Rain Offers Aid to Late Sweet Corn, Tomatoes

Hope for Additional Moisture That Will Provide Supply for the Local Packing Plant.

From Thursday's Daily
The rain of last night has brought a great deal of encouragement that this may mark a period of several late summer rains that can have a most beneficial effect on the crops of late sweet corn and tomatoes. These crops are now coming on and their abundance will have a great deal to do with the output of the Norfolk Packing Co., at their local plant where the sweet corn crop is now being handled. With an abundance of corn and the tomatoes coming through in quantities sufficient to keep the plant in full operating force it would add greatly to the employment at the packing house and prove a great aid to the employes as well as those who produce the crops on their farms.

SUGGESTIONS SOLICITED

The Program committee for the King Korn Carnival, which will be held this year, September 18 to 21, is desirous of making this the biggest and best ever. Since this show is for the benefit and pleasure of all the people, we would like to have suggestions regarding any feature of the program that anyone might have or like to make. We do not agree to adopt every suggestion made, but it is certain there will be numerous good suggestions come out of such an exchange of ideas which the committee has overlooked in their search for new features for this year's show. So come ahead with any idea you may have for the betterment of the program or the Carnival in general. Turn your suggestions in to the undersigned and they will be carefully considered, but do it at once, as we hope to have the program out by September 1st.

PROGRAM COMMITTEE,
C. C. Wescott, Chairman.

LOOK OVER WORK HERE

Wednesday afternoon R. S. Vogler, of the field department manager's office of the public works department and James Moran, district engineer, connected with the operation of river work in the city. They came to look over the work in the local territory where several projects are closing and others opening up.

New Laws Effective Soon in Nebraska

State Fund Bonding, Pensions for Blind and Firemen to Go in Force Monday.

Of the eighty-two new state laws which become effective next Monday, at least nine stand out as possessing more than ordinary importance to Nebraskans.

The legislature last winter and spring passed nearly 200 laws but most of them became effective immediately. Eighty-two, however, covering a wide range of subjects, will become effective Monday at the expiration of the legal ninety day period.

Probably the most important of the group is the Cane state bonding bill. That measure gives the state of Nebraska monopoly on the bonding of almost every public official in the state. Granting broad authority to the state board of educational lands and funds, selected to administer the act, the bill may have to face court attacks before long.

A $3,000 a year secretary and a $3,600 a year counsel will supervise operation of the bonding fund for the board, but under a strict interpretation of the law the board may become a sort of dictator of public officialdom in the state.

The law, which appropriated $100,000 to start the fund, grants the board authority to cancel any official's bond for cause, resulting in the official's suspension. Only rural school officers and police are exempted from being bonded by the state.

The board has sixty days in which to begin bonding and thirty days in which to set up a schedule of rates.

Power Plants.
Another measure of significant importance which goes into effect Monday is Senate File 25 over which a scorching fight raged in the last legislature. It permits cities and villages to acquire or build new power plants, transmission lines or distribution systems with revenue bonds.

The bonds, under the terms of the law, sponsored by Senator J. C. DeGowan of Norfolk and Senator A. T. Howard of Scottsbluff, may be repaid from earnings and not from taxes. The law permits many municipalities to set up their own distribution systems in order to buy power from the hydroelectric developments at Columbus and North Platte. Many believe also that Nebraska municipalities will be enabled to connect with other municipal plants of other cities.

Designed to halt enforced idleness at the state penitentiary and reformatory, H. R. 626 by Representative C. E. Frank of Norfolk appropriated $80,000 to establish a prison industries program. Of that amount, $70,000 was granted for equipment and the remainder as a revolving fund.

The board of control, which will set up the program, announced Friday it had plans well under way for the program but declined to make any announcements until about Sept. 1 when it anticipates the entire program will be complete.

Other important measures: H. R. 7 by Representative Charles R. Herrick of Curtis—Requires any public officeholder who files for another office which will begin before his old term expires to resign on the date the new office will begin, regardless of the outcome of the election.

Blind Pensions.

H. R. 315 by Representative Edward J. Dugan of Omaha and Representative Claire E. Owens of Exeter Authorizes the state's ninety-three counties to levy up to one-half mill for mandatory pensions of $30 a month for needy blind persons. The federal government under the terms of the security measure recently enacted, will pay half that pension. Representative Owens is blind.

S. F. 30 by Senator Archie C. O'Brien of Grand Island—Creates an aeronautics commission to supervise Nebraska. The act authorizes the commission to acquire and maintain aviators, airplanes and airports in an airplane for its own use and that of other state officers. The five members are unsalaried but a secretary, as yet unselected, will be paid $4,000 a year. It will be supported by the regular 4 cent gasoline tax on airplane fuel.

S. F. 273 by Senator R. C. Reagan of Columbus—Re-establishes the state library commission of five unsalaried members. The bill was introduced and passed at the specific request of Mrs. R. L. Cochran, the governor's wife. The legislature appropriated $25,000 for the board to spend and a companion measure authorizes counties or groups of counties to vote a special tax of up to one mill for rural libraries.

