Warren T. Richard has been feeling not the very best and with a number of dizzy spells coming when he was not looking for them, was kept to his bed for a time, but at last reports was feeling much improved. W. Horses, Mares, Mules, for Sale I have a number of good teams, mares and mules, all good workers, also a good Shorthorn bull, which I am offering for sale. Inquire at Wabash store, JERRY SMITH, Wabash. m23-2tWd Killed the Bugs. Bugs, bugs, thousands of the red bugs called many years ago, Harrison bugs, and with the cold weather that prevailed it was thought that they were all frozen, but when Parker Otte sat in front of the store on a bench the bugs swarmed over him and going into the store he and Sherman Hardaway entered into an offensive and defensive act, and getting a gallon of kerosene, they saturated the front of the store with the oil and Sherman with a broom began to demolish the hordes of pests and after a season of hard work they completed their battle and swept the remains into the street. But we are wondering if they were killed or would they come again the following day?

Care of Youth of the Country is Advised

National D. A. R. Education Chairman Urges Women to Forget Social Events. Grand Island.—"The right kind of Americanism depends upon contacts with the youth of the country; I wish you would forget other things less important, such as teas and other social events, and take care of the youth of the country," Mrs. Vinton Earl Sisson, Winnetka, Ill., national chairman of the committee on national defense thru patriotic education of the Daughters of the American Revolution, urged Thursday night as guest speaker at the annual conference banquet of the D. A. R. in Nebraska. The banquet was attended by 157 persons. Mrs. Frank W. Baker, Omaha, state regent, was toastmistress. The flag award was made by Mary Katharine Goddard chapter, Omaha, for the highest percent of increase in membership during the year. Award of the state historian's prize was made to Mrs. J. E. Chilcote, McCook, whose citation of the most historic spot in Nebraska was deemed best of a number submitted. TOUHY COURT MOVE FAILS

Minneapolis.—Motions for dismissal of mail robbery charges against Tommy Touhy were denied by Federal Judge Nordbye as the defense opened its case with one of its chief witnesses—the wife of the defendant—seriously ill. J. R. Roach, one of Touhy's attorneys, said Mrs. Touhy was suffering from heart disease. She collapsed in a faint Tuesday outside court, where she had been a daily spectator up to that time. She was expected to testify her husband was ill in Chicago when eight men looted government mails here Jan. 3, 1933, in contradiction of closing testimony for the government that Touhy participated in that crime and shared the spoils. Roach moved for dismissal of all ten counts against the defendant on grounds the government had failed to prove its case by circumstantial evidence. This motion was denied.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

Tangible evidence that the Continental Oil company's heavy use of newspaper space in its marketing territory during 1935 was a sound advertising move is indicated in the figures of the company's annual report for 1935 just issued. These show that the company increased the volume of its general business as well as its profits, and that it enjoyed a notable gain in the sales of its patented "germ-processed" motor oils. This product, which was especially stressed in the company's advertising, had an increase in sales of over 14 per cent. In comparison with the figures for the previous year. Continental recently announced that it would again expend the larger part of its 1936 advertising appropriation for newspaper space.

YOUTHS GET "BUMS RUSH"

Nebraska City.—Workings of the California vagrancy law were described by three Nebraska youths who arrived here via slow freight after having been given the "bum's rush" in the sunshine state. The trio was Mike Sullivan, 23, Cedar Rapids, Neb., and Roy Munson, 21, and his brother, George, 35, Fullerton. They had worked in southern California oil fields from November until March 1 when they decided to go to northern California. Arriving in Los Angeles, they were picked up under the vagrancy act and each sentenced to 180 days in jail. After a few hours in the bull pen, the balance of the sentence was suspended and they were herded, together with several score other victims, into a freight car headed for Yuma, Ariz. Should they ever return to California they will be forced to serve the remainder of their term.

