UNION ITEMS.

Mr. and Mrs. Fowler spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Becker.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hoback spent Sunday with their parents at the Henry Becker home.

Frank and Jack, old pals, were calling on friends in Plattsmouth a short time Sunday afternoon.

C. J. Mullis, of Nebraska City spent Wednesday afternoon with his daughter, Mrs. Henry Becker.

A. B. Elrod, the horse trainer, was looking after business in Union on Monday of this week, calling on his friend, E. E. Leach.

Mrs. J. D. Cross presented a fine bouquet of flowers, including some very beautiful roses, to her friend, Mrs. Carper, which was greatly enjoyed by the recipient.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Glover were guests last Sunday at the home of Miss Augusta Robb. The visitors are cousins of Miss Augusta, being niece and nephew of her father, the late Mont Robb.

H. H. Becker and son have been making some repairs on the deep well at the E. E. Leach place. The well is 165 feet deep and requires considerable equipment and skill in making the repairs.

George A. Stites attended a joint meeting of Nebraska and Kansas grain dealers at Superior a few days ago. Problems of interest to the grain dealers of this section of the country were discussed.

Miss Nola Banning was a visitor in Lincoln for a number of days, calling on school friends there, especially one of her sister teachers in the Nebraska schools, where Miss Nola is to teach the coming year.

Harold Crawford was in Plattsmouth last Monday, where he was looking for work at the Norfolk Packing company's plant, but as there was no spinach coming in, he was not able to secure any work at present and returned home.

A goodly number of the business men of Union as well as others of the community went to Omaha Monday night to attend the Ak-Sar-Ben den show and witness the premier presentation of "Historical Hysteria," a story dealing with the early days of river navigation on the Missouri river.

Mrs. H. A. Chilcott visited her friend, Mrs. Fannie Elkenberry, last Sunday afternoon. While in the midst of her visit, she was surprised when a group of relatives from Omaha arrived from Omaha to pay her a visit, so she accompanied them back to her home and was hostess to her own guests for the rest of the afternoon.

E. W. Thingan, who has charge of the government's sanitation project, with a workshop and group of workmen in Plattsmouth where the finest of Chic Styles houses are being turned out to supply the ever increasing demand, has just completed the installation of two at the Sedota school house and one on the Everett farm. Purchasers pay only the cost of the material required—the government paying the wages of the workmen and other installation costs, including transportation.

Visiting Friends Here
Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Probst, of Jacksonville, Florida, arrived in Union last week and have been visiting here for some days. They expect to return to the south some time the last of this week or the fore part of next week. While here, they are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Leach. During their stay, they made a brief trip to Tecumseh, where Mr. Probst had business matters to look after.

Home from the Navy
Raymond Braund, son of Joseph Braund, who has just completed a four year hitch in the United States Navy, returned home last week and will make his home here for the present, at least. The young man has seen much territory during his four years of service and sailed on about all the "seven" seas, visiting many countries, but is glad to get back to Union, where he grew up, and where he has many friends who are glad to see him again.

In Love with the West
Miss Opal Griffin, who some time ago accompanied her aunt to California, writes to the folks here saying she is enraptured with the glorious west and is very desirous that the family come there to reside. The parents are thinking of making a visit to the west as soon as they can conveniently arrange to do so, but aver it will be only a visit, and they have no intention of making it their home.

Enjoyed Passing Birthday
Mrs. Clara James, whose birthday occurred on Friday of last week, came to town with an abundance of fried chicken and a freezer full of the finest home made ice cream and with Lanna Barber and Paul Davis made up a merry party that came to the home of Mrs. James' sister, Mrs. Mary Davis, where they spent an enjoyable evening celebrating the occasion.

