Alvo News

John Skinner has purchased a new Gruno electric refrigerator.

John Skinner was in Omaha with a load of hogs last Tuesday, bringing back a truck load of Farmalls for the Alvo Hardware and Implement company.

Grandfather Wm. Coatman of Weeping Water was visiting in Alvo on last Tuesday, being a guest at the home of his son, R. M. Coatman and family.

R. M. Coatman was over to Pleasantdale on last Wednesday, taking a load of farm machinery with him for a customer of the Alvo Hardware and Implement company.

R. M. Coatman was on the South Omaha market last Tuesday with a truck load of cattle. On his return, he brought back a Farmall and some other farm machinery.

Miss Josephine Stuart was celebrating her sixteenth birthday last Tuesday and was enjoying the passing of the event as well as receiving numerous congratulations and presents.

Harold Foreman and L. B. Appleman each suffered the loss of a valuable work horse as a result of the excessive heat last Tuesday, when it was difficult for either man or beast to labor to advantage.

Miss Minnie Stuart, who has been visiting with relatives in Iowa during the past two months, returned home last week, following the removal of the quarantine placard from the home of her parents. She enjoyed her visit there very much.

Miss Lucile Buisson was in Blair last week for a visit with her grandmother, who is a resident at the Crowell Methodist home for aged people there and likes the place very well. She and Miss Lucile enjoyed a very pleasant visit together.

G. M. Bogges and wife, of Lincoln came to Alvo and in company with Roy Stewart and family went to Louisville, where they spent the day Sunday at the state recreation park enjoying a fine outing and a picnic supper to which all did justice.

Elmer Rosenow was in Lincoln last Tuesday for a truck load of goods to replenish the stock at his store here as heavy selling the past few weeks had depleted some lines. He says business is picking up and sales are heavier than for many months past.

Spending Summer in Lincoln

L. M. Hauptman, superintendent of the Alvo schools, and Mrs. Hauptman, who are making their home in Lincoln during the summer vacation season, while Supt. Hauptman attends summer school at the University of Nebraska, spent the day last Monday in Alvo, as the guests of friends.

Started Two Combines

Harvesting season is now on in earnest, as last Wednesday two combines were started in this vicinity, one engaged in cutting rye, the other in cutting wheat. The cutting of the rye had to be abandoned as the grain was too soft and green, but the wheat did much better, although not producing as good results as desired. The height of the grain this year is such that too much straw has to be taken into the machine for it to work the best, and to correct this the width of the swath was reduced. The combine is ideal for western fields, where the grain never attains a very great height and the proportion of grain to the amount of straw is much smaller. There are a large number who prefer the good old fashioned method of cutting their grain with a binder and later threshing it either from the shock or stack.

Missionary Society Met Wednesday

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church, of Alvo, met at the church on Wednesday of last week. An excellent program had been arranged, followed by a social hour that was concluded with the serving of some delicious eats, making the gathering a very enjoyable one.

Mrs. Dickerson Improving

Mrs. F. E. Dickerson, who has been at the hospital in Lincoln for some time, having been very seriously ill, is now reported as considerably improved. In fact she was so much better that the children, who have been staying with their grandparents, Charles Godbey and wife, were taken over to visit with the mother for a short time. Mr. and Mrs. Godbey went along and enjoyed a visit with their daughter who now seems on the road to recovery, although for a time but slight hopes were entertained.

Miss Gladys Coatman Better
Miss Gladys Coatman, sister of R. M. Coatman, who has been in the hospital at Grand Island, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis, has so far recovered that she was able to leave the hospital and go to the home of her sister, Mrs. M. L. Gollither, who resides in Grand Island.

Miss Gladys is getting along nicely and it is expected that before long she will be able to return to her home in Weeping Water.

