HOMER SYLVESTER

Candidate for Re-Election to Office of COUNTY SHERIFF

Your present Sheriff . . . with a fine law enforcement record that justifies your vote and his re-election Nov. 6.

Made 122 arrests in 1933 on which convictions were secured without one cent of trial cost to Cass county.

In the 23 months of his holding office, his expenses were approximately $648.00 less than his predecessor over the same period of time.

In those 23 months the number of arrests made were almost three times as many as were made by his predecessor.

If you favor continuation of this efficient handling of the Sheriff's office, cast your vote for Homer Sylvester.

Murray

Miss Bessie Copenhaver was a visitor in Omaha for the day last Sunday where she was visiting with her friends.

Sam F. Latta received a car of coal the first of the week and was having Henry Vest unload and deliver the same to the customers.

W. E. Rosencrans of Plattsmouth, a realtor, was looking after some business prospects in and about Murray on last Tuesday morning.

Carl Meisinger was in Murray on last Monday getting paint to paint the buildings of the farm of Fred Ahrens where Carl and wife reside.

J. A. Scotten has been making some repairs on the residence property of Mrs. J. D. Pitman, placing the property in excellent condition.

Thomas Nelson purchased a large number of the rejected piling which had been shipped here for use on the river work and had been rejected.

Mrs. Albert Schaeffer of Long Beach, Calif., is here visiting with her uncle, Wm. Sporer and family. She also has some business matters to look after while she is here.

George E. Nickles and wife accompanied the tour of the county of the democratic ticket and also remained at Weeping Water for the rally and banquet in the evening.

Mrs. W. B. Banning and Miss Pearl Banning of Union were visiting in Murray on last Monday afternoon and were looking after some business at the Murray lumber yard.

Chester Sporer who is at this time building a barn on his farm, is having a barn raising today when the friends and neighbors are present assisting in the erection of the structure.

James E. Hatchett who has been so ill for some time past and who has kept to his bed a great portion of the time is reported as being some better and was able during the early portion of the week to be up and eat at the table.

Mrs. Ona Lawton of Omaha, was a visitor for a few days extending over Sunday with relatives in Plattsmouth and also with the family of A. A. Young in Murray, returning to her home Monday, her son, Lyle, coming down for her.

The installation of the water system at Nehawka has afforded a good deal of work for Murray people, and some seven have taken advantage of the opportunity and have been working there and among whom are John Frans, Henry Gruber, Archer Poynter and Will Griffith.

Edmond Miller, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Miller and a nephew of Mrs. Wm. Sporer, was a visitor here and after the visit returned to Lincoln where he is employed with the state in the drawing of plans for their varied work. He has just had his salary increased and given an office with a secretary to assist in the routine of the work.

Someone with a truck last Saturday night or rather after midnight entered the premises of George S. Ray and helped themselves to some seventy bushels of corn and when they left they forgot to take their wrecking bar which probably cost four bits, and it is figured by Mr. Ray that the fifty cent bar cost him some forty odd dollars. A shotgun is on the reception committee for such visitors the next time.

Had a Merry Time.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Brubacher entertained at their home in Murray on last Sunday when they had the members of the families of the relatives of Mrs. Brubacher. There were there her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Lash of Auburn, Charles F. Blake and wife, Mrs. Blake being a sister of Mrs. Brubacher, Mrs. Mary Lash a sister of Mrs. Brubacher, Elmer Gilliott and wife, sister and brother-in-law and Louis Renner. A splendid time was enjoyed.

Work Resumed at Camp.

A. A. Young, when the appropriation was exhausted for the work at the transient camp north of Plattsmouth was thrown out of work, but when the appropriation had been passed for more money he was immediately re-employed and is again at work on the buildings, and it is expected now that the work will continue throughout the winter.

Had Startling Experience.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Young were over to Plattsmouth on last Saturday night where they were doing some trading and visiting with friends and as they returned home they were surprised to see a very congested roadway just east of the Hi-Way station, a number of horses were in the roadway and a quick stop had to be made to prevent striking the animals after dodging a number, they came to one which had been struck by another car and killed, the animal remaining on the pavement in such a manner as to imperil traffic. Finally a truck volunteered to drag the animal from the pavement so that traffic could be resumed, for some thirty cars were backed one behind the other and still increasing. The highway finally cleared and traffic was restored. The horses belonged to Howard Wiles and had broken from an adjacent field.

Democratic Ticket Here.

