

Nehawka

D. C. West was a visitor in both Lincoln and Weeping Water looking after business.

Verle Smith of near Murray was a business visitor in Nehawka Monday, coming for grasshopper poison.

Ben Metzger of Fremont came to Nehawka last Sunday to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Steffens but found no one at home, so left a note telling of his being here.

Stuart Rough was over to Lincoln where he was visiting his brother and as well sister, stopping at Weeping Water to take his sister, Miss Agnes Rough along. They both enjoyed the visit at Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Steffens and the other members of the family were over to Nebraska City last Sunday, returning in the afternoon and were here when Mr. Steffens' parents came for an evening's visit.

Charles Lundberg of Topeka, arrived in Nehawka last Monday and went to work for the Tobin company as an expert at the quarries and will continue, being able when he has concluded his work for which he was sent here will resume his occupation as quarry blacksmith.

Stacy Niday, proprietor of the Nehawka amusement parlor had a cataract taken from one of his eyes recently, and the optic became very sore, thus keeping him from his business. Emory Kelberg was looking after the amusement parlor during the time Mr. Niday was kept away.

Attending Stander Rennon. Ralph Stander and wife and son, Raymond and wife and daughter, all of Kelsey, Kansas, were visiting early Sunday morning at the home of their uncle, Albert Anderson and wife, and then went on to Louisville where they enjoyed the Stander family reunion.

Baby Born at Weeping Water. Word came from Weeping Water

last Sunday bringing the pleasant news of the birth of a very fine daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Enos Plunket, with all concerned doing very nicely. Mrs. Plunket was formerly Miss Dorothy Opp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Opp of Nehawka.

Nehawka Schools Open
The Nehawka schools opened Monday of this week which in a way restored the normal condition for the town is thronged with students and with every available seat taken at the schools, which is about one hundred and sixty. We were not able to get the exact number when we visited Nehawka Monday.

Increasing Work at Quarries.
The stone quarries which recently opened after a time of seeming rest, are now employing all local people who apply and have been compelled to advertise for outside help. Many have come here to work and thus the business of the merchants has increased.

Getting Ready for Winter.
The heating plant on account of some foreign materials which had gotten into the lead pipes was not doing its duty on one side of the house and which had given Ray Polard some concern, so he had a number of workmen at the job of getting service out of the plant and just recently secured a plumber from Louisville who worked for a day and then tried the plant with the same results as the others. He went home and returned determined to get results and taking off a vent found it clogged, which when cleaned out worked fine.

Meets with Severe Accident.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schlichtemeier living northeast of town were on their way last Sunday from Elmwood where they had been to visit their son, Roland and family, and as they were passing the intersection a mile west of the Fort George corner, they were hit by a car coming from a crossroad. Their car was knocked entirely from the road into the ditch and quite badly damaged. Mr. and Mrs. Schlichtemeier were very severely injured, being cut and bruised in many places. They were extricated by passersby and taken to a hospital for treatment. Stuart Rough came along just after the accident and as the injured people were being taken to the hospital. A sister of Mrs. Schlichtemeier had to be taken to the hospital.

Home From the West.
Melvin Sturm and family and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vickers were out west for the past ten days where they were vacationing and seeing the mountains. They returned home late last week, having enjoyed an excellent time in Colorado, Montana, Wyoming and South Dakota.

Not So Many Students.
The school known as Mt. Pleasant only had five students when it came time for the opening of the school, while the one known as the Buck school had only four students. There was some talk of discontinuing the schools but as yet nothing decisive in that direction has been done.

Visited at Brownville.
The family of Albert Anderson and that of Louis Ross made a merry party going down to Auburn and Brownville last Sunday where they looked about and say that there is an abundance of peaches there now ripening which amounts to many thousand bushels, one orchard alone having over 20,000 bushels.

DEATH OF MRS. LOHNES

From Monday's Daily—
Mrs. J. J. Lohnes, 63, died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lester Womack, west of Murray following an illness of some duration.

Mr. and Mrs. Lohnes have made their home in recent years at Grant, Nebraska, and Mrs. Lohnes suffered a paralytic stroke two years ago that has made her condition serious since that time. The recent months she has been here at the home of her daughter, gradually falling until death came to her relief.

