

FRUITS IN CANS

PART of the joy of eating fruit comes from the lovely surroundings in which you find it. What a good time Adam and Eve must have had in the Garden of Eden eating the first apple! Even after they were evicted by the Angel with the flaming sword, it must have been an exceedingly agreeable memory! At any rate, their descendants have gone right on eating apples.

We're all out of the Garden of Eden now. We don't even know where it is. And unfortunately, most of us can't pick and eat our fruits in either gardens or orchards. Someone else does the plucking in the sunshine and sweet surroundings, and the best he can do for us is to see that the fruit reaches us in our homes with as much of its original taste and aroma as possible.

A Sweet Job

The commercial canning industry does a sweet job for us in this respect. Who of us hasn't men tally glimpsed a branch of apple or peach blossoms when opening a superfine can of one of those fruits? Who hasn't sensed the warmth and romance of far-off Hawaii when the lid comes off a can of pineapple? Who hasn't... But all this is apt to make us homesick for leaves and sunshine and outdoors. Let's eat some of the fruit and see how it tastes. Put, first of all, let's consider what fruits are available in cans. The list is long. There are apples—apple butter, sauce, sliced and whole—apricot halves, blackberries, blueberries, and cherries black, red and white. There are coconuts, cranberry jelly, figs from the Orient and Texas, mixed fruits for cocktails and salads, and also gooseberries and grapes. Then there are grapefruit, loganberries, peaches—in halves and sliced—pear halves, pineapple—crushed, sliced and in tidbits—plums, prunes—dry and in syrup—raspberries black and raspberries red. Finally there are rhubarb, strained fruits, strawberries and fruits put up in wine for salad. If we got them all, we would almost have a regular Garden of Eden from cans.

Take Your Choice

At any rate, we can choose the ones we like best of all these at any time in almost any place. Why not break with habit and try a few new ones that it hasn't occurred to you to eat before? Take cherries, for instance, which come to mind because Washington's Birthday occurs in February. Here's an excellent cherry recipe for cream tarts which will make a sure-fire hit with your family. The ingredients are:
2 eggs A few drops vanilla
1/2 cup sugar 1 No. 2 can red
1/3 cup flour pitted cherries
A few grains salt 2/3 cup sugar
2 cups milk

Beat the eggs slightly, then add the sugar, flour and salt mixed together. Add the scalded milk slowly, and cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. Add the vanilla, and cool. Add the two-thirds cup sugar to the cherry syrup from the can, bring to boiling, add the cherries, and cook gently until the syrup is rich and thick. Cool. Fill tart shells half full of the cream mixture, and cover thickly with the glazed cherries. This makes eight tarts.

Try These Desserts

Or combine two of these fruits in a dessert which is delicious such as the following Pineapple-Rhubarb Ice. The ingredients are:

1 package lemon 1 1/2 cups sugar
gelatin 1 cup crushed
1 cup boiling 1/2 cup pineapple
water 4 cups rhubarb
2 cups water 1 cup water

Dissolve the gelatin in the boiling water. Boil the two cups of water and sugar for two or three minutes, and add to the gelatin. Cool and add the pineapple. The rhubarb should be cut in small pieces and then cooked till very soft in the one cup of water. Press through a sieve, and add to the first mixture. (There should be two cups of rhubarb juice.) Freeze in refrigerator trays, stirring often at first, then occasionally. Serves twelve.

A simpler dessert for children is Peach Junket. Its ingredients are:

1 package lemon junket 2 cups milk
One 1-pound can sliced peaches

Heat the milk to lukewarm and dissolve it in the junket. Do not stir after dissolving. Drain the peaches well and lay half of them in the bottoms of individual glass cups. Pour the junket over, and set in refrigerator to chill and set, being careful not to agitate it, or it will whey. When ready to serve, lay the remaining peaches on top. Serves six.

Wabash News

Sherman Hardaway, manager of the L. R. Stanley store, accompanied by Clarence Reuter, were looking after some business matters in Murdock on last Tuesday afternoon.

Harold Richards was looking after some business matters in Nehawka on Monday of last week, driving over to the neighboring town in his car.

