The first announcement of the 1938 corn show was when T. C. Robinson, son of J. C. Robinson, founder of the Robinson Seed company, growers of certified hybrid corn, posted $25. This will be used for premiums on corn grown and exhibited at the 1938 show, grown from the Robinson seed.

WATER TABLE LOWER

LINCOLN, Sept. 29 (UP)—The water table in Nebraska generally is lower now as compared with a year ago, the University of Nebraska conservation and survey division reported today.

O. S. Scherer of the conservation and survey staff said figures from August well reading revealed that the only areas in the state where the ground water level has raised is in the eastern end and in the section between North Platte and Grand Island.

Scherer said the higher water level in these areas probably was due to a greater amount of precipitation this year. Recent rains in the western panhandle have improved the water table there.

DRAWS DOWN FINE

From Wednesday's Daily—This morning before Judge A. H. Duxbury in the county court, James Eaton was arraigned on the charge of assault and battery on the person of Alvin Jones. The defendant entered a plea of guilty to the charge and was given a fine of $1 and costs and also to pay the medical treatment of Mr. Jones.

ACCEPTS NEW POSITION

Charles Ferris, who has been engaged at the Soennichsen store for several months, has accepted a position at the Blue Ribbon tavern of B. C. Cohn north of this city.

Omaha Bee-News Bought by World-Herald

Paper Founded by Edward Rosewater in 1871 Sold by Hearst Chain to Rival Paper.

OMAHA, Sept. 28 (UP)—Another of the Hearst chain of newspapers passed out of existence today, when the Omaha World-Herald took over the Bee-News. Announcement of the purchase was made in the following statement published in both newspapers.

"With today's issues, the Omaha Bee-News which has been circulated morning, evening and Sunday, will cease publication.

"The circulation lists and the publishing plant have been purchased by the Omaha World-Herald.

"The news service, reports and many of the features that have been appearing in the Bee-News will hereafter be published in the World-Herald."

The Bee-News, for 66 years a prominent Nebraska daily, will suspend publication with its home edition tonight.

Although negotiations were rumored last July, the sale came as a surprise to employees of both papers. Bee-News employees were notified of suspension of publication last Friday. The Bee-News is the third newspaper to be dropped from the William Randolph Hearst chain this year.

Since 1928, the Bee-News has been a unit in the Hearst chain. The Omaha Bee was founded in 1871 by Edward Rosewater, and became one of Nebraska's most influential republican papers under his management.

In 1920, 13 years after Rosewater's death, it was sold by his son to Nels B. Updike, Omaha grain broker. Updike bought out the Omaha Daily News in 1927, consolidated the two papers, and built the present physical plant of the Bee-News. In 1928, he retired from the publishing field, selling the paper to the Hearst chain.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

An action for divorce has been filed in the office of the clerk of the district court in which Mrs. Mable S. Wilson asks a decree against William B. Wilson. The charge is desertion and abandonment. The petition states that the parties were married on December 8, 1921 and that the defendant deserted the plaintiff and child in January 1934.

REDECORATES CAFE

The interior of the Shea cafe on North Sixth street has been redecorated and makes a very attractive spot with the wall finishing in light tones. The redecorating was carried on in both the dining room and kitchen. H. L. Kruger and force did the work.
