FUNERAL OF HAROLD WHITEMAN
 The funeral services for Harold Whiteman were held on Tuesday afternoon at the Horton chapel at Seventh and Vine streets and attended by a large group of friends here and from Nehawka.

Poultry Wanted

Rev. W. A. Taylor of Union, an old friend of the family, gave the comforting message of the scripture to the members of the bereaved family circle, while the quartet from the Nehawka M. E. church gave three of the old and loved hymns. The quartet was composed of Verner Lundburg, Albert Anderson, Miss Dorothy Dodson, Mrs. Melvin Sturm.

The interment was at the Mt. Pleasant cemetery and the pall bearers were Albert Johnson, Clyde Fleishman, of Nehawka, Ray and Glen Whiteman, Harold Tucker, brothers and Chalmers Switzer of Fremont, a brother-in-law.

Nehawka

Ray Gregg and wife were at Plattsmouth last Saturday, where they visited with friends and looked after some shopping.

Stuart Rough was a visitor in the county seat last Monday, going up to look after some business matters in the county court.

Tommy Troop left Tuesday morning for Paxton, Nebr., where his brother, Earl Troop, is employed, and where he will visit for a few days.

Since the closing of the market of John Opp, who was agent for the Beatrice Creamery, that part of the business has been taken over by Lyle Kruger and wife.

W. O. Troop, wife and son Tommy, were at Nebraska City last Monday afternoon where they purchased a supply of apples and also looked after some other business matters.

E. E. Hadley, who resides on a farm east of town, was under the weather a part of last week, but is now feeling considerably better and was able to be about this week.

Helen Schlichtemeier, who is attending school in Lincoln, spent the week end at home, and coming early was able to attend the corn show that was held in Nehawka last Friday.

L. L. McCarty, of Plattsmouth, who operates a tank wagon for the Continental Oil company, was in Nehawka Monday afternoon, delivering gas and oil to the Olaf Lundberg service station.

Walter J. Wunderlich and wife and Mr. and Mrs. George Pollard drove out to Petersburg, where they visited over the week end with friends and the men engaged in pheasant hunting part of the day Sunday.

J. L. Young, Jr., who is attending the University of Nebraska, was a visitor at home over the week end, spending a very enjoyable Saturday and Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Taft Pollard, who are making their home in Lincoln during the time Mr. Pollard is attending school there, were over Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Pollard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pollard.

Stuart Rough drove to Weeping Water Sunday in his new car, picking up his sister, Miss Agnes, and together they continued on to Lincoln, where they spent the day at the home of their sister, Mrs. Guy Lake and husband.

Superintendent C. E. Stimbart and wife spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Stimbart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stimbart, at Inland, driving out in their car and returning in time for the opening of school Monday morning.

A considerable number of Nehawka people journeyed down to Manhattan, Kansas, last Saturday, where they attended the football game between the Cornhuskers and Kansas State, being greatly disappointed that the game resulted in a scoreless tie.

Frank Lemon and wife were guests last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers of North Bend, the ladies being sisters. They remained a bit too long and were caught in the rain, which made traveling a bit difficult on the dirt roads.

Victor Wehrbein and wife and Mr. and Mrs. William Gorder were over Sunday visitors at Plainview, where they have friends. The men enjoyed a few hours hunting in quest of the elusive pheasants, which hunters all say are very wild this year.

Okley Munnington, wife and children, of Overton, where they were neighbors and friends of Ray Creamer when the Creamer family resided in the west, have been visiting for the past few days at the Creamer home, where all have been enjoying the visit very much.

The Ladies Aid of the United Brethren church served a chicken supper at the auditorium Monday evening. A large number of the people of Nehawka and vicinity were present to enjoy the fine meal that was served, and the ladies were able to net a nice sum for their work.

Granville Heebner and wife and Don Philpot and wife went to Friend last Saturday, where they visited over Sunday at the home of C. W. Johnson and wife who conduct a moving picture show there. While at Friend, the men engaged in the popular sport of pheasant hunting. Mr. Philpot states that Mr. Johnson is doing well in the show business at Friend.

Harold Whiteman Buried Tuesday
 Harold Whiteman, who has been making his home in Plattsmouth at the home of his sister, died there on Sunday night at the home of the sister, Mrs. Olive Johnson. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at a Plattsmouth funeral home and interment was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery beside the bodies of his parents. A male quartette from Nehawka was present at the funeral and sang several of the old familiar hymns. A more complete account of the demise of this young man, who was 35 years of age, will be found elsewhere in this issue of the Semi-Weekly Journal.