Elevator Stockholders Meet

The third attempt of the members and stockholders of the Wabash Co-operative Grain company to hold the annual meeting, was successful last week, when a goodly number turned out to hear the reports of the past year's business and elect the 1935 directors and officers. Those chosen to fill places on the board of directors include L. R. Stanley, Carl Schlaepfer, Albert Tool, I. C. McCrorey, Ralph Dorr, John C. Browne, and O. H. Allen, the latter of Omaha.

The reports of Mr. Browne, as manager, were very pleasing and he was re-elected to continue in that capacity during the coming year.

Former Citizen Buried Here

Miss Abbie Van Every, who spent her girlhood days in and near Wabash, attending school here and later being engaged as a saleslady in the L. R. Stanley store prior to resigning her position to wed the Rev. S. A. Jacobson, a minister of the United Brethren church, was killed in an auto collision last week near her home town of Vermillion, South Dakota. After leaving here, they were located in numerous towns to which his work as pastor took him, and for some time have resided at Vermillion, which is not far from Sioux City.

Three sons and one daughter were born to Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson, who with the father survive her passing.

The funeral was held from the Baptist church in Wabash last Sunday, with interment in the Wabash cemetery, where the parents of the deceased are buried.

Mrs. Jacobson was so well known here that the church was not able to hold all who came to pay tribute to her memory.

Now Living in Wabash

Grandfather H. P. Hinds came to Wabash in 1904, thirty-one years ago, and says he likes to make his home here where he has lived so long better than any place else.

Mr. Hinds was born at Shabba Springs, Indiana, where he spent his early life, and from there moved to the vicinity of DeKalb, Illinois, where he was engaged in farming for a number of years. In 1875, when he was 25 years of age, he came west, arriving in Sioux City early in April. It had been a very severe winter and the river was still frozen over and he recalls having crossed the ice at Sioux City to the Nebraska side, being located in that vicinity for some time. Later he removed to Decatur, Neb., where he remained for about ten years and says he liked it there very well. Pushing on further west, the family moved to Banner county in western Nebraska, where they lived for seventeen years. It was here that they attained their greatest success, living a happy contented farm life, but with the children growing up, greater educational advantages were desired and they moved to the vicinity of Schuyler in 1902. After spending two years there, they came to Wabash in 1904 and purchased the hotel, where he has made his home ever since. During the intervening years his wife and helpmate passed on, and it is but natural that he desires to spend his remaining days here where so many happy years have flitted by.

At the time they located here in 1904, Wabash was one of the liveliest of towns and had many stores. Mr. Hinds remembers among some of those who lived here and were engaged in business, Mike Carey, James Clarke, B. F. Allen, Silas Greenslate, Brick Swarisen and George Hay. Later, the Rock Island railroad was built, locating a station at Murdock, and the territory was divided with Wabash beginning to lose population and some of its business houses. However, as Mr. Hinds puts it, "Wabash is a good town yet," and he wants to spend his remaining days here among the old scenes.

FAVORS POTATO PROGRAM

Washington.—William Morrow of Alliance, Neb., secretary of the Nebraska Certified Potato Seed Growers association, endorsed the proposed potato control legislation as beneficial to western Nebraska's commercial growers.

He said the drought had reduced seed supplies sufficiently that western Nebraska probably would not be able to plant a normal crop and that the reduction proposals thus should not affect the district's growers.

LONG SLASHES AT FARLEY

Washington.—Slashing at Postmaster General Farley for the third day in a row, Senator Huey Long sought vainly to have the senate direct Secretary Ickes to make available information which Long said the secretary had about the postal chief. The Louisianian has proposed a deep investigation of Farley by the senate, but rather than wait for that inquiry he tried to have Ickes act. Long contended that Farley was investigated by agents of the interior department.

When Senator Clark (d., Mo.) objected Long moved to suspend the senate rules and then talked for the rest of the day before withdrawing the motion. He said he could bring witnesses from West Virginia and perhaps from the senate itself to support his charge that Farley used an application for an RPC loan from the Baltimore & Ohio railroad last fall as the basis for seeking support from an official of that road for Clem Shaver, candidate against Rush D. Holt for the senate.

Senator Clark asked Long if he had read a denial of that charge from John J. Cornwall, former West Virginia governor and general counsel of the B. & O. Long said he had not, but could furnish witnesses and "some of 'em ain't so far from where the senator is sittin'."

"See it before you buy it."
