Brewing Industry's Payroll for Labor To Exceed 80 Million Dollars in 1937

HOW BREWING LABOR PAYROLL HAS GROWN
SOURCE: 1935 figures compiled by Bureau of Census; 1936 figures and 1937 estimate on basis of U. S. Dept. of Labor monthly reports.

THE brewing industry's 1937 payroll for labor will exceed $80,000,000 as a result of more employment and increases granted to union workers in new contracts negotiated with labor leaders. This is exclusive of the estimated $25,000,000 which will be paid to salaried employees and officers, bringing the aggregate yearly payroll past the $100,000,000 mark.

More than 23,000 union brewery workers, in 71 cities, will add an average of $166.40 to their individual pay envelopes this year as a result of new contracts, it has been calculated by labor officials. This increase, averaging $3.20 per man weekly, will aggregate $3,627,624 for the year for the men already affected by new contracts. The total increase for all brewery workers will be greater, however, as negotiations are pending in 105 other cities, according to labor leaders.

The new increase raises the weekly paycheck of the average brewery worker to over $35. The current high mark is more than double the wage paid in 1914, when consumption of beer hit its peak. The industry's payroll then included 62,070 wage earners, receiving an aggregate of $53,243,743 for the year, an average of $16.52 per week.

The estimates of current labor employment and wages have been compiled from figures supplied monthly by the U. S. Department of Labor, supplemented by actual and anticipated increases. The figures cover only the brewing industry proper and do not take in employment by distributors, retailers or others affected by revival of the

SKEET, NEW SPORT, BRINGS NEW FASHIONS

SKEET shooting as the new sport for women was demonstrated recently at Lordship, Conn., at the Ninth Annual Great Eastern Skeet Championships, when three squads of women competed before a record crowd.

The women's title was won with a score of 85 out of a possible 100 by Mrs. H. E. Rogers, of Waltham, Mass., who has had only three years' shooting experience. Mrs. Rogers holds the women's long-run Skeet record for women, 117 straight targets. Miss Winifred Hanley of Stamford, Conn. was runner-up.

Fashions worn at Lordship showed that shooters now assemble a wardrobe for Skeet—an outfit for warm, sunny days, another for rain, and a third for cool, brisk weather.

Mrs. Robert F. Jefferys of Philadelphia chose for warm weather shooting a one-piece dress of beige hopsacking, a porous material, worn with a collarless beige cotton twill shooting jacket. When it showered, she added a two-piece outfit of natural color, transparent, waterproof fabric—wrap-around skirt and hip length, action back jacket, slide fastened to a small, high collar. For cold days, she prefers tweeds.

The ideal Skeet jacket, Lordship shooters agree, is a hip length model of lightweight, wind-proof material such as gabardine, twill or poplin, which has been waterproofed, in neutral shade, to be combined with colorful skirt and accessories. The backs usually have

Lyman Sees a Great Cornhusker Team for Season

Line Coach of Nebraska Comes to Omaha with Cattle and Lots of Football Enthusiasm.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 12 (UP)—Brimming with enthusiasm for Nebraska's football prospects, Roy (Link) Lyman, Husker line coach, and erstwhile Grant county rancher, came to market Wednesday with a consignment of cattle.

The Nebraska football squad lost a number of its best men by graduation last season, Lyman said, but the team is going to have two great lines nevertheless. Any shortage of material will be in the backfield.

"We could use more good backs," Lyman said, "but taking the squad as a whole, we ought to have enough power to come through what looks like a mighty tough schedule, without having to offer any alibis. Minnesota and Pitt should be the biggest games for Nebraska this year."

Late this month Lyman will go to Chicago to witness the game between the All-Stars and the Green Bay Packers. He will return to Lincoln in mid-September for the opening of the practice season.

Wearing a ten-gallon sombrero and a deep coat of tan Lyman looked more like a cowboy than a football coach when he brought in a consignment of range cattle. There has not been a good rain in Grant county for a long time, he said. But where there is any grass, cattle are putting on some flesh and should come to market in good condition later in the fall.

The defense pointed out that the driver had only 3.2 beer, described by the Kansas state legislature as non-intoxicating. The case is believed to be headed for higher courts.

Tilley said that operators unable to present certificates and all new applicants after August 31st, will be required to demonstrate driving ability and pass an examination on state motor laws. He urged those who had lost certificates to obtain them before August 31 from county treasurers at 25 cents. After that date treasurers cannot supply duplicates.

He pointed out that operators who are able to present certificates heretofore issued to them, will be required to pay only 75 cents for a two year period. The fee for those unable to show certificates and new applicants will be $1.

Under the new law, permits for 600,000 motorists must be renewed in September, October and November. Those who present certificates

LOOKING IN ON THE FAMOUS DIONNE QUINS

Copyrighted article by the Quaker Oats Company

"Quins" Mischievous Little Tykes
Many people have fond remembrances of the little red schoolhouse, but the famous Dionne Quins of Canada will have memories of a more modern "schoolroom." One room in their famous home-hospital has been set aside for their readin', ritin' and 'rithmetic hours.

Miss Claire Tremblay, of Windsor, was selected in last December as their tutor. Miss Tremblay's only form of discipline is patience as she does not believe in spankings. Although the children are unusually well behaved, a mischievous Quin sometimes becomes unruly and is subjected to "solitary confinement" for a period of—usually two minutes. By now a nurse has only to lead little Miss Mischief a few steps toward the door before she realizes that she has to put on her good behavior.

Yes, the most famous babies in the world are too mischievous at times, but that only proves that they are normal children, as hale and hearty and noisy as other youngsters of their age. The Quins owe much of their vim and vigor to the food they eat, all of which is carefully selected by the staff of medical advisors. The next time you see a picture of the world's most photographed babies notice the abundance of energy and good health they display, and remember that today and every day the famous Dionne Quins eat a generous helping of Quaker Oats.

(Other interesting stories of the Quins will follow later).

HUMBOLDT KEEPS CCC

HUMBOLDT, Aug. 13 (UP)—W. H. Brokaw, director of the state conservation service, told 500 Richardson county farmers today that Humboldt's CCC camp will not be abandoned. The meeting was called by the county farm bureau when the camp was threatened to be taken from the city in a state wide movement.

Hears Prospects are Good

At Syracuse, Kansas, which is in the western part of the wheat country, H. M. Lum has some three quarters of land which he generally keeps in wheat, but this year it has been so dry that the sown grain did not even sprout in many places, making it very unprofitable for Mr. Lum. But he received a letter a few days since telling him that an oil well is being sunk near his farm and is now six thousand feet deep with a good prospect of striking oil and if this occurs, it will be better than a crop of wheat on the land.
