 3, 1840, at a time when the Van Buren and Harrison presidential campaign was on over the nation, when yet the Mexican war was to be fought and the annexation of the territories of the southwest was to be made. In the year of his birth the means of communication was poor and the great inventions of later years yet undreamed. He has lived to see his country in two of the greatest wars of all time, in one of which he served with honor in the Union army in the war of the states. He has lived to see the great gold strikes of '49, the displacement of the covered wagon and pony express by the railroads in the west, the coming of the automobile and truck to add to the transportation of the nation. In his youth the telephone was unknown and in recent years he has seen the radio and wireless bring the whole world in touch.

The Journal extends its congratulations to Mr. Shellenbarger and with the wish that he may see the completion of a full century of life.

BEHIND the SCENES in HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—One of the untold dramas of the Max Reinhardt premiere was how Franchot Tone asked Charlie Chaplin for an autograph—and got turned down.

Franchot and Joan Crawford were sitting several boxes away when the comedian and Paulette Godard took their seats at the Hollywood bowl. Though a successful actor, now almost a Hollywood veteran, Franchot was plainly excited. Finally, he confessed, Charlie has been his screen idol since boyhood. "I wonder if he'd give me his autograph?" he said impulsively.

Franchot Tone

A moment later, he was out of his seat and had joined the crowd back of the comedian's box. After waiting his turn with other autograph seekers, he thrust a program and a pencil over Charlie's shoulder.

Without seeing who it was, the comedian shook his head. "I'm sorry, I don't give autographs," he said.

Franchot went disconsolately back to his box. But the last part of the story is the best. Joan stopped Hyman Fink, the photographer, and asked him to explain to Chaplin that Franchot Tone wanted his autograph. A half hour later Hyman returned. He not only had Charlie's autograph, but those of Bette Davis and Anna Sten as well.

Was Franchot's face red!

Add to strange fan letters the one just received by Mona Barrie. An 18-year-old Chicago girl writes the actress seven and a half pages—all about Lew Ayres.

"I can't eat, sleep or work for thinking about him," declares the enthusiastic fan. "I know you work at the Fox studio. Will you give this letter to Lew and explain?"

Not a word about Mona herself. But Mona says:

"I'm consoling myself that the girl may have a mad brother. And he may have written Lew seven and a half pages about me."

What romance between a new foreign star at Universal and a brunette Hollywood beauty gets stormier and funnier every day? The latest explosion took place in the studio commissary when she threw a lighted cigarette, a glass of ice-water and a handful of sugar at her astonished swain.

Knick-Knacks—

The Doctor Frank Nolans (Eleanor Hunt) have quarreled again. They are cooling off (or are they?) under separate roofs. . . Charles Ray has been spurring Beverly Bouveret to Henri's 50-59 club. . . And Johnny Maschio, Sidney Blackmer and Gwendolyn Gill a threesome at the same spot. . . Young Doug cables that "Here Lies Truth," the play in which he and Gertrude Lawrence are appearing, is selling seats six weeks in advance. . . My line that Bing Crosby came to Mack Sennett's financial aid upsets Joe Ryan, who says he never, never did. . . Una O'Connor, the comedienne, had a narrow escape. Since the high tides she has been carrying a life line when she goes into the surf. With the other tied to an iron ring on the front porch of her Malibu cottage. But the rusty ring broke loose and two neighbors had to rescue Una from the big combers.

Did You Know— That many of the clothes for "David Copperfield" were made new, then washed eight times and soaked in coffee to give them the appearance of age?

When the next war comes, those of fighting age will fight, just as they always have done—and those who dodge the fighting will make money, just as they have always done.

When you give the people facts they will do their own arguing and deciding.

Announce the Winner in Gas Range Contest

Iowa-Nebraska Light & Power Co. Manager Announces Result of the Contest.

Three Nebraska homemakers numbered among the fifteen prize winners in a national "You Name It" Gas Range naming contest sponsored by the Geo. D. Roper Corporation Rockford, Illinois, makers of Roper gas ranges. They are Mrs. Ben Austin, 625 South 14th street, Lincoln, Nebraska, who has been awarded first prize of $200, Mrs. D. F. Wagner, 125 West 13th street, Crete, Nebraska, and Mrs. L. S. Chamberlain, West Main street, Milford, Nebraska, who were awarded honorable mention prizes of $5 each.

