Wabash News

Uncle P. H. Hinds was visiting and looking after some business matters in Lincoln last Monday.

Charles Schaeffer, of Murdock, was a visitor in Wabash last Wednesday morning, coming to deliver gasoline and kerosene to his customers in this vicinity.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Wabash church were meeting with Mrs. Keith Mumford on last Wednesday and besides enjoying a very fine time, they were looking after the work of aiding the church in every way possible.

John Woods, the trucker, and Louis Reese departed early last week for Sioux City, near which place, at Dixon, Nebraska, he will do some road work. There is a stretch of nine miles of road being graveled there and Mr. Woods will furnish two trucks for the hauling of the gravel.

Stone Quarries a Busy Place

The Ole Odlsen stone quarry located on the land of Warren T. Richards, is a very busy place at this time, as two distinct veins of stone are being worked, one being stone for river construction work and the other sugar stone for the beet sugar refineries in the western part of the state.

Mr. Odlsen has named his enterprises in the stone producing line the Cass County Construction Company.

Ran Out of That Article

The Stanley store put the matter rather aptly and right to the point, when they posted a placard reading: "Do not Ask for Credit—We are Out and cannot Get any More."

Home from the South

John Cardwell and family, who have been giving the old home in Missouri a visit over the Fourth, returned late last week and report having had a good time, and that during the early part of the season there was plenty of rain, but of late there has been a deficiency in that part of the country.

FARM MOTHERS TO CAMP

Neligh, Neb.—Leaving household chores behind them, scores of north-eastern Nebraska women gathered here for their annual "mother's vacation camp." Miss Mary-Ellen Brown of the agricultural college is in charge of the four-day camp. A recreational and educational gathering. Other camps will be held at Chadron July 15-21, at Camp Brewster, South Omaha, July 25-28, and at Curtis, Aug. 1-4. Genevieve Woodman and Mary Rannals of the agricultural college, Mrs. C. O. Bruce and Miss Alice Ames, both of Lincoln, and Mrs. L. J. Sterk of Jackson will take an active part in the program here. N. M. Gaines of the agricultural college will address the group at the closing session Sunday.

COMBINING IS STARTED

Falls City, Neb.—Wheat combining was begun in Richardson county Wednesday with yields ranging from 15 to 30 bushels per acre. The largest yield was reported from the Ed Bauer farm.

Aulton Roland Back Home After a False Alarm

Local Young Man Who Was Sought Over East Nebraska, Spent Day Repairing Car in Omaha.

While alarms were being sent to police and broadcasts were made for trace of Aulton Roland, 20, of this city Wednesday, the young man was busy at work at an Omaha garage trying to get his car in running shape.

Aulton had left the home of a friend Wednesday morning at 12:30 and just a block north of the South high school the coupe that he was driving gave the last despairing heave and was dead. By the light from nearby street lights he started in to try and discover the cause of the stoppage. He worked at the car until morning broke when some parties towed the car into a garage and here he was allowed to carry on his work on the car and was occupied all day and up until last evening. He was able to secure a new axle for the car and which was finally placed in the car and he was able to get the machine back in action and to return home.

He had been unable to call up home and the fact that he was busy in the garage all day prevented the police from discovering the car or the owner and reporting his whereabouts.

Aulton arrived home last evening shortly after 7 o'clock, tired from his labors from midnight on with the car and also without having found relatives were picturing many mishaps that might have befallen him.

Anniversary of Destructive Hail Storm

Cass, Otoe and Lancaster Counties Suffered From Visitation of Storm July 13, 1883.

From Friday's Daily While in conversation with County Commissioner J. A. Pitz at the court house this morning, he offered the information that on July 13, 1883, one of the most destructive hail storms visited the eastern section of Nebraska.

Mr. Pitz, at that time a mere youth, was living with his parents on the farm just south of this city where they had moved in 1881 and on the date of the storm they were building an addition to the house which was engaging several carpenters and Julius himself was assisting.

Shortly before noon the piles of purple clouds swept up from the northwest and by noon the hail commenced. The hail stones were large and covered the ground to a depth of several inches, beating all crops by its force and where fertile fields of wheat and oats were pounded out of existence and the corn shredded by the hail so that very little was realized from the crop. The fruit also suffered from the force of the storm.

The hail spread over the southeastern part of the state and brought a loss that covered many thousands of dollars and resulted in many privations to the farmers of this section.

SAYS MAXIE MADE ERROR

Omaha.—"Foolish marriages" and "crazy business" were the comments of Mrs. Olive Hayes on the turbulent marital troubles of her nephew, Maxie Baer, former heavyweight boxing champion. She believes Maxie made a mistake in marrying Mary Ellen Sullivan, former Washington coffee shop hostess.

