Jasper Queen, who has been making his home in California for some time, was a visitor with friends in Union, and also went to Bolivar, Mo., where he has many friends, for a short visit before returning to his home in the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Earl, who have been visiting in Union for the past week, have returned to their home at O'Neill. Mrs. Earle was formerly Miss Geraldine Roddy of this community and they enjoyed their visit here very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Dickson, of Blair were over Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Dickson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Roddy, where they enjoyed a very fine visit over the week end. They have been making their home at Blair for some time past.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stone, of Hastings were visiting over the week end in Union, they coming for a visit with the mother of Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Mary B. Allison. Mrs. Allison has not been in the best of health for some time past, but is feeling fairly well at this time.

Ray Becker and Sherman Davidson were in Omaha last Friday, going up to look at and examine the different makes of tractors for which Ray is agent here, and after looking them over, Mr. Davidson chose an Allis-Chalmers, which has since been delivered ready to go to work furnishing power on the farm.

The Bus Helped Out

Last Sunday when a freight train was going south, an axle broke and the track was blocked so another train could not pass until the tracks were cleared, which required some time. So the bus picked up the passengers from the Union-Lincoln train and took them to Falls City, where they were able to secure passage for points further south. This is a service which was not on the calendar, but nevertheless it served the interests of the road and its clients.

Schools in Session Now

The public schools in Union opened Monday of this week with a much larger enrollment than last year, all the teachers and students being in their places and ready for the year's work ahead, after three months of care-free vacation period.

This coming school year promises to be a good one, with all concerned starting out with determination to make it so.

Home from the West

Lucaean Banning and Will Pearsley, who have been in the west for the past three weeks, arrived home last Friday after having enjoyed their stay on the coast. In fact they were having such a good time they would probably not have returned yet had not Lucaean had to get to Lincoln to work at the state fair this week, he going to the capital city the following day to begin his work there.

Although they had a splendid time, they were glad to get back to Union.

Attended the State Fair

R. D. Stine, the merchant closed the store on last Monday, as the day was a quiet one, and accompanied by the family went over to Lincoln to take in the state fair, which all enjoyed very much, and which they describe as being very good this year.

Will Teach at Nebraska City

Miss Nola Banning, who recently returned from a visit of several weeks at the home of relatives in California, will teach in the Nebraska City public schools during the coming school year, which begins next week. While in the west, she was a guest at the home of her uncle, Calvin H. Taylor and family.

Injured in Recent Fall

Mrs. Mary Davis, mother of Mrs. Mabel Reynolds, had the misfortune to fall when she stepped on some mud on the pavement and was quite badly bruised and injured. The daughter had planned to go to Lincoln to attend the state fair, but as the mother was in a serious condition, she remained at home to care for her. We are pleased to state, however, that at last reports, Mrs. Davis is getting along very well and will soon be in her usual state of health.

Arrived Home Last Week

Henry H. Becker and the family, who were seeing the country from the hurricane deck of Henry's truck, which was converted into a traveling house for use on their tour, arrived home last week, having enjoyed a very pleasant trip, but were pleased when they saw the Weeping Water valley and arrived at journey's end at their home in Union.

Injured in Unusual Accident

Last Sunday morning, while a man, wife and daughter were driving east on the O street road and were just west of the Hall Pollard farm some six miles west of Union, the daughter noticed that the mother's coat was caught in the door of the car and called her attention to the fact. The mother swung the door open to extricate the coat, but the wind caught the large door of their coach, which was hinged at the back and swung it wide open. As they were going at a high rate of speed, the sudden resistance of the wind on the one side of the car caused it to swerve and go into the ditch at the roadside. As a result the lady was severely injured and was suffering greatly when brought to the office of Dr. Anderson here.

After receiving first aid treatment here, she was taken to a hospital in Omaha for X-rays and a more thorough examination and at last reports was in serious condition.

The number of automobile accidents seems to be increasing daily in spite of the published and radioed warnings that are being put out in the interest of safety among the car drivers of our nation.

Postponed Their Picnic

On account of the rain and cold weather last Sunday, the Missouri Pacific picnic committee that had planned a big picnic for Labor day at Falls City, postponed the same to Saturday of this week, when it is hoped they may encounter better weather. The picnic is to be for employees of the road over a wide territory and among the things planned is one thousand gallons of lemonade and a like proportion of edibles to take care of the large crowd that is expected. A number of the employees of the road at Union will attend the big get-together celebration.

Visit Here from West

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Johnson, of El Cerrito, California, were in Union last week renewing acquaintance with the host of friends of Mrs. Johnson, who was formerly Miss Lola Wolfe, daughter of the late William Wolfe, a pioneer Union blacksmith. It has been twenty-one years since Mrs. Johnson left Union and she and her husband were greatly pleased to visit here.

