RESCUE GIRL FROM JAIL

Salzburg, Austria.—Love, heedless of the dagger involved, engineered a jail break and rescued an Austrian girl held at Haallein as a Nazi agent. The girl was arrested for smuggling documents to Austria from Bavaria. Her fiancée and her brother smashed the bars of the little jail, momentarily unguarded, and the three fled to Germany.

TRAIN WITH WAR MOVIES

Addis Abada, Ethiopia.—World war films depicting the French defense of Fort Verdun were adopted as a medium of instruction for Ethiopian officers being trained by a Belgian military mission.

Chiefs of Emperor Selassie departed for their provinces after having been warned by him to "be prepared for any eventuality." Although it was officially denied Ethiopian forces are being mobilized, it was known troops are quietly assembling on the frontier and Thursday more fighting forces departed, apparently bound for the border.

TWO DIE OF POISONING

Peoria, Ill.—A mysterious poison took its second victim when Miss Alberta Swanson, 29, died in a hospital. Her mother, Mrs. Lena Swanson, 51, died Monday. An inquest into the mother's death failed to establish what caused the fatal illness. Testimony was that the mother and daughter had eaten boiled rhubarb tops, but medical testimony classified the fatal poison in Mrs. Swanson's case as of a mineral nature, not traceable, the doctors said, to the vegetable itself. A son, Laverne, who ate sparingly of the same meal, became ill too.

Residential Building Shows Marked Gain

Report for First Thirteen Weeks of the Year Shows a Very Definite Gain Over the Country.

Residential building for the first 13 weeks of 1935 shows definite improvement over the same period both in 1933 and 1934, but is below the level of 1932, according to an article in the April issue of the Federal Home Loan Bank Review, just published.

A comparison of the monthly totals of home construction for the first three months of 1935 reveals a resumption in March of the acceleration show in January and interrupted in February. Figures for March show that the average daily volume of residential building contracts awarded was more than 71 percent above the daily average in February, which is far greater than the normal seasonal increase and represents an increase of 19 percent over March 1934.

Residential building volume up to March 30 of this year is more than 23 percent above the same period in 1934. Activity in non-residential construction, due to the falling off in new governmental contracts, remained about 44 percent below the total for the first three months of 1934.

A chart accompanying the article shows that whereas industrial production had by February 28 reached a level only 8 percent below the 1923-1925 figure, construction remained 76 percent below that average. For over a year the cost of building materials and labor has been practically unchanged, while housing rentals have moved steadily higher, diminishing the spread between those two factors and providing an incentive for increased residential construction. As contrasted with building costs, all commodities during March continued the advance which began in February 1933.

With this issue, the Review, for the benefit of home-financing institutions, begins publication of current figures on the number and value of one-family, two-family and combination home-and-business structures for which building permits have been issued. The information is compiled by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board from data collected by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The value of one and two-family home construction in February showed an increase of 9 percent as compared with January 1935, and was about 72 percent greater than in February 1934.

Figures assembled by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board disclose a continued trend since 1930 toward construction of one and two-family dwellings, in contrast with the large volume of apartment construction from 1926 to 1929. This reversal may be in part a reflection of the greater volume of mortgage credit available to owners of small homes, through building and loan associations and similar institutions, and the relative difficulty of financing large apartment projects in recent years through the traditional investment banking channels.

FELLED BY HOODLUM'S GUN

Chicago.—A hoodlum's gun, reminiscent of gang war days, barked on the fringe of the downtown "loop" and Sanford (Gimp) Rosenbaum, bodyguard of Edward "Spike" O'Donnell, fell dangerously wounded. Double-parking his sedan for a quick get-away on Wells st., western rim of the loop, the gunman stroiled across the street and accosted Rosenbaum. They chatted a moment, then the stranger pulled his revolver and fired three times. Bullets ripped thru Rosenbaum's right arm, left shoulder and chin. He slumped against a steel pillar of the elevated railway. The gunman jumped into his car and sped off.

Physicians said Rosenbaum probably would recover. Detectives, believing he knew his assailant, tried to question him at the hospital but he refused to talk.