With a band and a blare of trumpets as well as the sounding of auto sirens and the honking of horns, the entire democratic ticket arrived in Murray on last Tuesday from Union and having started from Avoca, the home of the chairman of the county committee, Elmer J. Hallstrom, taking in Nehawka, and Union and arriving at Murray where an announcement was made by Hon. W. B. Banning setting forth the object of the visit, that of getting better acquainted with the personnel of the democratic ticket. With a very fine number by the band, the candidates passed out their cards and shook hands with the citizenry and a general good time they departed for Mynard and then on to other places, until they had completed the tour of the county, arriving at Weeping Water early in the evening where they remained for the rally and banquet as well as the addresses telling of the things accomplished by the present administration and asking all to support the ticket and restore better times.

From Weeping Water there was a very enthusiastic crowd which was headed by the veteran democrat, J. I. Corley and his co-worker, Elmer J. Hallstrom of Avoca, the chairman of the county central committee having charge of the tour. W. B. Banning was the spokesman of the party.

The candidates in the tour were: Fred L. Carsten, candidate for state senator; George E. Nickles, candidate for the house; E. B. Chapman of Union and Fred H. Gorder of Weeping Water, commissioners; J. L. Stamp, county treasurer; Homer Sylvester, sheriff; Harry Dwyer county attorney; Bernard G. Wurl, county clerk; Miss Lillian White register of deeds; W. H. Puls, county assessor; Robert Ritch, county surveyor; also Miss Alpha Peterson, candidate to succeed herself for county superintendent of schools, Mrs. J. R. Reeder, representing her husband, also for county superintendent.

Ladies' Aid Will Meet.

On Wednesday, November 7th the members of the Ladies' Aid of the Christian church will meet at the church parlors in the afternoon where they will enjoy a short session. Mrs. Martin Sporer will be the leader and the hostesses for the occasion will be Mesdames Sporer, Hansen and Davis.

Sure They Got Ducks.

J. A. Scotten, L. D. Crosser and Joe Richter went out to the Blue river where they spent Saturday night and hunted the festive duck, getting some fourteen of the birds. Speaking of the ability of the hunters to shoot, one had said that Joe Richter was surely the worst shot they had ever seen, and that Lon Crosser could not shoot as well as Joe, and that even poorer than these boys was J. A. Scotten, but still they got the birds and did not buy them either.

Football Game.

Murray and Mynard had a battle of football. In the first quarter Murray had a battle but soon Vance Frederick went for a touchdown. And then Murray tried to kick over goal post, but wasn't a success.

Murray kick off to Mynard and they got about 20 yards for a down. And for second down they tried to go and dropped the ball and Bob Long was on the ball so it was Murray's ball.

In the third quarter neither side made a touchdown. Mynard tried to pass but Robert Wheeler missed the ball three times in the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter Murray was trying hard for a touchdown but Mynard was too quick, and Vance Frederick was playing with a sprained ankle and Bob Long was playing with a sore knee cap. They were about ready to give in.

Marion Wiles went for a touchdown. Then they were going to kick over the goal. Bob Long rushed in for them and the quarterback was going to left with ball and Roy Wilson tackled him and the score was 6 to 6.

Have Fine Program.

A very successful plate supper and program was given at the Oxford school, west of Murray. Miss Louise Foster, the teacher, is to be congratulated upon the splendid rendition of the program. Very delightful and interesting numbers were given, among them the rhythm band, which Miss Foster organized last year and which has proven very successful.

The large and enthusiastic audience was very generous with their applause and Miss Foster was very grateful to the patrons and friends for their hearty co-operation. The neat sum realized will be used for playground equipment.

Democratic Tea.

Mrs. W. L. Seybolt was hostess to an afternoon of pleasure for some sixty guests when she entertained Thursday afternoon at a Democratic Tea. The object of the afternoon was to acquaint women voters on the issues that are involved in the present campaign.

Mrs. Fred Bollen, wife of the present railway commissioner, explained the causes of the so-called depression, cited the women to the fact that the changing conditions called for a different program. The processing tax that is nothing so many. How only a short time ago, hogs were selling at 2c a pound, now 6c and $5 a head to pay the tax if the producer is paying the tax. Two years ago corn was 10c a bushel now the corn is on the farm and the poor man has the opportunity of a raise in price, heretofore it was in the hands of speculators.

People in the past paid very little attention to appropriations that were made to syndicate and capitalist, but when some were given for projects for human relief and the common laborer received a government check the nation surely must go bankrupt. The amount spent to preserve life is nothing compared to the amount spent in the World war to destroy life.

