Copy furnished from Office of County Agent Waincoat

Miss Brown and Mrs. Galles To Be Here for Meeting.
Miss Mary-Ellen Brown, state extension agent, women's work, and Mrs. N. W. Galles, will be in the county on October 18th and 19th to assist with President, Secretary and Social Leaders Training meetings. These meetings will probably be held at Weeping Water and Murdock, however these officers will be notified later of the exact time and place.
This is the first year secretaries of women's project clubs have been included in the training meetings which the presidents and social leaders have found to be a great help to them in conducting the business meetings of their clubs.

Loans on Young Sho Stock in Primary Drought Areas.
Beginning November 1, 1934 farmers and stockmen in the primary drought areas may get feed loan allowances for this year's heifer calves, ewe lambs and female kids, in addition to the allowances being made for mature stock, according to a statement made here September 11, by George Susens of the emergency crop and feed loan section, farm credit administration.
Mr. Susens said that feed loan allowances will be made only on such stock which are retained primarily for breeding purposes; and in no event will allowances be made to feed a larger number of young and mature stock in their respective classes than the number of mature breeding stock which were owned and possessed by the borrower on April 1, 1934, or on sheep owned within six months prior to that date.
The emergency feed loans which are being advanced in the primary drought areas are disbursed from the drought relief appropriation approved June 16, 1934, and made in monthly allowances. Applications are received by the local crop and feed loan committees operating in counties throughout the drought area. Begun early in June, to date more than 134,000 of such loans and supplemental advances have been made for over $10,000,000.

4-H Finish Up.
We are again calling to the attention of 4-H club members and leaders that the deadline for filing final reports and leader's summaries is rapidly nearing. These reports take only a very few minutes of your time and must be filed in order for the club member to receive credit for his work. If you have not filed your report, do it now!

Corn Must Be Re-Sealed by October 15th.
Corn that is now under seal must be re-sealed by, or have the note settled by October 15th.
All the notes are now in the hands of the Commodity Credit Corporation and farmers can have their banker order the papers for them and then shell the corn and settle the note or make application for the corn to be re-sealed. The new applications have not been sent to the corn sealers as yet but are expected to be in their hands within a few days.

The new loans will be made on ear corn sealed in a permanent crib with a good foundation and a water-proof roof. It will be measured at 2 1/2 cubic feet per bushel. The persons having the corn sealed must have their corn insured at the rate of 75c per $100 value of corn. There must be enough insurance to cover the loan. The sealing fee will be 1/2c per bushel with a minimum fee of $5.00. The loan will be 55c per bushel until June 30, 1935.

May Buy Cattle October 11th.
October 11th is the expiration date of the buying of government cattle. Several have listed cattle for sale but there is not enough listed at present to go ahead with the sale. Anyone wishing to sell cattle has the opportunity of listing them by Monday noon, October 8th. Call or write the corn-hog office at Weeping Water.

Many Applications for Drouth Relief.
The last two weeks have brought many callers to the Farm Bureau office to inquire about the federal drouth relief. The qualifications for this relief are that a farmer must not have more than ten units of livestock. A unit is one horse, or one cow, or two hogs. Four sheep are a unit, four goats a unit and 100 chickens a unit. If he has ten or less units he can work out $2.50 per unit per month. The work director will line up the work projects as near to the applicants as possible. He will be allowed 30c per hour, single handed, and 45c for man and team. He must buy feed with the money and show a receipt for same before the next month's work will be approved.

Enter Livestock for Ak-Sar-Ben.
Joch Joachim, Vincent Rehmeier, Frances Rehmeier, Dwain Reed, Eugene Domingo, Harold Domingo, Robert Pollard, Malcolm Pollard, and James Schafer, Cass county 4-H club members, have entered five baby heaves, nine fat barrows, and six fat wethers at the Ak-Sar-Ben stock show. We are expecting these 4-H's to make some nice showings this year.

TAX FOR FARMERS LOOMS

Paris.—France's huge exports of wheat which traders here credit with weakening markets abroad are causing such losses that the government is contemplating heavily assessing farmers, it was disclosed.
The exports—an effort to ease the glutted domestic market—were reported to have totaled more than 8 million bushels in ten days, and were sold at ten francs a bushel (approximately 66 cents), one-third of the fixed domestic price.
Inasmuch as the government reimbursed exporters for the two-thirds difference, cost of the plan during the ten day period was some $14,500,000.
The government announced it is planning to raise the tax on wheat farmers from approximately one to three francs on each bushel of wheat sold, in addition to lowering the compulsory ratio of flour extraction from 65 to 60 percent.

