Mrs. G. W. Holt departed early last week for Peoria, Ill., where she will visit her folks for some two weeks. It has been some time since she was there for a visit and as this is a time of year when she could get away most easily, she decided to go, and is enjoying her vacation and visit in the old home.

Mrs. Dora Leesley entertained at her home last Wednesday, having as her guests for the occasion the family of her son, W. H. Leesley. A most sumptuous dinner was served climaxed with ice cream and cake and cold drinks. She had expected to have them on Sunday, but that day was otherwise taken up and Wednesday was substituted.

Makes Trip to Minnesota
Norman Peters, who is manager of the Greenwood Co-Operative Credit association, was called to Okebena, Minn., where he had some business to transact for the financial institution here. During his absence, business at the office (bank) was looked after by Mrs. Warren Boucher.

Farmers Bailing Straw
The farmers of this vicinity are bailing straw for feed during the winter. There is an abundance of straw, following the threshing season and with continued dry weather withering the corn and other growing vegetation it looks like this is a wise move. Remember last winter, when even straw was hard to obtain. If the corn crop should fail to materialize there will be little to sell from the farms this winter, as there is a marked shortage of both hogs and cattle. However, all are looking hopefully to a good rain to revive the drooping corn and other vegetation.

Hitchhiked to Illinois
J. C. Willis, son of W. L. Willis, receiving an offer of employment at Mattoon, Illinois, helping with the harvest of beans and broomcorn now in its busy season, decided to accept the same and started out for there Monday, thumbing his way. As the route was over a heavily traveled highway, he was able to make good progress and arrived at his destination the following day.

Looking for a Location
W. L. Hillis and wife have gone to St. Louis to look for a location to engage in the service station and cafe business. While in business here they put out the best of service and made many friends and we are sure they will make good wherever they go.

Entered Kearney Hospital
Harry Leesley, who has been troubled for some time with hemorrhoids, has gone to Kearney, where he will undergo treatment and an operation in hope of obtaining benefit from the malady which has caused him a great deal of suffering and interfered with his work.

Visiting in Missouri
Vernon Hurlbut and Grandmother Mercer departed early last week for Eldon, Mo., where they will visit for some two weeks, and while there go down to the Bagnell dam, which has made one of the largest artificial lakes in the world, with a shore line of some 1,700 miles. The dam was constructed to generate electricity.

Arthur Anderson Poorly
Arthur Anderson was taken to a hospital in Omaha last Saturday for treatment and observation. He has not been in the best of health for some time past and his condition has caused his relatives and friends much concern. It is hoped that he will respond to the treatment received at the hospital and regain his health.

Papering Farm Home
Howard Althouse, who is batching on the farm of Henry Hays of Elmwood, located just north of the King school house south of Greenwood, is papering the house and otherwise fixing the place up. Of course a young man has a right to fix up the place where he lives and to buy new wash tubs and other household appliances as well as farming tools and we are in no way criticizing him for his taste in having things look nice around the place. Who knows but some day a young lady might come and call on him and be pleased that he has things looking so fine. Anyhow, it is easier to keep house when things are neat about the home. So, here's to you Howard, we know you will make a good housekeeper, even if you don't get one.

Visiting in the North
H. D. Allen of Wymore, brother of Mrs. W. A. White, arrived in Greenwood last Wednesday afternoon for a visit with his sister and family and the George Bucknell family. In company with his sister, Mrs. White, and George Bucknell and two sons, Loren and Warren, departed on Thursday morning for Wessington Springs, S. Dak., where they visited for a few days at the home of a sister of Mr. Allen and Mrs. White, Mrs. O. A. Walker and family. Concluding their brief visit there they returned home, arriving here last Sunday evening.

They found things looking much better in the north than they are in the vicinity of Wymore or even here in Greenwood, as there has been more rain in that part of the country.

Dance Wednesday Evening
The Ladies Social club will give a dance Wednesday, August 21.

Many Digging Their Potatoes
Most of the people in this vicinity who have grown potatoes this year are digging the crop, as the tubers are rotting in the ground notwithstanding the dry weather. In digging them, it is found that fully 40 per cent are so badly rotted they cannot be saved. The worst part of it is that the largest and finest ones are those most badly rotted, while the smaller sizes are in better condition.