Furnish Music for Anniversary

The Union Orchestra, of which Phil Rihn, senior member of the firm of Rihn & Greene is a member, will furnish music today (Thursday) for the celebration of the tenth anniversary of this business house in Union. Dr. Oscar Sandin, of Plattsmouth, a friend of Mr. Rihn, and a county seat band and orchestra man, will be down to assist the local players in their concert at the store.

The anniversary was announced in an ad in this department last week, and the store is featuring special bargains the last three days of this week as part of their anniversary celebration.

Public Wedding to be Sure Go

One of Feature Attractions at King Korn Carnival—Many Fine Prizes for Participants.

No announcement has created more interest in connection with the forthcoming King Korn Carnival in Plattsmouth than that of the proposed public wedding, which now promises to be an assured go. Identity of the contracting parties will remain a dark secret right up to the hour of the ceremony, when Ruse Motor company, who have promised to taxi the bride and groom to the platform, will be directed where to report for their passengers. There is to be no frivolity connected with the wedding, which is to be a sincere and earnest ceremony climaxing the courtship days of some well known and popular young couple of the community. The only difference between this and the ordinary nuptial ceremony will be in the size of the crowd witnessing same.

The hour of the wedding is set for 8:00 o'clock Friday evening, September 20th.

A large number of useful gifts have been pledged to the bridal couple, which will be on display prior to the event. The list contains many valuable articles and will prove a great aide to any young couple starting out on life's journey together.

Included also will be the license, which will be issued by County Judge A. H. Duxbury on the platform, just before the time of performing the marriage.

After the ceremony and departure of the bridal couple a little horseplay may be indulged in but that will be in no way connected with the wedding itself.

The committee is finding interest greatly increased in several of the ceremonies planned for this year's festival, through keeping secret the identity of the parties participating therein and will adhere to this rule. If you want to know who the king and queen will be, or the bride and groom, the first information you can get will be by being present at these respective functions Wednesday and Friday evenings.

BUSINESS SHOWING INCREASE

A touch of autumn weather throughout Nebraska brought a brisk spurt in retail trade during the past week as buyers turned from late summer to fall lines of merchandise.

Part of the increase was attributable to the season change and a back-to-school movement, but reports from various Nebraska cities indicate the gross business is 15 per cent or more above the same period last year, giving much promise for the future.

Wholesalers report heavy shipments of fall goods, much larger than at the corresponding period last year. Omaha recently held its annual market week with a large attendance of merchant buyers and did a heavy volume of business, while Lincoln is preparing for its annual fall market week with indications pointing to the largest attendance and greatest volume of business in a number of years past.

Wholesale houses in both Lincoln and Omaha report many merchants have written asking for early shipments on their fall supplies, due to the unusually cool weather the past few days.

In Plattsmouth there has been a marked pick-up in the volume of retail trade, particularly in the clothing and school supply lines.

RETURNS FROM WEST

P. T. Becker and son, John H., returned Tuesday from a trip in the west part of the state and which was spent in Chase and Perkins county looking over the farming interests there. The corn yield is not heavy in that section of the state but rains have improved the conditions some. The country still bears the marks of the terrific dust storms of last year and early this year, the dirt drifts being piled high over the country. In one case Mr. Becker states a farmer had a woven wire fence with barbed wire on top and this was completely buried under the dirt drifts that had blown against it.

KILLED IN ACCIDENT

From Monday's Daily—James Daugherty, 24, who has been employed for the past two years at the farm of Loren Iske, near La Platte, was killed early this morning in an auto wreck south of Port Crook and just north of the railroad overpass. The car of Mr. Iske was struck by a large car that contained a number of colored people and in the wreckage of the car the unfortunate young man met death.

VISIT AT LINCOLN

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Yelick and Theodore Yelick were at Lincoln Sunday to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leacock. On their return they were accompanied by Richard, Robert and James Yelick, who had spent the week there with their sister.

LEAVES FOR DENVER

From Wednesday's Daily—Mrs. Margaret McClanahan departed this morning for Denver where she will enjoy a short outing and will visit with her son, George, who is now located in that city. She is making the trip by bus to the mountain city.

GENERAL SEES ROOSEVELT

Washington.—Speculation on who will succeed General MacArthur as the army's chief of staff increased following his luncheon with President Roosevelt at Hyde Park. The military service has twenty-one major generals, any one of whom is eligible for appointment. Most observers of military affairs, however, favored Mallin Craig, commandant of the army war college, or George S. Simonds, deputy chief of staff. Army circles considered it probable that the president discussed with MacArthur the question of his successor. The general has been retained long past his four year term. Phone the news to No. 6.
