

POSTMASTERS TO ORGANIZE

Grand Island.—Request for a state charter under the National Association of Postmasters of the United States will be made as the result of a meeting of thirty-two Nebraska postmasters here Tuesday, at the call of F. A. Moon of Fairbury, state director of the association. A meeting will be held at Grand Island next spring, to complete the organization, at which directors of the state association will be chosen.

Harold Menck, Grand Island, was named president of the state association. Albert Nache, Hebron, vice president and Marie Weekes, Norfolk, secretary-treasurer. Miss Marie Welch, Elba, national director of the association, was acting secretary. A committee on constitution and by-laws was appointed, which included David Sims, Hastings, chairman; J. H. Hutchins, Falls City, and Mrs. Ruth L. Mead, Western.

TO SPEED INCOME TAXES

Omaha.—George O'Malley, internal revenue collector for Nebraska, announced a drive to speed up collection of federal income taxes. O'Malley returned from Washington, where he attended a meeting of officials of all departments directed by the treasury.

All tax returns, he said, must be in the hands of the internal revenue bureau at Washington by July 1, instead of Dec. 31, as formerly. This will mean an increase of about sixteen persons in the Nebraska staff. Under the new regulations taxpayers will not be subjected to investigation of their returns after a period of eighteen months from the date of filing. Heretofore investigations have been conducted as long as four years after returns were filed.

SAYS APPEARANCE COUNTS

Omaha.—About 350 doctors from all sections of the United States arrived here for the seventh annual meeting of the medical association of the Missouri Pacific railroad.

Opininb the general program, Dr. Meyer Weiner, professor in clinical ophthalmic surgery at Washington university, St. Louis, told the doctors that it is now possible to remove almost any defect which tends to mar the individual's appearance, such as droopy lids, crossed eyes, muscular paralysis and epicanthus or mongol-type eyes.

"Improvement of the individual's appearance is not just a matter of conceit or vanity," he said, "but may have great bearing on his economic success."

HUNT HIT-RUN DRIVER

Omaha.—No clues were reported by members of the South Omaha Legion post who are seeking to learn the identity of the driver of the car that struck and killed Sam Carlson Saturday night. Legion members have commissioned themselves as private detectives in the hunt. They plan to follow any clues that might come to their attention.

BOMBERS IN MANEUVERS

Concord, N. H.—Ten of Uncle Sam's newest bombing planes landed after a formation flight of 1 hour and 26 minutes from Mitchell field, N. Y. The airman, under command of Maj. G. M. Giles, Laughley field, Va., came here for the opening of two weeks air maneuvers, to find the temperature 15 below zero.

Indoor Season Test for Olympic Contenders

Although the 1936 Olympic games at Berlin do not start until Aug. 2, the current indoor track season and the collegiate meets which will soon be under way provide an index as to what the personnel of the United States team will be. When the Olympic trials are held at the Triborough stadium in New York the first week in July, among those expected to flash to the front are Bill Bonthron in the 800 meters; Glenn Cunningham in the 1,500 meters; Percy Beard in the high hurdles; Jesse Owens in both the broad jump and speed events; Jack Torrance, giant shot putter, and Earle Meadows in the pole vault. United States is slated to take another first in the quadrennial meet, although Finland and Germany promise to challenge American supremacy.

away Wednesday afternoon, January 22, after an illness which extended over a number of years, her death occurring at the home of her son, Arthur, in Lincoln. She was 82 years of age.

Mrs. Stevenson was born in Busti, New York and at the age of 41 years moved with her parents to Mount Pleasant, Iowa, where she spent thirteen years attending the grade schools and the Howe seminary. Then the family came to Greenwood, settling on land which had been given to her grandfather for services in the War of 1812. She taught school in the Leder district north of Greenwood for a number of years. In 1873 she was married to James Stevenson and then they took up a homestead near Greenwood. Mr. Stevenson preceded her in death in 1920. She was a member of the Methodist church.

Besides her son, Arthur, she is survived by two other sons, Dr. E. C. Stevenson, of Gothenburg, and Charles, of Omaha; a sister, Mrs. Belle Rich of Los Angeles; thirteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Greenwood M. E. church with Rev. W. L. Ruyle of Lincoln officiating.

The pallbearers were Horace Wilson, Dr. N. D. Talcott, Oscar Harzook, J. B. Barton, A. E. Leesley and John Lambert. Burial was in the Greenwood cemetery.

$700 PLANE PROVES DREAM

New York.—The $700 airplane, sponsored by the United States bureau of air commerce, will cost $1,750, the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences was informed by T. P. Wright, director of engineering of the Curtiss-Wright corporation. Not even mass production on an automobile scale will bring the price at present under this, he said, because of the weight barrier.

A million planes, he explained, on the bureau's model and by auto production methods would cost 95 cents a pound. A million cars, which this plane was projected to imitate, cost only 22 cents a pound. The difference, the four-fold extra cost of the plane, Wright said, is due to the necessity for light weight.

The proposed price was to be attained by manufacturing not less than 10,000 of the flying fliers. Wright said the minimum selling price of this plane, in 10,000 lots, figures at $2,100. Knocking off profits and changing some of the bureau's specifications, he said, might cut the price to $1,750.

Seven Legislative Ladies Head Honor Role

Seven women, one a senator and six members of the house of representatives, are helping to establish the place of women in national politics. Three of the seven succeeded their husbands in congress. These seven who head the suffrage role of honor include Hattie W. Caraway, Democratic senator from Arkansas, appointed to succeed her husband on his death in 1931 and elected to a full term in 1933; Isabella Greenway (D.), Arizona's only representative; Virginia E. Jenckes, veteran Democrat and congresswoman from Indiana; Mary T. Norton (D.), representative from New Jersey; Edith N. Rogers, Massachusetts representative who has been a member of the house since her husband's death in 1925; Florence P. Kahn, of California, who succeeded her husband on his death in 1925 and has served since that time, and Caroline O'Day, Democratic congresswoman-at-large from New York since 1934. Five are Democrats and two are Republicans.
