

HER BOY HAD ALWAYS BEEN WEAK AND PUNY

"My four year old boy had been weak and puny since birth, and had constipation and indigestion. Nothing did him any good until we tried Milks Emulsion. Since using it, he can't get enough to eat and has outgrown his childhood trouble. He plays out with the children now, and he was never able to do that before."

HUNT OMAHA GIRL

Omaha.—Police are seeking Catherine Herman, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Herman, who disappeared Wednesday. Lawrence, 9, brother of the girl, told his mother he and Catherine had attended a show and he had overheard two men tell the girl "Come with us and we'll take you south where it's warm."

State Relief Work Group is Reappointed

Governor Cochran Reappoints Committee to Administer Federal Funds.

Administration of the state assistance fund was placed in the hands of the same committee which has administered federal relief since the first of the year. Governor Cochran announced the appointment of the following to act as the state relief bill signed Wednesday:

Frank Throop, Lincoln, publisher of the Star, chairman; Frank Colfer, McCook, attorney; Herman Holm, Mason City; A. F. Beuchler, Grand Island, publisher Grand Island Independent; Gene Euse, publisher Norfolk News; Mrs. W. J. Hotz, Omaha, and Dr. F. W. Heagey, Omaha.

The committee will continue to function as the state advisory committee on federal relief allocations and as such, will meet with Federal Relief Director Haynes early next month. Under terms of the state relief bill, one member was required to be appointed from each congressional district and not more than two from any one district.

"It is our desire that the administration of relief be placed in the hands of local authorities, insofar as federal relief regulations will permit," Cochran said. The governor explained that local relief administration presumably will be placed to a large measure in the hands of county supervisors. He said the future handling of relief funds by the state assistance commission will be determined by the division the federal government makes between workable and unworkable relief cases.

FAVORS NEW TAX SYSTEM

Washington.—Hope that the federal government may soon have charge of collecting "the bulk of the nation's taxes" was expressed by Paul V. Betters, executive director of the United States conference of mayors.

The statement was made in an address before the second interstate assembly. Betters was called away unexpectedly and Mayor Spear of Wilmington, Del., read the address. "The time, I hope," Betters said, "will not be far distant when the federal government will become the agency to administer and collect the bulk of taxes for all governments in the nation, and to allocate these funds thru proper budget techniques to the various agencies of government in proportion to their need for funds. Only in this way can a tax system based upon capacity to pay be developed."

JACOBSEN ENDED OWN LIFE

Fullerton, Neb.—County Attorney Thompson Thursday night said Hans Jacobsen, 70, whose body was found Thursday in a snowdrift on a Belgrade farm, ended his life by slashing one wrist.

Jacobsen apparently rolled into a little gully after cutting himself, Thompson said, and his body was hidden until Thursday. He was missing from his home since Feb. 17.

Examination showed the body was frozen stiff and not decomposed as previously reported, Thompson said. Jacobsen had been in failing health for some time. Authorities were convinced he went into the country to take his life.

Paper Listed 'Bachelor Bargains' in 1900

Marriageable Young Men of Union and Vicinity Given Free Ad That Must Have Got Results.

Back in 1900, when Police Magistrate Charles L. Graves was engaged in the publishing of the Union Ledger and horseless carriages were the eighth wonder of the world, Editor Graves gave the marriageable young men of his community a free ad that must have got results in a good number of cases. Under the heading "Big Bachelor Bargains," he published the following perspective of society in the community, listing the eligibles whom he said might be sold to the first bidder making application:

For the benefit of some of our marriageable inhabitants, we have collected and placed upon our new "bachelor counter" a choice lot of goods which we offer to first bidders in order to get rid of the whole outfit in a short time. Some of these have been on hand a number of years, but none of them have gone out of style. Now, girls, grab 'em!

Joseph Bauer—Here's a bargain that will not remain on the counter many days, but will be taken soon as the good qualities are known. Age 24, weight 145, color of eyes a hazel-nut brown; a good carpenter and is not slow on baseball.

Frank Bauer—Age 26 1/2, weight 170, and a barnmaker by trade. Somewhat better looking than his brother Joe, but very timid and is rather inclined to blush when the matrimonial subject is mentioned.

Miles F. Chilcott—Age unknown to us, weight in proportion. Miles is a prosperous farmer and a good catch for the lady who succeeds in convincing him that he is her own. Neat in appearance but strenuously opposed to the pompadour style of hair cutting. Inclined to be bashful but not opposed to matrimony.

James Wilcox—Age 21, just old enough to make matrimonial ventures without his father's consent. He is about medium height, weight 170, and no reasonable offer will be declined.

Emery Bauer—Age 22, weight 155 with his little shoes on; farmer by profession, but finds time for a baseball game occasionally. Has no habits requiring death penalty and one of his smiles will be worth double the price at which he sells.

