The work is under the supervision of forestry, park and conservation representatives of the Federal and State governments.

The men will also be subject to emergency calls on any day, at any hour of the day or night, to assist in emergencies affecting life or property. Except in emergencies, men will work 40 hours per week, made up of eight hours per day from Monday to Friday, inclusive. Last time will be made up on Saturdays.

Nehawka Store Plans to Start a Trailer Service

Sheldon Store, One of Oldest in County to Carry Merchandise to Farm Residents.

The Sheldon store, one of the oldest in Cass county, established in 1888, is now taking up a new venture in this part of the west, that of a grocery and meat market on wheels.

The "Covered Wagon" trailer was received Wednesday from Detroit where it was bought by M. N. Tucker and Glenn LeDoyt and is now at Lincoln to have shelving installed as well as the refrigeration for the meat cases. It will be equipped with a refrigerator for fresh and cured meats and other perishable articles and shelves will hold canned goods and groceries. The store on wheels will stop at a farm home and the lady of the house may go into the store and where she may inspect the stock and buy what she needs in the grocery and meat line. If the farmer's wife has any eggs for sale, they will be purchased just the same as the store in town. Farmers may also phone their order to the store for delivery, if they live on the route the traveling store will make that day.

The store will roll out of Nehawka early each morning. At present it is planned to have three routes that will be covered twice a week. Of course, in a venture of this kind, other plans may be resorted to. We understand Sheldon Mitchell and "Bob" Burton will operate the store on wheels.

It is said that in other states this new system of merchandising groceries and meats is being used quite successfully, and Nehawka will be the first place in Nebraska to try out the plan.

PRaises LOCAL OFFICE

The local office of the United States and Nebraska Employment Service has received very high words of praise from one of the large contracting firms that has had experience in securing men through this means. The letter given below is one that speaks well for the work of Mr. Edgerton and his assistants:

Bartlett, Iowa,
July 2, 1937.

To Whom It May Concern: In all our dealings with the National Re-employment Service in connection with our Bartlett-Van-Horn Bend contract on the Missouri river, we have found the service of the Plattsmouth, Nebr., office far superior to that of any of the other offices through which we have requisitioned labor.

The personnel of the Plattsmouth office have always been accommodating in trying to locate the right man for the job and endeavored to get him on the job at the correct time. Due to the service furnished by their office, we have given them a far greater number of our requisitions than we have to any other office. A fact that is shown in the record of our employees. Even after our headquarters were moved to the Iowa side of the river the Plattsmouth office have always been more prompt than the Iowa offices to furnish us men.

I do not hesitate to express my opinion that this superior service is due to the efficiency of the employees of the Plattsmouth office.

BILHORN, BONER AND PETERS, INC.

Guy White noticed his three-year-old daughter, Phoebe, crying Thursday afternoon and asked what was wrong.

"Bite, bite," the child answered. She was holding a kitten and Mr. White asked if the kitten had scratched her.

"No, jump," Phoebe said. Mr. White looked to the ground and saw a bull snake. At the child's waist three small holes were found through the dress and into the flesh. The snake had evidently been stepped on by the child and struck in retaliation.

Phoebe was rushed to the doctor, who pronounced the bite harmless. She has suffered no ill effects.

Plan Warfare Against Horde of Grasshoppers

Chamber of Commerce Committee to Co-operate in Battle to Destroy Threat to Crops.

Friday evening there was a meeting held of the members of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Plattsmouth. The object of the meeting was to determine what could be done to help in the warfare that is being waged against the grasshoppers.

The corn is being very seriously menaced by the hoppers and who are fast increasing and while so far their damage has not been great, the dry weather and the completion of the harvest threatens to release these on the green corn.

The farm organizations are aroused over the menace and are securing wherever possible the co-operation of the civic bodies of the cities in the farm states of the west as well as enrolling the farmers in the army to battle the menace.

The matter of means of fighting the plague was discussed by the members of the directorate and it was voted to have a special committee appointed to take what steps might be deemed best to aid in the fight on the hoppers.

The committee selected is composed of John B. Kaffenberger, Jean Spangler, George K. Hetrick, E. H. Bernhardt and E. J. Richey. This committee represents both business men, local industries and the farmers of the community and will start some real action to try and overcome the pest of the hoppers.

The committee will act with County Agent D. D. Wainwright in the attempt to eliminate the grasshoppers if possible and save the corn crop in this section.

Cass County People in Auto Crash Sunday

Members of the Tennant Family of Louisville Involved in Accident at Omaha.

