RAIL MEN ARE OPTIMISTIC

Omaha.—Optimism over the future of the railroads was expressed by the board of directors of the Chicago & Great Western, meeting here.

Business is better than since 1930, President P. H. Joyce said. Were it not for decreased shipments of livestock and grains, due to poor crops and governmental curtailments, railroad business would be booming, he

Slayer Returned

Joseph Meluch

Charged with first-degree murder in the slaying of his wife, Dorothy, 21, on Aug. 14, Joseph Meluch, 27, of Lorain, O., denounced police for dubbing him an "amateur detective". Meluch, who was picked up in St. Louis where he confessed to the slaying of his bride of a few weeks, talked freely to his questioners upon his return to Lorain. He boasted that he had eluded the police for three weeks and "that wasn't the work of an amateur".

said. Arthur W. Cutten bemoaned Rooseveltian "regimentation," but he too, seemed optimistic of the future.

Joyce planned to look up an Omaha reporter who wrote a story about him at last year's meeting which netted him 113 pairs of socks.

"I want to give him a dozen pair of them," he said. "He quoted me to the effect that prosperity must be here because I was down to my last pair of socks. As a result of the story I received 113 pairs from persons in all parts of the country."

Stock Show is to Have Young Folks' Exhibit

Kansas City Show, One of the Greatest in the United States to Be Held in October.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 17.—Announcement has just been received from the Vocational Education Service, Department of Interior, at Washington, D. C., giving details of the 10th annual National Congress of Vocational Agricultural High School students and the 8th annual national convention of the Future Farmers of America which will be held in connection with the American Royal Live Stock and Horse Show, October 19 to 26th of this year.

It shows cash prizes of over $1,000.00 besides trophies and ribbons, for competition in classes of calves, pigs and lambs that were fed and cared for by these students as part of their school work.

It also provides cash prizes, trophies, ribbons and Agricultural College scholarships for winners in judging contests in all classes of live stock and poultry, meat identification, milk and milk products. These various classes of judging contests are between teams (consisting generally of three high school students, an alternate and a coach) one from a state. As many as forty states have been represented in some of these contests and last year there were 125 teams competing in all these various contests.

This will also be the thirteenth annual Royal Conference of 4-H Club Boys and Girls with all the attendant activities of this organization, including the showing of calves, pigs and lambs, judging contests, etc.

A number of railroads are again awarding free trips as educational prizes to some of the boys and girls who have achieved distinction in their home communities. In addition to the free trips, the railroads have also granted most liberal reduced passenger rates from any part of the United States for the three annual national gatherings.

Last year over 5,400 accredited members of these three organizations were registered at the American Royal, indicating a healthy steady growth and more are expected this year.

Case county has no bonded indebtedness, like the state, having paid as it went. That is a worthwhile record considering the predicament many counties are in, that have not followed such a wise course.

UNION ITEMS.

Mrs. Eugene Moore was visiting in Union for a few days during the past week.

iting over the week end in Lincoln, where they have property interests and numerous relatives and friends. They returned to Union to assist with work at the drug store Monday morning.

Elmer Withrow was busy during the forenoon last Monday reading the meters of patrons of the electric company. The readings are sent to the main office at Lincoln, where bills are made out and returned here for collection the first of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Attiberry and the children were in Plattsmouth last Sunday, where they were visiting with Grandmother Mrs. Mary Campbell, who has been at the hospital in Omaha and has but recently returned home. Mrs. Campbell is feeling greatly improved from her stay at the institution.

Frank and Anna Bauer were over near Greenwood last Sunday, making the trip in their car and going to visit at the home of Pete Schrader, where they enjoyed a very fine visit.

Frank says he was much impressed at the difference in the condition of the corn crop there and here, which is much better around Union than at points further west.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Anderson moved to themselves early last week, securing rooms in the Alex Eaton house, which is used as an apartment house.

Frank L. Anderson, after preparing his car for the parade at Weeping Water last Friday, had Con Watkins drive the car, which represented the W. B. Banning orchards. Frank went along and impersonated a clown in the parade.

Bernard and Alvin Morris who participated in the pre-carnival amateur contest at Plattsmouth last Wednesday night, were selected by the judges to compete in the finals Friday afternoon of this week, at which several prizes are to be awarded. This feature of the carnival is advertised as the tri-county amateur hour a la Major Bowes, and has brought forth some splendid entertainment in various lines.

Preparing Float for the Parade

Frank L. Anderson, who is a very capable artist when it comes to designing and creating floats, is now busy with the preparation of a float to participate in the Merchants' and Commercial parade at the corn carnival in Plattsmouth Friday afternoon. The float will be a work of beauty, being entered in the parade to advertise the Banning orchards of Union, largest commercial orchard in this part of the county.