Enjoyed Fourth at South Bend

C. T. Edwards and wife, Otto Stuve and family and R. M. Coatman and family made up a picnic party that went to South Bend the evening of the Fourth, where they enjoyed a most pleasant time. Uncle Charles Edwards went in swimming and for fear that he might drown, Roy Coatman went in to see that no harm came to him. They took along plenty of lemonade and pop and a fine picnic supper that was relished and enjoyed by every member of the party. And, best of all, when they got ready to come home, they did not find themselves hemmed in by hundreds of cars and obliged to proceed at snail's pace for a long distance before they could really get started, as did many who went to the more attractively advertised places to celebrate.

Reaches Half Hundred Mark

Fifty years ago—on July 1, 1885—R. M. Coatman was ushered into the world and on that date this year he reached the half hundred mark. As he has lived an exemplary life the occasion called for the cutting of a cake and other good things to eat, but no candles. It so happened that a cousin of Mr. Coatman, Frank Clarke and wife, of Los Angeles, Cal., were on their way home from a trip to Iowa City, Ia., and stopped in Alvo at just the opportune time to eat dinner with Roy and family and to extend their best wishes for a long and useful life. Mr. Coatman has a host of friends who will also extend congratulations and the Journal is pleased to be numbered among them.

ATTEND SUMMER SCHOOL

Supt. Leo Hauptman, Alvo; Supt. Luther Patterson, Bradshaw; Principal Chas. Parriott, Arapahoe; Principal Eugene Rarick, Weeping Water; Principal A. R. Lichtenberger, Beaver City; Supt. Norman Thorps, Weston; Supt. Wilber Schindler, Diller; Coach Fred Rothert, Plattsmouth; Ora Ferguson, Woodbine, Ia.; Supt. Leonard Pate, Ong; and Coach Joe Krejel who will have charge of athletics in an Iowa junior college next year are among Peru graduates doing graduate study at the University of Nebraska this summer.

McClanahan Sets Record in Game Friday

Hurler of Chevies in Softball League Pitches No-Hit, No-Run Game Against Home Dairy.

From Saturday's Daily
The kittenball fans last evening that were draped on the bleachers at Athletic park had the privilege of seeing Bob McClanahan, pitcher of the Chevrolet team set a mark that has been unequalled in the local league history.

McClanahan hurled a no-hit, no-run game and with a supporting team that also helped to make a perfect game without an error and never a member of the Home Dairy team reached the first base, leaving the score Chevrolet 11, Home Dairy 0.

Incidentally the Home Dairy played a neat game to the seventh inning, holding the Chevies to four runs, but in the seventh the strato ascended and seven scored for the auto dealers. Triples by Ryan, Chet Smith and a home run by "Hub" Dew served to add to the slaughter.

HOUSE RECORDS TVA VICTORIES

Washington, July 10.—Four times in a row the house Wednesday voted smashing victories for the administration on the Tennessee Valley bill. Every vital change backed by the White House was written into the measure in a sharp reversal of the revolt which knocked holding company abolition out of the utilities bill. But a final vote was held over until Thursday, as members wearied after a long siege on the floor. There was little doubt the measure would be returned to the senate in a form acceptable to President Roosevelt.

Pending as the house adjourned was one last attempt by republicans to obtain a reversal. Representative Andrews (R.), N. Y., made a motion to send the bill back to the military committee under instructions to put back in some form the restricted provisions opposed by the White House.

POTATO CONTROL BILL

Washington.—By a 12 to 10 margin, the house agriculture committee reported favorably the Warren potato control bill, but failed to ask the rules committee for immediate consideration. The proposal would classify potatoes as a basic commodity and control production thru a system of sales allotments to commercial growers.

CLAIM SEALED CORN SOLD

Norfolk, Neb.—Leonard Clemens, Tilden, pleaded not guilty to a charge of violating the Nebraska warehousing act when arraigned before County Judge J. Q. Ingram, Ne-ligh, and was bound over to the Antelope county district court for trial. This is the first prosecution in the state under the warehousing law, it is said.