Red Cross Plans for 1935 are Discussed

J. M. Power and W. M. Baxter Both of St. Louis Speakers at Regional Conference.

"The Red Cross," according to Relief Administrator Hopkins at the national convention, "shall always be the agent for relief regardless of governmental plans and financial support." Such was the statement of J. M. Power, manager's assistant, Red Cross midwestern branch office, St. Louis, Mo., speaking at the regional conference at Lincoln Thursday. About 100 chapter heads and campaigners were present.

"In Nebraska last year at the 1934 roll call," he continued, "43,000 names were on the list. This represents a 3,000 increase over the one for 1933. The Red Cross, differing from almost every other agency, is never affected by adverse economic conditions because of the difference in the setup. Even if the people who were able to lend us support one year are not available the next, there is someone else who can carry on if we extend the invitation. Last year the Red Cross took an active part in 103 disasters and we can expect an average of 100 disasters every year." The entire organization budget, branches of expenditure, plans of action and needs were presented in his address.

Reports of experience in the roll call were given by R. H. Watson, Saunders county. "The Rural Roll Call," Mrs. Ann M. Morrison, Hall county; "Securing Workers;" and Mrs. A. H. Brooke, Adams county "Publicity."

At the luncheon, William M. Baxter, manager of the midwestern area, St. Louis, was principal speaker. "Red Cross responsibilities have increased over the past few years," he said, "and last year the agency's accident prevention work reached a new high. The need for home training in home hygiene doubles with each year of the depression. It is gratifying to the organization to note 7,000,000 school children listed on the Junior Red Cross rolls." At the luncheon an address of welcome was made by Mayor Fleming, the invocation delivered by Rev. Paul Calhoun, and a pageant presented by junior Red Cross members of the Lincoln and Lasterter county chapter. The afternoon program was a round table discussion of organization for the 18th roll call which will start Armistice day and run until Thanksgiving. Jess Pemberton acted as chairman throughout the meeting.

BIDS FOR GRAIN ELEVATORS

Chicago.—The Farmers National Grain corporation proposed to Joseph Eastman, federal co-ordinator of railways, to take over all railway owned elevators in the nation's principal terminal markets, and operate them under lease from the railway companies.

The proposal, announced by C. E. Huff, president of the Farmers Cooperative, was offered as a substitute for recent recommendations of J. A. Little, member of Eastman's staff that railway elevator facilities be pooled and turned over to a newly formed corporation to operate on a uniform basis for reasons of economy.
"Mr. Little proposes that the carriers operate their own facilities thru a separate organization in which operations would be pooled and joined," Huff stated. "Such arrangement would put the carriers into the business of commodity handling, which is foreign to their purpose and not in line with public interest."
The leases proposed by the farmers corporation would insure to the railroads an income equal to taxes, depreciation, and a "fair return on sound investment value," Huff said, with services of the leased elevators available to the entire public.
The corporation, Huff said, already has under control one-fourth of the grain going thru terminal markets, and leases or owns elevators having a total capacity of 26,000,000 bushels.

OIL PRODUCTION DROPS

Washington.—Crude petroleum production in the United States during August was placed by the bureau of mines at 79,958,000 barrels, a daily average of 2,550,000. This was 81,000 barrels below the July average and 208,000 below that for August, 1932.

Has Had Bad Luck

Wayne Swarts, who resides near Hemingford, Nebraska, out in the northwestern part of the state, has been the victim of some hard luck recently. A week ago, while he had a hired man in the field sowing his wheat, a sudden shower came up, accompanied by a severe electrical display, and a bolt of lightning struck the four-horse team he was driving, killing three of the animals and stunning the fourth as well as the driver. The workman and one horse recovered from the effects of their shock, but the loss of three of his best horses is a heavy one to bear. To add to the

