LUCKEY COMMENTS ON WEEK IN WASHINGTON

By HENRY C. LUCKEY,
1st Dist., Nebr.
Washington, March 16.

Dear Friends:
The approaching spring planting makes it imperative that the Federal Feed and Seed Loans be made immediately. Those of us who have been the most interested in this work have been trying to expedite these loans in every way possible. Here is the situation as it exists today: Some time ago the house and senate passed an enabling act which provided for $60,000,000 to be used for feed and seed loans in the drought states. This act was signed by the president after considerable delay. It was then necessary to pass an appropriation for this amount. It was included in the deficiency appropriation bill which passed the house March 13th. It is now necessary for the senate to pass that bill and for the president to sign it, making it effective. The set-up for these loans is now ready and the disbursement of the funds can proceed immediately after the bill becomes law. We are trying to forestall any possible delay that might arise.

I will comment only briefly on the other legislation of the past week. The Public Works deadlock in the senate now seems to have been broken. A compromise was effected which was satisfactory to the administration leaders. Several points still remain to be discussed by the senate, and then the house will be called to pass upon the senate amendments.

The Home Owners Loan Corporation has been granted authority to make an additional bond issue of $1,750,000,000. The terms have been somewhat liberalized.

The Agriculture Department appropriation bill has passed the house. The chief feature of the appropriation is that it is a little over $200,000,000 less than for the past year. This was chiefly due to the non-recurring expense features of the AAA.

The Jones bill, H. R. 5585, known as the Agricultural Adjustment Administration amendment bill, is now under discussion in the house committee on agriculture. Just what modifications and recommendations will be made by that committee are not known. They may vitally affect the bill as it now stands. This bill has drawn a lot of opposition from the people of the First District of Nebraska, and for that reason I want to make some comments upon it.

QUITS THE GREEK CABINET

Athens.—John Metaxas resigned from the Greek cabinet as a result of a disagreement with Premier Panayotis Tsaldaris, leading to the belief important government changes are in prospect. Metaxas, an ardent royalist, was minister without portfolio, and assumed the war ministry during the recent revolt when Gen. George Kondylis took the field. Metaxas issued a statement saying the leniency of Premier Tsaldaris made his presence in the cabinet "unnecessary." It was assumed he had reference to the trial of rebel officers under court martial, now in progress.

There are three chief features of the bill. 1. It provides minor administrative changes. No great opposition has risen on this part of the bill. 2. It empowers the secretary to issue licenses to all processors, associations of producers, and others engaged in the handling of any agricultural commodity or product thereof, or any competing commodity or product thereof, in the current of or in competition with or so as to burden, obstruct, or in any way affect interstate or foreign commerce, which provide that such handling be engaged in by the licensee only upon the terms and conditions not in conflict with existing acts of congress or regulations pursuant thereto. 3. It empowers the secretary to enter into marketing agreements with the handlers of agricultural commodities and throws open the books of the parties to the marketing agreements.

The bill has been vigorously attacked as giving the secretary too much power and that it would regiment the processors and handlers of agricultural products. Czarism is the frequent complaint. A number of objections could be raised, and are raised, by the opponents of the bill. There is one great advantage that should be pointed out.

If marketing agreements were worked out and entered into by all the processors and handlers of agricultural commodities it would mean that they would be forced into opening their books for inspection by the Secretary of Agriculture. For example, take the case of the big packing interests in the meat industry. They have consistently refused to allow their books to be submitted to the Secretary of Agriculture—hence there has been no marketing agreement. The complaint has been consistently raised that there is too large a spread between the price paid to the farmer and the price paid by the consumer. Supporters of this bill point out that if the spread in price is not due to the excessive profits of the packers then the packer would have nothing to fear. If, on the other hand, the spread is due to the packer, then his books would be damaging evidence against him. The same thing applies to many of the processors included in this bill.

When the bill comes in its final form a fair estimate of the relative values can be given. I shall be glad to hear your views on this bill. It directly affects you and you have the right to be heard. It is your duty to make your opinions known.

One last word. The Frazier-Lemke farm refinancing bill is about to be taken up by the house agriculture committee. Sentiment in the agricultural states grows increasingly in favor of this bill. It is now highly probable that some action will be taken in this session of congress.

Sewing Machine Clinics.
Seventeen sewing machines have been entered for the clinic to be held at the Christian church, Elmwood, Tuesday, March 26th. This is as many machines as can be conveniently worked upon in one day, however anyone who cares to come and watch will find it well worth their time.

Receives Placing in Contest.
Mrs. Cecile Lee, of Murdock, received third place in the original playlet, song and poem contest ending February 1st. Mrs. Lee's contribution was a poem entitled, "If—For a Project Club Woman." This contest was open to all project club members in the state and many very good articles were submitted.

Chief of Corn-Hog Section at Grand Island.

The Cass county corn-hog allotment committee, C. D. Fulmer, J. L. Stamp, Marion Stone, and D. D. Waincote, attended a meeting of all Nebraska allotment committeemen and agricultural agents at Grand Island Wednesday, March 20th, to hear Claude R. Wickard, chief of the corn-hog section.

Mr. Wickard recently made head of the largest of the AAA adjustment programs, is an Indiana farmer and hog raiser. He has been the assistant to Dr. A. G. Black since the corn-hog program started. This was his first appearance before Nebraska corn-hog contract signers. Being a farmer, he has always had the viewpoint of a farmer in working with the problems connected with the corn-hog contracts.

Many of the problems that have arisen on the 1935 program were discussed with Mr. Wickard at this meeting. The Cass county committeemen were very much impressed with Mr. Wickard. They feel that he is very much concerned with the farmer's problems and farmers can be assured that they are well represented in Washington.

Hand Made Toys.

A useful and most interesting bulletin has just been published, by the Extension Service, entitled, "Toys You Can Make." This bulletin gives suggestions mainly for toys for younger children, however some may be adapted for older children. Many of these toys may be made of materials available in the average home. Most children find real enjoyment in assembling old clothes, colored cloth, spools, buttons and bits of anything into some type of toy.

Write or call the Farm Bureau office if you are interested in having a copy of this bulletin.

Check Corn Compliance in June.

Nebraska corn-hog associations will attempt to check corn acreage under the 1935 contracts immediately after corn planting time, according to the present plans of the corn-hog program. Final hog compliance will not be completed until after Dec. 1, 1935.

Supervisors of compliance will measure the land planted to corn. If a farmer happens to have too much corn he can cover it up and plant the ground to some late feed crop like sudan or millet. This attempt to fit the corn compliance into the season of the year should meet with universal approval of contract signers. It will also save expense to the county association since it will be easier to measure the corn land before the corn is laid by than after it is higher than a man's head.

Checking compliance with the wheat allotment program will begin as soon as blanks and instructions are available from Washington. Part of the supplies to be used by the supervisors are being prepared in Lincoln now. Counties anxious to start measuring up the land can plan shortly after the first of April unless some unexpected delay enters into the picture.

Many Signing Corn-Hog Applications.

The total number of applications for 1935 contracts under the corn and hog adjustment program, as checked in the office Saturday night was 1225, with a total corn base signed up of 100,000 acres. The total number of acres to be retired from corn is 21,000.

The total corn base signed up last year was 139,000 acres. If farmers continue to come in to sign up this week as they did last, the 1935 acreage covered by contracts will equal that of 1934. Committees will start appraisal work this week and expect to finish by April 1st, which is the deadline for all applications to be signed. Anyone wishing to make an application should get into the office