TOWN LOOTED BY HOODLUMS

Pittsburgh.—A. W. Noland, police chief at flood swept Leetsdale, twenty-five miles below Pittsburgh on the Ohio river, appealed for soldiers to control the "hoodlums who are over-running the town." Col. William E. Dunlap, commanding the 107th and 176th field artillery, Pennsylvania national guards, ordered troops to Leetsdale in trucks. He drew nearly 100 men from forces guarding Pittsburgh and Ambridge and sent them to the stricken town. Noland said "our police are powerless to cope with the situation" and added: "These hoodlums seem to have gathered on Leetsdale from everywhere. They brought trucks with them and are breaking into business places and robbing them and looting homes from which the flood waters have subsided."

LAUDS BRYAN IN HOUSE

Washington.—William Jennings Bryan was eulogized in the house on the 76th anniversary of his birth by Representative Luckey (d., Neb.). Tracing Bryan's humble beginning and rise, Luckey, said he "consistently championed the cause of the common man and the cause of social justice. This he did with a fervor and a zeal that grew out of his faith. He never swerved from the course that made him the true defender of the rights of the humble against the powerful forces of privilege and entrenched greed."

LOUISE TO HIGH COURT

Hastings, Neb.—Louise Vinciquerra Haning, Hastings roadhouse operator and former Omaha figure, gave notice of appeal to the supreme court after District Judge Munday overruled her motion for a new trial. A jury had found her guilty on two liquor charges on her appeal from a similar police court finding. She was fined $100 and costs on each count, the maximum under city ordinance. She is at liberty under $500 bond.

Candidate for Unicameral Gives His Viewpoints

Ernest Haning for Honesty, Horse Sense and No Foolin' in Government.

TO THE VOTERS OF CASS AND SARPY COUNTIES:

As a candidate for Representative for Cass and Sarpy counties, will say I am 54 years old and have farmed in southeast Nebraska for 30 years. I realize that I am unknown to a majority of the voters of my district, but believe honesty and principle are of more importance than personal acquaintance. Not having been a former member of the Legislature, I do not have to apologize for my former record. In politics, I am a Liberal Republican.

ERNEST HANING

but am opposed to hampering sound legislation thru political prejudice. Let us have a short and efficient session by eliminating useless legislation which is of no value to business or society. I believe in financing old age pensions by a general sales tax, which will operate on the buying capacity of the public in general, rather than upon the buyer of gasoline, as is done at present. There are not enough improved "farm-to-market" roads for the amount of gas tax collected in the state. Instead of paved race tracks, give us better roads in the rural communities.

In short, let us have "Honesty, Horse Sense and No Foolin' in Government."

ERNEST HANING.

Backer of Lower Tax Hit by Hard Times

Organizer of Support for a Cut in Tax Levy Fails to Sign Up J. P. Morgan.

Washington.—J. A. Arnold, who says he made the nation—especially the Bronx—tax conscious, told the senate lobby committee that hard times had descended upon the business of soliciting funds for promoting a public liking for low taxes. Andrew W. Mellon helped his organization—the American Taxpayers league—to the extent of $1,000, and two or three du Ponts chipped in $10 apiece, but Arnold said he couldn't "get a rise" out of J. P. Morgan. Revenues have slumped from $200,000 a year to $45,000. The witness said his work did not involve lobbying. Use of that word distressed him deeply. He was engaged, he insisted, in molding public sentiment. He called the group a "pole cat committee," when Senator Schwelmbach (d., Wash.) suggested that he had a "sucker list."

Meanwhile, new deal legal difficulties loomed for the committee as the result of its practice of subpoenaing telegrams. It was learned that suits of William Randolph Hearst to end such activities might be supplemented by injunction suits brought by three other publishers. The Western Union company, in an answer filed to the first Hearst suit, said the committee had "recalled, revoked and canceled" the subpoena involved, and that therefore it had no intention to produce the telegram originally requested. Representative McSwain (d., S. C.) read a copy of a telegram given him by the committee. In it, Hearst suggested a series of editorials calling for McSwain's impeachment with his chief Washington editorial writer, James T. Williams, Jr.

