

City Dads Meet

Insurance company stood ready to defend the city against any actions that might be started to recover under the policies where contested.

City Attorney J. Howard Davis stated that the Hatt claim was a moral and legal obligation of the city to make proper settlement. It should be the duty of the insurance company to make settlement of the claim. The city had paid their insurance premiums and should have the protection for their employees.

Searl S. Davis, former councilman, was present and stated that he was interested in the outcome of the matter as at the time of the city contracting the insurance he had wondered at the possibility of the successful carrying out of the contract under the premium charged. The company or its agents should have checked over the firemen to see if they were certified and confirmed. The speaker had personally looked this up when he had carried the city policy.

On motion of Councilman Webb, seconded by Councilman Schutz, the city refuse any return of premiums, that the city assume a friendly attitude in the litigation with Mr. Hatt that might be necessary to secure his claim. This was unanimously passed.

The motion was then introduced by Webb and seconded by Tippens, that the mayor and finance committee be empowered to secure protection in other companies for the city; that the present policy be cancelled as of July 1st and that the new policy be made effective of that date. This was also unanimously carried.

After the presentation of a large number of work orders the council adjourned.

The claims allowed were as follows:

ATTENDS SAFETY COUNCIL

County Attorney J. A. Capwell was at Omaha Tuesday where he attended the meeting of the state safety council that is being held in that city. Mr. Capwell found many interesting discussions and talks on the program and covering all phases of the safety movements.

While at Omaha Mr. Capwell was given a driving test and came through in fine shape with a rating of ninety. This feature was conducted by one of the large insurance companies as a means of developing better drivers among the auto owners of the nation.

Mr. Capwell may attend the national safety council meeting in the fall as in his office he has much contact with cases of carelessness in handling motor vehicles.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Miss Josephine Clifford of this city, who is at the University hospital at Omaha, was operated on this week for a bone graft on the injured hip that she sustained over a year ago in a fall. Miss Clifford fell on a sidewalk during a very severe sleet storm in the early part of 1936 and since that time she has been bedfast practically all of the time.

The operation was to remove a section of bone in the hip and to graft new bone in the hope that the patient may be able to again walk.

The last report was to the effect that she is doing as well as possible under the circumstances.

ATTENDING OMAHA U.

LIVING UP TO MY AD

Giving you tops in Mileage

I know the trouble. So many oil ads yell mileage, that you can't tell one way or another. I don't want my own ads to be in that class, so I'd like you to know all I'm staking, when I personally recommend Conoco Germ Processed oil to you. In my case, you see, I'm the owner of my business. And there's nothing makes repeat customers for me like my Germ Processed oil... or I ought to say, the long mileage it gives you. The patent Germ Process makes this oil get fastened real firm to the bearings and cylinders and other parts—as if they'd been built with an actual plating of oil that can't separate... can't thin out and burn right up. Neither is it going to run down every time you stop. Then you can't make any "dry starts" with Oil-Plating, and right there is where engineers say you will end a good half of all the wear you used to get in Summer. The less wear, the less oil your engine eats. You'll get on to this yourself, from your cool quiet Oil-Plated engine. And that's how I make another good friend for my Conoco Germ Processed oil.