H. R. 500 by Representative Ray Thomas of Clay Center and Representative Ben H. Busboom of Crete—Authorizes school districts to levy a ten year installment tax of up to three mills to finance school construction in line with Nebraska's established "pay as you go" policy. The law provides none of the money may be spent until 70 percent of the total cost of construction is collected under the levy.

Firemen Pension.

S. F. 140 by Senator J. C. McGowan of Norfolk—Levies a 2 percent tax on fire insurance premiums collected in cities. The taxes thus collected will be distributed to cities on a basis of population for the purpose of setting up or helping to pay firemen's pensions. The Omaha firemen requested the bill be passed. The state insurance department has instructed fire insurance companies to submit their assessments this month and talk has been heard the law would be attacked as unconstitutional.

Laws which go into effect Monday will have such an effect on the election next year that citizens may have trouble recognizing the old ballot. Instead of balloting for a political house of representatives and senate voters will cast their x's for non-partisan members of a one house legislature composed of forty-three persons.

The ballots, too, will be different. Everything to be voted on will be on the same ballot—all the political candidates, the non-political candidates and initiative and referendum proposals.

Voters will get two ballots, however. The legislature found it could not place constitutional amendments proposed by the legislature on the same ballot without submitting a constitutional amendment to that effect, so they let the matter be.

They did present two constitutional matters for the voters to decide in November of 1936. One was whether or not the office of the land commissioner should be abolished and the other was whether or not double liability requirements on bank stock should be repealed.

Searl S. Davis was a visitor Thursday at Lincoln where he was called to look after some matters of business and visiting for a short time.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS

Plattsmouth Garden club met at the home of Mrs. E. H. Wescott August 22, 1935.

Final report of the Flower Show showed a balance of $12.50. The Garden club has placed a book, "Complete Garden" in the city library for the use of the public.

Mr. Tidd presented a project for street landscaping which is to be submitted to the WPA board.

At an invitation by the Chamber of Commerce the president appointed Mr. Tidd to serve as member of the committee for civic improvements.

Three numbers on the program were: (a) Plans for landscaping the low lot on West 12th street. Mr. Tidd. (b) Round table on "Shipping and Potting Plants for Winter," Mrs. Wescott. (Pictures of English garden and parks. Mrs. Freeman.

YOUNG PEOPLE WEDDED

From Friday's Daily
Last evening at the Presbyterian manse occurred the marriage of Miss Beulah Feelhaver and Mr. Berl Knox, both of Tekamah, Nebraska. The wedding was very quiet and following the wedding the bridal couple motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Robinson, the latter a sister of the bride, to receive the congratulations of the relatives.

Miss Feelhaver has been here-as a guest at the home of the sister and the marriage came as a surprise to the members of the family who were not aware of the intention of the young people. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Feelhaver and has been one of the popular young ladies in the social life of the community. The groom is connected with the Iowa-Nebraska Light & Power Co., at Tekamah and is a young man held in the highest esteem by a large circle of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Knox will make their future home at Tekamah.

HOLD FUNERAL SERVICE

The funeral services for the late Harvey Furray were held on Thursday afternoon at the Sattler funeral home at Fourth and Vine streets. The service was private and attended only by the members of the family and those taking part in the funeral service. Rev. C. O. Troy, pastor of the First Methodist church, conducted the services and brought words of comfort to the members of the bereaved family in the loss that has come to them of their loved one. During the service two numbers, "Rock of Ages" and "Saved by Grace" were given by Frank A. Clodt, with E. H. Wescott at the piano. The body was taken to Weeping Water where burial was at the Oakwood cemetery beside the wife that had preceded Mr. Furray in death several years ago.

DROVE TO SIDNEY RODEO

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schomaker and family, Arthur, Robert and Opal, of near Murray drove to Sidney, Iowa, last Thursday to attend the rodeo which they enjoyed very much, making a day of it, coming back by Plattsmouth City.

MANLEY NEWS

John Bergman and wife were visiting with friends at Mynard and Plattsmouth last Monday.

Mrs. Emma M. Simons, of Omaha, an aunt of Herman Rauth, was visiting at the home of the latter one day last week.

George Minke of near Murodock was a visitor in Manley last Tuesday and was looking after some business matters for a time.

Bert Austin and Parker Otte, of Wabash were looking after some business matters in Manley on last Tuesday afternoon.

H. M. Lum, Avoca lumberman, was in Manley last Tuesday, visiting and conferring with John Crane about some business matters.

Miss Teresa Rauth was assisting with the cooking at the home of Herman Rauth and wife while the crew of threshers were there.

Edward Lutz and Andrew Snyder, of Plattsmouth, were looking after some business matters in Manley on Tuesday evening of last week.

Teddy Harms and wife and Teddy, Jr., were visiting at Talmage on last Tuesday, and while they were away, George Rau was conducting the business at the store.

O. E. McDonald and wife were visiting with friends in Murodock, and also at the home of their daughter, Mrs. William Meyers and husband, at Ashland, last Tuesday afternoon.