HOSPITAL INMATE WANTED

Falls City, Neb.—Sheriff Irvin Gates Tuesday said a man giving his name as J. D. Miller, under guard in a hospital here, was wanted in Elk River, Minn., on charges of grand larceny.

The prisoner was identified thru the bureau of identification at Washington as John N. Roebing, who served time in the Minnesota state reformatory for a fire theft, officers said. Roebing has been in the hospital since suffering a fractured skull when, while handcuffed he leaped from Deputy Sheriff Ralph Ramsey's automobile.

FOUR ARE DEAD IN A FIRE

South Dayton, N. Y.—Two women and two little girls were dead of burns after a kerosene explosion and fire had trapped them in the living room of their home. They were: Mrs. Elizabeth Rugg, 59; Mrs. Claribel Rugg, 26, her daughter-in-law, and the latter's children, Violet, 6, and Audrey, 4. The explosion resulted when Mrs. Claribel Rugg threw a quantity of kerosene into a wood stove to speed up a fire. The clothing of all four was set afire immediately. The children, standing near the stove, had been waiting for the room to become warm enough for them to take baths.

YORK WANTS CITY BUILDING

York, Neb.—Efforts to secure a federal building here to serve as national guard headquarters and a city auditorium, which have been progressing quietly for several weeks, will be discussed at a meeting of a promotion committee Tuesday. Capt. H. R. Beckley, commander of the guard unit here, and York civic leaders are attempting to secure grants for construction of the building. Beckley has received notification from Adjutant General Paul that he is working for the building thru the military affairs committee at Washington. York, which has no civic center, is seeking co-operation of neighboring towns and cities in its drive.

HOOVER PAUSES AT CHICAGO

Chicago.—Former President Hoover, journeying to his home in Palo Alto, reached Chicago by motor from Columbus, O., and went to the home of a friend, Arch W. Shaw, in suburban Winnetka. Paul Sexton, secretary to Mr. Hoover, said the former chief executive will rest "for a day or two" and then depart for the west coast by train. Hoover, Sexton said, had no statements or comments to make, political or otherwise.

FILES CLAIM FOR REWARD

Austin, Tex.—Noland Alred, Tupelo, Miss., youth who revealed Raymond Hamilton's hiding place, filed a claim for the $500 reward offered by Governor Allred for information leading to the desperado's capture.

HOME RULE AT CHICAGO

Chicago.—Edward J. Kelly was inducted into office for his first elective term as mayor of Chicago shortly after he announced he would seek "home rule" for the city in so far as utility control was concerned.

Of all the seasons of the year, the Eastertide is perhaps the most hopeful. This year we have more than ever to be thankful for as we consider the encouraging prospects for the future. Everywhere we see the bursting buds and the peeping flowers and our hearts thrill to the annual resurrection of nature, as our minds turn to that other resurrection morning so long ago.

Sunday school at 10:00 a. m. Everything depends on what we do this week as to who wins our contest. A week ago last Sunday we made 29 Day's last Friday. A short program was presented in the assembly and the day's activities ended when the group motored to Lincoln for a theater party in the evening.

Fred Beach organized a garden club at his home last Thursday evening. If weather conditions are favorable and the enthusiasm of the members does not wane, some wonderful gardens will be grown during the summer.

Easter topic in the study of Christ's personality. There will be special music.

8:00. It is fitting at this time that we celebrate the Lord's Supper in a communion service. Mr. Chadwick will be the guest minister and will deliver the message of the evening. This service is for the re-consecration and re-dedication of Christ's followers.

Once to every man and nation comes the moment to decide
In the strife of twixt truth and falsehood for the good or evil side.
Some great cause, God's new Messiah, giving each the bloom or blight,
Sets the goats upon the left hand and the sheep upon the right,
And the chance goes for forever 'twixt the darkness and the light.
—James Russell Lowell.

Friday, April 19 at 10:30 a. m., the Eagle Union will hold their local W. C. T. U. Institute at the Methodist church. This will be an all day meeting with a covered dish luncheon. The state director of "Better Movies," will be one of the speakers of the afternoon.
