City Council Has Busy Time Monday Night

Many Matters Come Before City Legislative Body—Plan for King Korn Karnival.

Monday evening, August 23, the city council enjoyed a very business like and snappy session, the meeting covering a wide range of subjects from the Green River ordinance to the sewer question.

To Use Streets

The council received a communication from the King Korn Karnival committee asking permission to use portions of north and south Fifth street from Main to the alley, also to have the privilege of erecting a platform 20x20 feet at the intersection of Fifth and Main streets, the platform to be erected about September 1st.

The council voted the required permission and Mayor Lushinsky urged that the erection of the platform be delayed as long as possible as a protest had been made that it interfered with business places. The platform will be erected under the supervision of the streets, alleys and bridges committee.

F. P. Busch, president of the Ad club was present and stated that the platform was to be used as part of the broadcast on September 14 and a plane would be used in connection with the event, the council voting to allow the use of the plane.

The communication of Richard Beverage to connect with the sewer for his property was referred to the streets, alleys and bridges committee for investigation.

A communication was received by parties inquiring as to bowling alley license and the clerk was authorized to answer the same and give the amount of the occupation tax.

Mayor Lushinsky reported that the board of health had investigated a place complained of as a health menace and that it had been cleaned up and would be checked to see that it was kept that way.

Police Judge C. L. Graves reported for the week of August 19 that there had been two arrests and fines and costs of $5.25 and one prisoner to work out sentence.

Old Green River

Councilman Rebal of the Judiciary committee asked further time on the famous Green River ordinance that has been considered for some time. He had the city clerk read replies that had been received from four of the Nebraska towns. Wahoo reported that the ordinance was helpful in checking the peddling and no legal contest over the ordinance had been started. Grand Island reported that sixteen towns had the ordinance now in effect and that they were contemplating adopting the measure. Lexington reported that they had adopted the ordinance on April 8, 1937, accepting the ordinance proposed by the League of Municipalities. It had been drawn in compliance with the court rulings and had been very successful. So far no legal test had been made. Seward had adopted the ordinance in 1935 and it had been successful and very little attempt had been made to peddle in the city and had been found helpful to the local merchants.

Mayor Lushinsky reported that the ordinance had been laid over until after the return of E. J. Weyrich, who was making a personal investigation of the working of the ordinance at Green River, Wyoming.

F. P. Busch reported that he had received a report from Hastings as to the effect of the ordinance, it had been adopted some time ago and had worked satisfactory. The ordinance must be enforced, however, to successfully carry it out, and the public give its co-operation.

Talk Weed Cutting
Chairman Tippens of the streets, alleys and bridges committee reported that the maintainer had had luck and had to be repaired. He also reported that the street foreman had been given a vacation league and that the force of three men was now working but three days a week. He stated that weeds were bad in many places.

Mayor Lushinsky urged that the councilmen take up with the property owners the matter of cutting weeds and see if some co-operation could not be secured.

Councilmen Tippens and Comstock also criticized alleys being filled up with old cans and debris so that they could not get the city maintainer through to fix them up.

General Discussion

Chairman Vincent of the license committee reported the application for an on and off sale beer license by A. J. Trilety to operate a tavern at 245 Main street at the corner of Third and Main streets. The hearing on the application was set for Monday, September 13th.

Councilman Schutz stated that on Wednesday and Saturday nights the alleys were blocked with cars and made it impossible to get through in the event of fires breaking out. It was decided to have notice published prohibiting parking on Wednesday and Saturday nights in the alleys and to have police notify the parties to move their cars if parked there.

Chairman Vincent of the license committee reported that a light had been installed at the rear of the Cohn tavern at Sixth and Vine streets, also that a conference had been held with the owner of the Home Dairy relative to the conduct of the beer parlor and he had agreed to co-operate in operating the place.

Mayor Lushinsky reported that he had complaints of residents of South Park relative to the inadequate supply of city water, especially when the packing plant was in operation as this required a great deal of water. The mayor stated that he had taken the matter up with the superintendent of the water plant and who had promised to give the best service possible.

Chairman Hall of the claims committee reported that it was hoped to have a conference of the members of the sewer district on South Sixth street as soon as vacation days were over and see that the cost of repairing the sewer was attended to.

Councilman Brittain of the parks and improvements committee, reported that two window lights had been broken out of the jail by prisoners and asked that they be replaced. This was ordered and the men will have the cost to work out.

Councilman Comstock of the lightning committee had investigated and found that the electrolier near the Jacobs cafe was in the same shape that it had been for years and was set in heavy concrete base and not leaning any more than when placed there.

The finance committee introduced an ordinance to transfer $258.50 from the general to the paving district fund to pay up coupons now due. This was approved.

Councilmen Schutz and Vincent took up the matter of the sewer creeks and entrances that have created a great deal of annoyance for the residents of that section. It was suggested as a WPA project for the future and will be referred to that committee to consider.

Mayor Lushinsky stated that it would be all right to include in the WPA measure but the city could not make any direct outlay as the budget for the year had been made up.

The fourth ward again developed some warfare over the right to park vegetable and fruit wagons at Fourth and Main streets where Iowa melon dealers had parked in what was