Checks were presented to these prize winners this week by representatives of the Iowa-Nebraska Light & Power company who conducted the contest locally throughout its territory as part of the national plan.

"The idea behind the campaign," said Mr. F. I. Rea, "was to find a name that would instantly convey the style and beauty of the new Roper ranges. We also wanted the name to tell of the high quality construction, special convenience features and economical operation of these modern creations. It was felt that the best method of securing such a name was to 'go to the country'— appeal to the thousands upon thousands of people who came in to see and buy one of the new models.

"The plan was overwhelmingly successful in that thousands upon thousands participated. Naturally to find that we have three of the prize winners in Nebraska in the face of this tremendous competition, was highly gratifying. We want to thank all of those who came into our store, saw the new ranges demonstrated, and then submitted a name in the contest. Even though everyone could not win a cash prize, I believe that educational value of the demonstration of this modern range was well worth the time and trouble of the participants. At least, people had a chance to see the very latest in gas cooking equipment."

To Encourage Perfect Attendance. In order that better attendance at the Bible school of the Christian church might be realized, there is being kept a register of the attendance of the members of the Bible school and that the record may be compared with the record of last year. This is to show whether the school is advancing or not. The record is for the current month, October.

Finally It Will Be Oysters. Yes, there was a contest in the Bible school at the Christian church, the adult class, the one taught by Mrs. Ernest Baker, and all say she is one of the very best of Biblical instructors, that the division of the class which constitutes the women of the class were pitted against the men. The rules of the contest are that the losers were to entertain the winners to a supper. This was to have been this week, but by reason of other entertainment occupying the time the supper has had to be postponed for at least two weeks, but come it will and the men in their serving are expecting to have a real actual oyster supper with real oysters in the soup and a good time. Then it will be nearer winter and the supper will be relished the more.

Fathers and Daughters to Meet. There is to be a got together meeting of the fathers and daughters of the Christian church in the near future when the parents will meet with the daughters instead of the sons this is because the daughters of the church rolls are more numerous than the sons, and by the way, why not, as they are just as good company as the sons, anyway. There is good reason that an excellent time will be had. The date of the banquet has been set for October 12th.

Weeping Water Gives Playlet. The young peoples class of the Congregational church of Weeping Water under the tutelage of their pastor, Rev. Louis Wilson, presented last Monday evening at the Methodist church of Elmwood a playlet known as "Ba Thune," as a fitting conclusion of the one day session of the Cass County Bible School association which was meeting in Elmwood. Not alone were the people of Elmwood grateful for the very interesting playlet, but all from the entire county who were present.

According to Constitution (?). Party and six years was Solomon's Temple in building, and it is claimed that the Cass County Bible School association has been in existence for just one year less, and during all this time serving the people and the Bible schools to the very best. It was not until this session that the question was raised that there was no constitution, and after some discussion it was deemed best to provide one and therefore a committee empowered to wrestle with this burning question was appointed with power to act.

Elmwood News

Albert Theil of west of Murdock was a business visitor in Elmwood on last Tuesday morning, driving over to look after some business matters for a short time.

The Young Peoples class of the Christian Bible school enjoyed a weiner roast on last Tuesday evening at the ball park just north of town and a good time was had.

Mrs. Lucy Lyle, the manager of the Elmwood telephone exchange, in order to facilitate the work of the home and preserve the eatables in best condition has had a Norge electric refrigerator installed in the home.

B. I. Clement was called to Lincoln on Tuesday of this week to look after some business matters, making the trip to the big town in his auto and was accompanied by his son, Attorney Guy Clements.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Rosenow and Joseph F. Gustin of near Murdock were visiting for the day last Sunday at the home of J. S. Wilcox, where the three couples enjoyed a real old fashioned visit, they all being very close friends. J. S. Wilcox and family reside in Lincoln.

Not wishing to challenge undue attention to the wheelbarrow, owned by a certain man in Elmwood, but the report is current that while his neighbor was returning from a trip to Lincoln in his auto that this same wheelbarrow, driven by the sturdy arms of a certain gardener only had a sack of potatoes as the load passed the new car on the hill west of town.

Republicans in Caucus. At the republican caucus which was held on Friday of last week, the nominations were as follows: Paul Marshall, assessor, F. J. Fitch as justice of the peace, while the other member of the three man ticket was made up of Harley Williams and a mighty good ticket as to that. The democrats will hold their caucus during this week.