Mrs. Lohnes celebrated her sixty-third birthday on August 14th. There is surviving her passing, the aged husband, one son, Harry Lohnes of Grant, two daughters, Mrs. Elsie England of Grant and Mrs. Luther Womack, of Murray. There are also three sisters, Mrs. Louise Bauer and Mrs. E. H. Becker of this city, Mrs. George Wallinger of Ashland, and one brother, F. W. Guenther of this city.

The body is at the Sattler funeral home.

LAI D TO LAST REST

From Wednesday's Daily—
The funeral services of Mrs. J. J. Lohnes were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Sattler funeral home at Fourth and Vine streets, a very large number of the old friends and former neighbors being in attendance at the services.

Rev. G. A. Pahl, pastor of the St. Paul's Evangelical church conducted the services and paid tribute to the departed who in the long illness has patiently borne her burden in Christian fortitude. To the members of the family he brought comfort in their sorrow from the scriptures.

During the service Frank A. Clويد gave two numbers, "Rock of Ages" and "Going Down the Valley Ope by One."

The interment was at the Eight Mile Grove cemetery southwest of Mynard near where the departed had made her home for many years.

GOES TO CALIFORNIA

Chester Kline departed Sunday for Los Angeles and Santa Monica, California. He goes to secure his small nephew, Richard Kline, who will return here to resume his school work. Richard has been with his father, Floyd Kline for the summer.

Weeping Water

Edward Steinkamp was in town last Tuesday securing material for the construction of a chicken house. The firm of Heneger and Bobbitt have been painting the interior of the store room of George W. Towle which is to be occupied by Joe Bender with his new market.

Duane Harmon who has been at Fort Riley, Kansas, where he was a member of the Nebraska state band which provided the music, returned to Lincoln with the band. He arrived home last Tuesday evening.

Spend Week in the West.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Colbert and Mrs. Leonard Doty and two children made a trip to the western part of the state last week, starting on Sunday and returning home the following Sunday. They first went to Halsey where they visited at the Lester Colbert home and where Mrs. Doty and the kiddies remained while Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Colbert went to Ogallala where they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Colbert and J. M. Crain.

Building Self a Tractor.

George Bennet, living southeast of Weeping Water who is of an ingenious turn of mind and as well a good workman, is converting a large Dodge car and portions of other cars, into a tractor which he will use on his farm. He and wife were in Omaha last Tuesday to get some parts.

Making Repairs at Store.

The store room occupied by Charles Findeley, owned by Troy L. Davis, is being repaired. In the first place last week Mr. Davis had L. R. Lane mend the sidewalk in front of the store and since, the same gentleman has built a garage-entrance to the basement for the taking of the cars and trucks into the basement and out. Also Mr. Lane has installed a septic tank in the basement and installed an indoor toilet.

Weeping Water Schools Open.

The schools for the present year for Weeping Water opened with a large attendance on Monday of this week. We inquired as to the number of pupils in each department of the school, but owing to the rush of the opening we were not able to secure them but will have them for the coming week.

Vacation in Northwest.

Gordon Heneger and family were visiting in the northwest, guests for a time at Torrington, Wyoming at the home of a brother of Mr. Heneger, place, and where they found things very likely with much doing in the line of business. They also visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Steinauer, formerly from Plattsmouth, as was also Mrs. Harvey Henegar. While they were away Lester Hoback was caring for the farm and also for the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Miller who were visiting for a time in Kansas.

Injured Little Son.

While Edward Sticklely was driving along going home last Saturday and was following a truck which had no tail light, the truck stopped and the car of Mr. Sticklely crashed into the back of the truck. The little son, Gardner, 7, was thrown against the windshield and quite badly injured.

Exchanged Pulpits Last Week.

Rev. Parsell, pastor of the Menonite church at Weeping Water, and the Rev. Meyers, former pastor here but who has been with the church at Harper, Kansas, exchanged pulpits they moving to new fields last week.

Aged Woman Dies in Omaha.

Mrs. Emma Alice Worman was born at Columbus, Ohio on the 18th day of December, 1867 and with the parents continued to make her home there for a few years, coming to Nebraska in 1882 and making her home here ever since. In the year 1899 she was united in marriage to Theo Kharas, they continuing to make this their home.

