More Jobs are Available for U. of N. Students

Survey Shows Mounting Figure in Positions Available for the Working Students.

LINCOLN, Neb.—As conditions continue to improve there are more jobs available for University students, reported University officials this week. They point out that even last year, when the institution had a record breaking enrollment, there was a slight percentage increase in student employment with about 55 per cent of the men and 34 per cent of the women employed.

The average cash earnings of students, either wholly or partially self-supporting, have been a little larger during the past year than the previous year, officials reported, also reporting that students wholly self-supporting have spent less and earned more. Since business has absorbed many employees who during the depression were unemployed and ready to take part-time employment, the opportunity for students to get employment in Lincoln this fall apparently has improved. It was also pointed out that a goodly number of the employed students were having at least two jobs.

It is expected that the National Youth Administration will continue to provide funds for student employment for next year as has been in effect for the past several years. Under this government aid program, if continued on the same basis as last year students will earn from $10 to $20 a month while attending the University of Nebraska during 1937-38. If this program is authorized, recipients of this government aid will be selected on a basis of scholarship and need, the same as the past several years.

Apart from the federal National Youth Administration, college program, students worked for business concerns, a limited number held University jobs, and some worked for private persons, and many did different kinds of odd jobs.

Serving meals with the most common type of work done by men during the past year, statistics reveal, while office work was the most popular for women, followed closely by housework. Among the other more popular types of student jobs as part-time work in the various University offices, work as salesmen, laborers, readers, musicians, and service station attendants. Some of the miscellaneous jobs included interior decorating, electrician's helper, watch repairing, window displaying, trucking, photography, hospital service, landscaping, cashier, nursing, cartoning, telephone operator, and teaching.

Men students who were employed during the first semester of last year earned an average of $161.60 and women earned an average of $86.05. The earnings ranged from very nominal sums to as high as $650 for the period. The average student who worked for his meals secured all 21 meals a week by that method.

QUINS ARE IMPROVING

CALLANDER, Ont., Aug. 14 (UP)—The Dionne quintuplets probably will be together again tomorrow when Cecile, slower than the others in recovering from a sore throat, was expected to rejoin her sisters in their public appearances.

Only four of the famous five have appeared on the verandas of the Dafoe nursery yesterday after about 4,000 tourists gathered despite a light rain and begged Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe to let them see the girls who had been in seclusion almost a week after developing sore throats.

Dr. Dafoe finally permitted Yvonne, Annette, Emilie and Marie to play on the verandas for a few minutes. The four girls wore raincoats and repeatedly waved and threw kisses while the crowd cheered.

Cecile was reported today to be "much better."

"SQUAWKER" FISH CAUGHT

Rain and Cool Needed in Many Places for Corn

Crop Conditions Along the Line However Far Better Than That of 1935 or 1936.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 12 (UP)—Soaking rains and relief from recent high temperatures will do much to save Nebraska corn in fields not already damaged by recovery, the Nebraska co-operative crop and livestock reporting service announced today.

"The final outcome of the corn crop is very uncertain," said the report, which was based on conditions of Aug. 1.

A. V. Nordquist, assistant state and federal agricultural statistician, who prepared the bulletin, pointed out that the condition of corn declined from 81 per cent on July 1 to 71 per cent on Aug. 1, and slumped since the first of the month due to extreme heat and deficient sub-soil moisture.

"Corn is also firing in some eastern counties, particularly in Hamilton, York and Polk," he said. "Some corn already is being cut for fodder in parts of central and south-central Nebraska."

The report said hail damage was considerably above normal and said that even in areas where corn had made fair progress and showed little damage from heat, the percentage of barren stalks was noticeably larger than usual.

Indicated corn production on Aug. 1 was 179,334,000 bushels—a drop of 17,496,000 bushels since the July 1 forecast—but more than six times larger than the estimate of 27,627,000 bushels on Aug. 1 last year.

Winter wheat furnishes a brighter picture. Production, according to the Aug. 1 forecast of 46,206,000 bushels, is the largest since 1931 and the average yield of 14.2 bushels per acre is the greatest since that time with the exception of last year's average of 15.5 bushels.

More wheat was sown this year than ever before although the harvested acreage did not set a record because of large abandonment. Harvested acreage this year was estimated at 3,261,000 acres compared with 2,938,000 acres in 1936.

Estimated winter wheat production jumped nearly four million bushels from the July 1 estimate of 42,393,000 bushels which Nordquist ascribed to less damage from black stem rust than was anticipated.

"Most counties lying east of and including Saunders, Lancaster and Gage harvested a better than average winter wheat crop," he said.

The heaviest spring wheat acreage in history was seeded this year, much of it replacing winter wheat abandoned in the panhandle. Yields were unusually low except in areas in the northern panhandle. Condition of spring wheat on Aug. 1 was 37 per cent.

