

VISIT AT COOK

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bajek, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walling and children, Shirley and Mary Lou, were at Cook, Nebraska, Sunday where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Record. The members of the party enjoyed a fine Mother's day dinner arranged by Mrs. Record for Mrs. Bajek and the occasion was one that all will very pleasantly remember.

HERE FROM HAVELOCK

Saturday Mrs. Fanny Heinrich and son, George, Mrs. Paul Reasoner and Frank Janda, sr., of Havelock were in the city to visit with relatives and also to look after some business matters. Mr. Janda is now making his home at Havelock with his children and came down to look after his real estate and other matters for the day while the others of the party spent the time with relatives.

Premium Price for Old Roosters in Plattsmouth

Hike of Almost 30 Per Cent Above the Normal Market—Payable in Merchants' Trade Scrip

Unlike the five little piggies of nursery rhyme fame, only one of which, we are told, went to market, it should be a case this week-end of "This old rooster went to market— and NO old rooster stays at home." There are more reasons than one for this bit of logic on the part of ye editorial scribe.

First, all roosters should be culled from the flock for better egg production;

Second, every day longer they are kept, there is added expense for feed—a dead loss, and—

Third, the high premium price of 10 1/2 cents, per pound, which is just two and one half cents above the present market price of 8 cents.

This premium price will be paid by the four Plattsmouth poultry buyers, A. R. Case & Co., Home Dairy, Platts, Produce and Swift & Co., in Scrip redeemable at 33 Plattsmouth retail stores.

Then to further increase the buying power of Scrip and Cash, the various stores participating in Rooster-Booster days are offering exceptional merchandise values, as listed in their ads found elsewhere in this issue of the Journal.

To add to the fun and interest, it is planned that each business house participating will display a rooster in a cage on the sidewalk and give merchandise prizes to the two guessing nearest the number of kernels of corn the old bird will eat at feeding time Saturday night. Patrons are urged to register their guess at each of the stores displaying roosters.

From the poultryraiser's standpoint there are also prizes of $2 for the largest load and $2 for the load coming the greatest distance within the Plattsmouth trade area, payable in Scrip. Register for these prizes at the produce house to which roosters are delivered—it makes no difference which one, as all are paying the same premium price of 10 1/2 cents a pound.

With all of these incentives, it scarcely seems possible that any old rooster should "stay at home."

OBERST ACQUITTED BY JURY

Omaha.—A federal court jury Sunday acquitted Byron C. Oberst, former attorney for the Omaha Federal Land bank, of charges of embezzlement, and misapplication of funds. The jury received the case late Friday.

The indictment against Oberst originally charged him with embezzlement of fees which Iowa attorneys split with Oberst in Iowa farm foreclosure actions, but Federal Judge James A. Donohoe dismissed these counts, ruling the fees were not the property of the bank.

The judge ruled, however, that Oberst was liable for court costs included in the fee splitting checks and under counts charging him with violating statutes prohibiting salaried federal employees from accepting fees.

Oberst went to the jury box when the jury foreman finished reading the not guilty verdict to fifty-nine counts in the indictment, and shook hands with all of the jurors.

"Men, it's the best memorial you could give to my mother," he said. Oberst has a suit pending in district court in which he asks $32,000 he alleges the bank owes him.

REPEATS RULE FOR NEGROES

Washington.—The supreme court pounded home anew its fiat that Negroes may not be excluded from juries, but failed to rule on two controverted laws—NRA and the farm mortgage moratorium.

The high tribunal set aside a death sentence imposed on Jess Hollins, Oklahoma Negro convicted of criminal assault on a white woman.

Chief Justice Hughes delivered the blunt, unanimous decision in the Hollins appeal from Okmulgee county, Okl. It sent the case back for further proceedings. This will mean a new trial.

Sapulpa, Okl.—Jess Hollins, Creek county Negro, whose death sentence for attacking a white girl near Slick was set aside by the U. S. supreme court, will be brought here for a new trial probably in June or July. Assistant County Attorney Harris announced.

CHOIR ENDS LONG TOUR

Fremont, Neb.—After covering 3,510 miles and singing twenty-seven concerts before 17,500 persons since April 17, Midland college's sixty-eight voice a capella choir arrived back in Fremont Monday. This year's trip took the group east thru twelve states and the District of Columbia. The choir's homecoming concert is scheduled for Tuesday night.

GIRL OF 12 FORFEITS LIFE

Emmitsburg, Md.—A 12 year old girl gave her life in a vain attempt to rescue her 6 year old sister from drowning in an abandoned rock quarry near their home here. Their father recovered the bodies. Theresa McLaughlin, 6, stepped into deep water while wading in the quarry and went to her aid and both girls drowned.

RETURNS FROM VISIT

Miss Emily Lorenz has returned home from Lincoln where she was a guest of Miss Mary Anne Rosenkrantz at the Pi Beta Phi sorority house for the past week. While at Lincoln she was a guest with Miss Rosenkrantz at the "Triad" party, one of the social events of the closing weeks of the school year, which is always looked forward to with the greatest of pleasure. NO SETTLEMENT IN SIGHT Seattle.—With no settlement in sight, the Pacific Northwest lumber strike, which began over a week ago, continued to take in additional territory with further walkouts. Estimates of the number out varied from 28,500 to 31,000. Strikers are demanding shorter hours and increased wages.