Clemens is alleged to have broken the seal on sealed corn and sold the grain. Payment of loans on 1934 and 1935 sealed corn was due July 1, and if not paid immediately the Commodity Credit corporation will take over the collateral as provided in the note agreement. It was announced by Vern B. Jones and J. A. Hertell, corporation representatives.

"The hearing in Tilden is a milestone in the program to build up a good warehousing law," declared Hertell.

Tram Company Springs to Its Own Defense

Denies Breaking Faith With Governor Cochran. Says Men Will Not Come Back to Work.

Omaha.—Dental that it had broken faith with Governor Cochran in the street car strike arbitration was contained in a statement issued by the Omaha and Council Bluffs street railway company.

"The governor," read the statement, "forced the company to cease operation until arbitration was agreed to. In the face of the greatest pressure, the company agreed to arbitrate as to whether it would re-employ men who had voluntarily quit their jobs, but absolutely refused to arbitrate seniority because it had promised its men who did not strike that they would succeed to the seniority given up by the men who had voluntarily went on strike, April 20.

"The arbitration board ruled the strikers should be returned to work, but they refused to. The company did everything possible to return the strikers to work. The strikers refused to return to work because they did not like the results over seniority.

"The company has complied with the June 20 award. The union, thru Ernest Bowerman (labor representative) has now repudiated the award and has refused to be bound by it altho it was signed by Mr. Bowerman himself as well as the other two arbitrators. Yet the governor says the company 'broke faith.'

Governor Cochran said his original statement charging the Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway company had broken faith with him in arbitration to settle Omaha's tram strike, "still stands." "The first statement is still good," he repeated, "and more emphatically so. They selected a representative for the arbitration board and then refused to back him up. It all amounts to the same thing."

Must Revise Wheat Yield in the State

Director W. B. Banning of Agriculture Department, Receives Unfavorable Reports.

Director Banning of the state department of agriculture, upon receipts of a telephone report of wheat yield from Arlington said the yield in the eastern part of the state might have to be greatly revised by statisticians. Whether the western part of the state would show such a great shrinkage he said was uncertain. Banning's report from Arlington was that wheat which was expected to yield thirty bushels to the acre yielded only five bushels, although that oats are poor, the heads dropping off.

A. E. Anderson who had issued a statement estimating the wheat crop in the state at 40 million, a shrinkage from a prospective 59 million bushels, said more damage was done by hot weather than by black rust in wheat, as the grain was green from weeks of rain and cool weather when hot weather set in and ripened it too quickly. Premature ripening, he said, would make the wheat shrivel and it would require more bushels to make a barrel of flour. This would give millers in states where a better quality is used an advantage over Nebraska millers. If it takes five bushels instead of four to make a barrel of flour the miller would have to pay $1.50 processing tax instead of $1.20. Anderson has a sample of wheat from Alliance but he said he had not been able to estimate its yield.

George Stites Named Head of Grain Dealers

Well Known Union Man Selected to Head the Southeastern Nebraska Grain Dealers Association.

George Stites, mayor of Union, who has for a number of years been engaged in the operation of the elevator at Union, was selected as the president of the Southeastern Nebraska Grain Dealers association. The meeting was held at the Memorial building at Nebraska City.

Other officers elected were Guy Jones, Eagle, vice president; Carl Peterson, Lorton, secretary-treasurer; Robert Wilson, Nebraska City, and Thomas C. Buckridge of Brock were elected directors for a term of three years.

The meeting was called to order shortly after 9 o'clock with representatives from Cass, Otoe, Nemaha, Richardson, Johnson and Lancaster counties in attendance. Beside the Nebraska members, there were grain men from Kansas City and St. Joseph, Mo., and Lincoln as guests.

Guy Mickle, chief inspector for the local grain exchange, was called upon and explained the method used in the grading and testing of grain, using scales to demonstrate his talk. He also explained the new regulations regarding moisture content and methods of standardizing these tests.

