

MANLEY NEWS

Harvey Bergman is building a garage for his father at the home in Manley.

Lacey's Kids defeated the Cardinals, 9 to 8, in a soft ball game at Murdock last Tuesday evening.

Harold Krecklow and wife were at Plattsmouth one night last week, attending the carnival which was held on Chicago avenue in that city.

Mrs. John Palacek, Jr., and Miss Cecelia Palacek spent last week at the home of their sisters, Mesdames John A. Stander and Andrew P. Stander.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Harms entertained Mrs. Henry Peters and daughter Evelyn and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Birkman, all of Talmage, last Sunday, serving a fine dinner.

August Krecklow made trips to Omaha both Tuesday and Wednesday to deliver stock for the farmers, and while he was away business at the garage was looked after by David Brann.

Theo. Harms was called to Lincoln on Wednesday of last week to look after some business matters and on his return brought home a load of goods in his car to replenish the stock at the store.

Misses Betty Ault, Mary Alice Ault and Shirley Petersen of Plattsmouth, were guests last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. McDonald, coming out in the morning and remaining for the day.

Mrs. William Keckler, who has been repeatedly troubled with attacks of appendicitis, was taken to the Bryan Memorial hospital in Lincoln, where she underwent an operation and is reported coming through the ordeal in fine shape and showing very satisfactory improvement.

Miss Mary Maier returned to her home at Louisville Monday after spending a week at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Muckenhaupt, who have been in poor health for some time. While here she aided her aunt, Miss Sue Muckenhaupt in the care of the aged parents.

Celebrated Passing Anniversary
Mrs. Alice Jenkins, aged and well loved resident of the community enjoyed her 80th birthday yesterday, receiving greetings from many of her friends in honor of the occasion.

Sent Greetings to Friend
Mrs. W. J. Rau sent a message of greeting to her girl chum of their schoolhood days, Miss Julia Herman, with whom she went to school in Plattsmouth, on the occasion of the latter's birthday last Thursday. Miss Herman resides at Watertown, Wisconsin.

Death of Ernest Daniels
Ernest Daniels was born at Breslau, Germany, on October 12, 1851, remaining there during his childhood, but coming to America in 1873, the year of the silver resumption panic, when he was 22 years old. The following year he had the misfortune to lose his eye sight, which has proven a great handicap to him during the more than half a century he resided in America. He will be remembered by most Manley residents, having lived here for many years. During the past few years he has made his home at Weeping Water with a niece, Mrs. Wannamaker. He was an uncle of Fred Fleischman, of Manley, John Fleischman of Louisville and their brother Edward, and is also survived by a number of nieces. His death occurred on July 28th and the funeral was held July 30th. Had he lived, he would have been 86 years of age on October 12th.

Many Attend Picnic Sunday
Among those who went to Plattsmouth last Sunday to attend the picnic given by the ladies of the Holy Rosary Catholic church at the "20 Club" grounds near the Platte river were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rauth, John Kelly and sister Helen together with several others.

Visited Friends Here
Miss Valda Schuette, of Chicago, who is a long time friend of Mrs. J.

HELP KIDNEYS
To Get Rid of Acid and Poisonous Waste
Your kidneys help to keep you well by constantly filtering waste matter from the blood. If your kidneys get functionally disordered and fail to remove excess impurities, there may be poisoning of the whole system and body-wide distress.
Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be a warning of some kidney or bladder disturbance.
You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.
In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. A multitude of grateful people recommend Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

DOANS PILLS

Wabash News

Mrs. Hattie Sutphan, of Nehawka, visited with her friend, Mrs. Henrietta Lawton of Wabash Tuesday of last week.

Receipts at the Wabash elevator continue very heavy, keeping Mr. Marshall and his helper, Clifford Brown, busy from early morning till late at night.

Mrs. M. E. McDonald, of Nehawka, was visiting with Mrs. Sherman Hardaway last Tuesday. They were schoolgirls together in Fairplay, Mo., years ago.

Mrs. Henry Gerbeling and daughter and husband, Ralph Colbert and family departed last week for a visit of ten days in Colorado. They planned to visit briefly with relatives in Kansas on the way out and back.

Frank Wilson was helping with the threshing at the George Reynolds farm last Wednesday, this being one of the last threshing jobs in this vicinity. The harvest this year has provided a good deal of work for all who desire it.

P. H. Clarke, who has been operating the threshing outfit owned by E. F. Marshall of Weeping Water, has just about completed his season's run. Mr. Marshall had 200 acres of wheat of his own which took some time to get done, and with the many other jobs they have had, the boys have been on the go every day that rain didn't interfere during the past several weeks.