When she became so ill she was taken to the hospital in Omaha where she passed away on August 30, 1937 and where the funeral was held early last Tuesday, August 31, the remains being brought here for interment in Oakwood cemetery with the services being conducted by Rev. Lenker.

Ernest Jamison Very Ill.

Ernest Jamison who makes his home on west Main street has been in rather poor health for some time and has been kept to his bed for the past few weeks. So serious is his condition that his daughter, Cleo, who has been making her home in Chicago, has been called to the bedside. It is hoped that Mr. Jamison may soon show improvement.

Entertained the Family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Freeman who make their home northeast of town entertained last Sunday and had as their guests at the farm home Earl Freeman and family of Avoca, Cecil Nickles and family and Dale Tigner and wife, all of Weeping Water. A most pleasant time was had by all.

Visit in Lincoln.

Stuart Rough of Nehawka was a visitor last Sunday morning in Weeping Water and then on to Lincoln, being accompanied by his sister, Miss Agnes Rough, where they visited a sister, Mrs. Guy Lake and family.

On their way home, a short distance west of the Fort George service station, they came upon two wrecked automobiles, one that of Frank Schlichtemeier of near Nehawka, and in which was also Mrs. Schlichtemeier and a sister, Mrs. Ebler, they having been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Schlichtemeier and were returning home to Nehawka. The other car contained some six young people from Lincoln. Their car had hit the Schlichtemeier car on the side, causing it in, injuring Mr. Schlichtemeier, breaking three ribs and cutting his head badly as well as injuring one shoulder. Mrs. Schlichtemeier was not badly injured but her sister, Mrs. Ebler was quite badly injured, having three ribs fractured and one ankle. She was taken to a Lincoln hospital while the others returned to Elmwood and later were taken home. Mrs. Ebler is reported as getting along very well. The auto was taken to the garage of Ronald Schlichtemeier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schlichtemeier.

New Business House Here.

Many people have been guessing for the past two months as to who was to occupy the building formerly occupied by the Maytag agency. Rumors were rife that another store was to be opened as soon as the building could be completed, some said from Humboldt or Tecumseh, but as the room began to take shape and showed signs of completion other things developed, and one and the true one was that the City Market was to occupy the building and be conducted by Joe Bender who has formerly been employed at the market of Knude Jensen. The opening will occur next Saturday.

Will Build Artificial Lake.

Heretofore the city of Weeping Water has had their supply of water for the city from Crystal lake, which is fed by springs, but the exceedingly dry years have been a severe test on the lake and had to be supplemented by wells which were drilled. The lake is now to be made deeper and larger, covering more space, and the reservoir on the hill will be cleaned out and rebuilt, thus insuring a good supply as well as sufficient vresure in all parts of the city. The contractors are here and busily engaged in their task, which should be a great improvement over the old water system.

PLATTSMOUTH WINS 11-9

From Tuesday's Daily—
The Plattsmouth softball team journeyed across the river last evening and took a decision over the Thurman, Iowa softball team.

The locals, who just organized a team last week, showed much improvement over their Sunday night performance. In fact behind the hurling of Mayabb and Kennedy they played errorless ball.

The team expects to begin play tonight in a tournament at Malvern, Iowa and then play six or eight games at home before Korn Karnival time when they will play three games.

PLAY AT FALLS CITY

The Plattsmouth Tennis club played at Falls City Sunday. Falls City won 8 matches and Plattsmouth 1. Sayles and Root won from Egan and Jurgenen, 8-6, 6-3; Bill Glenn beat Giles, 6-1, 6-5; Roy Ramsey beat Lars Larson, 6-2, 10-8; Bob Harrison won from Ray Larson, 6-3, 6-2; Harrison and Andrews won from Giles and Ray Larson, 6-4, 6-4; Jim Ramsey won from Wright, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4; Egan won from Root, 6-2, 6-3; and Glenn and Ramsey won from Wright and L. Larson, 6-0, 6-1.

Bible School Lesson Study!

Sunday, September 5

By I. Neitzel, Murdock, Neb.

