

Who Said That Women Athletes Are Homely!

These stars of the feminine sports world conclusively disprove the common conception that all women athletes are muscle-bound and plain. All of these top-notchers in their respective sports also rate as attractive members of their sex. Among the leaders in the sports-beauty parade are Eleanor Holm, swimming champion; Harriet La Mertha, Missouri track star; Helen Wills Moody and Helen Jacobs, tennis celebrities, and Sonja Henie of Norway, world's champion woman skater.

COST TO ITALY OF THE WAR

Geneva.—Statistics of the Bank of International Settlements sent to the League of Nations indicated the big cost to Italy of the Ethiopian war. The figures showed that during the first ten days of October the Bank of Italy lost 206 million lira in gold. Experts estimated that if this figure is taken as an average, about 453 million lira, or over 10 per cent of the Italian gold reserve at the end of September, has been withdrawn in the past three weeks.

A Fragrant Indoor Plant

Lily of The Valley Blooms in Twenty-one Days—Easiest of All Bulbs to Force.

Besides being a fine spring garden flower, for indoor planting, the lily of the valley is unique. Easiest of all bulbs to force into flower, they are deliciously fragrant, as well as beautiful. The prepared bulbs, or pips as the seedmen call them, which are held in cold storage in a dormant condition are available to everyone, and this modern way to plant them does away with the trouble of digging them from the garden.

Many like to prepare their own pips from the garden, however, and this may be easily done. Pot them as you take from the garden and allow them to freeze. Then, bring into the house and set in a sunny window. The only requisite to be sure of blooms is that a blooming sized pip is planted, the bud being already formed and dormant in the pip.

Prepared pips are so certain to bloom that it is hardly worth while to dig them in the garden. One month is all that is needed to get bloom from potted pips; a little longer if you dig them yourself.

Lilies of the valley bulbs or pips must be specially prepared for forcing, and come out of cold storage when you plant them. Do not buy more at a time than you wish to plant, as they spoil quickly after being taken out of storage. Instead of pebbles use moss to hold them upright in the bowl. Pack the moss loosely about them and keep them in a warm, dark closet, with temperature about 65 degrees, until leaves and spikes are well developed. If you have no dark closet, an inverted flower pot over the bowl will shade them. When buds have formed, if they are exposed to the light gradually the color of the foliage will develop best, and by the time the fragrant, bell-shaped flowers are open the leaves will be a delicate green. It takes about twenty-one days to produce flowers.

WILL HEAD SECURITY BOARD

Washington.—Frank Bane, former secretary of the Virginia state board of charities and corrections, will become executive director of the social security board as soon as congress appropriates funds for its administration.

Bane is one of four men who will begin actual social security functions under labor department direction, and who will be paid temporarily out of a $112,610 emergency relief allotment to the department.

The allotment, announced last week, was made to permit the department to go ahead with preliminary plans for the social security program. It was made necessary because of failure of the third deficiency bill, carrying social security appropriations, to pass the senate last session.

NAVAL CONFERENCE COMING

London.—The probability that a formal naval conference will be held in London within six weeks was disclosed by high and authoritative sources. The conference would be held among the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy. This development follows the delivery last week of a Japanese note on the subject. Authorities said that although the conference probably would be late in November or early December, the date had not yet been fixed and the formal invitations had not yet been forwarded, although developments could be expected probably this week.

REJECTS ICKES' REQUEST

Washington.—A ruling that local governments must pay for fire and police protection on low-cost housing projects or they will have none was handed down by J. R. McCarl, the comptroller general.

ALIMONY LAW UPHELD

Chicago.—Circuit Judge Finnegan upheld the new state law which provides a man may discontinue alimony payments after two years of separate maintenance from a childless wife.

Hallowe'ning in the Kitchen a Popular Pastime

Try Serving Doughnuts with Chocolate Butter Icing, Taffy Apples and Milk.

Invitations to a Hallowe'en party may be a kitchen raid, for these days clever hosts and hostesses enjoy kitchen entertaining when friends and neighbors roll up their sleeves, don aprons and smocks and help to produce the refreshments. Let's pretend that you are having a Hallowe'en get-together. Of course the kitchen will be decorated. Grotesque looking Jack O'Lanterns will furnish light from cupboard tops and window sills. Cornstalks will add decoration to corners. If kitchen is a large one, and black goblins and witches (cut from black paper) to ceiling and walls.

Kitchen floor and board tables will take on a scrubbed-face look so bobbing for apples in the old wooden tub and old-time superstitious games can be indulged in with no fear of damage to furnishings.

Gay paper napkins and doilies matching the bright yellow checked kitchen curtains furnish a cheerful background. For a table centerpiece use a wooden bowl filled with bright colored vegetables. Ears of corn may be made into candle holders.

A supper party it shall be with everyone helping to prepare it. Partners may draw slips telling what to make ready from the raw materials and how to prepare it.

Sandwiches made from dark and light breads and creamed butter spreads, with a salad of cottage cheese seasoned with chopped green pepper served in orange shells, with weird faces cut into the rind, are simple for guests to prepare.

