

Track Days are Here for High School Students

Coach Fred A. Rothert Prepares for the Spring Sport Program at the Local School.

Track days are here for the sports department of the high school and Coach Fred A. Rothert, who has produced a large number of stars in this line of sport in the years that he has served as the skipper of the athletic department, has a large squad out. This year there are a number of very capable trackmen that lettered last year in the school events, who this year should shed more luster on the blue and white in this department of the school sports. In the trackmen that lettered last year are Earl Taylor, Donald Cotner, Howard Hirz, Charles Walden, Joe Hendrix and William Crouch, all of whom made a good showing in the 1934 season and have a greater promise this year.

There are a number of others who promise much for the 1935 program of the old P. H. S. these including Joe Case, football and basketball star of the past season, William Carey, one of the promising bets for athletic honors, Robert Vallery, Jack Forbes, doughty guard of the basketball team, these being figured in the weight events for the season; Frank Nelson, Gerold Keil, Gavin Farmer, and Russell Arnold, who are figured as likely contenders for the distance events of the team for the season, as well as Vernon Taplett and Carl Hula who are expected to make their bid for the P. H. S. in the track events.

So far Coach Rothert has not announced the schedule for the season but the local team will have the opportunity of competing in a large number of the events in this section of the state.

LIBRARY ANNIVERSARY

Celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Plattsmouth Public Library will be held at the library on Thursday, April 11th. Details of the program will be printed later. The occasion is sponsored by the P. E. O. society and the library board is co-operating in the plans.

This institution has had a unique history of service in this community, where for fifty years, it has without interruption been in operation. The work, originally initiated by a group of young ladies back in 1885, grew to such proportions that in 1890 the city council made it possible for a library to be established under city patronage and support, under which plan the library has operated since.

There will appear in the Journal columns five articles dealing with the history of the library by decades from 1885 to 1935. The first one has already been published, and was prepared by Paul Vandervoort—four others will follow at intervals before April 11th. Their authors, in order, will be Robert Walling, A. L. Tidd, Miss Verna Leonard and R. Foster Patterson. It is hoped that there may be many present for the anniversary ceremony, who through the years that are gone have contributed to the work and welfare of the library.

The interest and co-operation of all citizens is assured in this recognition of our library, those who have made it possible, and in planning for its future usefulness.

Anyone possessing historical data, or souvenirs of our library, or suggestions to offer at this time, please communicate them to Chairman of P. E. O. Committee Mrs. E. H. Westcott, Miss Jones, or Miss Leonard, at the library, or to any member of the library board.

MARRIED AT PAPILLION

This afternoon at Papillion, occurred the marriage of Miss Dorothy Shewell and Mr. Forrest Stull, of Omaha, the latter well known in this city where he formerly made his home. The marriage lines were read by County Judge Collins and the ceremony witnessed by the parents of the bride and the attendants, Miss Laura Mae Davis of Omaha and William Ronne of this city.

The bridal party later motored to Lincoln where they were entertained at dinner at the home of relatives and returning to Omaha for a reception this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Stull will reside on a small farm west of Omaha where they will locate at once.

The groom is a nephew of Glen Lewis and Mrs. Jack Welland of this city.

Railroads to Have Rates for Flower Show

Special Round-Trip Rates Have Been Announced for the Great National Show at Omaha.

Special low rates providing a round-trip ticket for the usual price of a one-way fare have been made by railroads operating in the state for Nebraska Day, April 3, at the National Flower and Garden Show, it was announced by E. S. Waterbury, chairman of the trains and transportation committee. Tickets will be placed on sale at distant points in the state on April 2 and all stations on April 3. The tickets are good until midnight April 4.

This concession on the part of railroads in Nebraska probably will be met by all railroads operating in Iowa, Waterbury said, in announcing that negotiations for the low rate in Iowa are nearing a successful conclusion. April 4 is Iowa Day at the million-dollar flower show which opens at 2 p. m. next Saturday and continues for nine days and nights.

Simultaneously with the announcement of the special rail rates came the word from Glenn Wilcox, general chairman, that remodeling and rehabilitating the Ak-Sar-Ben coliseum is practically complete. Scores of workmen, landscape experts, interior decorators and other artisans have been working in the day and night shifts to put the coliseum in shape for the reception of flowers valued at more than a million dollars which will come from foreign countries and throughout all sections of the United States.

In the annex to the coliseum, where the Nebraska and Iowa garden clubs will stage their exhibits, everything is in readiness. The large section of space given over to the garden clubs has been reserved for weeks. These exhibits are expected to be a strong rival for the eyes of the many thousands who will visit the show because they will provide practical demonstrations of what can be done with flowers and plants in the backyards of the average citizen. Official recognition of the show was given by Mayor Towl in a formal proclamation in which he called upon the people of Omaha to avail themselves of this unrivaled opportunity to attend the world's largest flower show.