Spent Ten Days in Colorado
Will Rueter and family, after a sojourn of ten days in the Colorado Rockies, can substantiate the claims made in the ads that "It's cool in Colorado." They enjoyed their stay there and feel greatly invigorated as a result of their trip.

Former Citizen Buried Here
The Rev. Seth Jacobson, pastor of the Methodist church at Upland, Nebraska, passed away at his home there last week and was buried here beside the body of his wife, who was killed in an auto accident in 1924. Rev. Jacobson was born December 1, 1892, and was married to Miss Van Every, a sister of William Van Every of Weeping Water. The Rev. Savory, pastor of another church at Upland, conducted the funeral services.

C. Rauth, was taking her vacation and spending the time in California, enjoying herself very much. On her way home she stopped here for a visit of a couple of days. Mr. and Mrs. Rauth met her at Omaha and also took her back there to catch her train when she resumed her journey eastward after her brief stop here.

Enjoyed the Ball Game
John Crane accompanied a party of baseball fans from Weeping Water to Chicago, where they went to see a big league baseball game between the Chicago and New York teams, which was won by Chicago. The trip was made in the car of Ralph Keckler and the men arrived home last Monday morning. John took note of crops along the way and says everything is looking fine all the way across the states of Iowa and Illinois.

Visited at Wolpert Home
Last Sunday Katie Wolpert, her sister Maggie and brother Joseph entertained last Sunday, having as their guests Sister Mary Justine, Sister Mary Luke and Mrs. Mary Evans, all of Omaha. A splendid dinner was served and everyone enjoyed a fine time. Sister Justine was formerly Miss Mary Evans.

OIL MAT BEING LAID
Work is progressing nicely on the re-surfacing of the highway leading from Murray east to highway No. 75. Grading has been completed and crushed rock is being laid. The tar matting will be placed on the mile strip next week. A dozen men are working on the road.

Visitor Tells of Conditions in Nanking, China

Mrs. Robert Haight, Visiting at White Home, Tells of Observations in Chinese Capital.

Mrs. Robert Haight is a very interesting guest of her aunt and cousin, Mrs. W. J. White and Miss Mabel White in this city. Mrs. Haight, whose home is in Rocky Mount, N. C., has just returned from a year spent with her daughter in Nanking, China. She will visit here two weeks before returning to her home.

Mrs. Haight's daughter has taught physical education in Gingling college, an exclusive girls' school, in Nanking during the past three years. She is also returning to United States this year but is coming across Europe. Mrs. Haight came across Japan to Seattle.

The visitor left Nanking June 22. She reports that there was no fighting other than ordinary about the city and the serious conflict was taking place north of Nanking, in the territory of Peiping.

Describes Food
Mrs. Haight tells many interesting things of the Chinese city. It was walled and each night at 10 the gates are closed and no one is allowed to leave or enter the city until morning.

She tells of the very fine food served during her stay in China. Soup was served with both lunch and dinner. Fish, especially shrimps, was always served with other meat and five vegetables. An abundance of mushrooms were found in the menu but no sweets. Water is so impure in the city that all must be boiled before being used. Mrs. Haight said that she had very few cold drinks while in China and learned to like hot water very much. There are no cattle, so no milk. The only milk to be found is powdered milk which is imported and goats' milk.

The city is very unsanitary. Open sewers are used throughout the city and the waste is used for irrigation on the little plots of land of the middle class. No food is served uncooked. The poorer people live in tiny mud or straw houses of one room with no windows. They sleep on the street or anywhere that is convenient and use every spear of vegetation as food.

Beggar's City
A special section is set aside for the beggars, called Beggar's City. It lies outside the walls. The government furnishes rice for the beggars to eat and attempts to teach them a trade. However many are too lazy to care to learn.

When Miss Haight went to China four years ago, the main streets were made of cobble stones. Water buffalo, pigs, and goats wandered at will on the narrow fairways. Since that time, many of the streets have been widened and paved and many automobiles are now in use. Mrs. Haight reports that the city is changing very rapidly. She hopes that the architectural style and furniture of the Old China will be preserved because of their unique beauty.

Burial Service
Another custom, very different from ours, is the burial of the dead. Burial is made on the farm of the family or upon their own property. When the land is sold, the body is taken up and moved to the new home. No sun is allowed to touch the body during this moving process, so a heavy covering is placed over the grave. Each spring and fall the family visits the graves of the ancestors. They burn three fires which burn incense, food and paper coins as offerings and spend hours in prayers—praying from early morning until the rising of the sun. Many of the poor do not have enough money to buy coffins so rent a coffin to carry the corpse to the grave, then return the coffin after burial.