Morley Stuart, editor of the Cambridge (England) Daily News, in a talk given before the Cambridge Publicity Club, said:
"There have been some people who thought that it might be possible to produce a paper without advertisements, but they could have given little thought to the enormous expense that attached to the production of a modern journal. Many years ago a former editor of 'The Spectator' wrote some articles in favour of newspapers without advertisements, but they were not taken seriously by those who understood the position. Lord Northcliffe described them as 'preposterous' and asked three pertinent questions:
Where are the printers' wages coming from?
Who is to pay the wholesale and retail distributors?
What about the price of paper?"
"Referring to the history of newspaper advertising, what is believed to be the first advertisement appeared in 1649. It began:
"Reader, thou art entreated to enquire after a blackish and kind of pebbled nag— and ended:
"Whoever will enquire, find him out and make stay of him and bring or send tidings of him shall have what content they will, or can desire for their pains."
"Advertising had not been without its humour, but it was distressing to read that what appeared to be romantic effusions in the Agony Column were often thieves' communications in the unravelling of which Scotland Yard was said to be peculiarly cunning.
"There can be no question that a very great improvement has taken place in the lay-out of advertisements. It is only of recent years that the real value of newspaper advertising has been properly appreciated and I, for one, am glad that the provincial press is coming into its own. The near future will, I believe, see big developments."

morfortunes of Wayne and his wife, two cows were poisoned by eating scoured corn fodder and died, and a cold snap during September froze many of his potatoes on the ground. There is an old saying that "It never rains but it pours" and this seems to be true in the case of the Swarts family at this time.

Makes Self Auto Truck
John H. Buck, who is a very fine blacksmith, and whose ability does not stop there, has just completed the making of a new truck from some discarded cars and having completed it, making a very nifty wagon, he was over to Plattsmouth on last Wednesday, where he went to secure a license for its operation.

Played Here Saturday
Lester Thingan, with the Norfolk Packing company's Rittenball team, came over from Plattsmouth to play a game with the Murdock team under the floodlights which have recently been installed, the game being played Saturday night and attracting a large crowd of interested spectators. The new flood lights are proving very popular and more than justify the expense connected with their installation.

Rev. and Mrs. Jansen Here
The Rev. C. Jansen, presiding elder, now located at Hastings, and his good wife were visiting in Murdock at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Henry Amgwerl, stopping off here for a few days on their return from Rochester, Minn., where they had been on account of the very poor health of Mrs. Jansen, who had been there for a clinic at the Mayo hospital. After a short visit and rest, they continued on their way to their home in Hastings. The many friends of Elder Jansen and wife and their daughter and family here are very sorry to learn of the poor health of Mrs. Jansen.

Holding Union Revival Now
There is a union revival being conducted in Murdock, the churches at Callahan and Elmwood joining in the work with the Murdock church. The preaching is being done by the ministers of the respective churches concerned, they being Rev. H. R. Knosp of the Murdock church, Rev. C. F. Weber of Callahan and Wabash, and Rev. L. M. Arnold of the Elmwood church.

Many Attended Bible School Meet
There were many from Murdock in attendance at the convention of the Cass County Bible School association, which was held at the Methodist church in Elmwood last Monday. Rev. H. R. Knosp and wife and Rev. C. F. Weber and wife, of the Murdock and Callahan churches, respectively, Fred Stock, Sr., Martin Bornemeier (who is vice president of the association) and a number of other people from the Murdock, Callahan and Louisville churches were present and enjoyed the splendid program that was provided. Otto Miller was over with a load of people from Murdock.

Kittenball Tournament
The rain that came and spoiled the kittenball tournament scheduled for the last week in September paved the way for much better weather for the sport the latter part of last week and large crowds were on hand to witness the deferred games. When the result had been determined it was found that the Ashland team had won first place, playing against Louisville in the finals and winning by a score of

Jimmie Durante Takes Role of Barker at Fair

Ladies and Gentlemen! Right in front of you, the largest "nozzle" in captivity, and none other than Jimmie Durante, the popular screen, stage and radio star, as a barker in the Italian Village at the World's Fair. Durante spent 110 hours on a train, commuting from Los Angeles to Chicago, just to visit his old time friends, the officials of the Italian Village. That he can bark profusely and effectively is evidenced by the admiring crowd before the gate.

