Tribute to a Former Resident of This City

Written in Memory of Mrs. John Kopia, Who Made Her Home Here for Many Years.

"Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me,
And may there be no moaning
at the bar
When I put out to sea."
When I learned of the passing of Mrs. Kopia, these lines of Tennyson's came to me, and I could not but think how beautifully they seem to fit into my thoughts on that occasion. Like the dropping of a curtain at the finish of the opera, and like the setting of the sun in the evening, signifying the close of day, so, too, the spirit of Mrs. Kopia passed on with the ending of the day, and a well-spent life on earth was ended. I like to think that in the bigness of her heart, and the unselfishness of her soul, she would have asked that there be moaning when her soul crossed the bar.

From an acquaintance of many years, I know that the one sorrow she might have had at leaving her loved ones, was that she should bring grief to them. Mrs. Kopia's life was an eventful one, and one of service to her family, her friends, and her God. Notwithstanding the demands made upon her time and strength assisting her husband in the conduct of a general store, she found time to maintain her home and bring into its keeping all the womanly attributes as God intended in the beginning of things. She was a devoted wife and helpmate, and a loving and generous mother.

Anna Valla was born in Bistric, Moravia, in the Austria-Hungarian empire, Feb. 2, 1862. Her early life was spent in the land of her birth, where she acquired her education, living there until 1882, when at the age of twenty, she came with her mother and sister to the United States, settling in Chicago.

Soon after her arrival in Chicago, Anna Valla married John Kopia, also a native of Moravia, but an earlier emigrant to America. At the time of the marriage, Mr. Kopia was identified with the Burlington railway, and in the course of the years, was transferred to Plattsmouth, Neb., where he was employed in the railway shops. Later Mr. and Mrs. Kopia were moved to Gillette, Wyoming, and still again back to Plattsmouth, Neb.

Both came to America with the old-country heritage of thrift, and the will to acquire a competence. After building a home in Plattsmouth, Mr. and Mrs. Kopia decided to open a general store. Beyond their expectation the business venture becomes a success, and for twenty-seven years both Mr. and Mrs. Kopia worked side by side in the store.

During these years Mrs. Kopia became the mother of a son, whose little life was of short duration—living barely beyond his infancy. Later the home was gladdened with the arrival of a daughter, who was christened Anna, after her mother. Also, in the bigness of her heart, Mrs. Kopia took into her home and close affections an orphaned son of her sister—Frank Bartonek—and gave him all the loving care of a mother.

A few years after their daughter, Anna, married and became Mrs. F. E. Lorenz, both Mr. and Mrs. Kopia realized the fruition of their early dream, retiring from active business, in 1922, they moved to Des Moines, to be near where Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz were located.

Many of her old friends and customers in Plattsmouth will hear of her death with a pang of regret, and her kindly deeds of unobtrusive charity and love will always be a bright spot in their memory of her.

Perhaps her outstanding characteristic that evidenced itself to me was the supreme youthfulness of Mrs. Kopia's outlook on life in general. Always optimistic, always having a pleasant word for everyone, she seemed to never grow old.

During the last year of her life Mrs. Kopia was forced to undergo several serious operations, and pain and suffering were seldom absent. Withal she bore her burdens uncomplainingly and unselfishly, and lived on with the hope that her health would improve, and she would again resume her place in her home and its activities.

Two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Kopia celebrated their golden wedding anniversary—a happy and harmonious union for a half a century. They were a truly devoted couple—a perfect companionship existing throughout all the years.

Mrs. Kopia leaves to mourn her passing, her husband, her daughter, Mrs. Frank Lorenz, Jr., all of Des Moines, and two nephews, Frank Bartonek, of Oakland, California, and John Hobscheidt of Murray, Neb. These, together with a host of friends truly feel

"A dear one from our midst
has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place made vacant in our home
Can never more be filled."
—A Friend.

Sub-Zero Spell Drives Mercury to 18 Below

Sunday Brought First Touch of Real Winter to This Section of Nebraska—Some Moderation.

From Tuesday's Daily
The coldest weather of the winter season swept this section of Nebraska late Saturday night and Sunday and sent the mercury to 18 below early Sunday morning with cold registered from 15 to 19 below today.

The heavy snowfall added to the general winter-like condition of the day and made the home fires a favorite spot for the residents on Sunday and today. Readings at the local Burlington station this morning showed 19 degrees below zero.

The thermometer at the river front both Sunday and today showed readings of 20 below while in other sections of the city there were varying degrees of coldness.

The sudden drop in the temperature caused a great deal of annoyance to the auto owners of the community and garages were busy in handling frozen up cars and trucks.

N. K. Pence, local insurance man, was caught near Cedar Creek Saturday night with his car and while laboring to get the car in running order suffered the freezing of his ear before he could get into cover and warmth.