I. O. O. F. Meet and Eat. Sure who ever knew of an Odd Fellow who was not able to eat when the good things were placed before him. At the regular meeting last week of the subordinate lodge No. 160, they had as their guests a number of members from Weeping Water, Nehawka and Avoca and also the deputy grand master of Waverly, who addressed the meeting on "Good Oddfellowship" and a very fine time was had, followed with good things to eat.

Of Special Interest. At the meeting of the Ladies Missionary society of the Christian church on last Wednesday the theme of missions developed that the missionary society of the church was organized sixty years ago, no not the local organization in Elmwood, but they celebrated the event just the same and had an excellent time at that.

For Next Lord's Day. The services for the coming Lord's day at the Christian church, of which Rev. Ernest Baker is pastor, are as follows: Bible school at 10:00 a. m., with Superintendent Ledger in charge. Morning service at 11:00. Young Peoples meeting at 7 p. m. Evening service at 8:00. The services at the Evangelical church of which J. L. Almond is pastor, will be as follows: Bible church school at 10:00. Morning preaching at 11:00. Young Peoples meeting at 6:45. Evening services at 7:30. Services at the Methodist church of which W. B. Bliss is pastor, will be as follows: Sunday school at 10:00. Watson Jones, superintendent. Morning worship at 11:00. Epworth League at 7:00. Evening worship at 8:00.

An Aged Citizen Finds Rest. More than seventy-five years ago Mrs. James Christensen, nee Miss Susan Bronscom, was born August 12th, 1859 at Jonesboro, Kentu-Ey, and there resided during one of the most crucial wars, the civil war, and remained during her childhood, coming west to Nebraska when a young woman, in 1878 and was united in marriage to James Christensen on August 28th, 1878, they residing on a farm southeast of Elmwood for a number of years, moving to Elmwood to reside in 1921. Early in life this excellent woman united with the Methodist church and ever remained a devoted follower of Christ.

There was born to this couple three daughters, they being Mesdames Maude Olmstead, May McBride and Ethel Strobel, they all being at the funeral. Mrs. Christensen was a member of the W. C. T. U., the Daughters of Rebekah and the Royal Neighbors of America.

While about her duties getting a meal at the home she was stricken and falling to the floor expired in a short time. Besides the daughters the deceased leaves the sorrowing husband, four sisters, two brothers and five grandchildren. The funeral was held from the Methodist church of Elmwood and the interment in the beautiful Elmwood cemetery, the services being conducted by Rev. W. B. Bliss, pastor of the church.

Not Can Harry Dehnning. A few days ago there was arrested for some infraction of the law a certain Harry Dehnning of Plattsmouth, but this is not to be confused with Harry Dehnning of Elmwood, who some six months ago went to Big Springs to make his home, for he resides in the western portion of the state now.

RUTH BRYAN OWEN IS 49. Washington.—"Madame Minister" Ruth Bryan Owen celebrated her 49th birthday with a dinner date at the white house. In between that and a luncheon in her honor at the Women's National press club she had conferences at the state department. These employes who remembered her father as secretary of state were among the first to congratulate her a year and a half ago when she was made the first U. S. woman diplomat, minister to Denmark.

That appointment was climax to a career which had been colorful from the days when she was known from the nation over as daughter of the commoner, William Jennings Bryan, on the opposite side of the political fence from "Princess Alice" Roosevelt, a year older than she. Contemporaneous with the two of them was a then less limelight young woman, Eleanor Roosevelt, now wife of the president, and Minister Owen's hostess. She'll be having a birthday this month, too, her fiftieth on Oct. 11.

Smart-side-out Hosiery REVERSED BY MUNSING Wear prevents wavy, twisted seams

HERE'S a secret discovered by smart women—Hose are twice as flattering when worn inside out. So Munsingwear makes a stocking that has the dull, flat surface on the outside. And this extra dullness does wonders for legs and ankles—making them look more slender, far more stunning! Then, too, the texture appears sheerer, clearer—yet the close, flat weave conceals skin blemishes and resists snags and runs. The ribbed surface on the inside grips the skin—preventing twisted rear seams, ankle wrinkles. Ask for "Smart-Side-Out" Hosiery Reversed by Munsingwear in the lovely new costume shades.
