Sentinels of Health
 Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, peeing up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

lunch. Everyone enjoyed the evening.

Missionary Society Meets—
 Yesterday afternoon the Women's Foreign Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. R. B. Hayes. It was the Christmas meeting and the annual Christmas offering was put on the Christmas tree. This offering helps to pay the transportation of missionaries to and from their fields.

The devotions were led by Mrs. E. W. Thimgan who gave the story of the making of tapestry taken from the bible Mrs. Thimgan and Mrs. Hayes sang "Fairest Lord Jesus" and "Come Holy Spirit".

The society was very glad to have as a special guest Mrs. J. C. Lowson, who gave a very interesting discussion of the organization and growth of a missionary society in Ceresco.

At the business meeting the correspondence was discussed, the calendar year books given out and some of the mystery mothers appointed for the Standard Bearer girls. Mrs. Jennie White had charge of the lesson which was from the study of Moslems and their relationship to the land of Christ where Christianity was born.

Mrs. Merritt Kerr, Mrs. Hayes and Miss Kinsey sang "Bethlehem". Then the group sang Christmas carols. The social hour was closed with the serving of lunch by the hostesses Mrs. Merritt Kerr, Mrs. R. R. Walton, Mrs. Ray McMakeen, Mrs. Perry.

Stitch and Nibble Club—
 Helen Swoboda entertained the Stitch and Nibble club last night. All the members were present. Mrs. Frank Koubek was a visitor.

From Saturday's Daily—
Entertain Friends—
 Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manners entertained a group of friends Thursday evening. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Larson, Mr. and Mrs. John Woest, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Snodgrass and Phyllis, Mrs. Hampt, Miss Ruth Woest. Pinochle was played, and Mrs. Larson won high in the ladies and Gene Snodgrass had high in the men. Mr. Kerr took the consolation. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The rooms were decorated with Christmas decorations.

BOWLING NOTES

From Saturday's Daily—
 The Creamery lost one game last night in the match with the K. C. team to keep them from tying with the Wimpys for the second place in the league. So it stands at the end of the first round, Chevrolets 1st place, Wimpys 2nd place and Clyde Graves high individual score of the week was 216. A meeting was held and a committee was selected to draw up new rules and regulations for the second round which starts Monday evening. A new schedule will be drawn up and the city league which is composed of eight teams will bowl Monday and Tuesday nights.

A ladies league is being organized of four teams and will bowl Wednesday nights, also a church league is under way for Thursday night. And if the right hours can be arranged a junior league is in the making. So bowling is sure a popular sport in Plattsmouth. And we want to make it the best bowling town in southeastern Nebraska.

FAIRVIEW CLUB NOTES

A Christmas club party was held at the home of Edna Buechler with Agnes Wetenkamp as assistant hostess.

Each member brought a gift for exchange, also gifts of food, clothing and toys for needy families of the city. The club has done this for several years and enjoy helping some deserving family. Doris Tritsch and Dora Hill had a nice program about Christmas. Vivian Terryberry, Irene Alexen, Mary Wiles and daughters, Ruth and Wilma were visitors.

Doris Tritsch will entertain in January with Lucy Terryberry as assistant hostess and Geneva Franke and Elinor Terryberry will be in charge of the program.

Visibility and Blizzard Cause Santa Worry

Lands at Omaha Airport Today and Takes Car to Louisville—Continues South Tonight.

Flying in extremely bad weather, Santa Claus was forced to land at the Omaha airport this morning and seek other means of transportation to Louisville, where he has a date with western Cass county children this afternoon.

"Everything went well with 'Silver Wings' until we left Mitchell, South Dakota, for our trip to Yankton," Santa told the committee at Louisville shortly after one this afternoon. "We flew through a real blizzard into Yankton, but managed to land without mishap. The storm was so bad we remained over night and took off this morning, with poor visibility and barely clearing the tree tops at the far end of the landing field. From there on the pilot could only guess at where we were, until about 11 o'clock when we got within range of the Omaha airport beam, and with gasoline supply almost exhausted decided to land there rather than try to make it on into Louisville.

"I tell you the last 24 hours has given me plenty to worry about and I still prefer my reindeer team to this new method of transportation I have been urged to try for several years, and finally consented this year when the fine plane, 'Silver Wings' and an ace pilot were placed at my disposal."

Santa advises the Journal by telephone just shortly before the hour of going to press this afternoon, that he will drive back to Omaha around five o'clock, and leave there immediately for points further south. After a swing through Kansas and Oklahoma, he will head back north through Missouri, and reach Plattsmouth about noon next Saturday—after calling on McNeal at Watson during the forenoon.

Here Sure Next Saturday
 Santa asked us to tell all the boys and girls of this vicinity to come to Plattsmouth Saturday, December 18, and meet him. He will have a sample of his new 1937 stock to give to each boy and girl.

He assures us he will positively be here right after dinner, no matter what the weather, and we are sure we can depend on this for he has never disappointed the boys and girls of Plattsmouth in all the years he has been making pre-Christmas visits here.

The local committee has arranged for Santa to land near town and make his appearance at the old high school building by 1:55 p. m. He will meet his special escorts and all the other boys and girls of Cass county there. He asks that all the official escorts from the different schools of the county wear their badges on the outside of their coats so he can recognize them.

SWANSON-BACKEMEYER

Beautiful, though marked with simplicity of form was the wedding ceremony at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Roy Rosenow and Mr. Rosenow, near Elmwood Saturday, when Miss Roslyn Swanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Swanson became the bride of Carl Backemeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Backemeyer of Murdock. Rev. F. C. Weber of the Callahan church performed the ceremony in the presence of thirty-five guests. The couple plans to take a trip, and then make their home on a farm west of Murdock.

Mrs. Inas Wever Granted a Commutation of Life Sentence by State Board of Pardons

Time Cut to Ten Years, which Makes Former Plattsmouth Woman Eligible for Freedom About February 1st

CONVICTED HERE ON SLAYING CHARGE

Promised a Home for Self and Son and Employment with Prominent York Family Who Interceded in Her Behalf—Prison Matron Also Witness

Mrs. Inas Wever, 40, who was convicted in Cass county of the murder of her husband, George Wever on December 8, 1930, this afternoon won a battle for commutation of her life sentence.

The state board of pardons before which Mrs. Wever appeared this week, rendered their decision that the life sentence should be cut from life to ten years and which—with the "good conduct" allowance of time will give her freedom about February 1, 1938 from the Nebraska Woman's reformatory at York where she has been for the past seven years.

Mrs. Wever has protested her innocence of the crime since her arrest and at the hearing before the pardon board this week asserted that she had been innocent of the crime she was charged with.

The trial of the case, one of the few murder cases in Cass county, attracted much attention, crowds pressing to secure seats in the court room and many spending the day there to hold their seats.

The state charged Mrs. Wever with poisoning her husband with arsenic and strychnine which she had purchased at local stores while she denied the charge and that the death came after a siege of drunkenness.

The trial occupied four days and resulted in the guilty verdict and the sentence on February 14, 1931, by the late Judge James T. Begley, to life imprisonment.

She has received strong support in her plea for freedom from prominent residents of York who contended she had been convicted on purely circumstantial evidence and was entitled to a cut in the sentence.

Mrs. Blanch Clouse, superintendent of the York reformatory and in whose home Mrs. Wever has served as housekeeper, strongly recommended the granting of commutation.

VISITING IN THE CITY

Al Dobrusky, proprietor of the Central cafe at Nebraska City, was here Friday afternoon to visit with friends and looking after some matters of business.