KEEPING THE JEWS AT HOME

Munich.—Munich police, it developed, have begun to confiscate the passports of Jews to prevent them from going abroad. A house to house search is being made. Unofficially it was stated the reason for the move was that Jewish merchants have been selling their wares abroad and keeping the proceeds there instead of bringing the money home. Most of the homes visited were said to have been those of merchants.

SIX NEARLY SUFFOCATE

Rork, Neb.—Six persons narrowly escaped suffocation in a house here because of depletion of the supply of oxygen. Lack of ventilation was blamed for the insufficient supply of oxygen. The six persons, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baass, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Frazier, and the two small Frazier children became ill but all are recovering.

GASOLINE FIRE KILLS

Baltimore.—His rescuers balked by the intense heat, John Dougherty, a truckman, was burned to death Tuesday after an explosion had set fire to five tanks of gasoline. The flames spread so rapidly after the explosion that firemen had to use chemicals to extinguish blazes in street gutters before they would enter the property on which the tanks were located.

TO RECEIVE AWARD

New York.—The Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, inc., announced that Frank W. Caldwell, engineering manager of the Hamilton standard propeller division of United Aircraft, will receive the Sylvanus Albert Reed award for 1935.

EIGHT MILE GROVE LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday, January 26

10:30 a. m. English services.
On Wednesday, January 29th, the ladies aid will meet at the church. Hostesses, Mrs. P. G. Hennings and Mrs. A. Lentz. All are invited.

NAVY ORDERING BOMBERS

Washington.—The navy department announced the award of a contract to the Douglas Aircraft company at Santa Monica, Calif., for the purchase of 114 new torpedo bomber planes at a cost of $3,636,000.

You wouldn't start out on a long trip intending to drive a few miles the first day and then rest up for a week or a month before continuing. Yet that's the way a great many merchants conduct their advertising campaign. Little wonder it doesn't get results. Persistent, steady effort is what counts.

Children's Home Society Elects New Officers

Randall C. Biart, Bellevue, Named Director—Mrs. Ona Baird Re-elected as Trustee.

The appointment of Randall C. Biart of Bellevue as executive director of the Nebraska Children's Home Society was announced by President A. B. Barber following the annual meeting last Wednesday.

Mr. Biart, former state relief director, director of urban rehabilitation and department chairman of community service for the American Legion assumed his new duties January 1st.

Mrs. Ona Baird of Plattsmouth was re-elected a trustee of the society. Other trustees named are: Robert Armstrong of Auburn; Ed Matthiesen, Blair; Mrs. O. L. Webb, Lincoln;

RANDALL C. BIART

R. M. Webleme, Fairbury, and J. H. Hamill of Hastings. Officers are: A. D. Barber, president; Axel T. Hansen, vice-president; D. M. Edgerly, secretary and F. W. Thomas, treasurer.

The Nebraska Children's Home Society is a state wide organization supported entirely by contributions and is licensed by the state for child care and placement. It is now entering its 44th year of service to Nebraska. The receiving home is located at 3549 Fontenelle boulevard in Omaha but only a small part of the society's work is with Omaha children. Only a handful of children are to be found in the receiving home at any one time, since the policy is to place children in private homes where they may receive personal care and the love and affection which is every child's due.

NOMINATE 19 FOR AG BOARD

Nineteen men were nominated for positions on the Nebraska state board of agriculture to replace fourteen members whose terms expired. Election will be held Wednesday. The members: (x signifies present member.)

- W. B. Banning (x).
- B. P. Preston, Lincoln (x).
- D. W. Osborne, Pawnee City (x).
- L. C. Chapin, Lincoln (x).
- R. C. Johnson, Mead (x).
- A. H. Miller of Blair (x).
- Gates Lilley of Papillion (x).
- J. S. Golder, Oakland (x).
- W. C. Von Seggern, Wayne.
- F. R. Watkins, Neligh (x).
- R. Wilde, Genoa (x).
- G. C. Hueftle, Eustis.
- Perry Reed, Henderson (x).
- Willott Davis of Minden.
- Harry H. Johnson, Clay Center.
- A. W. Atkins, Bridgeport (x).
- J. A. Boyd, Kearney (x).
- E. R. Purcell, Broken Bow (x).
- Joe Steele, Kimball.

Routine reports occupied most of the afternoon session of the board, although W. B. Banning, director of the state department of agriculture and vice president of the state board, enlivened the proceedings by answering a recent article in which the state fair was criticized. Banning said the fair's faults could be charged to lack of funds appropriated by the legislature. He compared the $17,000 allotment in Nebraska to the $100,000 appropriation in Iowa.

MINNEAPOLIS ROAD ASSURED

Sioux City, Ia., Jan. 17.—A Sioux City Chamber of Commerce delegation to highway boosters returned today from Minneapolis, reporting that Minnesota will begin next spring to pave its portion of a diagonal highway from Sioux City to the Twin Cities.

Inflated or ordinary dollars—either kind will still buy most if expended in your home community, where a part is retained to help meet the tax burden and other community obligations.
