

MARRIED AT COURT HOUSE

The marriage mart at the court house took a spurt Saturday afternoon after a sagging period of several days.

Walter L. Rachwitz and Pearl Gibson, both of Omaha, were married by Judge A. H. Duxbury in his usual impressive manner, the ceremony being witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Crayne, Mrs. Gladys Gibson, mother of the bride with the young people, this being the fourth of her children to be married at the Cass county court house.

Dale M. DeVore of Omaha and Eleanor M. Cordes, of Papillion were married late Saturday by Judge Duxbury at his office. Hazel and L. Waid DeVore, of Omaha were the witnesses. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Cordes of Papillion.

BETHANY HERE THURSDAY

The Bethany high school basketball quintet, one of the best organizations in the Lincoln territory, will be here Thursday evening to entertain the Plattsmouth fans in what should be another of the real thrillers of the season.

Bethany the past week won from Beaver Crossing in a hard fought 21 to 20 game and Saturday nipped Nebraska City 29 to 15. In the game with the Oceans the Bethany quintet held their opponents to one field goal for the first half of the game and coasted through to an easy win.

The Platters, who have showed so well this season, can be depended upon to do their stuff to preserve the fine record.

We will appreciate phone calls of news items from our readers.

Ora A. Davis and Will Smith were at Nebraska City last Friday, where they transacted business.

Van Allen visited over the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Scheel, at Sidney, Iowa.

Ed Lewis is nursing a badly swollen wrist as a result of the backfire of his car when he was attempting to crank it.

Roy Gerking shelled and delivered his corn crop to the elevator here last Tuesday. Frank Mrasek did the shelling for him.

Con Watkins, of near Union, who is soon to move here to reside, was in town looking after some business Monday afternoon.

A son arrived last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Philpot, west of town. Mother and son are reported doing nicely.

Earl Lancaster, who has been confined to his home on account of an attack of flu, was so far recovered that he was able to come to town Monday.

Kenneth Cowperwaite and family have moved from their former home at Weeping Water, opening a cream buying station in the Churchill building.

Miss Margaret Grimes of Julian was a week-end guest of Miss Josephine Staska. Both of the girls attend school at St. Bernard's Academy at Nebraska City.

Frank Mrasek was in Omaha last Sunday evening with a load of hogs for W. O. Troop and back early the following morning with a shipment from C. R. Troop and George Troop.

A number are installing phones in anticipation of the forthcoming dial or automatic system in Murray. During the past week Dan Hoschar, Fred Meisinger and Leonard Lutz have ordered phones installed.

Mrs. Margaret Brendel and son Richard, who are making their home in Lincoln while Richard is attending school there, spent a number of days here last week, returning to the capital city Monday.

J. D. Lewis, who resides with his son Lloyd and family, is reported in very feeble health and has been confined to his bed much of the time lately. He is receiving the best of medical care and nursing.

Herman Reicke, who is a great hand to get out and around, has been confined to his home during the past two weeks, and has greatly missed seeing his friends. Earl Merritt and wife were over to call on him last Sunday.

W. G. Boedeker clerked the sale of Chris Murray near Louisville on Monday, and being used to indoor temperatures found the cold pretty severe as the mercury hovered about the zero mark most of the day. On Tuesday he clerked the Fred T. Baker sale near Union, but the weather was considerably warmer by then.

Making Progress with Work For quite some time work has been under way at the Murray telephone exchange preparatory to the changing of the system to what is known as the dial or automatic type of equipment. The mechanism is now being installed and it will not be a great while before the cut-over can be made.

Visiting in Kansas City Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Tutt left Monday evening for Kansas City, making the trip via rail, which is much more safe than driving over slippery roads and in heavy fog. They will spend most of the week there visiting relatives. They have been planning the trip for some time and expected to enjoy themselves during Mr. Tutt's brief vacation from work in the store here.

Attended Funeral Sunday G. E. Brubacher, accompanied by a car load of other friends of the late Mrs. Charles Hatcliff, drove to Weeping Water Sunday to attend the funeral. The services were conducted by Rev. W. A. Taylor, assisted by Rev. P. E. Boeber, pastor of the Methodist church at Union and Rev. Lenker, Methodist pastor at Weeping Water and Nehawka. Interment was in Oakwood cemetery at Weeping Water.

Enjoying Life in West Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Tyson received a letter a few days since from Dr. Tyson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Tyson, who are spending the winter near Los Angeles, at a point some 4,000 feet up in the mountains, where the air is very fine and exhilarating and where there is frost every night, even though the weather does get very warm in the daytime. They are enjoying life in the west.