"They were crazy to do it," she said. "This girl's a Catholic. They never had a chance to make a go of it."

Mrs. Hayes, who listens avidly to all of Maxie's ring bouts by radio, said she was not certain Max had been baptized. He was born in Omaha and has been checking here regarding his baptism.

FRANK HAMMOND HONORED

Fremont, Neb.—Frank Hammond, president of the Hammond Printing Company and publisher of the Fremont Evening Tribune, was honored on his seventy-seventh birthday anniversary with a dinner at the Pathfinder hotel. Hosts were his three sons, Ray, Earl and Everett Hammond. The elder Hammond was born near LeGrand, Ia., and entered the newspaper business when a young man. He came to Fremont May 14, 1879, more than fifty-six years ago, and took charge of the Tribune.

APPRAISE RAILROAD LAND

Beaver City, Neb.—County Judge J. M. Mohney summoned six Furnas county business men to appear before him July 15 to act as appraisers for the land to be purchased by the Burlington for its new road bed thru the county. The men called are E. M. Zike and W. R. Arnold of Edison, C. G. Gupton and Earl Watson of Oxford, and W. E. Brat and Lafe Alloway of Beaver City.

Philathea Class Holds Election of Officers

Business Session and Social Meeting Held at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wescott.

The members of the Philathea class of the Methodist Sunday school met Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wescott at Seventh and Main streets, where the beautiful and artistically arranged lawn afforded a delightful spot for the gathering.

The spacious lawn was occupied as the scene for the games that had been arranged to help in the passing of the time and where much pleasure was derived by the members of the jolly party.

The business session was largely taken up with the election of officers and the following were named:

President—Mrs. Howard Wiles. Vice-President—Mrs. Florence Coleman. Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. J. F. Wurga. Recording Secretary—Treasurer—Miss Helen Warner.

The class re-elected as teacher, C. C. Wescott, who for many years has served as the leader of the class and whose fine teachings of the Bible has added much to the interest of the class work.

The ladies enjoyed very much at the close of the evening the dainty refreshments that had been arranged for them and which closed a most pleasant and profitable meeting of the class.

Summer Session Has 2,067 Registrations

Teachers College of University Leading the List with 713—Only One in Law College.

Teachers college heads the list of enrollment in the University of Nebraska summer session with 713 of the total 2,067 registrations, according to information received from Prof. R. D. Moritz, director of the summer session. Law college, with one registration, claims low place.

Graduate college runs teachers a close second with 620, and arts and sciences is next with 345. Of the total forty are late registrations which have not yet been placed in any category. The Omaha school of nursing with eighty-five registrants, is included in the total.

Of the 713 students in teachers college, 516 hold teaching positions and twenty-two are employed in other jobs. One hundred five are unemployed and forty-nine are still in school. The ratio is similar in the graduate college, as 459 are teachers, twenty-three hold other jobs, eighty-six are unemployed and eleven are still in school.

In the remaining colleges, however, the proportions are different. Most of the students enrolled in these colleges are still in school, whereas the majority of those mentioned above are employed. In arts and sciences college, for example, sixty-two are teachers, forty-five hold other jobs, forty are unemployed, and 168 are in school.

One thousand four hundred fifty-one students are enrolled for eight weeks, 672 for six weeks, forty-eight for four weeks and forty-eight have not specified.

Highway Program of the State is Still Waiting

Program Held Up Pending Approval of Proposed Rules and Regulations by Federal Officials.

State Engineer A. C. Tilley Friday at Lincoln said the launching of Nebraska's 1935 highway program with federal funds still is delayed pending approval of proposed rules and regulations governing use of the funds.

Tilley, returned Friday from a conference at Chicago with R. E. Toms, chief of the federal bureau of design, said approval of the rules by federal authorities was confidently expected during the Chicago meeting, but it failed to arrive.

"The theory underlying the rules," Tilley said, "is simple—creation of the maximum number of jobs."

Total $7,300,000. Nebraska has $7,300,000 from the federal works allotment—$3,800,000 for highways and $3,500,000 for grade separations.

Tilley said the rules, as laid down to them pending approval, limit the spending of federal money to $1,400 per man per year—and that figure includes all costs, material, labor and supplies.

Ninety per cent of the laborers must come from the relief rolls. Tilley said the tentative rules specified, and in the case of the grade separation work engineers may figure 40 per cent of the total project cost as pay scale instead of the $1,400 figure.

Need Low Material Cost. Tilley said a third plan also was broached where in the state would agree to use a certain number of relief cases on a project. Under this plan, the state would agree to provide a certain number of man hours of work and could pay for the labor from other funds, making it possible to obtain more money for materials from the federal allotment.