Undergoes an Operation

Fred Tigner, who was so severely injured about a month ago, when his arm was caught between automobiles and broken in a number of places, had the same set last Friday. The long delay was necessary for the arm to get in condition, as it was badly mangled and bruised from the compact. He is reported as getting along only fair.

Sell Wood to Lincoln

A. L. Becker and Henry H. Becker were in Lincoln last Monday with two truck loads of cordwood apiece, which they were delivering to customers in the big city. W. A. Taylor accompanied Henry Becker and was looking after some business matters and visiting with friends there.

Married at Kansas City

Patrick Roddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roddy, who has been making his home at Beatrice, from whence he travels on the road selling goods, was united in marriage to Miss Charlotte Peters of Omaha at Kansas City on September 1st. Accompanied by his bride, he was in Union last Sunday, for a visit at the home of his mother. Later, they left for Beatrice, where he has a cozy home prepared for the coming of the bride. We join with the many friends of this popular young man in extending congratulations and best wishes to himself and bride for a long and happy wedded life.

Entertained at Plattsmouth

The Union orchestra, composed of P. F. Rihn, Aida Taylor and wife, Loy Fell, Bert Wolfe, Bryan Stillwell, Mildred Burbee, Venile Pullen and a number of others who play with the above group on special occasions, was at Plattsmouth last Sunday afternoon, where they gave a concert at the Masonic home, going later to the county farm west of Plattsmouth, at which place they also rendered a concert for the benefit of the aged residents there.

The orchestra will also play during the present week at the corn carnival at Plattsmouth.

Serious Wreck South of Town Early last Monday morning just about daybreak, there was a serious auto accident on the highway south of town near the Otoe county line. A group of people in a car bearing an Indiana license, was coming north on the highway, being followed by a stone truck, occupied by the driver and another person. The driver of the stone truck attempted to pass the car, but failed to clear it and the two vehicles sideswiped, with both badly damaged and the occupants all more or less seriously injured. Those in the car were hurt the worst, although the rider in the truck was quite badly bruised and injured. One of the men occupying the car was seemingly hurt the worst of all the parties involved, and while the others were being taken to Nebraska City for treatment at the hospital, he was brought to Union for first aid treatment, but on arrival here it was found that Dr. Anderson was out of town, and Jack Roddy made a hurried trip to Nebraska City with the man, finding the other members of the Indiana party there when he arrived.

The chances of injury from auto accidents are increasing daily despite all the efforts being made to educate people to more safe and sane driving.

Had a Busy Day

W. A. Taylor and wife attended Sabbath school Sunday, then home to a delicious chicken dinner made possible through the kindness of Mrs. Emma J. Morton, who donated the fowl. Next came Mr. and Mrs. Henry Becker and son, Donald, who took them for a long ride in the country. Their first stop was to call on Henry Mullis of Otoe county, who is in very poor health. Mr. Mullis is an uncle of Mrs. Becker. From there they drove to Nebraska City, stopping at St. Mary's hospital where Con Mullis, the father of Mrs. Becker, is a patient, and also visited with Fritz Tigner, who is making slow progress following his accident of a month ago. From Nebraska City the journal was continued to Peru, thence to Brownville, where the party watched the ferry in operation, this being one of the few remaining ferries up and down the river between Nebraska and adjoining states. Leaving there, they went to Auburn, where they enjoyed lunch. En route they saw an airplane refuel and go on its way to Omaha.

Turning homeward from Auburn, they were soon back in Nebraska City, enjoying a picture at the Overland, and thence on home. A grand ride and a good time. Two of the towns visited, Peru and Brownville, are noted, the former for its fine school, and the latter for its pioneer existence, being one of the old time river towns that has not passed out of the picture with the years.

Hope springs eternal in the human breast, and folks living there cherish the hope that some day a bridge will be built there and the town again start an upward climb.

Two Drunks Cause Trouble

Two drunken river workers, who had gotten too much of the fluid that boils in one's stomach, brain and veins, came to the cafe of James Kirkpatrick and demanded more to drink. James, seeing their condition, refused to sell them any more, whereupon they became abusive and Mr. Kirkpatrick requested them to get out of his place of business, which they failed to do and when they were put out one of the men drew a knife and stabbed Mr. Kirkpatrick, causing a gash nearly a foot and a half in length down his back.

Ray Bramblet who was standing near and witnessed the mele grabbed one of them and while attempting to hold him back was also cut a number of times.

Night Officer John Morris came along and while attempting to take the belligerents to jail, had to use his blackjack a number of times before
