The Christmas Tree

The large Christmas tree which graced the center of the intersection of the main streets in Alvo, after having served its purpose and radiating cheer to the hearts of many, was removed last Wednesday, being dismantled and its lights and decorations and after it was down, Mayor Arthur Dinges dragged it to the lot at the rear of the garage, where the small branches were cut away and burned, the larger ones going for wood and the trunk of the tree itself being cut into posts, which were delivered to its donor, L. M. Shaveley.

Thieves Raid Grain Office

Burglars raided the office of Simon Rehmeier, which he has in company with John W. Banning, the lumber man. The radio and the adding machine were taken and the office was a rather quiet place without any entertainment until Mr. Rehmeier had another radio installed Wednesday of the following week. As far as could be ascertained these were the only two things of value taken from the office, as the burglars were unsuccessful in their quest for money.

Meets with Accident

Gay Coster, while looking after watering the stock, was thrown to the ground when a horse jerked its head quickly after finishing drinking. His knee and finger were badly injured as a result.

FARM BANK LOANS

The Federal Land Bank of Omaha has made 420 loans totaling $2,042,100 to farmers in Cass county since the Farm Credit Administration began functioning in May, 1933, the land bank reported today.

These loans, made to refinance the "depression" debts of farmers on a long-term, low-interest basis, are of both land bank and commissioner types.

"If this great co-operative credit system is to be preserved for the use of future farm generations, we must recognize two business principles," said Frank A. O'Connor, general agent of the Farm Credit Administration of Omaha. "First, the land bank, as a lender of money, must service the loans efficiently. Second, the borrower must recognize his responsibility to his fellow co-operators and do everything within his power to meet his payments when they become due."

AAA PAYMENTS TO FARMERS

Washington.—AAA payments to farmers for crop adjustments during the past eighteen months were reported to have reached a total of $589,772,564 on Jan. 8. In addition the farm administration has expended $169,384,943 in removing surplus farm commodities on drought relief activities, and in conserving feed supplies in drought states.

ADDRESSES ROTARIANS

William C. Ramsey, Jr., was the guest speaker on Wednesday noon at the luncheon of the Omaha Rotary club before some 225 members of the club and 100 visitors.

Mr. Ramsey spoke on his experiences in sea diving in Bermuda, he having been one of the members of the scientific party of Prof. William C. Beebe, that spent some time there on scientific work.

The address was one of the greatest interest and covered a new field that held unflinching interest for the auditors as the speaker detailed the facts of the expedition to the islands and the many wonders of the deep that they had encountered in the diving, securing facts that will be valuable to the scientists of the world.

Mr. Ramsey is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Ramsey, Sr., the father being a former resident here and he is a grandson of Mrs. B. S. Ramsey of this city. The young man is a graduate of Dartmouth college and in company with his younger brother, Dan, left Omaha Thursday for a six months trip around the world.

To enjoy the address on the diving were Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey, parents, Miss Elizabeth Ramsey, Dan Ramsey, Miss Eline Meyer, Mrs. Clyde Drew and son, Jack, were the guests of Mr. Drew, one of the active leaders in the Omaha Rotary.

CITES WORK IN NEBRASKA

Topeka, Kansas, Jan. 9.—W. Carlton Hall, president of the Kansas board of agriculture, told delegates to the annual farm convention here that farmers, instead of looking to congress for aid, must help themselves through farm co-operative associations.

Citing the success of farm co-operatives in Nebraska, Hall said if 50 per cent of the farmers were members of co-operative organizations, "we would be one of the most powerful organizations in America."

CURTAIN SHELTER BELT PLAN

Washington, Jan. 9.—Continuation of plans for the federal tree shelter-belt was forecast by Secretary Wallace but on a relatively small scale for the next year. He did not view the failure of the president's budget to include special funds for the shelter-belt as meaning the project is to be abandoned.

FIVE ARE FINED

State Sheriff's Force to Remain on Active Duty

Will Continue to Serve in Present Capacities Until Re-appointed or Changes Are Made.

House republicans at Lincoln, gathered informally late Wednesday, discussed the situation presented by Henry Hansen, Lincoln county rancher, who learned, thru experience, that deputies without official standing were of little value along law enforcement lines. Mr. Hansen caused to be prepared a resolution memorializing the governor to proceed to designate the chief of law enforcement, together with such assistants and deputies as necessary that appointees may qualify and function without delay.

The resolution set forth that bonds of the sheriff and his deputies expired Jan. 5, that offices of the state sheriff and all his deputies had, by operation of law, become vacant since the above date, that enforcement of state laws is under direct supervision and control of the governor, that infractions of the criminal code have occurred and will continue to occur until the offices of the chief law enforcement officer and his deputies are filled.

Returned to Their Home Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Brien, who make their home at Rochelle, Ill., but who visited in Manley and other points over the county for some two weeks, left Monday morning for their home in the east after having enjoyed a splendid visit here. Will Go to Des Moines

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rau were in South Omaha last Tuesday, for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Breckenfeld. Mr. Breckenfeld has been connected with the South Omaha store of the Earl E. May company, but is being transferred to Des Moines to take charge of the company's store there. They will move to the Iowa city in the near future.

Contesting Election

Aaron Irlan, a teacher in the public schools here, who was a candidate for office in Nemaha county at the fall election and was defeated by the slender margin of eight votes, was assured by friends there of some irregularities in the count which might change the result and last week went to Auburn to contest the election in district court.

Beautifulizing Their Home

The family of Fred Luetcheus have been making their home more beautiful by having some interior decorating and papering done and well as having the house repainted on the outside. Fred was assisting with the work, but finding he had a flat tire on his truck, drove to town to have the casing repaired by August Krecklow, while the women at home continued the job.

Buys Home in Manley

William Lau, of Louisville, has moved to Manley to make his home, having purchased what is known as the Charles Fleischman property from George Rau, who has been working at Utica and returned last week to make the transfer. Mr. and Mrs. Copperwalthe, who have been making their home in this piece of property, recently moved to Weeping Water.

Wallace Gets $1,500 Car

Washington.—If Secretary Wallace doesn't appear frequently at social gatherings next year it may be because his automobile doesn't measure up to those of other cabinet members.

WALLACE GETS $1,500 CAR

The 1935 budget allows him only $1,500 for a new official automobile while Secretary Hull will receive a machine costing not more than $4,000. Secretaries Roper and Cummings are to get new $2,500 cars while Secretary Dern's will cost only $2,500. However, Farley, Ickes, Morgenthau, and Swanson will be forced to make the old car do another year—they get nothing.