Chairman Wilcox said that more than a thousand entries are now assured, making the show one of the most outstanding in its 16 years history. "From the standpoint of the exhibits themselves, the success of the show is certain," he said. "The best there is in flowers will be on display."

Afternoon and evening entertainment programs are being carefully worked out. Governor Cochran of Nebraska and Governor Herrin of Iowa, and their wives, will participate in the formal opening Saturday and on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock the First Methodist choir of nearly 100 voices will sing. On Nebraska Day the far-famed Dana College choir will sing at the night show, combined choirs of Council Bluffs churches are scheduled for April 4, Iowa Day, and on April 5 the Shrine Chanters are scheduled. Others are being arranged.

The widespread interest in the show was demonstrated when Pearl Schneider, the "Miss University of Omaha," flew to Kansas City in a Hanford airplane and presented a formal invitation to the mayor of the Missouri metropolis together with a huge bouquet of roses on behalf of Mayor Towl.

Mrs. West, the teacher, and the committees, are pleased with the spirit of co-operation shown, which made the party such a great success. The class plans to help buy new song books for the church with the money raised.

Association Proves a Great Aid to Farmers

Large Amount Has Been Handled by Credit Association to Residents of District.

A lusty and growing one-year-old now is the South Omaha Production Credit association of South Omaha.

Just a year ago March 20, farmers of Cass, Sarpy, Douglas, Burt, Washington, Saunders and Dodge counties received from the Production Credit Corporation of Omaha a charter and authority to operate their own co-operative short-term, low-interest credit factory.

During this year of operation, according to George J. Thomas, secretary-treasurer, 150 loans for agricultural production purposes totaling $100,000 have been made to farmers of this territory.

"Before March 20, 1934, the farmers of this district had no way to get short-term loans for as little as 5 per cent interest a year," said Mr. Charles L. Yochum of Ashland, president of the association.

"This low interest rate, I believe, is the principal reason for our really remarkable growth. Judging by the number of applications received recently for loans to carry on spring farming operations, our second year will bring even greater progress than our first."

Every borrower is a stockholder in the association. Because of an excellent repayment record, there is no impairment of stock value.

The South Omaha PCA is one of 42 such organizations in the Eighth Farm Credit administration district, which includes Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming.

Scout Circus a New Thing Outside the Large Cities

Arbor Lodge District First to Attempt It in 25 Years of Scouting—To be Held on April 5th.

A Scout circus equal in every way to those featured in the large metropolitan cities is in the making and will be presented at Memorial building in Nebraska City Friday evening, April 5th. Boy Scouts from every town in the Arbor Lodge district—composed of Nemaha, Otoe and Cass counties—will participate.

Tickets are now in the hands of Scout leaders and Scouts in each town. Due to limited seating capacity (the entire main floor being taken up with the circus acts), outlying towns are given the preference of early advance sale. The allotment to each town is three times the number of registered Scouts and Scouters in the town. The admission charge is 25 cents per person.

Ticket holders are urged to be at the auditorium in Nebraska City by 8 o'clock in order to be assured of a seat. After that hour, remaining space will be sold at the door. The program starts with a band concert at 7:45, while the circus proper will be going at 8:15. There will be no afternoon matinee as was first announced.

Unsold tickets allotted to outlying towns will be called in April 1st and placed on sale in Nebraska City. The proceeds will be prorated among the troops participating, after expenses have been met.

The Scout Circus is a panorama of Scouting presented with all the showmanship of the "big tops" from whence it derives its name. Acts follow each other in rapid succession, interspersed with a liberal amount of comedy and clowning. This will be the first time in twenty-five years of Scouting that such a feature entertainment has been attempted outside of metropolitan cities that support a number of Scout troops.

However, with Scouts in every town working industriously on their several acts, indications point to a grand success, under the able management of Rev. Walter Jackson, 23-year Scouter and holder of the coveted silver beaver, who is acting as general chairman and director. He will be assisted by nearly a score of Scouters from the different towns in handling the details and seeing that the acts follow in the desired rapid succession.

The show opens with a prologue depicting the early history of the Boy Scout movement. The acts that follow include: Games—David Stites, director. Six troops entered.

Signaling—Earl Andrews, director. More than 50 boys appearing in the different scenes and all Scouts in the district in the closing (flashlight) scene.

Safety First—Horn, Nebr. City, director. Includes five types of accidents and proper resuscitation methods.

