Wabash News

Warren Richards was called to Weeping Water last Friday to look after some business matters for a short time.

William Rueter and wife were in Lincoln last Tuesday, where they were looking after some shopping for the afternoon.

Mrs. A. B. Stomer, of Alvo, a daughter of John C. Browne of this place, was a visitor here for a short time last Saturday evening, coming to see her father.

John Wood, Lloyd Richards and Lester Reese are working on the O street paving job, hauling batches of gravel and cement to the mixer in their trucks. Under NRA regulations they are limited to five hours each per day.

Among those from Wabash who are employed on the paving of the O street road from a point south of Wabash west to the end of the present pavement at the Elmwood corner, are Fred Shellhorn, William Murfin, Carl Jensen, James Cardwell, William Walters and Noel Golden.

Guy Hinds has been working on the O street paving project, his particular job being that of weighmaster at the loading station where the correct proportions of gravel and cement are loaded onto trucks and hauled to the scene of operation to be mixed and poured on the roadway.

Bert Barden and wife were visitors in Plattsmouth last Saturday, where they were looking after some business matters and endeavoring to get themselves assigned to the paving job on O street or any other work over the county that comes under the administration of the county re-employment office.

Restore Caretaker Here
The taking off of the caretaker of the Missouri Pacific station house, Mr. Frank Reese, has not proven to the best interests of the company as with trains stopping here and no station attendant it has been very inconvenient to patrons of the road, who had no place to wait until their friends should come for them. Especially was this the case in the early morning or late in the evening. So the position has been restored and Mr. Reese, the genial and accommodating caretaker, is again officiating.

May Extend Paving
There are rumors that an additional contract is to be let in the near future to extend the paving on O street an additional five or six miles, including an overhead railroad crossing. If this is done, all but a very few miles of O street will be paved by the middle of August or the first of September. It is one of the heavily traveled highways of eastern Nebraska and is certainly deserving of consideration at the hands of the state highway commission. All are hoping the rumors may prove well founded.

Passed Away at Lincoln
Owen McGrew, who drove a bread delivery wagon for a Lincoln firm, that visited Wabash regularly, and a most genial young man, on account of failing health was recently given a place in the offices of the company at Lincoln, but as his health continued to fail, he was taken to the hospital and passed away there some ten days ago. The funeral was held last week, being attended by W. T. Richards of this place who was well acquainted with the young man, Sherman Hardaway, who bought bread from his wagon regularly, was also a close friend of the deceased but was not able to attend the funeral.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC
The dental offices of Dr. P. T. Heineman will be open each Saturday evening from this date until September 1, 1935. a6-tfw

FIND ACCIDENT UNAVOIDABLE

From Thursday's Daily
This morning the inquest into the death of Ivan L. Fuller, killed near Louisville Monday afternoon, was held at the court house. The jury impaneled was composed of John Ledgway, John Bajack, Lee Nickles, George Born, Louis Reinacke and Carl Kunsman.

County Attorney W. G. Kieck acted as coroner and called to the stand, George Heli, who was working in a field near highway 50 at College Hill where the accident occurred, as well as Joe Youngquist of Nebraska City, driver of the truck with which the auto of Mr. Fuller had collided. There were also presented pictures of the wreck and the highway in the vicinity of where the unfortunate accident occurred. They have been very successful with the interest shown and Mrs. Archer expressed the confidence that Miss Soennichsen and Miss Kaufmann would secure a representative group of students to join the groups in Omaha en route to New York.

The cars were driven by a number of young men who had made the trip clear from the factory and making their night stop here last evening. This morning the fleet resumed the last lap of the journey. The cars were very handsome and attracted a great deal of attention in the downtown section where they had been parked over night.

COYOTE CROP GOOD

From Saturday's Daily:
This morning Cecil Fosberg, residing five miles west of Louisville, was in the city bringing with him ten coyote pups that he captured Friday at the Fosberg farm. The pups were found in the base of a hollow tree by the young man and were dispatched and brought on into this city for the bounty.

John Gonzales, of near Elmwood, also was here Thursday with an old coyote and the three puppies that he had shot on the farm.

Duxbury occurred the marriage of Miss Erma Sayer and Mr. Orville Jewett, both of Craig, Missouri, who had motored here for the ceremony that was to make them as one. ## MURDOCK ITEMS

A. H. Ward was called to Weeping Water last Wednesday to look after some business matters pertaining to the oil business in which he is engaged here.

Harold W. Tool, Charles I. Long and Jesse Stock were in Elmwood last Monday evening, where they attended a rehearsal of the Elmwood band of which they are members.

William Bourke, who is the assessor for Elmwood precinct, has been hustling with the work and while he has not completed the task as yet, he is getting along very well and hopes to finish up in a short time.

Miss Pool, teacher in the Murdock schools, was sponsor of the Seventh and Eighth grades when they enjoyed a fine time at the park of W. O. Schewe. The teacher gave the class a wicker roast in the grove.

Henry Klemme has been feeling rather poorly of late, but not so bad as to keep him at home and in bed, for he has been trying to do the work on the farm and has done so notwithstanding he has not been feeling the best.