The members of the Royal Neighbors of America were being entertained as well as holding their regular meeting at the home of David Braun on Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Carl O. Zaiser gave a tractor demonstration on a farm near Manley Tuesday afternoon, coming over from Avoca and being accompanied by H. M. Lum. The plowing was done on the farm of Fred Stohman.

Mrs. W. J. Rau and her niece, Miss Beverly Breckenfeldt, George Rau and Miss Sue Mockenhaupt made up a merry party that visited in Omaha last Tuesday, where they did some shopping and also called on friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sennard, of Grand Island, were guests for the day last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fleischman, enjoying a very pleasant visit there as well as a fine dinner. The two ladies are sisters.

The Rope club of Manley met last Tuesday evening at the home of Eli Keckler, where the boys were taking lessons on a few new kinds of knots. They are becoming very efficient on the tying of standard and fancy knots of all kinds.

John Wick and wife, of Chicago, were visiting in this vicinity for a few days, being guests while here at the homes of Cyrus Livingston and family and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Livingston. They were accompanied by Russell Keedy and wife, who also visited with friends in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Rauth and family, of York, visited at Elmwood last Sunday. The father and some of the children returned home the same evening, but Mrs. Rauth and a daughter remained for a longer visit, being guests at the home of J. C. Rauth here on Monday before returning to their home Tuesday.

In the threshing of grain for John Rauth, the wheat made 20 bushels to the acre and the rye, 23. At the farm of Herman Rauth the oats made 44 and the rye 20. Threshing work is nearly completed in this part of the country and many of the farmers are turning to fall plowing, although the soil is very dry. A few light rains have helped conditions considerably the past several days.

They Looked at the Show

Last Tuesday August Krecklow was in Omaha with a truck load of mixed stock, consigned to the market by different parties of this vicinity, and was accompanied by William Sheehan. On their return trip, they came by way of Plattsmouth, where there was a circus going on, stopping for a time to look the show over, but found no chance of getting a job carrying water to the elephant, and so came on home. Better luck to you next time, boys.

It Did Not Work

Two short change men appeared at the store of Rudolph Bergman and asked for change for a ten dollar bill, which was given them. Then, after receiving their change, they asked for change for a five dollar bill, this request also being granted. They then said, "Well, give us back the five," which Rudy did, as they passed nine dollars over to him, which he immediately put in the money drawer. Then the man said, "I made a mistake and gave you a five in the bunch," but that was where the catch came in and Mr. Bergman kept the money in the drawer and they became boisterous and abusive, passing the lie to Mr. Bergman, who reached back of the shelf and brought out a loaded billiard cue, telling them to get out and if they wanted any recourse to call the sheriff, but they made their getaway and did not show up again. Instead of doing him for five dollars, as was their intention, they were four dollars short, but had their lesson and learned one can't always outlicker the small town business man.

A BUSY WEEK AHEAD FOR LEGION JUNIOR DRUM CORPS

From Saturday's Daily:
The Legion Junior Drum Corps left at 8:30 this morning for Omaha to spend the day at the Midwest Music Festival sponsored by the World-Herald and being held at Creighton college stadium, where they are entered as one of the contesting groups.

The music festival is attracting a large number of individual musicians, choral and instrumental groups, and adult and junior bands and drum corps to compete for the prizes being offered.

Tomorrow the local drum corps is to accompany the Legion Junior baseball team to Father Flanagan's boys home west of Omaha, where a red hot baseball game is booked.

Tuesday morning, bright and early, the drum corps leave for Beatrice to parade at the state Legion convention that afternoon. All trips are being made in a truck, fitted with folding chairs to provide for their comfort while on the road.

Sunday, Sept. 1, it is possible they will attend Veterans' day at the state fair. A large number of bands and senior drum corps are entered there for the prizes being offered and admission to the fair grounds will be free to all veterans exhibiting their discharge or membership card in any veterans' organization.

Watch Your Kidneys!
Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood
YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as nature intended—fail to remove impurities that poison the system when retained. Then you may suffer nagging backache, dizziness, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, swollen limbs, feel nervous, miserable—all upset. Don't delay! Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are especially for poorly functioning kidneys. They are recommended by grateful users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

DOAN'S PILLS

Then, for the four days of the King Korn Carnival, beginning September 18, the drum corps will assist with the parades and the carnival will be officially opened on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with a fanfare of muffled trumpets from the platform at Fifth and Main, with regular baggers from the corps doing the playing.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Thursday afternoon in the county court Ross Shropshire, of near Weeping Water, was arraigned on the charge of violating his parole from the Nebraska penitentiary. Mr. Shropshire was charged with disturbing the peace at Weeping Water which, it was claimed, constituted a violation of the parole.

The defendant entered a plea of not guilty and the hearing was set for a future date.

15,000 ATTEND BOWL SERVICES

While thousands paid homage to the cowboy-philosopher at Forest Lawn, 15,000 persons attended services in the Hollywood bowl. Part of the throng is seen in the above photo as it listened to a program of beautiful sincerity. Rupert Hughes, author, delivered an eulogy, Conrad Nagel, actor, read a prose selection and Lawrence Tibbett sang.
