Soil Erosion Program in the State Growing

Contour Ridges Are Employed in Many Places to Aid in Holding Soil From Washing.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 3 (UP)—The fight to save Nebraska soil from water erosion in receiving new recruits from farmers all over the state, H. E. Engstrom, state coordinator for the soil conservation service said today.

Official service records show that 8,940 Nebraska farmers are using erosion control methods that were not practiced three years ago, and that a majority of these projects have been started in the past year.

Chief among these methods of "drouth insurance" are contour ridges and pasture furrows, which now conserve rainfall on 3,850 acres of Nebraska farmlands.

Moisture conservation, however, is not the only purpose served by the pasture ridges and furrows, Engstrom pointed out.

"While these mechanical devices check erosion on areas not well protected by grass, they also hold organic matter on the pasture land so that it can be used for grass production and they keep grass seeds evenly distributed over the pastures."

In the year ending July 1, 1937, a total of 785 miles of contour furrows were constructed on farms of soil conservation service cooperators. The agreements between cooperators and the service also call for the completion of several hundred additional miles during the next year.

Engstrom emphasized that higher grass yields were obtained from the contoured pastures during the 1936 drouth than on the untreated pastures, in some cases outlasting the unprotected grass as much as three or four weeks.

CCC camps have been active in demonstrating the practices on field tours, as well as doing much of the actual work in eastern Nebraska. Nineteen supervised tours have been held, and an estimated 2,300 farmers have visited the projects during the past year.

The demonstration control projects are located at Albion, Ralston and Syracuse. CCC camps doing soil conservation work are stationed at Beatrice, Blair, Columbus, David City, Denton, Fairbury, Hartington, Hebron, Humboldt, Tecumseh, Madison, Nelson, Pawnee City, Ravenna, and Weeping Water.

TAXLESS BLISS SPANS 4 YEARS FOR HOUSEHOLD

ST. PAUL (UP)—Luckiest household in St. Paul, as far as rents goes at least, is that of Mrs. G. E. Foster and her son, John.

During an investigation of tax delinquent lands and buildings, Len Seamer, city valuation expert, called on the Foster home, which was included in his list of properties to be investigated.

"Are you the owner?" Seamer asked Foster.
 "No."
 "Are you renting?"
 "No."
 "Are you related to the owner?"
 "No."

"Has anyone been around to collect the rents?"
 "No."

"How long have you lived here?"
 "About four years."
 Inquiry revealed the Fosters had moved in when friends told them the previous tenants, who also had not paid rent, moved out. Taxes have been delinquent since 1920.

ANNOUNCE HUNTING SEASON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (UP)—The department of agriculture regulations for the 1937 hunting season, continues the thirty-day season which has been in effect for the past two years, but make several changes in and it was expected the season would start late in October.

In the northern zone which includes Nebraska, ducks, geese, snipe and other waterfowl, October 9 to November 7. In the intermediate zone November 1 to November 30. In the south November 27 to December 26.

LINCOLN—Frank B. O'Connell, secretary of the state forestation, parks and game commission said today that it had been hoped that a forty-five day season might be secured for the Nebraska hunters. He said the open season for pheasants and other game will be fixed August 17th dates and zones.

MARRIAGE MART BUSY

Saturday saw a sudden boom in the matrimonial market at the office of the county judge when four Omaha young people were made happy.

Robert W. Burns and Opal I. Standiford, were two of the young people whose lives and hearts were joined by Judge A. H. Duxbury at the court house. Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Aleck, also of Omaha, were the witnesses.

Russell W. Rankin and Miss Mary Jane Norman were married on Saturday evening at the home of Judge A. H. Duxbury and with Mrs. Duxbury and Dorothea Mae serving as the witnesses.

MAKES HOLE IN ONE

Donald Pittman, one of the best of the local players, who is a true product of the Plattsmouth course, added to his glory Monday by securing a hole in one. He made this ideal shot on "No. 2" at the course, a well placed shot hitting on the green in perfect style and the ball rolled to the cup for the hole in one.

Don is one of the local players that used to be a caddy at the course back when the game was just getting a start here and has acquired a great deal of knowledge of the game.

UNDERGOES TONSILECTOMY

From Wednesday's Daily—
 Joe Hendrix, this morning underwent a tonsilectomy at the Methodist hospital at Omaha. The young man stood the operation well and was rallying nicely at the last reports. His uncle, County Attorney J. A. Capwell was at the hospital with the patient.

