

Taxes High, Needs Operation

This 13-story skyscraper in the heart of Cleveland's downtown may be reduced to a building of three stories if present plans go through. The top 10 stories may be lopped off in order to save taxes. The structure is owned by a bank, but there are no banking rooms in the building. There are seven tenants in the basement, but none at all on the top nine floors.

TO JAM GUFFEY BILL THRU

Washington.—New deal chiefs set out to jam the contrived Guffey coal stabilization bill to final passage before congress adjourns. Some sizeable obstacles still stood in the way, but the tentative schedule was for the house to pass the "little NRA" measure next week and the senate the week after.

Administration backers on the house ways and means committee neared success in their week long effort to break the deadlock which had held the bill in that committee. Even opponents conceded that a committee vote planned for Monday would push the measure toward floor consideration.

The bill would set up a national bituminous coal commission to regulate wages, hours, trade practices and prices in the soft coal industry thru a tax on operators. A provision which would have allowed the government to buy up coal mines and withdraw them from production—soft coal crop control—was clipped out of the measure during ways and means committee consideration.

To make sure they were not working for nothing, committee democrats sent a special subcommittee over to talk with senate leaders about what would happen to the bill there. Subsequently, Chairman Doughton (d. N. C.) of the house committee reported the senate situation "satisfactory."

Cass county farmers produce a full share of the foodstuff of the nation. It is to your interest and mine that their business of producing be placed on a profitable basis, for then we will all share in that prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Marvin and daughter, Miss Helen, were business visitors in Lincoln last Friday afternoon.

Dan Muenchau of Burlington, Colo., who is visiting at Alvo was a business visitor here on Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Dimmitt and family of Alvo were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dimmitt Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Conley returned the latter part of last week from a trip through the Ozark region of Missouri and Arkansas.

Mrs. Minnie Mason and son Robert visited Mr. and Mrs. Ray Parsell and family and other relatives at Elmwood one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Dimmitt and family of Alvo were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Talcott over Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Schneider of Ashland was here a couple of days the latter part of the week visiting her sister, Mrs. Henry Wilkins and husband.

Miss Florence Beighley, who is attending summer school at the University of Nebraska visited home folks over Saturday and Sunday.

Daisy Hurlbut has been assisting with the cooking at the home of Art Reese during the rush of work incident to harvesting and threshing.

John McNurlin, of Los Angeles, who sustained a second stroke recently, is reported in poor health, although somewhat improved over last week.

Henry Brockmueller of near Waverly was a visitor in Greenwood and was meeting his many friends here while looking after some matters of business.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jeffery, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Laune and Alfred Hutchinson attended the funeral of the late Ed Sutherland in Lincoln Sunday afternoon.

Clayton Sanborn, of Council Bluffs, was a visitor in Greenwood last Sunday, and with the mother was over to Springfield, where they were visiting friends for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Peters and two daughters and Miss Ruth Zaig and Mrs. Arthur Crisp of Yutan called on Mrs. O. F. Peters and Norman Sunday afternoon.

A. J. Wickland was in Greenwood Sunday from his home at Pasadena, Calif. He was superintendent of the Greenwood schools in 1906 and 1907. He shook hands with many of his acquaintances here.

Rev. Peter Lang, a former pastor of the Greenwood Methodist church, has moved to Lincoln from Otoe, as he expects to be placed on the retired list at the annual Methodist conference this fall.

Frank Bingham, wife and son, Frank, all of Omaha, who were neighbors and close friends of Mrs. Fred W. Etherage when she resided in the metropolis, were guests at the Etherage home last Sunday.

Dola Buskirk was in town the other day and in speaking of the threshing, which is now completed, said his yield of wheat had been very satisfactory, running in the neighborhood of 25 bushels to the acre.

Alvin Backemeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Backemeyer, of Greenwood, has a job in Columbus, Nebr., where he is working for the General Motors company. His friends wish him success in the new position.

H. R. McNurlin, who sold his cafe and service station on the highway south of town, to open a place here in town, is well pleased with the volume of business that has come to him since getting opened up.

Mrs. Loppin and three children, of Portland, Oregon, drove in for a visit with her uncle, Al Leaver and family and other relatives and also to look after some business matters. Mrs. Loppin will be remembered as Miss Delores Jackman.

Mr. and Mrs. Gentry Vant and son were here last Tuesday and Wednesday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Vant and other relatives. They are moving from Hastings to Alliance, where he will work as dispatcher for the Burlington railroad.