Three Cass county residents were injured Sunday afternoon at Omaha in an auto accident at Twenty-first and Vinton streets. Three others in the accident also suffered injuries. Most of the injuries were from flying glass.

Injured were Mrs. Jenny Josephine Tennant, Louisville, who suffered a deep scalp wound; Mrs. Kenneth Hike, Plattsmouth, cuts about the head and possible internal injuries; James P. McElligott, 3636 Pine street, cuts and bruises about the head and face; and Will Reichs, 1510 Dorcas street, head and face cuts and bruises.

Slightly cut were William Tennant, 3953 South Nineteenth street, former Louisville resident, and a man who told police his name was Frank Povinka, 1312 William street.

Mrs. William Tennant, who was riding with her husband, and the baby, son of Mrs. Opal Long, a sister of Tennants, who is in an Omaha hospital, were uninjured.

Tennant told police he was driving east on Vinton street. The McElligott car, going southwest, slid sideways into his, he told police. Police said Reichs and Povinka were in the car driven by McElligott.

DOING FINE JOB

J. H. McMaken who was awarded the contract to enlarge the sewer inlets on Sixth street at the last council meeting, is busily engaged in the work and is, the committee believes, doing a splendid job. Some additional work has been found necessary, including the replacement of concrete sills at the street level with larger ones capable of carrying the load now that the brick supporting wall is being removed. The new sills are 7x7 and carry two reinforcing bars, also being supported on three brick pillars, built up from the base of the sewer, instead of the one at the center originally contemplated. This extra work and extension of concrete along the curb line to replace small cracked sections will increase the cost of the job to around $260 instead of the $211 bid on the work originally planned, but the committee was unanimous in its decision to have the additional work done at this time, and believes when completed the job will be wholly satisfactory in every way and the inlets capable of carrying the greatest possible amount of water.

HAS EYE INJURED

Floyd, eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Stokes, south of this city, was very painfully injured Thursday while working around the farm home. He was herding cattle and had arranged a whip of barbed wire attached to a stick for driving the cattle. As he swung this at the cattle the whip swung back and a barb of the wire struck the young lad in the left eye. The blow took out a small corner of the iris of the eye and made a very painful and serious wound. He was brought to the office of Dr. R. P. Westover and who secured specialist assistance in dressing the eye and it is thought that it will soon be able to be used. The sight of the eye was apparently not affected by the blow.

East Nebraska Receives Fine Rain on Sunday

Plattsmouth Has .90 of Rainfall Last Night and Inch Falls West of City in Afternoon.

This locality that has been suffering from the extreme dry weather of the past two weeks, was visited by rainfall Sunday that will go a long way toward helping the crops and checking the grasshopper threat, with prospects of more rain.

West of this city and through the central part of the county a very fine rain was reported Sunday afternoon which registered an inch in the territory four miles west of the city, the rainfall being sufficient to bring the Four Mile creek up bank full and the rainfall doing much good to the crops in that section.

The rain here started with a light sprinkle at midnight and which was very heavy from 1 to 2 o'clock this morning and water was standing in the low places over the city this morning.

The rain here was of much benefit to the gardens and aided in the cooling off of the atmosphere.

Nebraska City reports the heavy fall of the Sunday rains with 5.40 inches.

COMBINES POPULAR

Combine machines are being used very extensively in this county this year. Jean Spangler of the R.A. office, who has been touring the county during the harvest season, estimates that 50 per cent of the farmers in Cass county are using this means of harvesting. He also reports that practically all of Sarpy county is using the binder and threshing machine method.

Wheat harvest is extremely variable in this county. Yields range from ten to thirty-five bushel per acre. As a rule the upland and poorer ground is making the best yield. The lower lands and richer soil has become logged and has been hurt severely by black rust. Hot winds at the opening of the ripening season shivered the kernels. Straw is very heavy but yield light.

Many farmers have purchased combines this year and are doing custom work. The smaller combine has been adapted to small fields and is operated by one person. The combine, of course, cuts the wheat near the head leaving the straw on the ground. During wet years the straw may be plowed under to a good advantage as the decaying organic matter makes the soil looser. However it does not add much to the soil in the way of food. During dry years the loosening of the top soil may prove a waste of moisture. Many farmers are burning the straw rather than turn it under.

ARRANGING AMUSEMENT PLACE

The new pin ball alleys which are to be operated in the Hotel Plattsmouth building are now being arranged and in the next week or ten days, the Messrs. Ellis and Larue are expecting to be ready to serve the public.

The alleys are being laid and the equipment installed for this popular sport and which will serve to add to the entertainment features of the city.