From this, it is certain that although there has been a large acreage planted and a large crop matured, when they are culled out the net return will be even smaller than last year, while the early digging will make them unfit for winter keeping. It is difficult to understand what may be causing them to rot, as the ground is very dry, and this condition occurs usually when the ground is rain-soaked between time of maturity and the usual time of digging in the early fall.

The dry weather is also making inroads on the corn crop in this section. Many of the farmers report that even with an abundance of rain from now on, there will not be more than 10 bushels of corn to the acre, while if the drouth continues there will be much less. With the wheat crop failing to come up to expectations, general farm conditions are not promising. However, there should be an abundance of rough forage crops, including hay, alfalfa, straw and corn fodder, which was more than could be realized last year.

With uncertain weather conditions and various other problems, the farmer engages in a greater gamble than any other business man, from the time he plants his crops in the spring, until the harvest is completed, and even through the winter runs the risk of his livestock dying, the hired man running off with his wife or some one stealing his poultry.

Enjoyable Picnic at Louisville
The teachers of the Greenwood school held a picnic at the state park at Louisville last Sunday evening in honor of Lee Knolle and Miss Helen Marvin. The time was spent swimming and visiting after which a delicious picnic supper was served. The group presented the honored guests with an appropriate and useful gift.

Those present were Supt. and Mrs. H. E. Warren, Miss Freida Weitzel, Miss Lenora Larsen, of Lincoln, Miss Thelma Leesley, and Irvin Bosel of Ashland.

Needless to state, a most enjoyable evening was had by all.

Men's Brotherhood Meets
The Men's Brotherhood of the M. E. church met at the church basement for their regular meeting on Thursday evening, August 8th. There was a fair sized crowd present in spite of the heat, the busy season and the fact that some of the members were on vacation trips.

The regular business session was conducted by the president, followed by a period of sociability that was climaxed with the serving of delicious refreshments.

The next meeting will be held on September 5, this change in date being necessary because the regular meeting time would come during the annual Methodist conference. The July committee will have charge of the September meeting.

Shower for Coming Bride
Mrs. Dewey Headley entertained at her home on Friday evening, August 9, a group of twenty-eight guests in honor of Miss Helen Marvin, who is soon to become the bride of Lee M. Knolle.

The evening was spent playing pinochle and bridge. Mrs. Ben Howard won the royal prize at pinochle and Miss Florence Beighley won the royal prize at bridge. The honored guest was showered with many useful and beautiful gifts.

The evening's entertainment was climaxed with the serving of ice cream and cake at a late hour.

Gave Their First Concert
The community band of Greenwood after a period of faithful rehearsal under the direction of Miss Freida Weitzel, gave their first concert on the street last Saturday evening, August 10. This was a splendid demonstration of their musical ability and all are to be congratulated upon their splendid work, as is the director for her painstaking instruction. There was a large crowd out and all enjoyed the music.

Returned from Western Trip
Mr. and Mrs. Vern Shepler and son, Charley Bob, of Springfield, who have been spending some time visiting at Newcastle, Wyoming, as well as with Mrs. Shepler's brother, James Dyer and family at Collona, Colo., stopped in Greenwood Sunday evening for a short visit while on the last stage of their journey back home.

Graveling Road
The Fremont road from the corner west of Greenwood south to the pavement, a distance of three miles, has been surveyed and will soon be graded and gravelled by Lancaster county. The Village of Greenwood will move its transmission line back to the property line during the coming ten days, and there will be numerous times when the electric current will be cut off while this work is going on. There is one mile of the line that is to be transferred to the opposite side of the road in order to have a more permanent clearance.

Improvements at Church
The St. Joseph's Catholic church of Greenwood has been redecorated

The Last Pose

The above picture, flown to Seattle from Alaska, and airmailed direct to the Journal, shows Wiley Post pouring over maps with Joe Crosson, the noted Alaska pilot, and was the last closeup picture of the noted flyer taken before he and Will Rogers took off from Fairbanks on their fatal flight to Point Barrow, which ended in death when within 15 miles of their destination.

inside and out during the past few weeks and is now in spic and span shape. Work of refinishing the pews and floors was completed last week. The altar has also been remodeled and some other changes made in the interior arrangement of the building.

