Passing of Life Long Resident of Nehawka

Mrs. J. Stuart Rough Passes Away
Friday Evening at Bryan Memorial Hospital at Lincoln.

The death of Mrs. J. Stuart Rough, 62, occurred Friday evening at the Bryan Memorial hospital at Lincoln, following an illness of the past several months. Mr. Rough was operated on December 28th at the hospital for gall stones, on April 2nd it was necessary to operate again, complications ensued and she passed away last evening. All of her children were with her during the past ten days.

Frances Amelia Bates, born August 1, 1872, the only daughter of Walker and Eunice Bates, early residents of the Nehawka community. On February 10, 1891, she and J. Stuart Rough were united in marriage. Her parents then moved to Nehawka and the new home was established on the farm. Here the family of five children was reared, all of whom with the husband survive, Mrs. H. J. Dane, Iowa City, Iowa; Stuart B., of Montebello, California; Mrs. L. R. Benson, Iowa City; Mrs. Martin E. Ross, Nehawka; Mrs. D. H. Wilson, Alton Illinois, as well as fourteen grandchildren.

In February, 1921, Mr. and Mrs. Rough moved from the farm on "O" street three miles southwest of Nehawka, where her life had been spent, to Nehawka.

She joined church in early life and was at the time of her death a member of the Eastern Star, Rebekahs, Daughters of the American Revolution and the Nehawka Woman's club.

A TRIBUTE TO MISS OLIVE JONES

For nearly Fifty Years Friend and Counsellor of Book Lovers at the City Library

Miss Jones, as a tribute, in my feeble way, I am tendering this brief bit of rhyme;
Since I read of your work in the paper today
Seems a debt I have owed a long time.

Our duties we oft lay aside and forget
Like the text of a plot in a book,
It's delayed and put off for a brief respite yet—
Vaguely seeking a better outlook.
Every volume that rests in its place on a shelf

Just speaks of the judgment and care
Of the person who, setting aside thought of self,
Neatly catalogued every book there.
Each patron will join in the tribute I bring—
Singing psalms of praise to Miss Jones—'umbly, King.
