

Large Crowd Attends Service for Baccalaureate

Eighty-two Graduates Addressed by Rev. G. A. Pahl Sunday Evening at Presbyterian Church.

Rev. G. A. Pahl opened the baccalaureate service at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening with the prelude, "Even Song" by Johnston. "Festal March" was the procession. The doxology followed and Rev. V. C. Wright pronounced the invocation.

"I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes" by Rogers was given as the choir anthem. Mrs. Glen Terryberry sang "I Shall Not Pass Again This Way" as a vocal solo. Rev. J. W. Taenzler presented the scripture reading and Dr. H. G. McClusky, the pastoral prayer.

"Bring Me Up Samuel" was the scripture reference used for the baccalaureate address by Rev. G. A. Pahl. His sermon topic was "The Ghost of a Chance."

"The most pitiful experience in life is the realization of having lost a great opportunity in life and to want the ghost of an old chance back again," Rev. Pahl said. "If we look far enough we see, not only persons, but nations at Endor's Cave, praying for a ghost of an old chance back again. Through the foolish game of war and lust for power visions have been blinded of seeing opportunities.

"Opportunities are also lost in personal life in the vocations as well as in society, in marriage, education, and religion. Few people get their first choice. Often the second best has to be accepted thus circumstantial handicaps present themselves. Often handicaps prove a challenge and desire to succeed in spite of disadvantages.

"Education and religion are not to be used merely as something in a book but are to be a part of the life, personality and character of the person. . . . The scripture is not given as something gloomy and desperate but in hopes that Samuel will be appreciated while we have him.

"My prayer is that you will appreciate your Samuel, your opportunities, give ear to them, and transmit them into action. I pray God may help you to realize them your opportunities and spare you the tragedy of sometime going down to Endor's Cave.

Rev. Pahl played "Jubilate Deo" as the postlude.

Dictator and Son

When not engaged in controlling Cuba with an iron hand, Col. Fulgencio Batista, dictator of the island republic, spends much of his time keeping physically fit. Here he is bicycling with his three-year-old son, Papo, near their home at Havana.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY

From Monday's Daily—A special grand jury in the United States district court at Topeka, Kansas, convened this morning to hear evidence against Robert Suhay and Glen Applegate, alias Alfred Powers, charged with murder of H. W. Baker in the U. S. postoffice at Topeka on April 16th.

These are the two men captured here by Sheriff Homer Sylvester and Deputy Sheriff Cass Sylvester.

District Attorney Summerfield Alexander is asking the death penalty for the two men for the slaying of the G-man at Topeka, and if the indictments are returned the case will probably be called for trial in the middle of June.

The Cass county sheriff and deputy will be witnesses in the trial of the case but were not called for the grand jury.

Death of Mrs. Will T. Adams at Lincoln

After Illness of Some Duration Loved Resident of Community Many Years, Passes Away.

From Tuesday's Daily—This morning at 7:45 at the home of her son, Maxwell Adams, at Lincoln, occurred the death of Mrs. Ella Adams, 70, widow of the late Will T. Adams, following a long period of ill health and within the past week her condition gave little hope of her recovery. She has suffered a bronchial ailment for the past several years.

Ella Cole, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cole, was born in the state of Ohio and when a child of tender years was brought by her parents to Cass county, Nebraska, where she resided with the parents on the farm near this city in her girlhood and young womanhood.

On June 5, 1887 she was married to William T. Adams, member of one of the pioneer families of Cass county and for many years they resided on the farm just south of this city until they moved into Plattsmouth and made their home here until the death of Mr. Adams and since which Mrs. Adams has largely made her home with the children, a greater part of the time with the son, Maxwell and family after their location at Lincoln.

There is surviving four children, Maxwell, Lincoln; Mrs. P. E. Brown, Kearney; Mrs. Harry Nielsen and Jacob E. Adams of this city. One daughter, Mrs. Harriett Pittman preceded the parents in death. There also survives one sister, Mrs. Henry F. Goos of this city.

Mrs. Adams was a lady loved by those who knew her best and a kind and loving wife and mother whose passing will bring a deep sorrow to the members of the family and those who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

She has lived her life quietly and unassumingly in the community, filled with the love of her home and family and her going is a distinct loss to the community.

The body will be brought from Lincoln to the former home on North Eighth street, to remain until the funeral services which will be held on Thursday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church.

PATRON'S DAY

Pupils and teachers of the Weeping Water grade school held a Patron's day program Thursday, May 13. During the afternoon demonstration classes were observed in the various rooms and following this, tea was served on the second floor. Miss Helen Gorder invited the guests to the hall which was decorated with spring flowers and a beautifully appointed tea table, presided over by the Misses Beatrice Spohn and Marguerite Trost.

GRASSHOPPER POISON BRINGS GOOD RESULTS

Many kills are estimated at 90% in the grasshopper infested areas by farmers who have used the poisoned bran. Heavy demand has come in from all sections of the county. The west section of the county shows an especially bad hopper situation. One farmer at Greenwood reports a ten acre field of extra early corn cleaned in one day by the hoppers.

Farmers who have not yet called for the bran are urged to do so. Sacks of 80 pounds are being distributed at $1.15 to infested areas. The bran should be spread between 6 and 9 a. m. In hot, dry weather spreading may start at sunrise or earlier, but should not continue after 10 a. m. Poisoning in cold, rainy, or cloudy weather is not usually satisfactory.

Great care should be taken that bait does not fall in lumps or piles, as these are dangerous to poultry or livestock. Placing bait in piles or scattering so poorly that it lies in lumps not only reduces the kill of grasshoppers but is a violation of the state law governing exposure of poisons.

Five to ten pounds of bran, dry weight, are enough to cover an acre. On large areas bait may be scattered in strips from two to four rods apart. The bait should be sprinkled within 48 hours of purchase. Arsenic is slow acting and requires three to five days to make a good kill.

HAS OPERATION

From Tuesday's Daily—Mrs. Leona Adams, sister of Dr. O. C. Hudson, had an operation at the Kani hospital in Omaha yesterday. Dr. and Mrs. Hudson went to Omaha and doctor assisted with the operation.

PLANS MADE FOR A PIONEER GATHERING

Plans are being completed for the pioneer picnic at the Guy White home southeast of Plattsmouth. A basket dinner is scheduled for the noon hour Sunday, May 30. A program with speaking and musical numbers will open at two o'clock. The picnic and memorial service are sponsored by the Young Cemetery association and the public is invited.

Last year the picnic was held on May 31. Over 200 gathered at the home of Wm. Young, now the old home of his granddaughter, Mrs. Guy White. The picnic was such a success that it was decided to make the affair an annual event honoring the descendants of the early pioneers of eastern Cass county.

At the meeting the Young Cemetery association was organized with George Hall, president; A. G. Long, vice president; Mrs. Clara Young White, secretary and treasurer. Members of the board of control are A. G. Long, Charles M. Read, and Mrs. Guy White.

Among the numbers appearing on Sunday's program will be music by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wescott, and talks by L. S. Devoe and Dr. G. H. Gilmore.

RETURNING FROM VACATION

From Wednesday's Daily—Attorney D. O. Dwyer is expected home today or Thursday from Excelsior Springs, Missouri, where he has been for the past several days recuperating and resting. He has been greatly refreshed by the stay in the popular Missouri health resort and will resume his legal work with renewed vigor.

Mrs. Dwyer is planning on leaving in the next few days for the south to visit with relatives at Birmingham, Alabama, and at Americus, Georgia, her parental home and will visit many of the points of interest in that part of the south.