Hearst papers published another telegram from Hearst to Williams, saying of the first: "Whether accurate or not, it contains some remarks about McSwain which a great many patriotic citizens will be disposed to endorse." Committee members expressed belief that wealthy people and others who contributed to Arnold's organization got little or nothing in return for their money, while he stuck to a reiterated assertion that the "greatest suckers of all" were those who contributed to the democratic party.

CARS CRASH NEAR NURSE

Omaha.—Charles Rohwer, 58, Douglas county farmer, and Buster Fox, Oakdale truck driver, couldn't have selected a much better place for their automobile-truck collision Thursday night. Their machines came together at an inn on the Dodge road, and the wreckage smashed a parked car belonging to Miss Rosemary Tuttle, an Omaha nurse who was inside conducting a first aid class. Miss Tuttle took charge of first aid treatment for the two men and Rohwer's 21 year old daughter, Lorraine, and accompanied them to a hospital in an ambulance. Rohwer suffered head injuries and bruises and Lorraine was cut and bruised. Fox was only slightly hurt. Two hogs in Fox's truck were killed when the truck upset.

DANCE CASE UP TO COURT

Hastings, Neb.—District Judge Munday Friday afternoon took under advisement a hearing on a writ of error filed by Lib Phillips, amusement park operator, against Adams county supervisors who declined to grant him a dance license last August. Attorneys were given 35 days to submit briefs. The supervisors first denied the license, which was a renewal, then granted one on the condition that Phillips hold no Sunday dances. Phillips refused to abide by the Sunday ruling and the license was denied again. County Attorney Nuss withdrew from the case after he gave an opinion that the supervisors could not prohibit Sunday dancing while the state law allows it.

FIFTEEN OUNCE GIRL DIES

East St. Louis, Ill. A 15-ounce baby girl, born three months prematurely as its mother lay injured in the street after being struck by a hit and run truck, lost its brief battle for life. The tiny infant, cotton swathed in a hospital incubator, died less than twenty-four hours after the mother, Mrs. May Womack, 39, was hurled to the pavement by a truck which did not stop.

LABOR LEADERS ASK PEACE DEFENDS ACTS OF COMPANY

London.—Leaders of labor from fifteen European countries, aroused by fears of another world conflagration, gathered here to demand peace under a threat of collective opposition to war. A total membership of 36 millions, was represented by the leaders. Two delegates from the German social democratic party were among the labor forces determined to combat war. A series of secret meetings of allied bodies prepared the stage for a joint session Thursday. Despite the German representation, it was understood French socialist members have prepared a resolution condemning Germany for re-militarizing the Rhineland. Leaders were yet wary of disclosing what measures would be used to enforce their demands, but did not deny they might be drastic. It has been pointed out that the powerful organizations represented could exert a tremendous pressure thru the threat of general strikes.

Washington.—Violation of a federal trade commission order that the concern desist from the "Pittsburgh plus" system of fixing prices was charged by Chairman Wheeler (d., Mont.) of the senate interstate commerce committee and quickly denied by one of the corporation's vice presidents. Reading the federal trade commission order of 1924 prohibiting use of the system by which Pittsburgh was the company's sole base point, Wheeler asked Robert Gregg, vice president in charge of sales: "In your opinion do you believe you are complying with that order?" "I do," Gregg replied. "I have to disagree with you," said Wheeler. Gregg added that after the order was issued the company filed with the commission a statement that it would obey. "That statement has been wholly lived up to," Gregg said.

George E. Nickles for Member Legislature Most important in the welfare of every citizen is good laws and their enforcement. Legislators are chosen for the purpose of enacting laws and all should vote personally on all bills, for or against them. I have been your representative during the last two sessions just past and I desire to return to the next session that I may see written into the Assembly rules a mandate compelling every member to personally vote for or against all bills and not skulk in the cloak rooms. I would have this rule enforced and an infraction punished by a heavy fine and the name of person not complying with same placed on dishonorable list. You have kept in touch with my work in the two former terms and know where I stand on all major bills and how I have stood as against wasteful squandering of the Taxpayers' money. If you agree with my work and my record, I ask your co-operation and your support at the polls. Come, let us work together! PRIMARIES TUESDAY, APRIL 14, 1936 GEO. E.
