HAWAIIAN DISHES AT HOME

By Betty Barclay

Perhaps these are not native Hawaiian dishes, but at least they bear Hawaiian names and call for a liberal supply of canned Hawaiian pineapple juice. Either dish will prove very popular—and the name lends almost as much enchantment as the flavor.

Oahu Surprise
 3/4 tablespoon gelatine
 2 tablespoons cold water
 1 1/2 cups canned Hawaiian pineapple juice
 5 tablespoons sugar
 5 marshmallows (cut into small pieces)
 2 red maraschino cherries, sliced thin
 2 green maraschino cherries, sliced thin
 1/4 cup toasted pecan halves
 1/2 cup whipping cream
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1/4 cup toasted coconut

Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes. Heat 1/2 cup pineapple juice, add gelatine and sugar, stir until dissolved, add remaining pineapple juice. When jelly starts to thicken, add marshmallows, cherries and nuts, place in fancy molds and chill. When set, unmold on cold dessert plates, completely cover with whipped cream, to which 2 tablespoons sugar have been added, sprinkle with the toasted coconut and serve. Six servings.

Graham Pineapple Mold
 1 tablespoon butter
 1 1/2 cups canned Hawaiian pineapple juice
 2 tablespoons cornstarch
 1/2 cup crushed graham crackers
 1/2 cup pecan meats
 1 cup finely cut coconut
 1/2 cup diced bananas

Add butter to pineapple juice and bring to a boil. Stir in cornstarch, which has been mixed with 2 tablespoons cold water, and cook until thick and clear. Remove from heat and cool. Fold in other ingredients. (Add sugar and a dash of salt if desired.) Fill a well-buttered fancy mold or individual molds and chill thoroughly. Unmold and serve as a salad with a garnish of lettuce or as a desert with a rosette of whipped cream. Six servings.

THE ROLL CALL

No. 6 is a pile driver on the old Mazzu. With nine men they call her counterfeit crew. Red Williams is our foreman and a darn good guy. He must be away from the job to touch his rye. Winiers and Louie are crap shootin' fools. Much better indeed than with Farney's tools. Honch is a pile shagger, a good worker too; Carl and Les are "Niggerhead-ers," the best of the few. Yankee is our inspector, a very good sport. Rather tall and not too short. I am the freman, Herb's the engineer. He tells me the finish is getting pretty near. So I'll take his word and sign off now; Looks like we might have to go back to the farm and plow.
