Jule Rachman Asks Sentence be Commuted

Former Omaha Theater Man Serving Fifteen Years for the Deaths of Two.

N. T. Harmon, state probation officer, said the plea of Jule Rachman, former Omaha theater man, for commutation of his fifteen year sentence for the death of Harry and Sam Goldberg brothers in December 1932, after he and his father had business differences with them.

Among those who have filed letters requesting Rachman's release are three Omaha city commissioners, Harry Trustin, Harry Knudsen and John Hopkins; former Congressman Malcolm Baldrige and George W. Allen, former Omaha police chief.

John Riddell, York county attorney; Foster May, Lincoln radio announcer, and Eugene Levy, Dan Haney and Roy Miltonberger, all of Lincoln, are among others favoring clemency.

Among Omahans who have written letters in behalf of Rachman are George S. West, Frederick Cohn, the Rev. A. J. Burkhardt, T. F. Murphy, Bert Murphy, J. E. Kirk, H. B. Zelen, Harry D. White, William F. Baxter, Henry Monsky, Fred G. Meyer, Lee L. Hanlin, Henry Greenberg, F. H. Hansen, William Young and Eugene Blazer.

Harmon said he did not believe any objections had been filed yet against Rachman's application. Objections generally are not filed, however, until the pardon board definitely sets a case for hearing and advertises it as required by state law.

SEEK AMERICANS' STATUS

Washington.—The state department said it would apply strong pressure on Germany to ascertain the status of two Americans held in German jails for several months on open charges. The Americans are Isabel Calif., who has been held near Berlin on suspected espionage since Aug. 10, and Richard Roederer of Chicago, held at Lindau, Germany, since June 22, for unannounced reasons.

Miss Steele's arrest by secret police came to the department's attention on Oct. 10 when Senator Borah, (r., Ida.), requested information on behalf of her brother, Arthur Steele, of Nampa, Ida. Her mother is understood to be in Germany. Roederer, a German born naturalized American, had resided in Munich for about two years. He was arrested while seeking to cross into Switzerland and held for suspected violation of the currency regulations, altho it was understood the charge against him was much more serious. American consuls in Munich and Berlin pursued the case thruout July, but have been unable to get action, officials said. The Roederer case has been referred to the people's court of the department of justice in Berlin.

The firemen of Elmwood are to give a dance on November 28th for the raising of funds for the use of the fire department, that they may have those things needed for the better fighting of the fires and the protection of the city of Elmwood and surrounding territory. To make this dance a success is to the interest of all who live in or near Elmwood.

NRA CLAIMS COURT FAVOR

Washington.—NRA says court decisions on the recovery law are running 90 percent favorable. Within the past six weeks, NRA's litigation division appeared as counsel in seventy-three federal court actions. NRA said all but six decisions were favorable to the government.

From the date of creation of the litigation division last March 26, NRA said it had docketed 663 cases. It said 199 cases had been closed and 129 court decisions obtained, all but ten of which upheld the government's position. At present, the division is appearing for the prosecution in 100 pending cases and aiding the defense in eleven suits against enforcement agencies. "As to the lumber code price fixing cases," it said, "the government and the defense have scored about even. The only question raised in Tennessee and Mississippi was whether the recovery act provided for price fixing. The power of congress to fix prices was not challenged nor the constitutionality of the recovery act itself."

POLICE RECORD DEFENDED

Kansas City.—A statement that the Kansas City police department has aggressively hunted the gangsters responsible for the union station killings last year was issued by Otto P. Higgins, director of police, in answer to criticism of a federal grand jury.

"My investigation has developed that at least fifty men from the detective department were detailed to the case and worked ceaselessly day and night to establish the identity of the killers and to effect their apprehension," Higgins said.

"See it before you buy it."

Erecting Snow Fence.

A large detachment from Lincoln with a number of trucks and other equipment needed, were the fore part of the week erecting snow fences from Lincoln to Union and getting ready for the snow which is sure to come.

The Fairview School.

One of the very best in the county and situated on the O Street road one mile east of where the road from Elmwood intersects highway 24. Last week we mentioned that the board had erected a fence about the school grounds and commended them for the very wise action in protecting the children of the school from passing autos. We were told that the fence was made of boards and which was a mistaken statement. We passed the place on Tuesday of this week and took particular notice of the fence, which was of steel woven, and a very beautiful fence. Whether the fence was of wood or steel, is not the matter but the wise action of the board in erecting a fence which would be a protection to the scholars, for it is not so certain that all drivers would observe the care which is needed for their protection.

Are Changing Pulpits.

The Rev. Ernest Baker, pastor of the Church of Christ of Elmwood, has arranged with the pastor of the Avoca Congregational church to preach there this coming Lord's day, while Rev. Fred W. ### Subject for Sunday.

At the Methodist church on the coming Sunday the subject which will be discussed by the Rev. W. B. Bliss, pastor of the church will be "Armistice Day." Better get out and hear this able address on a very interesting subject.

EXPORT BALANCE IN WHEAT

Washington.—Some improvement in the world wheat situation is noted in the annual agricultural outlook for 1935 issued by the agricultural bureau of economics. "Unless abandonment is heavy and yields are again below average next year," the bureau said, "the new crop will provide an export surplus, and it is to be expected prices in the United States may be but a little above an export basis during most of the 1935-36 season."

The bureau reported that since the spring of 1933 wheat prices in the United States have been maintained at "unusually high levels relative to world prices."

It was explained this has been largely the result of two successive years of low production due to poor yields and heavy abandonment of wheat in the United States, altho acreage reduction and the removal of surplus wheat from the Pacific northwest thru governmental aid have also tended to increase United States prices relative to world prices.

"No serious injury to the personnel," read a report radioed from the commander of the McFarland to the fleet flagship. The report added, however, that the water in the freroom of the McFarland had reached the gradings and was gaining.

Modern Pioneer of the West

Hardy pioneers of the west probably would be quite startled at the 1934 version of a pioneer, as presented by the students of Yankton college, Yankton, S. D., but nevertheless they ought to be pleased at the selection of attractive Vivian Lindahl, above, as Miss Pioneer to reign over the homecoming festivities of the college. Miss Lindahl is a popular senior at the college.