Russell Smith—Only 38 years of age, weight 186 1/2, and never had any matrimonial contracts. Owns a farm and is a musician. Not in the least bashful, and will soon withdraw from the list if not sold.

Dr. W. B. Shepard—Age 28, weight 150, not excessively corpulent, and kind disposition. Has been here but a short time, coming from Lincoln. As he is only temporarily located here, we would advise a quick deal while we can deliver the goods.

Frank Keller—Two dozen years of age and claims to weigh just 181 pounds, height unmeasured. Has a cutey cute moustache, small feet and large salary. Holds position of foreman in the quarries, and has matrimonial inclinations. Now, do not crowd in getting after this big bargain, but stand back and take even chances in "hooking" him.

Amos McNamee—Here's the 120-pound novelty, "best goods come up in a small package." Age about 24, and just tall enough to sit at a table without a high chair, as not yet mastered the butcher trade but has worked several months in Clark & Barton's barber shop, that's about the same thing.

L. R. Upton—A young man who is small for his size, 25 years old and reasonably handsome. He has dark hair, fuzzy moustache (if any) and strikes a military gait at meal time. He conducts a general merchandise store and has neat little feet shaped like a mud turtle shell and flavored like a glue factory.

Dr. A. E. Walker—Age about 26 and weight in proportion. Rather enjoys discussing the matrimonial subject and a bargain at any price. Like Miles Chilcott, he does not favor the pompadour style of combing his hair.

Jakie Dye—"Hoosier," age 31 and weighs 176 pounds, but thinks his weight will increase soon as the grass starts. Jake has no habits worse than chewing tobacco and telling fish stories and the right purchaser might reform him.

Frank Freeman—A prosperous farmer east of town, age and weight not recorded at this office. Frank usually blushes when the gentler sex is mentioned, but he will be able to outgrow this defect.

Hugh Barrows—A rare bargain, but we think he will soon be withdrawn from our list by a fortunate bidder not a thousand miles away. Hugh's age and weight are not a matter of record in this office.

Will DeBois—Just 30 years old and weighs 160 pounds. He is in the furniture and undertaking business in this village, and we are not afraid to recommend him as a good catch for the lady who may be so lucky as to "land" him. Come early and avoid the rush when such bargains as Will are placed upon the market. Delay is dangerous in this case.

BANK RAIDER NAMED

Selling, Okla., Febr. 27.—Three young gunmen robbed the First State bank here of approximately $500. L. L. Corn, Dewey county prosecutor, said one of the robbers was identified as Dale Stanphil, who with thirty-one other convicts, escaped February 16 from the state reformatory at Granit.

MURDOCK ITEMS

Albert Bauers was a business visitor in Plattsmouth on Friday of last week. He also visited friends while there.

Paul Schewe was called to Ashland last Saturday afternoon where he was looking after some business and visiting friends.

Warren T. Richards, of Wabash, was a visitor in Murdock on Friday of last week and was looking after some business matters while here.

Deputy Sheriff Thomas Walling was in Murdock on last Saturday looking after some legal business and also visiting with his many friends.

E. M. Shatto was a visitor in Plattsmouth looking after some legal matters at the court house and also visiting for a time with his many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Friend, of near Alvo, were visiting in Murdock last Thursday, being guests at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Eddie Craig and husband.

Herman Leutchens and the family were in Plattsmouth last Thursday, where they were looking after some business in probate court and visiting with friends.

Roy Learner, who has been farming on the Reuter estate place, which was recently acquired by August Stander, has moved to Ashland, near where he expects to farm the coming season.

Grandmother M. J. Crawford, who will be 93 years old on the 25th of this month, is feeling very well for a girl of her years and thanks her many friends who have been calling on her.

August Ruge was called to Plattsmouth one day last week, being accompanied by Herman Leutchens, and they were looking after some business matters at the court house.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Runyon of Weeping Water were visiting in Murdock for a few days early last week, Mr. Runyon being called home to look after some work here, while his wife remained for the rest of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lennie Lau, who have been living in the property of A. H. Ward, where Max Dusterhoff formerly resided and had his paint shop, moved last week to the property two blocks north of the edge of town.

The time for holding the village caucuses has been set for March 12, at 8:00 o'clock, when there will be a meeting held at the auditorium of the Murdock high school. Better be out for this meeting and have your say, or forever hold your peace.

A. H. Ward was looking after some business matters in Elmwood, Manley and Ashland early last week, and with the heavy fall of snow leaving the roads in bad condition as it melted, he found it difficult to get around, but just the same he made his appointments.

Albert Oehlkerking moved last week to the place which he is to farm the coming summer, and while the roads were not the best, he kept pegging away at the job until he had all his household goods and farm equipment moved and was ready to begin the farm work in the new place.