Mrs. Haight described the climate as extremely damp. Although the temperature is approximately the same as in her home in South Carolina, the dampness makes the winters extremely cool. The Chinese people do not believe in heating systems so instead of having the rooms heated they wear padded clothing. The teachers go about their work in fur coats.

She reports that the recent book "Ying and Yan" which is on the pay shelf at the local library is a very true picture of the Chinese city.

Power District Gained Right to Build Lines

Railway Commission Ruling Gives Right to Construct 421 Miles of Rural Lines.

LINCOLN, Aug. 7 (UP)—The Nebraska railway commission by a two to one vote today granted the East Nebraska Public Power district permission to construct 421 miles of rural transmission lines (project No. 2, in Saunders, Cass and Otoe counties).

Chairman Floyd Bollen put the motion to approve the application. Commissioner Frank A. Good, concurring and Commissioner Will M. Maupin dissenting in a twelve page opinion. The majority opinion dismissed the contention of the Nebraska Power company of Omaha, raised for the first time, that the commission had the power to determine whether such an application was in the interest of public convenience and necessity, whether construction would be wise or result in duplication and waste.

Officers of the Nebraska Power Co. withheld comment upon the decision permitting the Eastern Nebraska Public Power Co. to build power lines which would compete with the private lines. E. Davidson, president of the company, could not be reached.

BACK ON THE JOB
From Thursday's Daily—
John O'Donnell was back on the job at the L. B. Egenberger grocery today after a two days enforced absence. Jack has been "boiling" and conquered the boil sufficient to be able to look after his delivery work.

LEAVING FOR COLORADO
Herbert Minor, Ray Bourne, and Ed Howard are leaving at midnight Sunday night for Eldora, Colo. They plan to spend a ten-day vacation in the mountains there.

Death of Old Time Resident of East Nebraska

William F. Jones, Early Day Resident of Nebraska and South Dakota Buried in Dakota.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, July 14 at 10:30 a. m. at the Methodist church at Artesian, South Dakota, for William Jones of Artesian. Rev. J. H. Kearton, pastor of the M. E. church officiated assisted by Rev. Wendell Palmer of Artesian. The male quartet consisting of Rev. Kearton, Walter Sheppard, Delbert Shryock and F. A. Locke sang three hymns entitled "The Old Rugged Cross," "Going Down the Valley," and "Face to Face." Interment was made in the local cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Erving Buck, Neil Powell, Fred N. Dunham, Darwin McDonald, Lewis Krause, and Sid Sedgwick.

Obituary
William Francis, son of Walter and Martha Jones, was born March 27th, 1862 on his grandfather's original plantation, Henry county, near Clinton, Missouri.

The family moved to Nebraska City, Nebraska in 1870, where he grew to manhood and on Nov. 2, 1885 was united in marriage with Miss Luella Keyser. Ten children were born to this union; four of whom preceded him in death, Clifford, who died at the age of twelve years, the other three dying in infancy.

Mr. Jones was converted and baptized in the Baptist faith.

During the spring of 1900 he moved from southeastern Nebraska to the northeastern part and after moving to various places, commuting on a homestead in Meade county, South Dakota. He settled on a farm in Crow Lake township in the fall of 1911 living there until 1922 when he and the family moved to Wessington Springs. He and family moved to Artesian ten years ago, where he and his faithful wife have since resided.

He died at his home early Sunday morning at 12:30 a. m. July 11, at the age of 75 years, 3 months and 15 days.

His lingering illness aggravated five months ago by a fall which broke his leg confined him to bed constantly. All the care loving hands could give him in his last days could do little to relieve his pain and suffering. He became unconscious about five o'clock Saturday morning and quietly passed away.

His passing is the end of an honorable life. He was a kind and loving husband and father, an honest neighbor and an upright citizen.

He leaves to mourn his passing besides his wife, five sons, Roy and Guy of Wessington Springs, Robert of Spencer, Nebr., Roland and Clifton of Vancouver, Washington and an only daughter, Pearl, also of Vancouver; 11 grandchildren; one great grandchild; a brother, R. E. Jones of Magnet, Nebr., one sister, Mrs. D. C. LaRue of Union, Neb.; and many other relatives and a host of friends.

"Uncle Billy" as he was known by friends and relatives was fond of good clean fun and was of jovial disposition. He was the happiest when his loved ones were all around him in many happy gatherings.

The House of God gave his soul to use on earth is being laid to rest, but the memory of his good life will continue to live throughout the end of time.