Grover C. Rhoden, of Manley, was looking after the sale of products for his concern in Greenwood last Wednesday afternoon, being accompanied by his brother, Frank, who is interested in the oil well now being sunk in the vicinity of Murray.

Mrs. Lulu Hurlbut and daughter, Anna, and Mrs. P. A. Sanborn, were in Lincoln on Tuesday of last week, where they were looking after some shopping and Mrs. Sanborn was attending to some business matters at the wholesale implement houses.

Ralph Coleman had fourteen acres of wheat from which he received 455 bushels of grain that tested a full 60 pounds to the bushel. That was a yield of 34 and 9/14 bushels to the acre, which, if you ask us, is a right neat amount, especially this year.

Earl Stradley and Ludwig Gustafson left Friday morning for Hemingford, Nebr., and Ed Stradley and Orin Kolb left Monday for the same place, where they will operate the two threshing outfits of J. V. Stradley and Son. They expect to be gone about a month.

Miss Janice Marie Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Peters, arrived at an Omaha hospital last Tuesday, August 6th, to greet the parents and justly announce her intention of becoming a part and parcel of the Peters home. The father, who was present when the little newcomer arrived, and the mother who is doing very well, were very happy over the event.

Home from the West

George E. Bucknell and the family, who were in the west for a week, returned home last week, reporting a good time while they were away.

Mr. Bucknell says there are some drouth sections in the country out that way again this year, but on the whole crop conditions are promising. He also reports that his father, C. C. Bucknell, who resides at Burlington, Colorado, and who has been in poor health for some time, was feeling considerably improved when they left for home. This will be good news to the many Cass county friends of this excellent gentleman.

Mrs. Earl Jardine of Sioux City, Iowa, who had spent the past week here visiting at the home of her father, Wm. Renwand, Sr., returned to her home on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Vinson were Lincoln business visitors last Tuesday afternoon.

Dorcas Society Entertained

The Dorcas society was pleasantly entertained on Friday afternoon, August 2nd at the Christian church with Mrs. Lloyd Jeffery and Mrs. Nils Coleman as hostesses. There was an unusually large crowd present. After the regular business meeting, the time was spent piecing on their quilt and other work for their bazaar and sewing carpet rags. Then the guests were invited to the dining room, all being seated at long tables, with a delicious lunch spread before them.

This week's meeting will be held Friday afternoon, August 16, at the church.

Gave Concert on Street

The Greenwood band gave their first public concert of the year on the streets here Saturday night. A large crowd was present to listen to the music and engage in the usual Saturday night shopping activities.

Saw Nephew Pitch

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Peters and family attended the Junior League baseball game in Lincoln last Saturday, at which time the Lincoln Blues won the state championship over the Alamito team of Omaha. David James, a nephew of Mr. Peters, pitched for the Alamitos. The game was very close.

Will be Well Represented

Greenwood will be well represented at the annual state Legion convention to be held at Beatrice August 25 to 28, inclusive. In years past, Greenwood post has always been heard as well as seen, especially during the past few years since acquiring the captured German cannon.

The short distance to the convention city will enable an even greater number than are accustomed to attending these annual conventions to be present this year.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen, of Lincoln announce the engagement and approaching marriage of Mrs.

Screen Stars' Derby to Attract Attention at Cleveland Races

Transcontinental Event for Movie Actors Added to 1935 Air Program, Aug. 30 - Sept. 2; Prize Money Increased in Bendix, Thompson Trophy Races

Cleveland, August 9.—with $50,000 in prizes, the return of the "ladybirds" to a place on the program, a novel screen stars' derby and the innovation of a spectacular group of death-defying night riders, the 1935 National Air Races in Cleveland give promise of being most spectacular.

Clifford Henderson, managing director of the races, describes the air show as a spectacle, "combining the features of the Indianapolis speedway races, the Kentucky derby and the New Orleans Mardi Gras." The races will be held at Cleveland's municipal airport four days, August 20 to September 2, inclusive.

Movie Derby in Spotlight

While the Vincent Bendix transcontinental race and the Thompson trophy race have always been the center of attraction at the National Air Races, and they should gain more attention this year because of an increase in prize money, air-minded citizens and thrill seekers will undoubtedly be interested in the movie stars' derby, an event sponsored by Ruth Chatterton, and carrying with it a purse of $1,000.