The orange shells prepared in advance will furnish amusement galore when the faces are cut. The filling can be mixed in a jiffy. The lettuce prepared and salads assembled. You can keep a few guests happy cutting bread and spreading with butter fillings for sandwiches. A bowl of creamed butter spreads may be set out conveniently near the bread and equipment for sandwich making. Individual pumpkin tarts can be made in advance so there is nothing for the guests to do but to whip the cream and "top" them. With steaming hot coffee they are a treat for Hallowe'en.

Have you ever thought of serving hot tamales in corn husks for a Hallowe'en snack? Doughnuts with chocolate butter frosting and cider or milk and taffy apples may provide the dessert.

Hot Tamales

- 1/2 boiled chicken.
- 1 clove garlic
- 1/2 medium-size onion.
- 3 small red peppers
- 1/2 teaspoon cayenne
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups boiling water
- 1 cup cornmeal
- Corn husks or sterilized paper toweling

Chop chicken; mince garlic, onion and red peppers and add to chicken with cayenne and salt. Mix well and form into rolls about 2 inches long and 3/4 inch in diameter. Stir boiling water into cornmeal and cook in double boiler 45 minutes; cool. Take 1 heaping tablespoon of cornmeal, put out flat, dot with butter, and roll chicken up in it. Immerse corn husks in hot water to soften them; or sprinkle toweling with water. Wrap one cornmeal roll up in each husk or paper and tie each end with a string. Trim off ends about 1 inch outside of where string is tied. Cover with broth in which chicken was boiled or with boiling salted water. Add minced red peppers to broth or water and boil gently 15 minutes.

Doughnuts can be made and frosted the day before. Use your pet recipe for making doughnuts.

Chocolate Butter Frosting is made as follows:

- 1/4 cup butter
- 1 1/2 cups confectioner's sugar.
- Cream
- 1 1/2 squares unweetened chocolate, melted
- 1 1/2 teaspoon flavoring extract.
- Cream butter. Sift sugar; add gradually to butter, working in well. Add few drops of cream at a time to make good consistency to spread. Add flavoring; add melted chocolate last, beating in well. Add more cream if necessary to make smooth, creamy consistency.

Taffy apples are always a Hallowe'en favorite.

- Taffy Apples.
- 1 cup corn or maple syrup.
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 12 medium-size apples
- 12 skewers

Heat syrup and sugar slowly, stirring constantly until dissolved. Boil until a little tried in cold water be-

Elmwood News

Charles Gerbeling who has been visiting for the past week or ten days at the home of his son, Floyd Gerbeling of Plattsmouth, returned home last week.

James Hayes is all right now and also the members of the family, for they are all over the mumps, but did have a time with them while they were having them.

Louis Bornemeier was a visitor in Lincoln last Tuesday looking after business and on his return brought home with him a truck load of feeds for the store here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buell were over to Lincoln last Saturday visiting friends and shopping around, found a very fine White rotary sewing machine and added it to their purchases.

Many of the people of Elmwood were present at the E. M. Stone sale last Thursday preparatory to his departing in a short time for Washington to make his home with his son, Verle Stone.

The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company have just installed a new gas heater in the telephone exchange office and they are greatly delighted over the new manner of heating the office.

Mrs. Henry Westfall who was taken to the hospital where she was given treatment and underwent an operation, is reported as getting on fairly well, but is required to remain at the institution for the present.

Orley Clements and his two sons, Boyd and Keith and Rev. Ernest Baker, pastor of the Christian church of Elmwood last Monday went to Belton where they enjoyed a hunting trip in the fields, looking for the frightened pheasant and as well visiting at the home of friends.

Misses Eleanor, Golda and Erman Kunz were guests for the day last Sunday at the home of their friend, Miss Esther Waldemuth of Milford and where they did not hunt pheasants, but only visited and had a good time and a very fine dinner, returning in the evening just as it began to rain.

The fire boys were all present at the meeting held last Monday evening when they received the report of the large delegation attending the state convention at Hastings last week. Of course they were enthusiastic over telling about the new fire apparatus on exhibition at the convention.

While splitting kindling to build a fire at the garage early this week, Ronald Schlictemeier had the misfortune to be in exactly the wrong place when a piece of kindling flew up striking him in the left eye and inflicting a severe flesh wound and dislocating the vicinity as well as the eye itself.

Report on Convention.

Noel Hottle who was the delegate to the L. O. O. F. convention at York last week where is located the new Oddfellows home, a very fine institution and where Mr. Hottle visited as well as attending the convention. At the meeting he was particular in telling of the working of the convention and the wonderful home which has been provided for members of the order well along in years.

Mrs. Earl Elliott also told of her experience at the Rebekah Assembly and how they were working in harmony with the subordinate lodge for the fulfillment of the exalted principles of the order.

See Football Game.

A number of the lovers of football of Elmwood were at Manhattan Kansas last Saturday to see the Nebraska-Kansas State game. The members of the party, Charles West, Orest Cook, Bud Clements, Wenzel Cook and Louis Bornemeier, traveled in the new Buick of Orest Cook. They enjoyed the trip very much, but were disappointed that Nebraska did not win, the game ending in a scoreless tie.
