Mr. Mullen says he was some surprised to note the improvement in the crops in the eastern portion of the county where the rainfall during the growing and maturing season was more abundant.

HOSPITAL EMPTY 3 YEARS

LONDON (UP)—A gray, 50-year-old hospital stands on the Thames bank at Rotherhithe—empty except for a day and night staff of nurses. No patients have been admitted for three years; yet the hospital must be kept going. It is designed to keep smallpox from London.

FEWER TOURISTS TO JAPAN

TOKYO (UP)—The total number of foreign visitors to Japan during 1926 showed a decrease of 61 from the previous year, but the American contingent was increased by 544.

GANDER HERDS SHEEP 4 YEARS WITHOUT LOSS

MIDDLETOWN, O. (UP)—John, the gander, has been G. P. Brown's self-appointed guardian, herder, bellwether and keeper of the sheep for more than four years.

Brown sold his geese four years ago, but when the purchaser had departed Brown found the gander sheepishly hiding among the sheep.

Grateful for their protection, John took charge of the flock. When other barnyard fowl are fed, John is found eating with the sheep. Stray dogs and other such suspicious circumstances send the old gray bird honking and waddling for the stable with "his flock" close behind. When grazing is in progress, John stands sentinel at a little distance. With the approach of darkness he stands at the stable door "coaxing" the sheep inside. After being sure all are accounted for, John roosts with them.

Brown said that in the four years the gander has been keeper-of-the-sheep, none of his charges has stepped on or otherwise injured him.

"I'm going to let him alone as long as he's satisfied," Brown said, "because he's the best watchman and shepherd in Miami valley."

TWIN ARRIVES THREE MONTHS AFTER BROTHER

LONDON (UP)—The story of the birth of a baby girl three months after the arrival of her twin brother is recorded in the current issue of "The British Medical Journal."

The mother, who had three times given birth to twins, none of whom survived, had the first baby unexpectedly while motoring in the country.

The baby was a normal boy of just under six pounds in weight, and both baby and mother made a prompt recovery from the unusual circumstances of the confinement.

Medical advice was sought about three months later and the mother was astounded to be told that she might expect another baby very shortly. Three days after this news a baby girl arrived, weighing just under seven pounds and apparently normal in every respect.

EASE NERVES FOR CAPTIVES FOR THE ZOO

WASHINGTON (UP)—The "Zoo Special," a Noah's Ark on rails, shunted through the Sumatran jungle in night stages last week, to humanize the captivity of hundreds of strange wild animals.

The wild creatures, many of which have rarely or never before been in zoos of the United States, were caught in the Sumatran and other East Indian wilds by a National Geographic Society-Smithsonian Institution Expedition led by Dr. William M. Mann.

Because many of the animals were unaccustomed to captivity, the entire collection was carried to the Sumatran coast on a special train which traveled only at night so as to frighten the animals as little as possible.

TOMB UNSEALED FOR 2 MONTHS DUE TO PHOBIA

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UP)—An unsealed tomb in nearby Wildwood Cemetery is the silent witness to an amazing story of the man who lived in fear of being buried alive. Inside the weird stone mausoleum covered only by a blanket is the body of Thomas Pursell, Williamsport fireman who spent 18 months building his tomb so he could escape should he "awake" after burial.

Beside the body is a hammer and two boards, the implements which Pursell will use to gain freedom if he revives in the next two months. Air circulates through the vault by means of a series of ventilators.

If he does not arise within the next 60 days, however, the tomb will be sealed permanently.

The phobia which haunted the last days of Pursell's life is said to have gripped him first as he witnessed the opening of another man's casket. The body was on its face.

WIVES AT PARIS SUSPECT HUSBANDS STARTED SCARE

Men in all ranks and stages of life, the king and his servant, the rich and the poor, will be startled to hear there is one community in all the world where the men have managed to obtain for their own the side of the bed next to the window where the night breezes blow the coolest.

Those crafty men live at Paris, Mo. For the past several weeks, during the hottest of the summer, a scare has been abroad in the community that Peeping Toms are peeping. And the side of the bed next to the window is no place for a wife to sleep.

How long this community state of mind can exist cannot be predicted. According to a report from the Monroe County Appeal, the wildest of the wives are beginning to suspect "the brutes" of starting the scare.

LICENSES CAR OF '98 VINTAGE

CANTON, O. (UP)—William Pierce, Jr., has purchased 1937 license tags for his reconconditioned 1898 "auto bug," giving Stark county claim to having issued plates for the oldest automobile in the state and perhaps in the nation.

Pierce said the car has been in his family since the original purchase nearly 40 years ago. The "horseless carriage" was built in Norwalk, O., during the period when autoists terrorized the countryside by banging along at an 18-mile-an-hour clip.

The bill of sale for the car has its horsepower listed at 5; its manufacturer's number as 22. The engine is of the Continental type and bears the number 703, indicating the car was one of the first made by the company. An ancient automobile catalog, owned by Pierce, gives the list price for the "horseless" carriage as $795 with "special equipment" extra.

Special equipment included a horn, $15; headlights, $25, and a top at $45.

Pierce has taken the "auto bug" to Bell Glade, Fla., by trailer, where it will be used as an advertising and promotional medium for a garage and blacksmith shop he has purchased.

Pierce also has three other "ancients" stored here. These are a 1900 Sears, a 1909 White and a 1902 Sheet—all in running condition.

CAVE-DWELLERS FOUND IN ENGLISH MIDLANDS

LONDON (UP)—There are still cave-dwellers in Great Britain, and, strangely, they are to be found in the busy Midlands.

At Kinver, Staffs, within a few minutes of Birmingham, live men, women and children who have plunged thousands of years back, in caves hewn out of solid rock by early Britons.

The caves are seen on the cliff-side and all lead into a giant cave known as the "ballroom." Landlords are the National Trust.

PHILATELIST DISCOVERS CANADA STAMP FLAWS

MONTREAL (UP)—Two flaws have been discovered in the new issue of King George VI three-cent Canadian postage.

William Robertson, local philatelist, declares one consists of a double-dot marking to the right of the name "Canada" over the King's head. It gives almost precisely the effect of quotation marks. Seven stamps in each of the first sheets issued show the error.

NEW DIABETES TREATMENT

BUDAPEST (UP)—A new treatment for diabetes has been discovered in Hungary, consisting of doses of a fatty acid instead of by injection. The tests have been made by Prof. Albert Szent-Gyorgyi, the famous biochemist who discovered vitamin C and the newer vitamin P.
