MUSIC WILL GUIDE POST

Bartlesville, Okla.—Wiley Post will be guided by popular dance tunes on his stratosphere hop from coast to coast. The plan was announced by Frank Phillips, oil man backer of the Oklahoma airman's projected Los Angeles to New York flight.

Phillips said Post would be led at altitudes of 30,000 to 40,000 feet by orchestras instead of following the customary dot-dash code of the airplane radio beams. Broadcasting stations in Denver, Omaha, Des Moines, Chicago, Cleveland and New York will send up the musical guide posts. Date of the flight is expected to be set this week.

ARCHDUKE SAVED BY LUCK

Budapest, Hungary.—Luck and skill, traveling at a sixty mile an hour pace in an iceboat, saved the Hapsburg pretender to the vacant throne of Hungary from death.

An iceboat accompanying the Duke of Albrecht's craft on a wild dash across Lake Balaton plunged into a suddenly opening fissure in the ice, drowning five men. The 47 year old archduke and his crew careened perilously close to open water, dodged a looming rock pile and reached safety on a stronger ice near the shore.

LAWMAKERS SNUB MURRAY

Austin, Tex.—The Texas house of representatives declined to request the University of Texas regents to make former Governor W. H. Murray of Oklahoma a professor in the school's department of government.

Representative Clarence E. Farmer of Fort Worth, author of the resolution, said a recent talk by Murray before the house showed him to be a deep student of government and "a man who would grace the faculty."

MILES OF NEW LAND FOUND

Montevideo, Uruguay.—Five months of exploring in the south polar areas have convinced Lincoln Ellsworth, he said, that the mountain ranges of Antarctica belong to the Andes system, having the same geological structure and characteristics as those of South America. The Lincoln Ellsworth expedition arrived here on the supply ship Wyatt Earp from Deception Island, reporting the discovery of 150 square miles of new land. Ellsworth said in an interview he was deeply sorry that the present expedition had not accomplished its fundamental purpose, an aerial crossing of the south pole.

ANTI-BEER BILL IS PASSED

Topeka, Kan.—A bill designed to outlaw 2.2 beer in Kansas, and prohibiting the sale of beverages with an alcoholic content in excess of one-half of 1 percent, was passed by the house of representatives. The vote was 75 to 43. The measure goes to the senate, which has before it several bills to outlaw and legalize 2.2 beer. Kansas voted by an 89,000 majority last November against a proposal to repeal constitutional prohibition.

LOSES SECOND LEG

Kansas City, Kan.—Karl Bates, Garnett, Kan., boy whose Spartan courage has carried him thru the amputation of his right leg and more than fifty blood transfusions, lost his other leg. An infection which resulted from burns suffered July 31, 1933, made the operation necessary, physicians said.

NEW JOB FOR CARTER

Bible School Lesson Study!

Sunday, February 10th By L. Neitzel, Murdock, Neb.

"Peter Preaches at Pentecost"

Acts 2:22-28; 36-41.
With this lesson we recount events in the history of the church, of which Peter is the central figure. The main event was the coming of the Holy Spirit; and the next in importance, the greatest catch by an expert fisherman, and then the empowering of the Holy Spirit to "greater works than these."

Since the resurrection of Jesus, events were happening in rapid succession. Jesus had gone home, after telling the disciples to remain in Jerusalem and wait. While waiting, the disciples filled the place left vacant by Judas' departure. Matthias was elected and the number, twelve, was complete again.

A ten-days praise and prayer service was held, this preceding the coming of the Holy Spirit. Their fervency grew moment by moment and eventually their ardor reached that stage where all, with one accord in faith, had but one desire, one longing—it was the birth-pain of the new church—then the answer came, from heaven, where the Lord rested after completing his work—the sound of a mighty wind heard over the city—then the phenomenon of fire, the inflaming of the Holy Spirit with power and courage, fully equipped for the task before them.

John could testify to that "which we have heard, (I John 1:1). How the mother of Jesus must have rejoiced that day, to see her son vindicated. (This is the last mention of her.) The baptism of fire, of which the Baptist spoke, has come to pass. So is the promise of the prophet Joel fulfilled (Joel 2:29-30); so will all the promises of God be fulfilled in due time. "This particular inflaming was followed that day by the giving of miraculous gifts to the apostles, by which they uttered—not their own minds, but as the mouthpieces of the Spirit, the praises of God in various languages hitherto, and possibly at the time itself, unknown to them." (Henry Alfred).

The great commotion drew crowds to the place where the apostles were. As sixteen different dialects are represented in this open air service, we think of the time when the world had one language and God confounded their language and scattered them abroad—upon the face of the earth (Gen. 11:7, 8), and here at Pentecost they are brought together again; this is the Lord's doing.

The effect upon the masses, "some are amazed, others marveled, some perplexed." "What meaneth this?" is the question of others. An explanation is in order. Here comes our hero—Peter. Since that morning he is a different man; see his boldness, courage and earnestness.

"Ye Men of Israel!" That address drew their attention. How much depends upon the proper approach to an audience, to an individual, to gain attention and make an impression. Now, Peter identifies himself with Jesus of Nazareth, not fearing the consequences—he has undergone a change. What these men needed was a Savior! And that is what the world needs today—give the world Jesus and nothing else matters, he is the satisfying portion. Peter preaches about the great theme and plan of God saving the world through his son. The cardinal doctrine of the resurrection, which implies a life hereafter! He did not spare these murderers of the Son of God. "Let all the house of Israel therefore know assuredly that God hath made him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus whom ye crucified."

Such preaching will produce today results in like manner. What is the matter with the church? A pulpit on fire, a membership bound together in love, will set the world afire. After all the apostles had spoken, in the different tongues, one after another, and all had heard "the wonderful works of God," a great inquiry took place. That should be the result of each sermon and each hour of teaching; that is the aim and purpose of all Christian education.—to get people's conscience aroused.

"Brethren, what shall we do?" How must these preachers have been thrilled at such a spontaneous response! "Repent!" Show your sorrow for your sins; "Be baptized" as a sign of the washing and cleansing of your hearts "in the name of Jesus Christ" for there is "no other name whereby we must be saved;" and the same power shall be given you as us, "the gift of the Holy Spirit."

No conversion is genuine and complete that is not sealed by the gift of the Holy Spirit. Thus was brought into existence the Church of Jesus Christ—born in the agony of a great praise and prayer service—recognized by Jesus Christ in giving it the Holy Spirit. This model church was marked by four ordinances; (a) Constant attention to the teaching of the apostles; (b) in the fellowship which belong to Christian believers; (c) the frequent celebration of the Lord's supper, and (d) in prayer. How far has the modern church strayed away from these old landmarks? Then there were conversions and accessions to the church daily—now only at stated times are efforts put forth to reach the unsaved. We need Peters to show us how to preach!