Dr. L. D. Lee was somewhat under the weather a few days this week as a result of a very sore throat, but he took it in hand immediately and was soon restored to his normal condition, although his voice was somewhat husky for a time. It has now cleared up, however, and he is again restored to perfect health.

W. T. Weddell was over to Lincoln last Saturday where he went to see the wife who has been in the hospital there for the past ten days receiving treatment. Mr. Weddell reports the wife as not feeling quite so well. Her many friends are hoping she may soon be in her former health again and able to be home.

Oscar E. McDonald has embarked in the confectionary and cafe business in Manley and while he is inconvenienced by living here and being in business some six miles away, he is sticking to the job long hours each day and hopes he may be able soon to get things arranged so that he may be located nearer his business.

Emil Kuehn departed early last week for Fullerton, where he will remain for a couple of weeks looking after things and getting ready to move there in the near future, as he is to farm there this summer. He will return here around the 10th of the month and look after moving so as to be in readiness for the spring farm work.

Mrs. Frank Dean was called to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Corbin, of near Avoca, on account of the serious illness of her mother, with whose care she has been assisting. The mother received an injury to one of her ankles that has prevented her from getting about, and the aid of the daughter was much appreciated.

The basketball fans of Murdock turned out in large numbers for the Class B tournament which was held at Engle the latter part of last week, rooting for the home town team that won its full share of the games played. The tournament was held to select a winner from this district to play in the finals at the regional tournament. An account of the games and the winning team will be found elsewhere in this issue of the Journal.

Charles Kupke was looking after business at the Neitzel hardware store the latter part of the week on account of the poor health of Mr. Neitzel, whose throat was in such a condition that he could not come down to the store for several days. He is now feeling some better but not as well as desired. Mr. Neitzel was billed to make an address before the Congregational church brotherhood, but had to forego the visit on account of his health, as well as cancel an address he was scheduled to give tonight at the auditorium of the Murdock consolidated school.

Attended Brothers' Funeral Frank Rosenow was called to Howard, Kansas, where he went to attend the funeral of his brother, Herman Rosenow, who died there last week from a very severe attack of pneumonia. Frank, with others of the relatives drove down for the funeral. The story of the life of the deceased man, who was a former Cass county resident, has appeared elsewhere in the columns of the Journal.

Had an Excellent Sale The sale of the farming equipment and other property of G. V. Pickwell, which was advertised extensively in the Journal, was held last Wednesday, February 27, and despite the condition of the roads, was well attended. Most of those who came were there to buy and they did, at very good prices. Rex Young, well known Cass county auctioneer, was in charge of the selling and Henry A. Tool, was the clerk. Mr. Pickwell was well pleased with the results and feels that the extensive advertising he did was reflected in the prices at which goods sold, and especially the live stock, for which there was a brisk demand.

Mr. Pickwell and daughter, Mrs. Harry Davis and husband, left last week, as they expect to make their home in Missouri in the future.

Spending Some Time in West Mrs. Meta MacDiarmid, of Omaha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Neitzel, with two women companions, friends of hers, departed last week by auto for Los Angeles, where they expect to spend some time. Mrs. MacDiarmid is doing the driving.

Gas Now a Penny Higher The stations at Murdock were comelled to add another cent per gallon to the price of gasoline Friday morning due to the tax law passed by the legislature to provide relief money. This brings the total tax up to 6 cents per gallon, four cents to the state for road improvement work, one cent to the Federal government and now this last penny for work relief.

It is claimed that all of the last cent tax will be expended on roads, however, with the matching of federal money on work relief, largely for the improvement of farm to market or feeder roads and if that proves to be the case the motorist will have little to holler about, as every cent expended on roads reacts to his distinct advantage of the motorist, both in operating cost of his car and wear and tear on his high priced investment as well.

Was in Doubt at First A. H. Ward was awakened by the earthquake tremors last Friday morning and not knowing just what the matter was tried to stop the windows from rattling by holding them, but was unsuccessful. His wife was also awakened by the commotion and suggested that it might be an earthquake, which surmise was later proven correct. No perceptible damage was done in this part of the country, but a good many citizens of the middle west got a little idea of what a real earthquake is like.

Visited with Friends Here Dr. Paul Reed, wife and son Tommy were house guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. D. Lee and their son, Larry, coming down Saturday before the snow and as the storm slipped in on them they were not able to get back home before Tuesday evening. However the time was spent in visiting and a very good time was had.

Murdock at the Tournament The basketball team of the Murdock high school, which has closed a very successful season was entered in the class B district tournament held at Engle the latter part of the week. The local boys drew Bennett as their first opponents and won over the Otoe county lads by a score of 30 to 10. On the following night they defeated the Alvo quintet 21 to 15, meeting Hickman on Friday night in the semifinals.