Father McFadden, who has been stationed at the National Guard camp near Ashland, has been in charge of the parish during the past couple of weeks, while Father Reardon has been vacationing in Colorado.

Guests from the Southland
O. A. Johnson was very pleasantly surprised last Monday on the arrival of his brother, Seth Johnson, together with his nephew, David Glen Johnson and the latter's two children, who came via auto from their home at Hardaway, Alabama, for a visit here and at other points in this locality.

On Thursday, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Johnson, they went to Elliott, Iowa, to surprise their oldest brother, H. L. Johnson, who on that day was enjoying his 80th birthday. All the nieces and nephews called on him during the afternoon and evening. David Johnson, wife and children returned to Omaha Friday morning for a visit with Mrs. Johnson's mother and two sisters who reside there. Seth Johnson remained in Elliott for a longer visit, while O. A. and wife came on home Friday morning.

Needless to say, these three brothers have enjoyed being reunited after a long period of time, but regret the absence of one other brother who was not able to join with them in this pleasant reunion.

Case county is one of the finest agricultural centers in the state. Improved farming conditions and better prices for farm products will react to the advantage of every town in this territory.

MRS. POST MOURNS TRAGEDY

Ponca City, Okl.—"I wish to God I had been with him when he crashed," Mrs. Wiley Post, the widow of the famed globe flier cried as she received word of her husband's death in Alaska. Prostrated by grief, Mrs. Post went to bed for several hours, then left by airplane for Oklahoma City on her way to Marysville, the Post family home. Mrs. Post arrived here Monday from California after leaving Post and Will Rogers in Seattle and planned to undergo an operation.

The grief shown by Mrs. Post when she received news of Post's death dispelled all talk of a break between her and her husband that started when she abandoned plans to accompany the flier and Rogers on their fatal flight. The Posts had no children.

Dallas, Tex.—Deaf and almost blind, Mrs. Cenie Post, 95 year old grandmother of Wiley Post, sat in meditation for almost thirty minutes after being informed of his death. Then, as she slowly talked of Wiley's past, she wept. "I'm sorry May (Mrs. May Plane Post the aviator's widow) didn't get to fall with him instead of Mr. Rogers," the grandmother said. "She'd always told us she wanted to die with him when he crashed."

PAT CROWE VISITS OMAHA
Omaha.—Piously commenting on the regeneration of youth, Pat Crowe, write haired, reformed kidnaper of Edward Cudahy, scion of the Cudahy packing family, is back in Omaha for the first time in thirty years. His two wallets bulging with newspaper clippings of his trial following the kidnaping in 1900, the former Iowa farm hand has been lecturing in eastern cities. He came to see Attorney A. S. Ritchie, who defended him in three trials, regarding some land he owns in Minnesota.