MURDOCK ITEMS

Frank A. Melvin was placing a new roof on the postoffice building, which is adding much to the value of the building.
Charles I. Long and wife and Henry Schleuter and wife were in attendance at the Bible school convention at Elmwood last Monday.
Milton Wood, of near Wabash, was a visitor in Murdock on last Wednesday afternoon, coming over to look after the transaction of some business matters.

Little Adaline Knosp, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. R. Knosp, was quite ill for a number of days last week, but is reported as being much better at this time.
Fred Tonak was in town Wednesday and stated he had just completed the sowing of some 23 acres of winter wheat, which is all he is allowed under the allotment program.

Business called A. H. Jacobson to Plattsmouth on Tuesday of last week, he driving over in his car. While in the county seat, he renewed acquaintance with many of his friends there.
Mr. and Mrs. O. E. McDonald were over to Plattsmouth and Murray on Tuesday of last week, where they visited with the mothers of each, Mrs. J. R. Kelley, of Plattsmouth, and Mrs. Myra McDonald, of Murray.
Edward W. Thingan, of Plattsmouth, while looking after some business matters at South Bend and that portion of the county, was also visiting with friends in Murdock on last Tuesday.

Walter Norval, of Loup City, was a visitor at Wabash and with his long time friend, Milton Woods, who lived neighbors with him on adjoining farms some thirty-five years ago. They enjoyed a fine visit together.
Mrs. F. H. Gorder, of Weeping Water and Mrs. A. J. Tool of Murdock were in Omaha last Wednesday, where they were doing some shopping and as well were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Work, Mrs. Work being a daughter of Mrs. Tool.

L. Neitzel was highly pleased last week when Frank Farnham came over from Plattsmouth, where he is a resident of the Nebraska Masonic Home. The boys enjoyed a pleasant hour's visit together, while ye scribe was busy rustling up news, Mr. Farnham having accompanied us on the trip that day.
William Westfall, who resides near Alvo, was shelling and delivering his corn to the Murdock elevator on last Wednesday. Ray Gamlin was busy with his two trucks assisting in the delivery of the corn to the elevator and was also delivering a load of corn to the home of Fred Tonak, who is feeding some cattle at this time and received a load of tankage as well.

The new flood lights that make it possible to play at night as well as in the daytime are proving very popular and a much larger attendance can be gotten out at night than during the daytime, when many of the fans are at work.

Mrs. Frank Cox Dies
Louisa M. Stoll, daughter of Henry J. and Annie Stoll, was born April 5, 1864, near Nehawka, and passed away September 24, 1934, at the age of 70 years, 5 months and 18 days.
She was united in marriage to Frank A. Cox March 15, 1893. To this union was born one son, Earl.
She was confirmed in the Lutheran church and always lived that faith. She was also a member of the Royal Neighbor lodge and the Blue Bird country club. She was a member of a family of five children, all of whom preceded her in death.
Those who are left to mourn her departure are her husband and son, Earl, three grandchildren, Donald, Lawrence and Carlene, as well as a host of friends.

The funeral services were conducted from the home of her son, Earl, on Thursday, September 27th, at 2 p. m., conducted by W. A. Taylor, of Union, who gave words of comfort to the bereaved family. Interment was in St. John's cemetery.

Village Board Meeting
Board met in regular session with all members present and the following business was transacted.
The minutes of the previous meeting were read for information.
The following were presented and allowed:
Plattsmouth Journal, printing—$2.20
Otto Eickhoff, meals to transients—1.25
L. W. Rase, Storage—6.00
An application of O. E. McDonald for a beverage license was filed with the board at this time. The application was given due consideration and the request was refused.
The minutes were read and on motion were approved.
A motion prevailed to adjourn.
CHAS. I. LONG,
Village Clerk.

Mrs. John Bajcek, who has been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Paul Campbell, at Minnatare, Nebraska, has returned home after a pleasant outing.

Joe Penner Would Sell Duck!

"Wanna buy a duck?" Joe Penner, famed radio comedian, asks the question of the 12,000,000th visitor to the 1934 World's Fair in Chicago, at the 23rd Street gate. She is Miss Jane Evannan, of 1335 Ashbury street, Evanston, Ill. The duck, Ferdinand by name, is a trick duck owned by Anna De Koven of Wings of a Century, and objected strenuously to the entire procedure, claiming that Penner was nothing but a "quack" salesman.