For the rest of the crop picture, the statistics disclosed substantial production gains over last year for oats, barley, rye, grain sorghums, potatoes, tame and wild hay, sugar beets, dry edible beans, apples, peaches, pears and grapes.

Oats production was placed at 39,460,000 bushels compared with 19,067,000 bushels last year and the 1928-32 average of 68,421,000 bushels. High temperatures caused shrinking in yields.

Barley will make a crop of about 10,049,000 bushels as against 5,520,000 bushels in 1936 and the five-year average of 15,386,000. Rye is up from 3,442,000 bushels a year ago to 3,810,000 bushels this year.

Indicated production of sugar beets was estimated at 800,000 short tons compared with 782,000 tons last year and the 1928-32 average of 956,000 tons. Potato production has increased from 4,730,000 bushels last year to 5,500,000 bushels in 1937.

"The early Irish potato crop in the central Platte valley is unusually good this year," the report said. "Condition of late dry land potatoes in western Nebraska declined during July but irrigated potatoes in the west still are promising."

Corn—Aug. 1 estimate 179,334,000 bu. but crop declined since the first when condition reported 71 per cent; 26,859,000 bu. last year.

Winter wheat—2 per cent (767,000 bu.) larger, yield 14.2 bu. per acre against average of 15.5 bu.

Spring wheat—Nearly twice as large, condition 37 per cent normal.

Oats—More than doubled, condition 54 per cent.

Barley—Nearly doubled, condition 47 per cent.

Rye—368,000 bu. larger, yield 10 bu. against 7.5 bu. last year.

Grain sorghums—More than doubled, condition 73 per cent.

Potatoes—770,000 bu. greater, condition 68 per cent.

Sugar beets—18,000 short tons larger, condition 83 per cent.

Dry edible beans—Increase of 30,000 bags, condition 74 per cent.

Tame hay—317,000 tons greater, condition 50 per cent.

Wild hay—207,000 tons larger, condition 53 per cent.

Pastures—Condition 44 per cent against 1928-32 average of 76 per cent.

Apples—Nearly doubled, condition 49 per cent.

Peaches—13 times greater, condition 47 per cent.

Pears—Nearly three times larger, condition 49 per cent.

Grapes—More than doubled, condition 52 per cent.

4-H CLUB news

ACHIEVEMENT DAY

The Cardinal Sewers held their 4-H achievement day program in the public library on Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 11, at 2:30.

The program was opened by an introduction and greeting given by the club president, Elizabeth Ann Wiles.

It was followed by a number of club songs given by the club girls, led by Miss Louise Rishel and accompanied by Dorothea Duxbury.

A short talk was given by Mary Rishel and accompanied by Miss Mary Rishel on "Pleasures and Activities of Camp Brewster," which was attended by many of the girls for a short period of time this summer.

A talk was also given by Doris June Wiles on "What 4-H Has Meant to Me."

The short play "Every American Girl Beauty Products" was presented by nine girls.

Following the play a very good demonstration on "Correct and Incorrect Shoes," was given by Mae McCarroll and Hazel Wize. A style revue was presented by the girls, wearing the dresses they made in the club during the summer. Our closet accessories, slippers, dresses, and towels were judged by Virginia Trively and Vivian Palmer of Plattsmouth, and Rita Hanly of Gretna, Nebr. Miss Virginia Trively was a former winner in judging at the state fair 4-H club work several years ago and Miss Palmer and Miss Hanly are former 4-H girls and all were competent judges.

In the dresses Elizabeth Ann Wiles took first place, Dorothea Duxbury second and Margaret Fricke, third. In the slippers Dorothea Duxbury took first place, Margaret Fricke second and Ellen Clويد third.

Mae McCarroll's closet accessories took first place with Ellen Clويد second and Doris June Wiles third.

In the Nell Mara towels, Mae McCarroll took first and Doris June Wiles second.

During the summer we were divided into teams which gave demonstrations at the meetings and receiving points on them at the close they were added up and the winning team which totaled the highest was that of Helen Barkus.

There was also an exhibit of darning and patch work made by the girls and leather and bead bracelets made by the girls at craft period while they were at Camp Brewster.

A very fine piece of workmanship was displayed in a blue beaded purse which was made by Elizabeth Ann Wiles.

There was a good attendance of people interested in 4-H club work.

On behalf of the club I wish to thank Miss Louise Rishel who has given her time and her work to teach us the many useful things we have learned in this year of 4-H club work.

I also want to express our appreciation and thanks to the Plattsmouth Journal for publishing our weekly reports about the club meetings.

MARGARET FRICKE,
 Club Reporter.
