Enjoyed Wonderful Trip. Miss Harriett Sitzman, who is a teacher in the schools of Omaha, and where she has been for a number of years, concluded she would like to take a vacation and a trip and so invited her two brothers, Wm. P. Sitzman of Weeping Water and Frank Sitzman of south of Plattsmouth and with their auto departed for an extended trip which included a portion of Missouri and Illinois where they visited at the home of an aunt, Indianapolis, Indiana, and also spent some time at the home of relatives in Illinois, and a number of days in Chicago. On their return trip they drove through Indiana, crossing the Ohio river, entered Kentucky and visiting at Mammoth cave near Bowling Green, Kentucky, and returned home, having been away for the past nearly two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Binger celebrated the passing of the occasion and had a number of their friends with them who extended congratulations and well wishes for many more years of wedded life.

Have Abundance of Water Now.

The city of Weeping Water which has been rather short of water and have had fears of a water shortage, is at ease now as the well which was sunk last year east across the road from the pumping station has been tapped and the water is being pumped into the reservoir on the hill north of the cemetery. The water is excellent and abundant at this time.

Trouble With a Civit Cat.

A large civit cat, better known as a skunk or pole cat, caused some disagreeable atmosphere early this week when it was startled by a dog who chased the animal across the street and a man named Hansen who lived by himself came out of the house, leaving the door open, and attempted to head off the rapidly fleeing cat, and gave it a kick, when the animal darted into his house and would not be dislodged, and no one even the frisky dog was desirous of entering the highly perfumed home. A gun was obtained and the animal shot and removed and buried, but at the home a very strong odor persists, remaining as a reminder of the troublesome and unwelcome visitor. Was it bad luck or ill management or what which has turned this man's home into such an unsavory place?

Modern Innocence Abroad.

Not the story which Mark Twain wrote but one in some instances just as exciting was featured when George Towle and wife went to California last June. He had taken the mother to Plainview before going, as she was not desirous of making a trip to California and in his trip to the north portion of the state he was water bound as there was plenty of water at that time. However when the mother learned that another son was to marry on the west coast she went by train.

Mr. Towle made a long trip covering more than 7,000 miles before he returned. He attempted to get across the Republican river when it was on its first rampage, but had to go clear out to Colorado Springs before he could get across and then on to Los Angeles which amounted to about two thousand miles, and after that he went up to Seattle and to Eugene, Oregon, where he and another car got together with bad results, while fortunately no one was hurt, his car and that of the other driver were more or less damaged and the other owner did not have any insurance and had bought the car on payments and thus had nothing to reimburse M. Towle for the damage. However Mr. Towle had insurance on his car to protect the other fellow but not his loss. So he traded the car and received a new one in its stead.

While Mr. Towle was mingling with the friendly westerners a light fingered gent extracted his roll then amounting to $45.20 from his trousers pocket and left him to replenish his purse before he could come home. However they arrived safely on last Sunday night and glad to see good old Weeping Water.

Will Not Maintain a Home. With the passing of his lifelong companion Wm. Costman is to have a sale of his household effects and has rented his home to one of the officers of the CCC camp and will make his home with the children and for the present will live with his daughter, Mrs. M. L. Gallaher of Grand Island.

Pleasantly Surprised. Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Pangborn were somewhat surprised when a number of cars of their former parishioners arrived from Hooper and one car from Nebraska City who had formerly resided at Hooper, came with well filled baskets and attended services at the church listening to their former pastor preach. After the services were over the basement of the church was turned into a banquet room and with about thirty of the guests enjoyed a very fine dinner and an excellent visit, returning to their home in the late afternoon, after extending the wish for a very prosperous sojourn in Weeping Water.

Will Establish Liquor Store. A. L. Fisher of Steinhour was in Weeping Water and rented the room which has been used for a pleasure parlor by Nimsley S. Marshall which has been changed to suit the peculiar business which it is desired for and which in case the city council of Weeping Water shall give a permit will be used for a liquor store.

Concrete is THRIFFTIST for County Roads

ACTUAL cost figures prove concrete the thriFFTest pavement for farm to market roads carrying as few as 100 vehicles a day.

A 9 or 10 foot concrete pavement will serve local farm traffic comfortably, safely, in all weather—thousands of miles of such pavements are giving good service today!

The first cost of such pavements is low and maintenance costs are far lower than for so-called "low cost roads".

Years after concrete roads are paid for they still serve faithfully.

And meanwhile concrete saves you money on car operation every mile you drive.

Federal funds have been designated for secondary road improvement in every county. If you plan wisely a system of permanent paving can be started. Have you submitted a project for concrete paving on important farm-to-market roads?