ROGERS HEAVILY INSURED

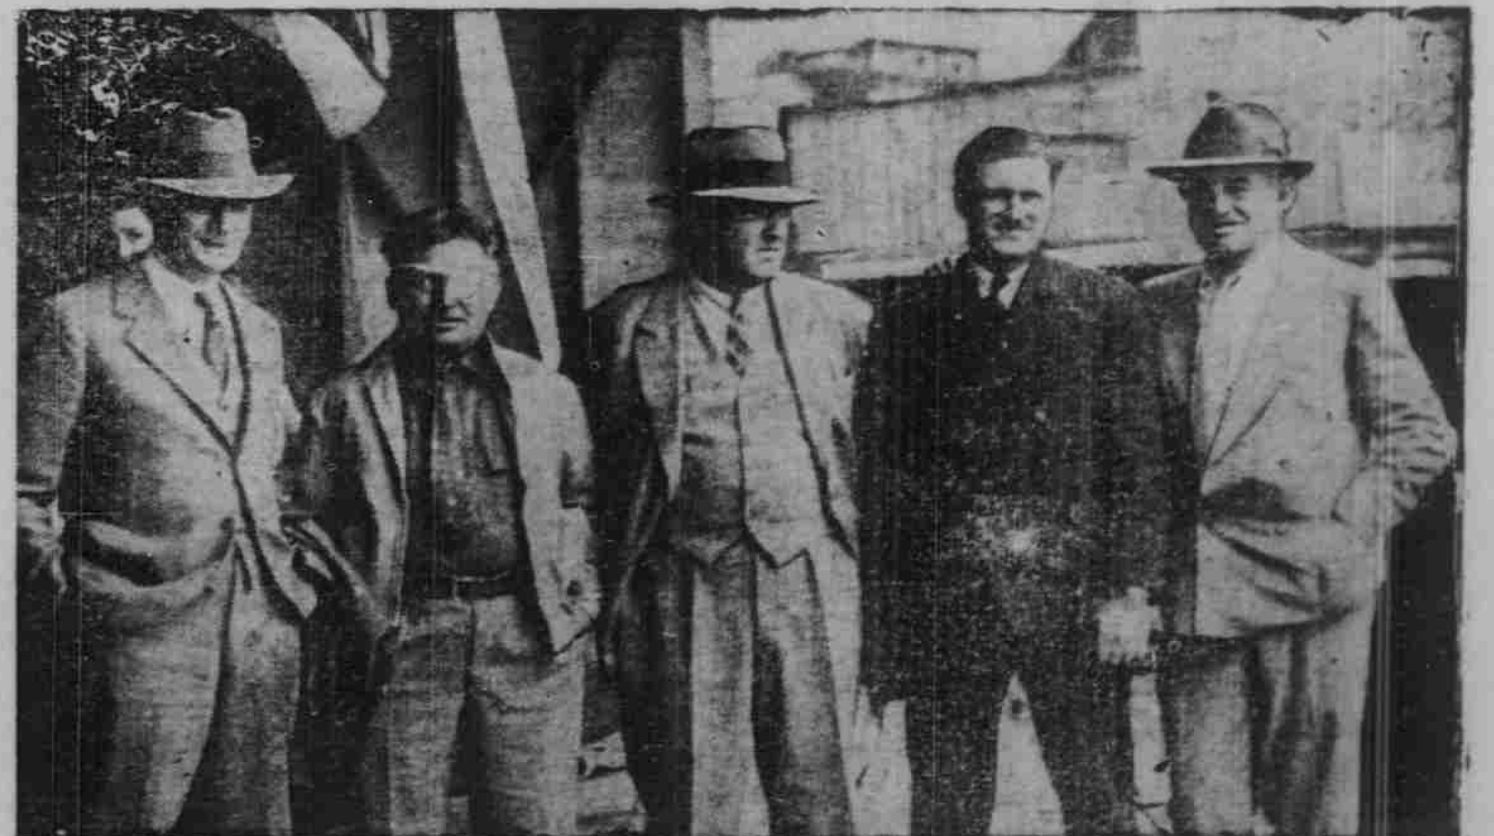

New York.—Life insurance of approximately $800,000 was carried by Will Rogers when he died, it was disclosed Friday night by John J. Kemp, a broker who had handled the humorist's insurance business for twenty years. A substantial portion of the total was in endowment policies, Kemp said, and in the past year approximately $200,000 worth of this form of contract had matured. At the peak Rogers was insured for nearly a million dollars.

Rogers' most recent policies were purchased eight or nine years ago, Kemp disclosed, and the estate was built up gradually over a score of years as the former cowboy's income grew. None of Rogers' policies was affected by the reason of his accidental death, Kemp said, nor did any of them provide for double indemnity.

TRAIN OUTLAWS ARE SOUGHT
Tientsin, China.—Japanese troops combed an area between Pieping and Mukden for outlaws who looted an express train, killed five and wounded more than twenty. The Chinese conductor, a train guard and three Koreans were shot to death in the hold-up.

The Rengo (Japanese News Agency) reported army leaders there considered the incident a serious violation of the recent north China military agreement. Posing as passengers, the bandits boarded the Mukden-Peiping express at Shanhaikuan. A few miles out they held up the passengers, shot down the conductor and others who resisted them and dropped off the train with loot estimated at $10,000 in silver. "Kill the Japanese and Koreans," the bandits were said to have shouted as they terrorized the passengers.

Gay Farewells - But No Returning

GOLDSTEIN POST BEACH CROSSON ROGERS