Here from West Coast
Mrs. Vilas Sheldon has been enjoying a visit from a number of her sisters, Mrs. Hattie White, Mrs. Eva Hitchman and Mrs. Lottie Shotwell, all of whom are here from their homes in Los Angeles for a visit with the relatives in and about Nehawka. The four ladies came to Union to spend a day visiting with old acquaintances, including Mrs. J. D. Cross, the hospitality of whose home they shared while here. Later, Mrs. Cross went with them to the country home of Mrs. Gertrude Wolph near Nehawka, where they spent a most pleasant afternoon. The six had been school girls together a number of years ago, and enjoyed very much the pleasures of this reunion visit. They visited old familiar scenes in Nehawka, Union, Wyoming and Nebraska City during the time of their stay in Cass county, and recounted the days of a half century ago.

The sisters from the west, expect to leave for home within the next week.

An account of their recent visit to Nebraska City appears elsewhere in this paper.

Taken Back to Hospital
Herman C. Ross, who has been very ill for some time past, being at the Clarkson hospital for treatment for some weeks, and following that at home for nearly two months, was taken worse during the past week and had to return to the hospital this week. His condition is very serious and is causing his family and friends much apprehension. It is hoped that he may soon be able to return home again and that this time his improvement will be permanent.

Woman's Club Elects Officers
Mrs. Eugene Roddy, who is a member of the Union Woman's club, and an earnest worker in the organization, entertained the members at her home recently. A fine program was rendered, followed by an equally fine luncheon.

At the business meeting, officers were elected for the coming year, as follows:

Mrs. K. Madison, president; Mrs. Grace Meisinger, vice president; Mrs. R. R. Anderson, secretary, and Mrs. Grace Greene, treasurer.

A surprise was given the members at the meeting, as Mrs. J. R. Pearson was selected as the leader, this fact not being known until just before the meeting was called to order. She brought with her a friend, Mrs. Ora E. Copes, who spoke at length on Pottery and exhibited many specimens, some from Louisville, Mrs. Copes exhibited some dishes which were used in the White House during President Wilson's term of office. Mrs. Fannie Elkenberry entertained the ladies with an original poem which was a take off on the members, and especially the retiring officers. This produced a great deal of amusement and with the instructive discourse on Pottery made up a finely balanced program.

Lost Game to Auburn
The league leading Auburn baseball team came to Union last Sunday for their, regularly scheduled game with the local team, winning by a score of 14 to 3. Auburn has been playing top-notch ball and is well out ahead of the other teams in the league, including Plattsmouth Merchants and Nebraska City.

Serious Wreck Sunday
Sunday morning while two soldiers from Fort Crook and their two lady companions were returning from a dance which had kept them out all night, as they were coming east near the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lindsay, their car, a late model V-8 Ford, left the pavement while traveling at a high rate of speed. The driver sought to get it back on the concrete, but without success and soon the outside wheels left the shoulder of the grade and precipitated the car across a ditch striking and breaking down a hedge post and going through into an adjoining wheat field. After rolling over several times, it came to rest in the wheat field, with all of the occupants more or less bruised and cut from flying glass. The driver had one of his ankles broken and his brother, who owned the car, was cut in numerous places. One of the women had a severe gash in her hip and the other one had so many bruises they could not be counted, and her face badly cut as well.

Shower for Mrs. Glen Hoback
Mrs. Carl Everett and Mrs. Roy Mullis were hostesses as a shower for Mrs. Glen (Genevieve) Hoback Sunday afternoon. The time was pleasantly spent in playing games, and similar contests that afforded much enjoyment.

The guest of honor received many beautiful and useful gifts. Prior to hour of departure refreshments of ice cream, waters and coffee were served by the hostesses.

Those present besides the guest of honor included Mrs. Frank Anderson, Mrs. Martha McQuinn, Mrs. Sara McQuinn, Mrs. Henry Becker, Mrs. Roy Becker, Edith Hoback, Mrs. Fern Everett, of Nebraska City, Mrs. Wilber Mullis and family of Syracuse, Miss Faune, of Denver, Colorado and Mrs. Fowler, of Omaha, together with the hostesses, Mrs. Carl Everett and Mrs. Roy Mullis and family.