If one could crush prejudice and forget self, they would know that at last we have a program that is for the benefit of the masses.

Mrs. Edgerton of Lincoln, Mrs. Thomas, Miss Kaufmann of Plattsmouth, Mrs. Sheldon of Nehawka and Elmer Hallstrom of Avoca gave talks on the campaign.

Mrs. Seybolt was assisted in the dining room by Mrs. Everett Spangler, Mrs. Tuttt and Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Nickles. Serving, Mrs. Charles Spangler and Mrs. W. S. Smith poured.

Mrs. Margaret Todd sang many numbers throughout the afternoon with Miss Thelma Pitman at the piano. It was a real afternoon of information.

HAVE QUILTING PARTY

A large number of the friends and neighbors of Mrs. Jennie Klimm were guests at her home a few days ago to join in a quilting party. The time was spent in visiting as well as in the plying of the busy needle as the ladies assisted the hostess in making the quilts. Those who took part in the event were: Mrs. Ross Niday and daughter, Freda, Mrs. Ann Rhoden, Mrs. F. T. Wilson, Mrs. Lulu Wolfe, Mrs. Joe Campbell and daughter, Josephine, Mrs. George Burris, Mrs. Greeley Bell, Mrs. William Cook, Mrs. Andy Campbell, Mrs. Louis Sack.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE

Dr. and Mrs. J. L. McKarron, of St. Joseph, Missouri, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Bobbie Josephine, to Mr. Ray J. Smith. The marriage took place at the McKarron home at St. Joseph on Monday, October 15th.

The bride is well known in this city where she has visited frequently, as a guest of her uncle, Dr. R. P. Westover and family.

Attorney O. W. Ownes Speaks on Repeal Question

Well Known Opponent of Repeal of Nebraska Dry Law, Heard at Methodist Church.

A large audience heard one of the most enlightening and comprehensive addresses on the question of prohibition at the First Methodist church Sunday night that has ever been delivered in this city in recent years. Attorney O. W. Ownes spoke in no uncertain tone of the menace of the liquor traffic, its lawlessness even when legalized, its debauchery of all who came in contact with it, and backed up every statement with proof, in many instances taken from the liquor dealer's own journals. He predicted that the organized liquor traffic's insane greed for money, its unscrupulous tactics would eventually and inevitably bring about its outlawry again by common consent of the people of this great country. He also hit the proposed amendment to the state constitution to legalize horse racing and gambling. In Mr. Ownes' opinion the lifting of the ban on gambling would be worse than the return of liquor in the state, for it would lead to the bankruptcy of the people. Mr. Ownes is a fine orator and held the attention of the audience for almost an hour. He gave much encouragement and cited many things that point to a hopeful outlook for the dry cause.

RECEIVES SENTENCE

Adolph Kunz, Avoca man, was unable to explain to Judge Livingston Friday, says the Nebraska City News-Press, why he stole chickens from the farm of Mrs. Augusta Freudenburg two weeks ago. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to from one year to 15 months in the Nebraska penitentiary.

The charge of burglary lodged against him in district court was his first felony, although he told the court he has served time in Cass county.

In Cass county, Kunz told the court, he was "talked into" pleading guilty to a charge of chicken stealing when in reality he didn't get the fowls.

"Were you talked into pleading guilty today?" he was asked by Judge Livingston.

"No," he said. Kunz is separated from his wife, but he told the court he supports his 11-year-old child.

"How did you happen to steal the chickens?" the defendant was asked.

"Well, sir, I don't know," he replied. Kunz was "dressed in" at the penitentiary Saturday. He was arrested only Friday morning.

NOTICE TO VOTERS

The County Treasurer cannot fix levies or valuation for taxation and has NO authority over the expenditure of tax money. His duty is to collect and account for the taxes received.

Notwithstanding the unsettled financial conditions, JOHN E. TURNER, County Treasurer, has not lost one cent of the tax money collected.

The work in the County Treasurer's office has more than doubled, taxes being divided into two payments now instead of one formerly and auto registrations showing a large increase.

Despite this added work, he has REDUCED the total expense of the County Treasurer's office from $4,863.00 per year to $4,350.00 (as shown by the records to be the cost for 1933.) These figures include all clerk hire, help and salaries.

He has reduced the cost of this office more than $500.00 per year, while the amount of work has more than doubled.

If you believe in that kind of efficiency and economy in office, cast your vote for JOHN E. TURNER for County Treasurer.