"As soon as these rules are approved," Tilley said, "we will be ready to start laying out a program, and when that is approved we can call for bids. The rules, of course, make it imperative that we seek projects where the material cost will be low."

LEWISTON NOTES

Mr. John Nottelman of near Murray lost a fine horse Friday afternoon from the heat.

If you want a real hard laugh—Come and see the bashful Johnny Overalls propose to the beautiful Sallie Grindstone in "The Coon Creek Courtship," to be given at the Lewiston Community Center July 19. Public invited.

Laughs of a life-time in "Coon Creek Courtship" at Lewiston, July 19th.

Home Shradler bought a fine span of mules from A. D. Rhoden of near Murray.

Don't forget to come to Lewiston next Friday night, July 19 and see "Johnny do his stuff" and learn how its done so you can propose to your girl when you next see her.

Mrs. Georgia Creamer has not been in the best of health for the past two weeks, but is feeling somewhat better now.

Mrs. Chas. Seeman and her sister, Miss Opal Solomen and Miss Mary Gayer have returned home from their delightful and interesting trip south. While there they visited relatives in Kansas City.

Don't forget the time and place, Lewiston Community Center, July 19. Program and refreshments.

FLOWER CLUB MEETS

The Social Workers Flower club were entertained the past week at the home of Mrs. Georgia Creamer. With a large number of the members and several visitors in attendance.

The roll call was answered by a helpful hint in hot weather, several giving good advice for the heated period.

The plans were made for the annual picnic to be held at the Spangler picnic grounds with each member to invite a family and everyone to bring a basket dinner. The date of the picnic will be on August 14th.

Mrs. Frank Strough was received as a member of the club.

The club members enjoyed a very delightful program which comprised a piano solo by Mrs. A. D. Asch, a song, "My Baby Sister," by Wilma Mumm, Mrs. Mumm being the accompanist, a song, "Can't You Love Me" by Mrs. George Mumm and a reading on the "Black Widow" spider given by Miss Helen Johnson.

MANLEY NEWS

Leslie Wiles lost two calves last week, which were overcome by the heat.

Miss Margaret Bergmann returned home last Monday after a visit of a week with relatives in Louisville.

August Stander, of Elmwood, was visiting and looking after some business matters in Manley last Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fleischman were at Ashland last Sunday, where they spent the day visiting at the home of their two daughters.

A large crowd of people was on hand last Monday night to see the picture show which is an attraction here every Monday night.

Joseph Wolpert was a visitor in Weeping Water on last Monday evening, and was looking after some business matters while there.

Uncle Henry Osborne, who has been staying in Omaha, was a visitor in Manley last Monday and was working in the Missouri Pacific office while here.

Edward Stander received a severe injury in the way of a burn when a roman candle which he was firing exploded and burned his eye. It is considerably better now.

Theo. Harms and the family were enjoying a visit last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brehm at Cook, where all enjoyed the occasion and a splendid dinner which was served.

Miss Teresa Rauth has been assisting with the housekeeping and cooking at the home of Frank Bergmann during the harvest season, which is proving to be a very busy time on the farms this week.

Mrs. Lawrence Turner and baby, Shirley Anna of Lincoln were visiting for the past week at the home of her parents, Everett Wiles and grandparents, Isaac Wiles and wife. They will return home this week.

While harvesting last Saturday, Ray Wiles had a horse overcome by the heat, the animal dying later. The hot and humid weather of the past week or ten days has been hard on both men and horses who have had to work in the sun.

Miss Anna Rauth, of Omaha, was a visitor over the week end at the home of her parents, and was accompanied by a young lady fellow worker in the office where she is employed, Miss Hermine Keritshek. They returned to the metropolis Sunday evening to resume their work Monday morning.

John C. Rauth shipped his last fat hogs to the South Omaha market last Tuesday and finds himself without any to care for now. He expects to go to market and purchase a drove of young shoats for feeding purposes, as he says it just wouldn't seem natural to be on the farm without any hogs.

Two Sisters, Sister Agnes and Sister Bernadotte, who have been conducting a summer catechism school for the Catholic church in Elmwood, which was attended by a large number of the young people of that religious faith, visited in Manley and attended services at St. Patrick's church here last Sunday. Sister Agnes was Miss Mary Bourke, of York, prior to her entry into the cloistered order.

Mrs. J. R. Kelley, of Plattsmouth, who has been visiting in Manley at the home of her daughter, Mrs. O. E. McDonald, accompanied by the daughter, spent the greater part of last week at the home of a granddaughter, Mrs. Will Meyers, of near Ashland. Mr. McDonald was running the place of business while Robert was shocking wheat in the country.
