Bad Return for Kindness.

A. L. Becker who is ever looking for an opportunity to do a kindness to someone, picked up a Weary Willie on the roadway and gave him a job and a home while he was working. Mr. Becker had the man, who said his name was Melvin Hush work with him on the farm and there they fed the cattle. The man worked for two weeks and received payment by a check from Mr. Becker. Then he conceived the idea of stealing a truck load of cattle and went to another party whom he asked to share in the enterprise, but alas, this man was a friend of Mr. Becker and he told Mr. Becker. So Mr. Becker told him to go ahead with the man and he would apprehend him. So it was arranged that Mr. Becker with sufficient witnesses went on ahead of the pair, and stopped at a neighbor and when the pair came along Mr. Hush noticed the Becker car at the neighbors and refused to proceed further with the project, and then asked his partner to go to Plattsmouth where they would negotiate a check which he would draw on Mr. Becker, forging his name to it. Cass County Girl Killed Last Sunday

Miss Ethel Dill, Daughter of B. F. Dill of South Bend and Sister Killed Sunday in Wreck.

B. F. Dill, for nearly a lifetime has resided near South Bend, lost his wife some years ago, and his eldest daughter, Miss Ethel, had kept house for the father. Last week they decided to go to Hastings to visit another daughter and family, Mrs. Frank Barta of that place. They drove out to Hastings, Miss Ethel at the wheel and were spending the week-end there. Mr. Frank Barta and Mr. Dill decided they would attend a ball game at the park, and as the women did not care to attend the game, they took Miss Ethel's car and with the two children of Mrs. Barta, went for a ride in the country. As they were driving along the road with Mrs. Barta supposedly at the wheel, they came to a sharp turn in the road and as they tried to make the turn, the auto turned over and rolled over against the bank, killing both ladies, almost decapitating them and tearing away both their scalps. Phyllis, 5-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barta was quite severely injured, while Charles a son was badly shaken up but not so severely injured.

A passing motorist picked up the ladies and children and hastened to the hospital at Hastings, but on arrival it was found both ladies were dead, they being removed to the mortuary, while the children were cared for at the hospital. There was no means of identification after they were taken to the hospital, but back at the wrecked car a reporter for some paper came along and ascertained their identity through the license certificate. The reporter immediately telephoned South Bend and was given the number of Oscar Dill, a brother of Miss Ethel, but he was not home, but a child there acknowledged the call and was told of the wreck and upon the arrival of Mr. Dill he was told of the phone call.

He immediately called Frank Barta at Hastings and they were still unaware that the wreck had occurred. So Oscar broke the sad news and told Frank to see about it. In a little bit Frank telephoned back and said that both girls were dead and Phyllis badly injured. Oscar and wife left for Hastings about midnight.

The remains were brought to the Ashland mortuary Wednesday, one by an ambulance from Hastings and one by the Ashland funeral. The funeral was held from Ashland the burial had there on Thursday afternoon.

SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

Miss Alpha C. Peterson, county superintendent of schools and Miss Marie Kaufmann, were at Omaha Sunday for a short time visiting with Miss Anna Leach at the hospital. Miss Leach, who has been in very frail health for a long time, is now showing some improvement.