Came Along Just After Wreck

Lacey McDonald, son John, and A. J. Tool were at Louisville on Monday, where they spent a very pleasant afternoon fishing, and as they were on their way home, driving south to reach highway No. 1 at the corner east of Manley, they came upon the wreck of the car that ran into a gravel truck near the Catholic cemetery on highway No. 50. A Council Bluffs man was driving the car and was killed almost instantly. The two vehicles came together at the south approach of a narrow bridge, over which the gravel truck had just passed and the impact of the collision demolished the car as well as damaged the front end of the gravel truck considerably. A coroner's jury returned a verdict that the accident was unavoidable and attached no blame to anyone. A large crowd was soon at the scene and the Murdock folks say it was a most gruesome picture as the smashed car stood there and not far away lay the body of the man, who had been lifted from the wreckage, being dead at the time.

This particular point has been the scene of numerous wrecks in the past.

Attended Weeping Water Meeting

A number of the ladies of Murdock were in attendance at the district meeting which was held at Weeping Water on last Wednesday. There were many articles on display which had been manufactured by members of the different clubs over the county and a very fine program as well, a most pleasant afternoon being had.

Among those from Murdock were Mrs. Henry Tool, Mrs. Lawrence Race, Mrs. A. J. Tool, Mrs. A. H. Ward, Mrs. P. T. Johnson and Mrs. Henry Amgwert.

Attended Play at Weeping Water

The young people of the Congregational church of Weeping Water recently completed rehearsals of their play, "The Rock," presenting it at a number of churches over the county, also at their own church in Weeping Water last Monday evening, with a large crowd in attendance. The Rev. C. F. Wenber and wife were attending and stopped to extend an invitation to Mr. and Mrs. L. Neitzel to accompany them, which they did and all four went over to hear the play. They were all well pleased with the play and sure enjoyed it.

Returned from the West

Mrs. Frank Dean, who has been visiting for the past month at Big Springs, where she was a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. Wm. Dehning, reports a lot of wet weather out there and that they had one rain that amounted to some seven inches and it was still raining when they came away. This should prove beneficial to the crops of that portion of the country. Mrs. Dean came home with her husband and H. P. Dehning, who had driven out for a brief visit.

Entertained Last Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bauer entertained last Sunday, having as their guests Mrs. George Utt and son, Diller and wife from Havelock, also Mr. and Mrs. Claude Twiss and kiddies, which made a merry crowd for Grandfather and Grandmother Bauer. Mrs. Florence Zeichmann and son, Edward, and W. H. Bergner of Omaha were also guests.

They Played Kittenball

Murdock was among the first to break into the kittenball this season on Tuesday of last week when the first game under the floodlights was played and notwithstanding the coolness of the weather there was a goodly number present and a good game was enjoyed. The game was between two teams selected from Murdock players and if this starter is a sample of the kind of playing that is to follow, it is quite evident that Murdock will have a fine kittenball team this summer and one that will do its full share of winning. Don't miss the next game, for if you do you will be losing out on some good sport.

Saw the West Sunday

Rudolph Kuehn and the family, living near Murdock, took advantage of the very nice day last Sunday and with their auto tuned up just right, departed for Fullerton, where they spent the day visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kuehn, who recently moved there to engage in farming.

Had Tonsils Removed

Mrs. Eddie Craig has been troubled for some time with attacks of tonsillitis and with each recurring attack the distress has been more severe until finally as a cure for the distressing malady, she concluded to have the tonsils removed. Dr. L. D. Lee performed the operation on Thursday morning and with the removal of the glands, Mrs. Craig has been getting along very nicely and it is expected she will soon be entirely recovered, and in the future will be free of the troublesome tonsillitis.

Book is Sermon Subject

The booklet which was recently prepared by L. Neitzel, depicting his religious life, from conversion down to the present time, and published by the Journal a few weeks since, under the title, "A Modern Pilgrim's Progress—by the Pilgrim" has been distributed by Mr. Neitzel among his friends and religious co-workers over this part of the country as well as to numerous shut-ins whom he knows, as an encouragement to many in the struggles incident to human life. Copies of the booklet have also been sent to members of the clergy in Cass county, among whom is Rev. C. O. Troy, pastor of the Methodist church at Plattsmouth.

Rev. Troy used a portion of the book as the theme of his services on Sunday, April 28, and again yesterday, May 5, took up the balance of the book, which tells in story and song the convictions of the author at various stages along life's highway. Of particular interest was the story of his repentance and conversion, followed by a period of leadership among the young people of his age, that resulted in his being called to the ministry and sent to Wahoo mission in Nebraska. Mr. Neitzel served for a good number of years as pastor of various churches in Nebraska.

It was very pleasing to him that Rev. Troy should use his booklet as the basis of two sermons, delivered on successive Sundays.

Booklet Receives Praise.

By a note from the Masonic Home from Plattsmouth, from the friends of the "Pilgrims," we see that the little booklet received a fine welcome. We are glad, and feel amply repaid for the effort, if it brought back happy memories of former blessed days and gave encouragement to those that are on the way "home." Everyone should secure a deed for a mansion in the Blood of the Lamb. Heaven is a prepared place for a prepared people.