Rainfall is Generous Over State This July

Nebraska City Shows Record Above Normal as Result of Torrential Rain of Five Inches.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 4 (UP)—Rain fell more generously last month than in any July during recent years with the exception of 1935, but it failed to restore deficiencies at most points, the U. S. weather bureau reported today.

W. F. Rumbaugh, acting director of the Lincoln station, said precipitation during July marked a return to normal after scant moisture of drouth years.

He said sub-soil moisture, exhausted during the past few years, was still deficient in spite of substantial rainfall this season.

Nebraska City received 8.99 inches of rain during the month and ranks above normal for precipitation received since the first of the year. Other points above normal are Columbus, Fremont, Hastings, O'Neill and Ravenna.

Comparisons since Jan. 1 follow:

SETTLE TRESPASS CASE

From Tuesday's Daily—
 This morning in the country court an information was filed against Raymond Hendriksen, Harold Winters, Floyd Hart and Orest Erskine, all young men of the Eagle community.

The young men were charged with having trespassed on the farm of Ray Seikman.

After hearing the evidence in the matter Judge A. H. Duxbury assessed a fine of $5 and costs on the entire group and they to pay the costs which amounted to $20.10. The amounts were settled and the entire party returned to their home near Eagle.

PLATTSMOUTH DEFEATED IN LAWLOR CUP PLAY

Plattsmouth's tennis team was defeated by the Crete team in the second round of the Lawlor cup matches Sunday afternoon. Larson lost to Calvert of Crete, 6-3, 6-1. Fager of Crete defeated Mason 6-1, 6-0.

The doubles match proved stiffer competition for the visitors. Giles and Larson lost to Calvert and Kristufek after two deuce sets. Scores were 7-5, 7-5.

Crete meets Nebraska City for the finals in this district. Nebraska City won over Falls City in the match last week.

BACK ON THE JOB

Jess P. Perry, who has long been a familiar figure in the business life of the city, is back at the barber shop in the Fricke building after an absence of six months. Jess has been taking an enforced vacation on account of health but is now feeling much better and is glad to be back on the job and meet the old friends and customers in his usual genial manner.

DEPART FOR HOME

Miss Ella Lotz of Lockport, and Miss Louise Hann, of Chicago, departed Saturday for their homes after a pleasant two weeks visit here with relatives. They were house guests of Mrs. R. A. Bates and while here enjoyed visiting many places of interest in this section.

Seventeenth Infantry Moving to Kansas

Fort Crook Soldiers Leave Thursday on the Summer Maneuvers at Fort Riley.

The army post at Fort Crook will be a practically deserted village after the last of the week when the Seventeenth Infantry will leave for Fort Riley, Kansas, where one of the largest summer maneuvers of the army will be held.

The entire regiment aside from a few necessary to look after the buildings and properties at the fort will be taken to Kansas to take part in the extensive program of army problems.

The maneuvers will be participated in by the national guard troops of the Thirty-fifth division, comprising the guard troops of Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas.

Many of the leading army officers of the area will be at the Fort Riley maneuvers and assist in directing the warm games between the regulars and the national guard troops.

The soldiers from Fort Crook are to be taken to Fort Riley by trucks and will make one of the largest army trains that has been taken over the highways in this section of the west.

The other summer training camp will be at Fort Ripley, Minnesota, where units of the regular army including the third infantry at Fort Snelling will participate with the national guard units of Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota.

This is one of the largest training programs that the regular army has staged and will cover the greater part of the month as it will be late in August before the units will be back at Fort Crook.

ENJOYING VACATION

District Judge W. W. Wilson and family are spending a short vacation period in the lake country of Minnesota. The judge has had a very busy time since assuming the bench in April, covering all three of the counties of the district and hearing a large number of cases.

GETTIN' THE BUSINESS
means giving the mileage

It's up to me to make this business go, because it's mine. I never did a smarter thing than featuring Conoco Germ Processed oil, with all its long mileage for you. Talk doesn't make mileage or customers, but I can tell you what does... Oil-Plating your engine with Germ Processed oil. The patent Germ Process makes oil actually take ahead of every working part and keep it coated with a durable Oil-Plating... entirely extra to the regular moving type of oil film. Oil-Plating backs up the oil film while the car is running, and never drains down during hours of parking. Then you'll never start up without lubrication. And at the end of your longest run on a hot day, your engine will still have its full safe plating of Conoco Germ Processed oil. The way it lasts gives me a right to be called Your Mileage Merchant.