Tentative entries include the following movie stars: Wallace Beery, Paul Lukas, Norman Kerry, Ken Maynard and Hoot Gibson. Amelia Earhart Putnam, who is giving the Earhart trophy to the winner of the women's race, probably will fly as pathfinder for the Hollywood derbyists. This race is over the same course as the Bendix, from Los Angeles to Cleveland, and will bring the flyers into Cleveland the opening day of the races.

The "powder puff" entrants on the racing program, returning after "being discriminated against," as they put it, by Henderson last year, are all set to lend that added color to the event. Among the women flyers who will appear here and in the women's derby are Mrs. Phoebe Omlie, Blanche Noyes, Laura Ingalls, Mae Hazlip, Jean La Rene, Betty Lund, Louise Thaden, Ruth Elder, Mrs. Peter J. Brooks, Florence Barnes and Margaret Cooper.

The greatest field of long-distance airplanes in the history of world aviation will be lined up on the morning of August 30 for the start of the Bendix race. The long-distance event will carry with it $12,500 in prizes, with Col. Roscoe Turner, 1933 winner, again among the entries. Among the daring pilots entered in this race are Ben O. Howard, Keith Rider, Vance Greese, Johnnie Worthen and Lee Wallace. Last year's winner, Doug Davis, was killed in a crack-up of his ship while leading the pack in the Thompson race.

Increase Thompson Distance
For the speediest event on the program, however, the Thompson trophy race is the peer. All the fastest ships in the country will be competing in this race, with "headline" pilots at the controls. The race has been increased to 150 miles from the 100-mile former distance, and the prize money boosted from $10,000 to $15,000.

To lend international tune to the program, several foreign aviators will come here for the races. Among them are Maurice Rossi and Raimond Delmotte of France. Rossi is co-holder of the world's long-distance flight record, and Delmotte is present holder of the world's speed mark for land planes.

VISITS IN CITY

Herman Nave of the Federal Game Bureau, Washington, D. C., of Crete, Nebr., and at one time a resident of this city, is here looking over the territory and visiting with his son, C. H. Nave, southwest of Plattsmouth. He says that the waterfowl season opens Oct. 20 to Nov. 19, 30 days, and every person over 16 years of age hunting ducks and geese will have to purchase a duck stamp at the post office at $1 and he or she can buy as many stamps as they want and only three shells in an automatic or repeating shotgun is allowed and no larger than a No. 10 gage and also no live decoys are allowed. All guns are supposed to be plugged so as not to get in more than three shells. No boats of any kind are allowed, except in gathering birds out of the water. Also the new laws of this state will not take effect until January, 1936, when everyone securing a permit gets a badge and it makes it difficult for non-residents to buy residents permits, which has been an illegal practice for many years.

SEARCH PRESSED FOR FOUR
Omaha.—Department of justice agents here pressed their search for four men sought in connection with the five-man robbery of the Scottsbluff National bank last January. William "Pat" King, who federal officers said was the fifth man in the robbery, is in the county jail awaiting arraignment in federal court on charges of kidnaping and robbery. Federal agents said the whereabouts of Du Bois, Morton and Murphy are unknown, and expressed belief the men had gone into hiding and were not venturing from their hideout.

BRIDGE COLLAPSE IS FATAL
La Crosse, Wis.—The collapse of an interstate bridge span hurled two motorists to their death in the Mississippi river here. Two others escaped drowning. The westernmost span of the bridge, which for forty-three years had carried traffic between Wisconsin and Minnesota, tumbled into the river when the car crashed into a steel upright.

The dead are Francis Landrieau, 35, New Orleans, a resident engineer at the Genoa dam project on the Mississippi, and his 26 year old wife, Fischer Bilan, 33, Marlon, Ind., an engineer on the Trempealeau dam, and Miss Marceline Patro, 25, Minneapolis, escaped from the submerged car and were rescued by LaCrosse police.

CAMP MULE RUNS AWAY
Camp Ashland.—Regardless of what people say, guardsmen believe you can depend on a mule—for excitement at least. The most exciting event of camp was the dash of a runaway mule down the company street Friday morning, an ammunition cart clattering at his heels. The mule ran leisurely and apparently would have liked to stop long before he was captured but the noise of the cart and the fact that it banged into his heels when he slowed down, kept the animal in action.

SENATE PASSES LOAN BILL
Washington. The senate passed and sent to the house the Norbeck-Bulow bill to extend the time for making payments under the federal crop loan act.

The measure would authorize the farm credit administration to extend the time "by a ten year amortization plan or otherwise" for borrowers "unable to make payments because they have suffered from crop failures or short crops during the year 1935."

Several additional contracts are to be let soon for river development work in this vicinity.