Out of the Ark (Comedy Number)—Supt. L. S. Devoe, Plattsmouth, director, assisted by Supt. Stimbort, of Nehawka. Introducing some thirty different animals and clowning.

Knot Tying—A. B. Clayburn, Peru, director. Includes giant hoots, rope machines, scaffold and rope spinning, with groups from every troop tying Tenderfoot knots to be tossed into the balcony for souvenirs.

Chariot Race—Rev. Edgar, Syracuse, director. Nine entries. Four-boy team and driver.

Aviation—Raymond Larson, Plattsmouth, director. Twelve stick and 21 scale models now entered and more promised. One of the features of this act will be the presence of Dr. John D. Brock, nationally known aviation authority of Kansas City, who will contribute four beautiful sterling silver medals as first and second prizes in each division that are exact duplicates of those given at a city wide aviation contest in Swope park in Kansas City last fall. The boys winning these will be well repaid for the time spent in making their entries.

Pioneering (closing act)—David W. Webb, Louisville, director. Will include the setting up of numerous items of heavy Scout equipment that will be left intact and may be inspected by the audience as they come down onto the main floor from the balcony at the conclusion of the show.

It is taking a lot of work to get up a show of this kind, but the boys in every town are responding in splendid shape and Rev. Jackson says he expects the show to be so good, there will be demand for another one next year. If you buy a ticket to the circus from local Scouts, make a note of the date and be sure to attend. You will enjoy it.

Nehawka

Mrs. Fronie Kime, who has been in very poor health for some time past, is reported as being some better of late.

Arthur Trunkenbolz, of Lincoln, was looking after some business matters in Nehawka on Monday of this week.

Mrs. R. C. Pollard and daughter, Miss Virginia, were visiting and looking after some shopping in Omaha on Monday.

Gilbert Edmonds and family were at Peru last Sunday, where they were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Edmonds.

Mark Burton and family were in Murray last Sunday, where they enjoyed a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Jones.

J. J. Pollard sold and delivered a new Farmall tractor to A. A. Reynolds, who will use it for his farming operations this season.

Clarence Hanson reports the sale of a car to a man in Weeping Water during the past week, he going over Saturday to deliver the new vehicle.

William Obernauite and Leslie Wunderlich were placing a new floor in the drive way of the Nehawka elevator during the fore part of last week.

Clarence Hanson was called to Omaha Monday to look after some business matters connected with the distribution of the line of cars which he handles.

J. J. Pollard was a visitor in Omaha one day this week for supplies and parts for farming machinery as he is finding good demand for them at this season.

Bert Jamison of Weeping Water was a visitor in Nehawka Monday of this week, coming to look after some matters of business. While here, he was able to dispose of two automobiles.

Dean Christanson and wife, of Nebraska City, were visiting last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Kruger, where all enjoyed a very fine time and an excellent dinner which was served.

William McCullough, who resided here 35 or 40 years ago, but who has been making his home in Topeka for many years, was visiting here on last Monday and enjoyed meeting many of his former friends. He was engaged in farming in this county before leaving for the south.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Steffens, of Lorton, were guests in Nehawka last Sunday at the home of J. H. Steffens and the children. They also visited for a short time with Mrs. J. H. Steffens, who is at St. Mary's hospital in Nebraska City, where they found her showing some improvement.

Mrs. Herman August, who suffered the fracture of her hip some time ago on her 88th birthday, being confined for a time in the hospital at Nebraska City and later returned home with her body in a cast, has been delirious the greater part of the time of late and is gradually growing weaker.

Stewart Rough and wife were out enjoying a drive last Sunday, it being a very nice day. They drove west on O street as far as Eagle, thence south through Palmyra and Syracuse, coming on home late in the day. Mr. Rough is improving each week and is gradually regaining his strength.

Raymond C. Pollard says business is very good, in fact better than for a long time, as the farming community is at this time very busy with the seeding of their small grain, and especially oats and are using their tractors for this purpose, thus requiring the use of much motor fuel as well as lubricating oils, etc.

A number of the members of the American Legion were in Plattsmouth Tuesday evening of last week, where they attended a public meeting sponsored by the Plattsmouth Legion post. The Ralston prize winning band furnished music and Sam Reynolds, national Finance committee chairman, spoke on the things the Legion stands for. A luncheon was provided the visiting Legionnaires after the program.

To Give Shower for Bride-Elect

Mrs. Melvin Sturm will give a shower this coming Saturday for the bride-to-be, Miss Virginia Pollard, who is to wed an Omaha attorney, Mr. Lowell C. Davis, on April 13th.