Hunted at Coleridge
 A party of local sportsmen including District Commander W. H. Kruger of the American Legion, Herbert Kuntz, John Hansen and Clifford Trotter, went to Coleridge for a very pleasant over-the-week-end hunting trip that netted them their full lawful quota of pheasants. They arrived home late in the evening, driving in rain most of the way, but this only happens once a year.

Much Joy Over New Arrival
 A fine seven pound baby girl came to bless the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buckholtz, of Dunbar, Monday morning. Mother and daughter are reported doing very well. Grandmother Mrs. Lyle Kruger went to Dunbar to welcome the new arrival and assist with the household duties until the mother is able to be up and about again. And this accounts for the broad smile on the face of Grandfather Lyle Kruger when you meet him at the restaurant.

Very Successful Hog Sale
 Harry M. Knabe, who has long been engaged in the raising of Hampshire hogs and whose sales are known all over the state, attracting buyers from distant points, held a very successful sale at the old livery barn in town last Monday evening. The barn has been turned into a sales pavilion and is well lighted with electric lights. There were many buyers present and the choice hogs that were offered all brought good prices.

Harry started in the thoroughbred hog raising game early, being an outstanding 4-H club member and continuing it as a profitable business as he came into manhood's estate. His success is well deserved as he has worked hard and knows hogs from A to Z.

Installs Fine Meat Counter
 The Sheldon Store has, since the closing of the meat market conducted by John Opp, installed a fine meat display case that is electrically refrigerated, keeping meat in perfect condition. The store of John H. Steffens is also handling meats, so the wants of customers in this line can be supplied.

The Nehawka Corn Show
 The future farmers of America entertained the public and their friends last Friday evening, when they held a most successful corn show at the auditorium. The show was largely attended by townspeople and country folks as well and all were pleased with the splendid exhibition. The auditorium was decorated in gorgeous colors, using autumn leaves and corn fodder, and the large assembly room presented a veritable landscape of a scene one might well recall on many a farm in this the greatest corn growing country in the world.

Miller Christensen took first prize on his display of yellow maize and Frank Schlichtemeier's exhibit was declared first prize winner in the white corn group.

Clifton O'Connor was selected as the Korn King and Miss Lucille Mitchell as the Korn Queen. The show was a great success and will probably be made an annual event hereafter. Congratulations to the young folks who conceived the idea and carried it out so successfully.

Rotary Club

Has Interesting Talk by Educator

Dr. L. O. Taylor of Department of Education of Omaha Municipal University, Is Speaker.

Tuesday at their weekly luncheon the members of the local Rotary club had the pleasure of a most interesting address by one of the best known members of the Municipal university faculty, who came from Omaha for the meeting.

The guest speaker was Dr. L. O. Taylor, head of the department of education of the university, who gave a fine address, one that was followed with the greatest of interest by the members of the Rotary.

The speaker took as his subject, "The Man With a Dilemma," pointing out that while many are able to extricate themselves from the situations by which they are confronted in life and its problems, there are many others that fail to rid themselves of their dilemma and carry them with them. The philosophy taught by education was intended to remove this from the lives of the student and better fit them for the clear understanding of the problems that they might meet with.

The meeting was under the leadership of Superintendent L. S. Devoe who had prepared the fine program that was of exceptional value.

The musical section of the program was confined to the club singing led by George Jaeger, official musical director of Rotary.

HONOR W. C. RAMSEY

William C. Ramsey, grand master of the Nebraska A. F. & A. M., and former Plattsmouth resident, has been honored with the highest degree in the Scottish Rite Masonry. Mr. Ramsey with a small group of the most prominent Masons in the United States were elected to the thirty-third degree at the biennial session of the supreme council in Washington, D. C.

The honor conferred on Mr. Ramsey will be appreciated by the Masonry of the state as a deserved recognition of his work in the order. Mr. Ramsey is the son of Mrs. B. S. Ramsey of this city and where he was born and grew to manhood.

FAIRVIEW CLUB

The Fairview club held their meeting at the home of Edna Buechler with Geneva Franke assistant hostesses.

The program was in charge of Helen Gansemer and Margaret Terryberry. The discussion was on Halloween. Games were played. Eleanor Terryberry and Emma Terryberry received the prizes.

The next meeting will be at the home of Agnes Wetenkamp with Ella Hild assistant on November 14, with Myrtle Tritsch and Teckla Alexson having charge of the program.

ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hiatt was the scene of a very pleasant dinner party Sunday noon honoring Miss Luella Stutz of Hebron, Nebr., who was guest for the day. Those participating in this event were the guest of honor, Miss Lucille Stutz, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Heinrich and Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hiatt and daughters.