Hugh Butler of the Butler-Welsh Grain company was present and told of a recent trip he made to the far south. He predicted there would be a wild scramble for good milling wheat this year and believed prices would be such that it would be profitable for the grain dealer. He spoke of his trip south saying cotton growers who had been paid for not planting a cotton crop this year were raising corn which would reflect on the market in this section. He also told of a recent trip to Canada at a time when for the prospects for a bumper crop were excellent but said he had learned that black rust had reduced the estimated yield of wheat in that section.

HAPSBURGS GIVEN A HOME

Vienna.—Austria again became the home of the Hapsburgs as the federal diet unanimously passed the cabinet's law revoking the royal family's banishment and restoring its vast confiscated properties. Only the signature of President Wilhelm Miklas—who, ironically enough, served in the Renner cabinet of 1919 which pushed thru the banishment and confiscation laws depriving the family of its home and heritage—was needed to bring the legislation into effect. Several members of the diet who joined in Wednesday's unanimous favorable vote also voted in 1919 to exile the deposed rulers and expropriate their properties.

Austria's legislative gesture of "repentance" was staged quietly. Parliament was half empty. There was no crowd of spectators either in the galleries or outside the building.

The large formerly reserved for members of the imperial family sat Duke Max Von Hohenberg, son of Archduke Franz Ferdinand whose assassination at Sarajevo in 1914 touched off the world war, and Baron Friedrich Von Wiesener, Vienna representative of Archduke Otto, Hapsburg pretender to the throne.

PLANT 200 MILLION TREES

Washington.—Approximately 200 million trees were planted this spring in the western shelterbelt covering 6,500 acres, the forest service revealed Wednesday. Plantings were made in fifty counties spotted along the belt's 1,000 miles. Between 70 percent and 90 percent of the trees have survived.

As to ultimate success of the venture, the forest service points to several thousand acres of national forest in Nebraska which was planted over thirty years ago, and is now stocked with game. Last season's planting exceeds area planted in the plains region during the entire preceding decade. Trees which were found adaptable thruout the area include cottonwood, green ash, red cedar, hackberry, ponderosa pine and Chinese elm. Black locust trees with rapid spreading roots were preferred for areas of soil erosion.

BLIND MAN ASKS AID

Nebraska City.—John Buess appeared likely to become the first blind Nebraskan to be awarded a special pension under new statutes of the fiftieth Nebraska legislature. Buess made application for the $30 a month provided by the new law. His application showed he has no source of income other than provided by charitable organizations.

House G. O. P. to Back Bonus, Fish Declares

90 Per Cent of Members Will Sign Petitions Seeking New Vote, Says New Yorker.

Washington, July 10.—Ninety per cent of the house Republicans will sign his petition to bring up the soldiers bonus for another vote this session, Representative Fish (R.), New York, declared Wednesday.

The New Yorker predicted eventual victory in his fight to pay the adjusted compensation certificates from "4,000 million dollar" public works fund. His petition would discharge the house appropriations committee from further consideration of the measure and force it to the floor.

Majority Required.
The petition requires signatures of a majority, and Fish said he had assurances at least 90 Republicans and sufficient Democrats would comply. So far, 20 have affixed their names. He said:

"Four of the seven Republican members of the ways and means committee, which handles bonus legislation already have signed, and I have assurances at least two of the other three will sign.

"I see no reason why the pound of flesh is demanded alone of the veterans, or that the adjusted service laws must not be changed or modified.

Believes It Fair.

"As the oldest world war veteran in point of service on the Republican side, I believe payment through my plan is feasible now, that it is fair and the best step to take.

"The certificates have to be paid in 10 years and as a relief measure, in view of the fact that billions have been doled out in all directions and to various groups there is no valid reason to discriminate against the World War veterans."

OMAHAN TO BERLIN

Omaha.—Theodore Val Peter, second son of Val J. Peter, publisher of the Omaha Daily Tribune and United States marshal here, will leave Thursday night for New York, where he will sail July 17 on the "Europa" for Berlin and six months of study at the University of Berlin under a grant from the Carl Schurz memorial foundation. Peter is a graduate of the Creighton university law school and practiced several years in Chicago.
