CRIPPLED CHILDREN CAMPAIGN

The national Easter Seal campaign will reach its peak at the Easter season, starting March 15th. Plattsmouth should be ready to take its place in the fight to provide sufficient funds in this state for the care, cure and education of the crippled child, and to wage an active war against the major cause of crippledness, infantile paralysis.

Mrs. Howard Capwell of Elmwood, chairman of the county committee, reports "There are 3 crippled children for each 1,000 population. On this basis Cass county would register sixty crippled children. Figures throughout the state and nation show that during a depression a large percentage of these children do not receive the proper care."

From surveys made in Nebraska it has been estimated that there are 7,000 crippled children in our state. Membership in the Nebraska society for crippled children is $1 per year. Club or group memberships $10 annually.

If you feel that you could make a contribution to this cause enclose it in a letter to Mrs. Howard Capwell, Elmwood, Nebr.

WANT VOLTAGE REDUCED

Omaha.—A petition bearing 103 signatures was presented to Omaha city council Tuesday demanding an amendment to its franchise, forcing the Nebraska Power company to reduce its voltage in residential sections to 115.

The company, the petitioners charged, a short time ago arbitrarily increased its power to 120 volts. An increase in expense due to the necessity of purchasing new fuses, tubes for radios and damage to other electrical appliances resulted. It was charged. The raise in voltage was coincident with an announced reduction in rates. The petition was referred to the city electrician for investigation.

Dance to be a Feature of Jefferson Day

Young Democrats of County to Honor Birth of Party Founder—President Roosevelt to Speak.

Francis Hetherington, president of the Young Democratic club of Cass county, today announced that he had notified Frank Wickhem, president of the Young Democratic Clubs of America, that his organization was joining some 2000 other Young Democratic clubs throughout the nation in simultaneous Jefferson day dances in honor of the father of democracy on the evening of April 13th, Thomas Jefferson's birthday.

The forty-eight state presidents, the national committeemen and committeewomen of the Young Democratic Clubs of America will hold a regional convalesce in Baltimore during the day. At 10:30 p. m. eastern standard time, President Roosevelt will address them and a gathering of some 20,000 guests from Maryland and nearby states. Most of the party leaders will attend and the Maryland club officials say it will be one of the largest political gatherings in the history of the state.

The president's message is to be broadcast over a nation-wide hookup and Jefferson Day celebrants all over the country will listen in. As explained by Mr. Wickhem, a large number of the clubs were, for various reasons, unable to hold Jackson Day dinners and many of them have insisted they be given another opportunity to show their loyalty to the party and to help financially both the democratic national committee and the Young Democratic clubs' national organization. Each ticket to the dances will produce a profit and a substantial portion of the money sent to the national committee will be given to Mr. Wickhem's organization to be spent during the campaign to bolster up club activities.

It was explained that the plan is to hold costume dances of the Jeffersonian era, but the dancers of this community have vouched their preference to a modern dance. Therefore, the local Young Democrats have engaged the popular Rhythm Kings band, the orchestra that made such a hit here for the Easter dance last year.

The dance in Cass county will be held in Plattsmouth at the American Legion hall.

ACCEPT PEACE CONFERENCE

Washington.—President Roosevelt expressed hope that the forthcoming pan-American peace conference not only would result in practical accomplishments but would cement friendly relations among the people of the western hemisphere.

He made that statement to his press conference in formally announcing receipt of replies from all nations except Paraguay favoring his proposal that the conference be held sometime this year in Buenos Aires. A similar reply from Paraguay is expected soon.

MURDERER KILLS SELF

Dijon, France.—Michael Rosa, an Italian scheduled to be guillotined soon for killing two men, killed himself in an effort to escape from prison. He knocked down a guard as the latter entered his cell, and managed to reach the prison balcony. There, however, chained hand and foot, he plunged to his death.

Alfalfa Growers to Benefit from Soil Conserving

Fred Wallace, Gibbon Farmer, Outlines Benefits of Several Classes of Producer.

Kearney, Neb.—Alfalfa growers will benefit from the new soil conservation act as well as other farmers, says Fred Wallace, if Gibbon, chairman of the Nebraska AAA corn-hog board of review.

Discussing a resolution of alfalfa growers at Cozad recently, in which tests were raised against increased alfalfa production under the new act, Wallace said:

"The benefit payments (under the new act) will go to those who already have big acreage of such soil-conserving crops as alfalfa, as well as to farmers who agree to increase their present small acreages of such crops.

"The program will be just as fair to the man who has almost all his land in alfalfa as it will to the man who hasn't much land in soil-conserving crops right now. And when the big alfalfa producers include their benefit payments with the market price of crops, I think they'll be fully repaid for co-operating. Those payments, along with the market price of the crop, should more than take care of any possible sag in the market caused by new alfalfa acreages."

Wallace commented on the Cozad resolution on his return from Chicago where he attended a conference of farm interests, which suggested procedure for carrying out the new farm act.

WRITE FOR RELIEF UNITY

State NERA Administrator Witte said Monday he favored any unified Douglas county relief setup that would enable the federal government to withdraw from the relief picture.

The proposed welfare board would be a wise move, he thinks, but it isn't for him to decide as the problem belongs to the county commissioners. Witte said his organization would go ahead with liquidation of the Douglas county relief administration unless the situation is clarified at a meeting of the county board. He was to confer with Director C. F. McNeill of the DCRA at Omaha before continuing east by plane. Witte met staff division executives of the NERA here during the week end. Although a member of the field staff of the social security board, Witte still directs the federal relief program in Nebraska.

