

Another Part of Fifty Years of City Library

A. L. Tidd, Long Booster for Public Library, Tells of Period from 1905 to 1915.

Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of five articles, each by a different author, and each covering a period of ten years of the fifty year history of the Plattsmouth public library. The following article covers the period from 1905 to 1915.

By A. L. TIDD
The public library in this city is one of the most important institutions in the city, and not only serves the boys and girls of school age in their research work, but it serves as an institution for post graduate work and particularly for adult education and information.

The period assigned to the writer covering the years from 1905 to 1915 are a particularly interesting period in the history of the public library.

In 1905 Mrs. Sam Waugh was president of the Library board and the other members were Mrs. C. C. Parmelee, Mrs. Morrissey, Mr. D. B. Smith, Mr. D. O. Dwyer and Mr. Henry Herold.

Just previous to the year 1905 the family of the Honorable D. H. Wheeler had made a donation from Mr. Wheeler's private library of a large number of books to the Plattsmouth public library. It was after the receipt of this splendid donation that the entire library was re-cataloged and put on a more efficient working basis.

With the growth of the library, the necessity of the cataloging of the growing number of books became evident and in 1902 Mrs. Perry Walker presented the library a catalog case, given as a memorial to her husband, who had passed away in 1899.

In the latter part of the year 1915, owing to the crowded condition of the library in the old library building, the librarian, Miss Olive Jones, suggested that application be made to the Carnegie Corporation for a donation to build a Carnegie library.

When this suggestion was made, the president of the Library board requested Miss Jones to get in touch with the State Library association and get the information as to how to proceed to obtain a donation and immediately the president of the Library board wrote the Carnegie Corporation, who promptly showed interest in the matter and requested information showing the size of the old building, the number of books in the library, and the number of daily, monthly and yearly borrowers together with photographs of the old building.

This information was prepared by the librarian and furnished to the president of the Library board in his negotiations with the Carnegie Corporation. After furnishing such information, the Carnegie Corporation proposed to make a donation of $12,500, providing the mayor and city council would agree to furnish the site for the new building, and agree to make an annual levy of at least $1,500 for the maintenance of the library.

Mr. Tidd, president of the Library board, appeared before the mayor and council and obtained from the city government a resolution agreeing to comply with this requirement made by the Carnegie Corporation.

On January 20, 1916, A. L. Tidd, president of the Library board, wrote to said corporation the following letter:

Dear Sir: Enclosed herewith find pledge, signed by the mayor and city clerk of the City of Plattsmouth, Nebraska, that the building plan called for will be erected and complete and ready to occupy within the $12,500 promised.

Under other cover I send you by express today plans and specifications for the library building to be erected in conformity with the donation. I am, very truly,

A. L. TIDD,
President Library Board.

On January 24, the following reply was received:

A. L. Tidd, Esq.,
President Library Board,
Plattsmouth, Neb.

My Dear Sir: Your favor of January 20 and plans received. On the understanding that the building the plans called for will be erected complete and ready to occupy with the $12,500 promised, arrangements have been made for payments as work progresses. Please communicate with Mr. R. A. Franks, treasurer, 576 Fifth Avenue, New York, and he will instruct you how to apply for funds.

When the building has been erected, please send us unmounted photographs, showing front and side elevations, together with a complete set of the plans on a reduced scale, preferably on a sheet not more than twelve by sixteen inches.

Very truly yours,
JAS. BERTRAM,
Secretary.

Approved plans under separate cover.

In answer to the above letter, on March 16, the president of the Library board followed the following letter to the Carnegie Corporation:

Dear Sir: On January 24, as president of the Plattsmouth Public Library board, of Plattsmouth, Nebraska, I received a letter from Mr. Jas. Bertram, secretary Carnegie Corporation, informing me that plans for public library building to be built within the donation of $12,500 promised by the Carnegie Corporation were approved, and that the money donated had been set apart for this building, and directed me to write you for your instructions as how to apply for funds as the work on this building proceeds. I therefore ask you to furnish me with your instructions. Yours truly,

A. L. TIDD,
President Library Board.

To which letter he received the following reply:

March 22, 1916.
Dear Sir: Replying to your inquiry of the 16th inst.

The fund of $12,500 provided by this corporation for erection of library building at Plattsmouth is now available and payments on this account will be made in installments of $2,000 or $3,000 upon architect's certificates, as needed from time to time during the construction of the building.

Please see that application for funds are made by letter, accompanied by a certificate from the architect certifying to the amount due contractors for labor and material furnished on account of the building—all certificates to be approved by the president and treasurer of your library board. Yours very truly,

R. A. FRANKS,
Treasurer.

There arose through selfish interests, a considerable furor over the location of the site for the new building. The Library board called in a representative from the State Library association and showed all the contemplated and proposed locations for sites and took the advice of the representative of the state association as to the proper place to locate the library and followed that suggestion.

The committee selected by the Library board as the building committee were the president of the board, A. L. Tidd; Mr. James Robertson, Miss Verna Leonard and Miss Barbara Gering, then secretary of the board.

The work of erecting the building and its dedication will be covered in the next period from 1915 to 1925.