"God Requires Social Justice"

Lev. 19:15-18; 32-37.

In this lesson is revealed the wisdom and love of God in the laws he gave the Israelites, regulating their social life. It is also a practical interpretation of the ten commandments. Chap. 19:3-8 refers to the first table and from 8-18 to the second table. Fifteen times God declares in this chapter: "I am the Lord," which is like a "royal signature to a solemn edict." The first declaration: "Ye shall be holy" . . . "for I am holy" may need some illumination. Some people get hysterical when they hear the term "holiness" applied to men. God had chosen the Hebrews to be a holy nation, that is, of highest spiritual purity—consecrated, set apart for divine use. Two reasons are here given for our holiness: First, God himself, the author of our being, is holy, "and the stream should taste of the fountain." Secondly, the covenant of grace implied in the terms, "Jehovah your God" forms the most powerful motive to holiness. Children are more or less like their parents—so are God's children like unto him—clean, pure—unspotted from the world. (See I Peter 2:9). To such people the lesson is addressed.

The first injunction is respect for parents. They hold first place in our life. Man learns to fear God, first of all through fearing and honoring his parents. This is the foundation of all religion. The irreverence of the youth of today, is a sad commentary on our educational system. We have the spectacle before us of children who turn their aged parents over to the state and nation to be taken care of—that is dishonoring their parents and a disgrace to the children who are well able to take care of them. No self-respecting man or woman would do anything like that—it is never thought of before—children have always heretofore taken care of their parents. It also means shifting responsibility to others to take care of their own and of the old people of those degenerates who dishonor their parents. A holy people will not turn to idols, they worship God wholeheartedly. He is their all-in-all.

What is an idol, anyway? First it is an image or object to which or through which worship is offered as to a god. Second, that on which the affections are passionately set. Idolatry is the worship of false representations of God.

The next injunction is to take care of the poor, let them labor for what they get—gleaning in the harvest field, that is better than a "handout."

This law was directed against the spirit of miserliness and the prevailing vice of humanity—absolute selfishness. Mankind is to realize that all men are from one blood—related one to the other—and must share with those that have not. The second table deals with the relationship between men and men. While this lesson was well given on August 15, it can stand a repetition, and emphasis (we are so prone to forget). "Ye shall not steal." Thieves were harshly dealt with in olden times; we remind the student of "Achan the Thief" as recorded in Jos. 7—another example of getting something by false pretense, see II Kings 5. These were punished severely. It shows in what regard God holds the man who gets something for nothing.

Honesty in business is enjoined. Here is where complaints are justified. Misrepresentations, short weights and measures are some of the means by which men enrich themselves and defraud others. The exagerrations in advertisements lead people to lose their money; this is a common practice today, by which the unsophisticated have lost house and home. God foresaw these things 3,000 years ago and gave proper warning against it. Unscrupulous men did those things then, as now. Man has not changed materially since that day.

Lack of space prevents us from analyzing the entire lesson text, but all can be summed up in practicing the Golden Rule, which is sufficient to secure a normal life for all. Our Lord understood the law and man better than anyone else, therefore he speaks in connection with the law this maxim: "Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that man should do to you, do ye even so to them; for this is the law and the prophets." (Matt. 7:12). If every man, not Christians only, would live up to this rule, it would be heaven here; the kingdom of God would be fully established; it would solve all the perplexing problems of the human race—there would be no race question, no liquor question, no old age question, no economic question; divorce and birth-control would be no problem; selfishness could not exist—the cause of all wars, all differences of opinion, would find their solution in the Golden Rule—God's holy will would be done here as it is done in heaven. To bring about and establish such a state is the sole purpose of the church. For this one thing she was planted here. Teacher and preacher should study earnestly Eph. 5:25-27.

Mrs. Lohnes celebrated her sixty-third birthday on August 14th. There is surviving her passing, the aged husband, one son, Harry Lohnes of Grant, two daughters, Mrs. Elsie England of Grant and Mrs. Luther Womack, of Murray. There are also three sisters, Mrs. Louise Bauer and Mrs. E. H. Becker of this city, Mrs. George Wallinger of Ashland, and one brother, F. W. Guenther of this city.