OWN PRESIDENT'S CHAIR

Falls City, Neb.—A cherished possession of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Rush is a large rocking chair once owned by Rutherford B. Hayes. President Hayes had the chair made for a personal friend, Bijah Joy, at the time the latter was editor of the Detroit Free Press. Joy in turn gave it to James Quimby, a close friend, and eventually it fell into the hands of Quimby's sons, Theodore and Henry Quimby, who were in partnership with Rush in the printing business at Greenwood, Ind. One day the printing office caught fire and Rush saved the chair. Mr. and Mrs. Rush named their oldest son Quimby after the Quimby brothers, and the famous chair was presented to the Rush family.

OVER 2,000 CROWS KILLED

Creston, Neb.—An airplane was used Sunday in the third Platte county crow hunt of the season. The plane succeeded in routing out huge flocks of the birds with the result that more than 2,000 of them bit the dust. About 35 persons took part in, or witnessed the slaughter, including several parties from Lincoln and Omaha. The hunt was staged on the farms of William Oeltjen, Fred Craig and Carl Loseke, near here.

As in the other hunts a crow banquet is planned at which the birds shot Sunday are to be cooked and eaten by the hunters. The move to exterminate the crows is on recommendation of experts at the college of agriculture. Large numbers of the birds were destroyed in previous hunts here this winter.

GEORGE EDMUND FOSS DEAD

Chicago.—George Edmund Foss, 72, former Illinois congressman whose interest in naval affairs won him the title of Father of the American Navy, died Sunday at his suburban home. Foss was a member of the committee on foreign affairs for four years. In 1902 Foss conceived the idea of establishing the great lakes naval training station at suburban North Chicago and induced a group of citizens to donate land as a site for the project. Twice he was a candidate for the senate on the republican ticket, in 1908 and again in 1918, but was defeated both times.

Tells Sarpy Constable of the Speed Limits

President of Nebraska County Attorneys Association Caught in Sarpy County Trap.

How the president of the Nebraska County Attorneys association instructed a constable and justice of the peace in Sarpy county about the state maximum speed law, with a supreme court justice's wife as a witness, was related at Scottsbluff by County Attorney Rush Clarke.

Clarke, president of the county attorneys association, his wife and Mrs. E. F. Carter, wife of Supreme Court Justice Carter, were on their way from Omaha to Lincoln. Clarke, anxious to get to Lincoln to attend a meeting of a club, was traveling about 65 miles an hour.

"I was flagged down by a constable," Clarke said, "who wanted to know where I as going in such a hurry. I told him. He asked me how fast I was going. I told him that, too. He asked me if I knew what the speed limit in Nebraska was, I said yes. Then he said I was exceeding the speed limit by 25 miles an hour—he insisted the maximum was 50 miles an hour."

The constable, charging Clarke was "one of those wise guys," took the entire party to the farm home of a justice of the peace. There Clarke, after some persuasion, was able to call the Sarpy county attorney. He explained the situation, and the county attorney told Clarke to proceed with his trip. The trio walked out of the farm house, the constable trailing behind.

"What did he (the county attorney) tell you?" the officer demanded. "Just what I was trying to tell you," Clarke retorted. "The speed limit in this state is a rate which is reasonable and proper."

The constable, when last seen, was thumbing thru his pocket copy of the Nebraska traffic laws.

SIX ROBBERIES CLEARED UP

Norfolk, Neb.—Six crimes, including a filling station robbery near Madison, two automobile thefts and three schoolhouse robberies, have been solved by Norfolk police since the arrest Sunday of Henry Boettcher, 26, while he was asleep in a house here.

Shortly after his arrest Boettcher admitted to Police Chief Blatt that he broke into Thomas Ambroz' filling station nine miles west of Madison Friday night and stole a large quantity of merchandise. Police recovered a part of the stolen goods. Boettcher later in the day told Sheriff Henry of Madison where he sold the remainder of the merchandise. Chief Blatt and Sheriff Schwartz of Pierce, then arrested John Schnable of Norfolk, on a charge of purchasing and having in his possession stolen property.

ORDINANCE KNOCKED OUT

Falls City, Neb.—District Judge Raper Saturday afternoon knocked out a Falls City ordinance imposing a $200 occupation tax on new merchandising firms. He ruled the tax is not a revenue producer but a penalty and the amount is discriminatory and might be unreasonable in some cases.

The ordinance provides for refund of the $200 if the concern remains in business a year. Its purpose was to eliminate fly-by-night concerns. Judge Raper granted a permanent injunction forbidding the prosecution of C. C. Bridges, manager of the Earl E. May Seed company Falls City branch. Bridges was arrested for failing to pay the $200.

INSTRUCTOR CHANGES MIND

Hastings.—That youth in Germany does not want war and would not go to war was the contention of Miss Clara Altman, professor of German, in the finale of the Hastings college faculty lecture series here. She spent last summer in Germany. She left Germany with a feeling of favor toward Hitler's experiment in government, in spite of her dislike of his attitude toward the Jews. She added that Germany's recent occupation of the Rhine territory has altered her attitude somewhat, and she is less certain now than two weeks ago that German youth would not fight.
